DR. FREDRICK JOHN STARE

The most cheering news in today's Battle of the Budget came our way this week. It is: "All nutritious foods have not skyrocketed in price!"

Like every husband and wife who consider the dinner table as their lonely and embattled outpost this Land of High Prices, we welcome this dollar saving news and wish to pass it along. Furthermore, it comes from a man who is an international authority on food—Dr. Frederick John Stare of 40 Fenwick road, Waban. He also states: "It is important to realize that adequate income is no indication that the family is well nourished."

Then Dr. Stare added a fact in perfect accord with our government's concern over wasted food. "Poor food habits, indifference, improper preparation of foods resulting in loss of important food constituents are major problems which may easily result in a nutritional status not as good as it can be."

Though he looks far younger than his array of honors and degrees indicate, Dr. Stare has studied and traveled extensively. Born in Columbus Wisconsin, he holds a Ph.D. degree from the University of Wisconsin and an M.D. from the University of Chicago. As a Rockefeller Foundation Fellow, Dr. Stare spent three years in Europe and Mexico. Today he edits "Nutrition Reviews" and is professor of Nutrition at Harvard University. His abilities are also at the service of Newton for Dr. Stare is Chairman of the Newton Nutrition Committee, a Red Feather Agency.

Mrs. Stare, a charming and soft-spoken Louisianian, met her husband at the University of Wisconsin. Their children are Fred, Jr., 9, and David, 8. Taking candid movie shots of his family is their Dad's favorite hobby. An activity he shares with the boys is building toy trains. His blue eyes sparkle with intelligence behind his glasses whenever he talks about his family and their shared enthusiasms. He radiates a keen sense of humor.

Serving with Dr. Stare on the Nutrition Committee are many other leading citizens including: John J. Guiney, George L. White, G. Herbert Marcy, Dr. Ernest M. Morris, Mrs. Frances B. Harris, Mrs. E. Gale Whittemore, Robert E. Pettit, Miss Mary McAleer, Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, Rupert C. Thompson, Miss Gladys F. Davis, Miss Abbie E. Andrew, Miss Helena Brooks, Mrs. Vernon E. Blagbrough, Dr. Thomas Sears Hayden, Mrs. Charles Domling, Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, Mrs. George Hinman, Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsback, Dr. Hugh L. Robinson, Mrs. C. Russell Mason, William B. Plummer, John C. Madden and E. Everett Kinchla. On the Advisory Board are Mrs. Elizabeth Case and Miss Betty Lockwood from the Harvard School of Public Health. And in charge of the Nutrition office at 1357 Washington St. is Miss Marjorie Cantoni, whom any person is welcome to consult about any nutrition problem. Miss Marie Gervais is assistant nutritionist.

Dr. Stare can cite many figures about the importance of nutrition. "A startling fact at the time of induction for military service showed that about one man in seven was disqualified because of conditions related to poor nutrition. A study by the Department of Agriculture showed that 40 per cent of the families in our country failed to receive a 'fair' diet. Over three fourths were not getting a 'good' diet. But let me show you only one of the means the Nutrition Center is using to help Newton people."

He handed me a pink sheet with the heading, "All Nutritious Foods Have Not Skyrocketed in Price!" There were 8 types of food listed.

"Lists like this were sent to every grocery store and food market in Newton last week with the request to post it publicly so that shoppers may continue to eat well despite high food prices."

"You've had another public service feature we've long enjoyed," I said. "Your column in The Graphic called 'Dining with Jane and Bill' gives a great deal of information in a most delightful way."

"Glad to hear it," he said. "One less dental decay."

"You are doing that effectively. But who bears the cost of the Newton Nutrition program?" I wanted to know.

"The Newton Community Chest, the Newton Health Department of the points we try to get across to the children particularly is that an increased intake of milk, fruits and vegetables means far partment and the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross. Next year about 36 per cent of our funds must come from the combined campaign of the Chest and the Greater Boston Community Fund, which will open October 23rd. It is interesting, I believe, that the Nutrition Center continually furnished services to other

Newton's Observance of Fire Prevention Weeks Begins Sunday With Fire Dept. Demonstration

Expect Record Attendance at Graphic-Sponsored Show At High School Auditorium on Thursday Eve, October 9

Chief John L. Keating

By His Honor
PAUL M. GODDARD
Mayor

A Proclamation

Fire Prevention Week will again be observed this year throughout the United States during the week of October 5-11. Our own Fire Department will conduct a demonstration of fire prevention for the benefit of our citizens on Sunday afternoon, October 5, at 2:30 p. m., at the Newton Fire Station. Citations received by the Newton Fire Department are evidence of the efficient work being done in our City to prevent the waste and destruction which can be caused by fire hazards.

Constant vigilance by all of us can do much to minimize the loss of life and personal property caused by unnecessary fires, and your City Government respectfully urges that you assume your full responsibility.

Hospital Announces Increase in Rates

Newton-Wellesley Hospital has announced a rate increase to be effective October 1, 1947. This increase is one dollar per day in all accommodations and fifty cents per day for baby care. These rates are essentially the same as those of other hospitals in the area.

Every single day there are in this country 1,000 home fires, 30 deaths by fire, 140 store fires, 80 factory fires, 6 church and 6 school fires and 3 hospital fires. The frightening figures show that the loss of life and property has increased more than 23% in the first 7 months this year over 1946. In line with President Truman's recent conference on a fire prevention program, the Graphic, the Newton Fire Department and the Newton Chamber of Commerce have made extensive plans for an educational program during Fire Prevention Week, October 5-11.

The Newton Fire Department Drill Team under the direction of Lt. John L. Martin, Drill Master will stage a public demonstration Sunday afternoon, October 5th at 2:30 in front of Engine No. 1 Station, Washington street, Newton Corner. The drill will include ladder, rope and hose work as well as jumping into the life nets.

Everyone is urged to come and see the demonstration and get acquainted with the firemen, who may help save your home or your life. During the coming week visit the Fire Station near your

Plans for 7th Annual Hallowe'en Party Well Under Way

Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Chairman of the Program Committee, reports that organizational work is proceeding rapidly in every Newton village for this year's Halloween parties in which more than 10,000 school children of all ages will participate.

Approximately 1400 parents and teachers are being formed into the better than two hundred committees necessary to direct around two hundred and forty separate parties in forty key localities throughout the city.

Some of the committees are already functioning; and Mrs. Hovgaard has already received details of meetings, as follows: Angier School, Waban—Mrs. Gordon Genthner, Building Chairman, states that the "Angier School is well under way in organizing its Halloween Team."

Would Memorialize Vets of World War II: Swimming Pool, Skating Rink, Auditorium, Other Facilities Included in Plan

In a letter addressed to the Newton Planning Board, Alderman Theodore R. Lockwood yesterday urged that the board give serious consideration to the construction of a municipal building which would serve the city as a civic, recreational, and social center. In his letter Lockwood pointed out the need and desire for such a project, and suggested that the site for the center should be the high school grounds in as much as it is nearly the geographical center of the city and the student population would be its largest day-time users.

Lockwood suggested that the center be dedicated as a memorial to the veterans of World War II.

All Together

During the coming week you're going to read and hear a lot about a subject about which much has already been written and said. But, judging from the ever-increasing fire loss in this country, too much has not been said and cannot be said about that all-important subject—Fire Prevention.

The coming week October 5 to 11 has been set aside nationally as Fire Prevention week with the avowed purpose of underlining for American home owners and residents of American homes the danger of fire and how it can be prevented. Individuals and group will join forces in many ways to put over the message of Fire Prevention week, a message that must be remembered every day of every week by Americans everywhere.

Here in Newton, homeowners and residents will have two opportunities to see for themselves the why's and whereof's of Fire Prevention. First will be on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 5, at 2:30 at the Newton Corner Fire Station where the fire department, under the direction of Chief John L. Keating, will stage a demonstration of fire fighting equipment and apparatus. The demonstration, inaugurated several years ago, served as an opening feature of Newton's observance of Fire Prevention Week and, even further, offers Newtonites an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with their fire department.

Second of the features of the week will be the presentation of the United Mutual Fire Insurance Company's show, "Fire! In Miniature" at the High School auditorium, Thursday, October 9 at 8 p. m. The show, for which no admission will be charged, graphically incorporates the use of model houses and other buildings to demonstrate how fire can be prevented. It's entertainment, high in value, and the lesson "Fire! In Miniature" teaches will be long remembered with practical results.

Co-operating with the Graphic in arranging these and other Fire Prevention Week activities in Newton are the Chamber of Commerce, the Fire Department, the School Department, public-spirited citizens and the United Mutual Fire Insurance Company. Each has played a helpful role and each has displayed interested co-operation in endeavoring to show the people of Newton the importance of fire prevention and how it can best be practiced. But, their job will only be half done if the Fire Prevention week message is taken lightly or forgotten soon after it is presented. It is up to you, the residents and homeowners of Newton, to give your co-operation by attending the week's features and, even further, by remembering and practicing what you can see and hear next week. Fire Prevention Week is aimed at you. With your co-operation, that aim will be true next week and every week.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Messrs. Saltonstall, Lodge and Herter

It must be a source of considerable satisfaction to residents of Massachusetts to have both of our U. S. Senators and our local Congressman featured so frequently in the news columns. Drew Pearson, who does not pay too much attention to our celebrities in this vicinity ordinarily, had quite a bit to say about Senator Saltonstall last Saturday. He called him the "sincere Senator from Massachusetts" and stated that the Senator was worried over the United States being left to face Russia alone in Germany. He also asked why Britain should be allowed to pull out of Germany while pouring money into Palestine.

Our Junior Senator, Henry Cabot Lodge received honorable mention in the Boston Herald a few days ago when he was credited with the passage of the bill to study our vast system of bureaucracy with a view to streamlining it and reducing its swollen size. The importance of this move cannot be too greatly stressed.

Finally, our own Congressman, Christian A. Herter, whom many people expect to eventually wind up in the State Department or as an Ambassador, has been doing some fine work in Europe as chairman of the special committee studying the food and relief situations. Also, the article from his pen in the September "Readers Digest" in connection with the stubborn resistance of ALL the bureaucrats in Washington to the attempt of the G.O.P. to cut down appropriations for the ensuing year has attracted nation-wide attention. More power to the Congressman.

City Election

Campaigning remains quiet throughout the city, although the politicians are obviously stirring around with speed and dispatch. So far as the average voter is concerned, however, there has been altogether too little missionary work. Apparently, the three candidates for Mayor are all intending to confine their most strenuous activities to the closing weeks of the campaign.

At this point I would like to inject a few comments regarding the methods which are, unfortunately, being employed in a few isolated instances to further the cause of one candidate or another. My readers will, I feel sure, agree with me that it is not sound campaigning to discuss the personal affairs of the minute details of a candidate's war record or lack of it. We may all have our opinions and preferences, but why attempt to discredit ANY war veteran's war record either in World War I or World War II. If a man has been honorably discharged, that should be enough for the voters. Incidentally, any attempt to play down a veteran's record is likely to boomerang.

Ward Contests

Easily the most colorful contests will be waged in Ward 2, where ten candidates are currently battling for only four positions. Newtonville has frequently been in the thick of political contests and this year will be no exception. What is the situation in this important ward?

Of greatest interest, of course, is the four-man fight for the two Alderman-at-Large positions. This features the two present Aldermen-at-Large, Messrs. Slocum and Mattson and Messrs. Gath and Donovan. Two years ago Alderman Mattson ran about five hundred votes ahead of Alderman Slocum. Accordingly, there is evidence that the "outs" are concentrating a good deal of their fire against Slocum of the "ins." Gath and Donovan appear to be lined up together and they have the additional advantage of having their names on the ballot in first and second positions. Sad to relate, there are many, many voters, even in enlightened Newton, who have a tendency to mark a cross against the first two names, provided, of course, that they have no knowledge whatsoever of any of the men running. This factor will help Gath and Donovan, who are conducting a very active campaign. Meantime, Messrs. Slocum and Mattson are by no means idle and they cannot afford to be. Both men need a great deal of publicity and they will be smart if they do not wait until the last minute.

In the contest for Ward Alderman we have three men running, Messrs. Vincent, Scipione and Seeley. The former will have much of the conservative support and the other two will divide the support of the so-called liberals in city affairs. Scipione has been prominent for many years in a variety of ways and was a candidate for the State Legislature in 1944. Even tho' his vote at that time was not unduly impressive, he may do much better in a strictly ward contest for local office. Seeley, tho' not too well-known in some parts of Ward 2, appears to have a rather wide acquaintance built up in the milk business and elsewhere. I am withholding my prediction on this contest, as on all others, until much nearer the big day on November 4.

Then, for those who are interested especially in our schools, we have a three-man battle featuring the present incumbent, School Committeeman George B. Rowlings, and two active opponents, William B. Baker, Jr., the son of our former Alderman and State Representative for many years and James J. Cahill of 62 Green street, Newton. Technically, Mr. Cahill lives in Ward 2, according to the authorities at City Hall. This will be a grand fight. Rowlings is a relatively new man on the School Committee and is not too well-known. Baker is getting a lot of fine publicity, partly because of his war record and partly because of his extremely popular father. Cahill has quite a bit of strength, too, and there is going to be a very hot fight before the winner crosses the line.

Our work is also carried on through food discussions at Americanization classes with school physicians and with individual assistance to families who have food problems and special diets etc. For example, the Newton Nutrition Center participates in a nutrition education program conducted in the public schools of Newton. Some of these activities were dramatized in the July issue of the March of Time and entitled "Your Doctor—1947."

"Moreover, we are ready to help everyone with a food problem," Dr. Stare concluded. "We believe sincerely that a nutrition program is one of the best investments that a community can make for the health of its citizens."

What Do You Do?

Let him spend some of it, probably . . . because at his age money's only fun when you can buy something with it. But we hope you urge him to save some of it, too, for the things he'll want tomorrow. I suggest that you vote, and urge your friends to vote, to re-elect William R. Mattson

An Important Suggestion

I endorse and recommend that you vote to re-elect

William R. (Bill) Mattson, Alderman-at-Large
 Bill Mattson is an outstanding civic leader. He has an excellent record as Alderman and as a former member of the Newton Board of Public Welfare. He has held many executive positions with the A.R.P., Red Cross, Community Chest and was Newton chairman of the 1947 U.S.O. campaign. A graduate of M.I.T., he was Captain of Engineers in World War I, served overseas and was wounded in action. He has been a resident and property owner in Newton for 25 years. A member of the Executive Committee (former president) of the Newtonville Improvement Association and working with similar organizations, Mattson is sincerely interested in making Newton a better city.

Sincerely yours,

The Parent Teachers' Association of the John Ward School will hold its first meeting of the 1947-48 year at the John Ward School on Tuesday evening, October 7, at 8:15 p.m.

The first half hour will be spent in visiting your child's class room where you will have the opportunity to meet your child's teacher.

The general meeting will take place in the Assembly Hall. The speaker of the evening will be Mr. James H. Remley, Supervisor of Music Education in the Newton Public Schools. His topic will be "Music in the School and in the Home for Better Living."

There will be community singing and refreshments will be served.

Rebecca Pomroy House Directors First Fall Meeting

The Board of Directors of the Rebecca Pomroy House of 24 Hovey street, Newton, a Red Feather Service, held their first meeting of the fall on Wednesday, September 24th, at the Community House. Mrs. Sterling Loveland, Vice President, presided.

With deep regret, the Board said farewell to Mrs. C. E. Mease, who had tendered her resignation as President, in order to accompany her husband in his new work at the YMCA in Scranton. Mr. and Mrs. Mease, during their stay in Newton, have made a vital contribution to the life of this Community. All who have benefited by their wisdom and warm friendliness in the administration of community affairs will miss them.

Pomroy House is extremely fortunate, however, to have Mrs. Loveland as its new leader. Her previous work with the Girl Scouts will be a valuable asset in her new position as Chairman of the Pomroy House Board.

The Executive Director, Miss Helen L. Sandstrom, reported on the summer activities. Using the Pomroy House as headquarters, since a camp site was impossible to locate, the West Newton Community Centre co-operated with the Pomroy House in driving would-be campers to Walden Pond for daily swimming. Miss Emily Faldetta, assistant, maintained the play activities for the younger neighborhood children at the Community House during July and August. She was assisted by a number of Junior Leaders. Mrs. Loveland personally thanked these girls in the name of the Board of Directors for their fine assistance during the summer. 594 volunteer hours were given by the

HARRY GATH JR. TALKS To Teen-Agers of Newton

Yes, as the fond father of a daughter 11 years old, I'm asking you 'teen-agers, between 19 and 17 years old, in the ENTIRE city of Newton where could you go swimming, bathing or even wading in Newton last summer except Crystal Lake?

Purposely, I'm giving this message to you because your mother and dad and maybe older sisters and brothers and their friends have votes on Tuesday, Nov. 4, when I'll be on the ballot for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 2.

Next week in this same paper, you will read an important announcement of interest to EVERY 10 to 17 year-old in the city of Newton. WATCH FOR IT!

"My family will have $100 a month income"

"I wanted to provide protection in terms of income for my family while my children are young. So, I bought $5,000 of low-cost Savings Bank Life Insurance with FAMILY INCOME BENEFITS. Together with estimated Social Security benefits in case I should no longer be here, this would assure $100 monthly income until the children are grown up. And, when monthly payments cease, my wife would receive $5,000."

FAMILY INCOME policies are issued in units of $1,000 of "Straight Life" insurance, combined with sufficient decreasing term insurance to provide $10 a month income to your family after your death for a period up to 20 years from date of issue. Here are some examples of the low premium rates.*

Family Income (per month)	Death Benefit (end of 20 yr. period)	Monthly Premium (at age 30)	Maximum Benefits Payable
$10	$1,000	$2.13	$3,400
50	5,000	11.65	17,000
100	10,000	23.30	34,000

*These rates apply during 20 years from date of issue during which Family Income Benefits are provided. Thereafter, only straight life insurance premiums are payable. Sample age only. Rates for other ages and other types of insurance on request.

The Village Fair Comes to St. John's Episcopal Church

The VILLAGE FAIR comes to St. John's Episcopal Church, corner of Lowell Avenue and Otis Street, Newtonville, on Friday, October 3 from 2:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m., and on Saturday, October 4, from 10:30 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. Hundreds of wonderful articles are going on sale in the Parish House with the opening of the VILLAGE FAIR. They will include aprons, home made foods, dolls, cards, books, fancy articles, sporting goods, groceries, etc. The FAIR will consist of stores representing the various stores in the village and will resemble the village street, with the colorful decorations that attend the typical country village fair. Beautiful table prizes which have been donated by the merchants of Newtonville will be given away every hour on the hour free to some lucky purchaser, whose name has been drawn from a barrel containing the names of all persons making purchases during the preceding hour.

An afternoon attraction will be the Tea Garden where tea and cakes will be served between the hours of 2:30 and 4:30 p.m. The chowder supper on Friday and the home baked bean supper on Saturday from 5:00 to 7:30 p.m. each day will be a gathering place for members of the parish and their friends and will present a grand chance to enjoy good fellowship and to meet old and new friends. Informal dancing for the younger set will be held from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. each evening.

A great Midway will be on the parish house grounds under canvas adjoining the Parish House by a canopy. This midway will feature games of skill, shooting gallery, movies, fortune teller, and the usual hot dogs, hamburgers, ice cream, soft drinks and coffee. The big top will lend a lot of color and give a festive atmosphere which is always present at a village fair.

Reverend DeWolf Perry is Rector of St. John's. The Fair Committee is headed by Walter B. Chase as Chairman, assisted by Stanley Newman, Thomas G. Walters, and Orvil Hagaman, Treasurer. Other members of this committee are: Mrs. Harold Dixon, for the Women's Guild, Mrs. Thomas G. Walters for St. Elizabeth's Circle, Mr. Fred Fogg for the Men's Club, Mrs. Archie MacDonald for the Young People's Fellowship, Mrs. Albert R. Belsel, Jr. for the Evening Group, Mr. James MacMahon for Boy Scouts, Troop 16; Mr. Eugene Sanger for Special Gifts, Mr. Donald Rust, Jr. for Advertising and Publicity, Mr. Stanley Newman for Midway, Mr. Clyde Hicks, Display Manager, and Mr. Riley Hampton, Advisor.

home, if you have any fire problems to solve, they will gladly help you.

Representative George E. Rawson will open the demonstration and Lt. W. P. Hoag, Jr., U.S.N. will present victory medals to the following members of the fire department, who served in the navy during World War II: Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., Carl H. Hartwig, John J. Fontannay, Francis C. Babbitt, Reno L. Cerra, Raymond J. Keegan, Lawrence J. Smith, Peter W. J. Forte, James T. Coffey, John J. Chagnon Jr., John F. Bell, Maurice Kehoe, Paul J. Leone, Joseph E. LaCroix, Joseph P. Walton, Alfred G. Ken, Jr.

Following the presentation, Commander Geo. Mansfield, U.S.N. will speak on the contribution to the war made by the Fire Department.

Arrangements have been made by the Newton Graphic with the United Mutual Fire Insurance Company to present a dramatic show at the High School Auditorium on Thursday evening, October 9 at 8 p.m., which will demonstrate with small models how your home could be destroyed by fire. This dramatic production in miniature is thrilling entertainment—yet packed with practical information to help you avoid the loss of your home and all personal belongings through fire. It's directed by "E. W. Williams, whose long colorful career as a fire department official brought him face to face with the havoc and horror of fire in all its tragic forms. It's brought to you by the United Mutual Fire Insurance Company and the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company in cooperation with the Newton Graphic, the Chamber of Commerce and the Newton Fire Department. Everyone is invited to attend. Admission is free.

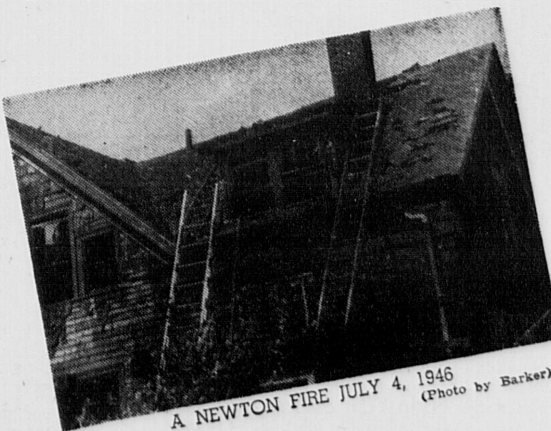

An ensemble from the Newton High School Orchestra will furnish music before the show. The same show will be presented to high school students on Wednesday morning and at the Warren Junior High School on Friday morning.

Fire Chief John L. Keating of the Newton Fire Department said today in announcing the Fire Department's cooperation with other civic groups that, "by using simple precautionary methods many fires could be eliminated." The Fire Chief in talking about replacement cost asserted that even in small fires where firemen are able to confine the flames to one room, it cost property owners two to three times the amount of money to refigure the burned-out areas as it did a year ago. The Chief particularly emphasized the following points:

1. Rubbish fires are causing a great deal of damage in our city. If people would remove rubbish from their cellars, attics and closets, fire losses would come down and many alarms would be eliminated.

2. The large number of fires which are caused from the use of matches and smoking, which indicates that matches should be kept where small children could not reach them. A liberal supply of ash trays throughout the house would reduce fires, and the Chief particularly emphasized the point that if you value your life "do not smoke in bed."

Mayoral Candidates Issue Statements

(The opinions expressed in these columns are the candidates' own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Boyd Asserts Newton Contractors Paradise

"For many years the City of Newton was noted for its straightforward, alert and economical government. Its citizens were proud of their high-minded public servants who conducted the affairs of the city for the benefit of the citizens and the taxpayer. The public was content to vote for those chosen for them, and to forget the City government between elections. But two years ago, during the municipal campaign, the City was shocked to learn that all was not well. There were many unpaid bills of long standing, owed by the City, for services rendered to the Street Department, and the appropriations therefor exhausted. The Street Commissioner resigned, and later he, with seven other individuals, was indicted. Those who were in a position in which they either knew or should have known about the chaotic conditions in this department, sat idly by, doing nothing, and failing to inform the public of the true situation.

"During the last two years, conditions in this department have not improved. Today, the City is embarked upon a program of street construction which has been carried out wholly by contractors, without proper supervision to protect the City's interests, and without anyone in the Street Department competent to supervise the construction of roads. This has created a situation so much in favor of private contractors, that they have flocked to the City for a cut of the gravy. Sad to relate, Newton is today the 'Contractors' Paradise in Massachusetts."

"Those in charge of the Street Department say that they cannot obtain suitable help to work for the City building roads. Nonsense! Prior to the present administration, Newton always built the bulk of its own roads. There is nothing wrong with the employees of the City. They are good workers, and it is just as easy for the City to obtain competent help as it is for individual contractors to do so. Pay adequate wages—supervise the work properly—and much, if not all of this work could be done by the City itself at a great saving to the taxpayers.

"The budget for the Street Department for the last 12 or 15 years has been about the same each year—roughly, $900,000. During the period from 1942 to 1946, there was little if any, equipment bought for the department, and hardly any work done on the streets. Where did the sums of money appropriated during these years go? What have we to show for them? Why wasn't some of this money set apart during these years when nothing could be done, to help pay for roads which must be built now?"

"My two opponents in this campaign cannot escape some measure of responsibility in these matters. One of them has been a member of the Board of Aldermen—indeed, Chairman of the Finance Committee, and in a position where he should have known what was going on. The other has been closely identified with the present administration, and in fact, was the present Mayor's campaign manager in the last election.

"The issue in this campaign is not the necessity of a full time Mayor—which, by the way, I advocated two years ago—but the necessity of an alert, wide-awake executive.

"I am in this contest to acquaint the public with the facts as I know them, and because I believe the administration at City Hall has bogged down and a change is imperative. Now is the time to make it before it is too late."

Edwards Points Way to Balance Newton's Economy

Roy S. Edwards, President of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, and a candidate for Mayor, was a prominent guest at the Tuesday luncheon in the Brae Burn Country Club which preceded the official ground breaking of the type of development he has been advocating for many years, namely, the $4,000,000 industrial centre on Needham street, Newton Highlands.

In a previous statement, Mr. Edwards has pointed out that the right kinds of new industries for Newton—in locations zoned for this express purpose—would bring needed new income to the city and would tend to balance its economy.

"For a long time," said Mr. Edwards, "I have had definite convictions, regarding Newton's future. For example, it is obvious that we, who live in a city which is rapidly approaching the 100,000 population figure, must seek to it that our present well-zoned industrial areas are occupied to their capacity in order that the city may provide itself with the additional income so necessary to any vigorous, expanding community. As I have also said before, such zoned developments should neither lessen the security of home owners, nor encroach on the attractive family neighborhoods for which Newton is so widely and favorably known.

"This new industrial centre on Needham street is a long step in the right direction. If elected Mayor, I shall make every effort to initiate other similar projects in similar areas. For I am convinced, beyond a doubt, that they will prove to be of incalculable benefit to Newton's progress through the years to come."

Stability Is Basis of Lockwood Campaign

The first definite statement of policy to come from any of this year's candidates for Mayor was issued this week by Alderman Theodore R. Lockwood, and is printed here in its entirety.

Speaking to a group of his campaign workers, Mr. Lockwood said, "The disturbing element in the present political campaign is the readiness of some Newton citizens to talk against their City, to criticize its government, to demand 'changes,' even in some cases asserting that 'anything would be better than what we have.' In a community of 80,000 people there will always be differences of opinion; it would not be normal or healthy to have it otherwise. Now, a political campaign always provides the opportunity to magnify these differences, often throwing them completely out of focus or distorting them until they are made to appear something they are not. In a calmer atmosphere, with more time and effort to examine all the facts and understand them, this would not occur.

"One of the important facts is that Newton, the City, has a national reputation as an excellent place to live; its physical beauty, its outstanding schools, its low taxes, its preferred rating for fire and automobile insurance, its effective zoning and building codes, its extensive public services, its sound municipal finances—all these factors place Newton high in any comparison with cities of its size anywhere in the United States. Newton is the envy of hundreds of cities. And it is this sustained reputation which has attracted to Newton a truly distinguished body of citizens from all fields of business and education and religion and the arts and professions. They have not only chosen Newton for their homes, but they adopt the Newton custom of taking an active part in civic and community life. It is they who are the 'government' of the city. I would not swap the citizens of Newton for those of any other community, whether they have lived here for generations or but a few years. To my mind, the Newton community is an evidence of good government in the past and an insurance of good government in the years to come. And I am grateful to the hundreds of those representative citizens who have publicly endorsed my candidacy.

"However, as Mayor I would not be content without changes, providing they indicated progress, had been properly examined, and did not advance the interests of an individual or group at the expense of the general welfare. In your efforts to further a successful campaign, you can emphasize as Lockwood's platform a belief in Newton and Newton's government, with a desire for improvements where they can be made without disturbing the essential stability. Here are some details which can be considered as just such improvements:

"Lockwood is the original candidate stating a full-time devotion to City business; my candidacy was announced in February as planning to serve full-time in the Mayor's office at City Hall, and transact only City business from that office. On no other basis can I consider assuming the responsibility of heading a multi-million-dollar-per-year concern, which is what the City of Newton is today.

"Lockwood advocates the appointment of a Director of Public Works, as provided under existing ordinance, to co-ordinate the important problems of the Street, Water, and Engineering Departments. Newton is rebuilding 50 miles of streets this year, with no alternative but the prospect of continuing on a similar scale for years to come. Shortage of man-power, materials, and equipment created by the war have increased the routine program of these departments out of all proportion to their normal ability to handle. Citizens are well aware of rough streets, neglected trees, unremoved snow, etc. The war is over; such things need not be. I see the Director of Public Works not as any added expense, but as an increased economy pointing to definite prompt solution of these problems.

"Lockwood has long recommended changing over the Newton water supply from the present Charles River System to the new State Quabbin Dam Supply under the Metropolitan District Commission. This would ensure ample supply of superior-quality water at no increased cost; simultaneously it would release for residential construction the large water reservation area in Newton Upper Falls, much needed for such development.

"Lockwood also recognizes that industrial development, confined to strictly-zoned areas, is important, and part of a well-rounded municipal plan, an effective element of tax relief for residential taxpayers.

"The problem of school buildings and equipment is one of natural importance in Newton, and its solution has always been a prime interest to me. Here again present-day conditions make for a crisis—not only the expense of construction, but the difficulty in obtaining materials which meet the exacting specifications. It is Lockwood's desire to push the program of building and alteration in every way, providing the results will continue the standards of our school system.

"Closely allied to the schools, the efficient operating of playgrounds and recreational facilities is another phase of deep interest, including condition of grounds and equipment. Lockwood advocates a program of broadening and increased use of all such facilities, outdoors and indoors.

"No one has gone further to study veterans' problems than Lockwood. I am a veteran, a charter member of Post 48, American Legion, was treasurer of the Citizens' Advisory Committee for Returning Veterans, have served as chairman of the Aldermanic committee on Soldiers Relief, and am a member of the National Housing Committee and other related organizations. I have no hesitation in saying that the use of The Veteran as an instrument in politics has been excessive and without resulting benefit to the veterans.

I cannot say too much from a political angle as an Alderman, while present legislation affecting veterans' housing is under consideration; you may state that, at the proper time, Lockwood will advance plan and action to promote the solution of the critical problem.

"Lockwood was instrumental in the establishment of the City's Long-Range Planning Board, and will consistently urge continuance of the valuable activities of that Board and pay careful attention to their recommendations.

"Lockwood is not opposed to City Managers, and one of my opponents stated he had me in mind as a Manager to handle the City's affairs. My conviction is primarily the need for full-time devotion to the Mayor's job, and I couple with that the appointment of a Director of Public Works—to produce the equivalent of City Managership.

"Lockwood's thoroughness of approach to improved government includes the establishment of a Municipal Research Library at City Hall, operating for the use of all department heads and employees as well as the Aldermen and Mayor.

"For 10 years I have striven to serve the best interests of Newton as Alderman in various capacities and on numerous committees, the last 6 years including chairmanship of the Finance Committee. Work on this committee requires complete understanding of everything that makes the wheels go round. A Mayor must have the confidence and respect of the Board of Aldermen to operate the City business satisfactorily. Everyone knows that the Board of Aldermen of Newton is not a political body."

★ We Work To Keep You Safe ★

"We work to keep you safe"

This message to Newton home owners demonstrates how United Mutual works with its policyholders to help prevent fire. Fewer losses mean reduced insurance costs. United Mutual also works to cut expenses. We deal direct with our policyholders, which results in lower selling and handling costs. These economies have made it possible for us to return substantial dividends to our policyholders. These savings have been especially welcome at a time when other living costs have risen sharply.

Today one thousand American homes caught fire. The families they sheltered yesterday were no more conscious that fire would strike in twenty-four hours than you are now. And yet, if someone trained in fire prevention had gone through their homes, he could have pointed to the conditions that made the majority of these fires possible — and prevented them.

So let's go over your house and see where and how the fires might strike

CHIMNEY FIRES

Chimneys come first. Clean them now and you'll eliminate soot fires. These fires are not to be taken lightly; even modern construction will not stand indefinitely the heat they generate.

ATTICS

Defective wiring starts many an attic fire, for this is a favorite place for the amateur to string another light, usually with cut-rate material, to save the price of an electrician. Don't fool with home electrical installations.

Smoking also accounts for a lot of attic fires. Put a "no smoking" sign at the head of the stairs with a pail half full of sand beside it to catch the butts and don't let anyone violate the rule. Looking for things with matches, candles or lamps is in the same category, and the answer is, "Don't," — use a flashlight instead.

Go through your attic and clean out all the junk and rubbish you can. You not only remove just so much extra heat in case of fire, but you take away spontaneous combustion's favorite breeding grounds.

DON'T SMOKE IN BED

Bedroom fires happen more frequently than you'd suspect. Smoking starts a lot of them. Keep plenty of good ash trays handy — the kind that will hold and snuff out a cigarette even though you forget it. Smoking in bed is a painful and all-too-common form of suicide. Discourage the habit in your family.

LIVING-ROOM FIRES

The living-room usually burns up after you've gone to bed. The last cigarette, dropped while speeding the parting guest, is a great offender. If you want to be perfectly sure you and your family are safe, there is only one course to follow. Air out and then stumble upstairs as usual, crawl into your pajamas or what have you, and (now comes the hard part) stumble downstairs again and go over the house in a careful fire patrol.

By that time the cigarette smoke will have cleared and the smoke rising from the divan will be visible. Take a look in the kitchen to make sure the stove and kitchen gadgets are all turned off and check up on any room or closet where guests left wraps. You may then stumble up to bed knowing that you won't be lugged down a ladder a couple of hours later.

Little sparks popping out of fireplaces cause lots of trouble, too. Keep them in their proper place by putting a screen in front of the fireplace when you go out of the room, even for a minute or so.

CELLAR FIRES

The cellar is fire's happy hunting ground because there it can mull along undiscovered until the rising heat takes the rest of the house in one gulp.

The old-style heating plant depended upon the operator's brains to keep it from overheating. The modern equivalent relies on a lot of little gadgets: thermostats, anti-syphoning devices, etc. As long as these are working the way they should, they are better operators than you are. When they go wrong, the error of their ways can be disastrous to you. Keep them healthy by having the local service men inspect their innards each fall.

Look around your furnace room. What is overhead? Dry beams and flooring or a fire-resistant ceiling? What's within seven feet of the heating unit? Will it burn? If so, remove it or cover it with fire-resistant material. Check your basement fuse box to be certain that 15-ampere fuses protect all your lighting circuits. Larger fuses permit overloading circuits which may cause fires.

Keep your cellar clear of rubbish that adds ready fuel to any fire and all too frequently starts its own fire by spontaneous combustion. Isolate paints and oils in a corner by themselves where fire won't immediately reach them. Paint rags should be thoroughly washed or burned immediately after use.

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION

Somewhere in your home is the cleaning closet, full of waxes and oils and cleaners, almost explosive fuels, and probably oily rags and oily floor mops that have the nasty habit of spontaneous combustion. If you must keep these in the same closet, at least separate the fuel from a very possible source of fire by keeping the mops hung on the inside of the door, cloth end up, where air will circulate around them. Put your rags in a heavy metal can with a cover, such as a heavy garbage can, or better still, burn them when you finish the job and get the jump on them.

KITCHEN FIRES

We've saved the kitchen until the last, for this is where fire pops right in on you in a most disconcerting way. It's usually the stove. The frying pan goes "sputter, sputter," and the flames start licking the ceiling, or the oven begins to roar. You've probably handled the situation before, but there is only one safe thing to do. Remember to turn off the gas or the electricity. If the woodwork or ceiling feels hot, or you can still hear the chimney or vent pipe sputtering, call the Fire Department. Tell them the story and ask them to send somebody to check up, because all too often stove fires start something bigger and better than you don't find out about until later.

Lighting the stove also puts names in the daily obituary columns and more fortunate people in the hospital. Kerosene used safely a thousand times to help the fire along may explode the next time. Coal gas flares up when the lid is lifted. The gas stove fails to light up immediately, but when the next match is scratched or the lighter is pushed, the survivors learn that an accumulation of gas, particularly in ovens and broilers, is highly explosive. You can even get into trouble with electricity by turning on the switch with wet hands or brushing clothing across the heating units. So make a practice of thinking what you are doing when you light a stove, because for a second or two the bars are down between you and the fire, and if you light it just by habit it may slap you in the face.

CHECKING YOUR INSURANCE

Even after you have been through your house from attic to basement, you have not completely protected yourself from the possibility of a tragic loss until you have checked your fire insurance policies. There are two important things to make sure of: First, make sure you have enough protection. Even if you were adequately insured in 1944, building costs have gone up nearly 50% since then.

Second, make sure you have the right kind of protection. For example, without the proper endorsements on your policy, you would not be able to collect for smoke damage — or the rent you would have to pay while your house is being rebuilt — or the additional living costs. The only safe plan is to have your policies checked by an expert. United Mutual would be glad to do this, without obligation. Just call Hancock 8500.

IS IT TOO MUCH TROUBLE?

And now, as you think back, would it really be too much trouble or expense to follow these suggestions?

There is nothing to create a public demand that your house be made safe from fire and you from a crippling financial loss. Nothing but you and your conscience. Won't you, for your family's sake, take the few necessary precautions to protect your home from fire and yourself from its costly aftermath? Because nobody else will.

YOUR FIRE ALARM BOX

Make sure you really know where the nearest fire alarm box is located. If you are cut off from your telephone you'll want to get to that fire box in a hurry. But don't wait until an emergency to learn how to send in an alarm. Your local firemen will be more than glad to tell you how it operates.

Should you have a fire, don't just dash out of the house. Quickly check to make sure the windows are closed, and be sure to shut the doors behind you. Reason? Closed doors and windows help cut down on the fire's oxygen, retard the spread of the fire from one room to another. Open doors and windows only fan the flames to greater heat and destruction.

cal machine—it is a group of public servants who, without pay, have served this city with exemplary devotion. To a man, they endorse Lockwood for Mayor, as one who knows the mass of matters making a city government and may be relied upon to give the citizens what they want. Lockwood recognizes no machine, and my multitude of supporters are public-spirited citizens who insist on efficient, sound government; obtaining the maximum value out of a tax dollar spent; fulfilling the citizens' desires, with which I am thoroughly familiar.

"As the campaign unfolds it will be obvious that the outstanding candidate is the man with experience and a record of accomplishment in many fields, but particularly government. Lockwood is the only candidate with experience, qualifications, and a platform to justify his election."

Lockwood States His Independence

Alderman Theodore R. Lockwood, candidate for Mayor of Newton at the coming election November 4 repeated today what he has previously stated, that he is not promoted by any "machine" and that he will take office without any embarrassing commitments.

"I keep hearing stories, from an untraceable source," said Mr. Lockwood, "which picture me as the candidate of a political machine, or couple my name with the names of others, sometimes barely known to me, as having an understanding in regard to appointments to be made following my election. Such gossip in mischief, calculated to harm the other names mentioned more than it can harm me. Without reservation, I deny that it holds any truth.

"I do not recognize any 'machine' in Newton politics, certainly not as represented by my many endorsers and active workers," Mr. Lockwood continued. "My campaign is being conducted by several hundred Newton citizens in all parts of the city, many of whom have never before participated in political activity nor even previously endorsed any candidate for office. Finances to support the campaign are controlled by a committee of well-known citizens who issued a widespread appeal; the response has come in moderate contributions from a large number of people. I am not bound by any promise to anyone, and I do not intend to enter office with string tied to me."

War II. His letter follows: 74 Elmhurst Road, Newton, Mass., October 1, 1947.

Mr. George W. Sweet, Chairman, Planning Board, Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Being fully aware of the thoughtful and progressive attitude of the Planning Board in its long range planning and its receptiveness to ideas which may lead to the building of a better city, I am taking the liberty of suggesting for your consideration the possibility of constructing a municipal building which would serve our city as a civic, recreation and social center.

In making this suggestion I am not unmindful of the many essential needs which a municipal government must provide for its tax-payers as promptly, effectively and efficiently as possible. These needs include the many services such as schools, health, and welfare, protection, streets and recreation they are continuous and must be improved and expanded in accordance with the growth of the city. Today our city is faced with an especially pressing problem, housing, particularly for our veterans. Every effort can and will be made, I am sure, to solve this problem. The provision of these needs and the solution of problems necessitates expenditures which in these days of high cost are substantial.

The suggestion of a civic and recreation center is made in the belief that such a center would be largely if not entirely self-supporting. Its facilities would provide many opportunities for a fuller, more healthful and enjoyable community life. Every one knows that such facilities have been needed in Newton for a long time.

The building would include an artificial ice rink and a swimming pool, the ring would be surrounded with a substantial seating capacity and would serve as far more than just a hockey and skating area. After removal of the ice its uses are almost unlimited—basketball, track, tennis and other sports. The facilities for hockey practice, hockey games and public skating in the greater Boston area are admittedly inadequate to meet the demands. Individuals as well as cities and towns are seriously considering construction of rinks. The growth in participation in sports and the witnessing of sporting events by young and old alike has grown phenomenally since the war. The value of sports and recreation is being more widely recognized from both the health and social standpoints. The crowds that witness our high school football games at Newton attest to the popularity of local sports. Indoor facilities are nowhere sufficient to accommodate crowds who desire to see basketball and other sports at the high school.

In addition to sporting events the rink could be used as an auditorium for all types of civic affairs, dances and exhibitions. Nowhere in the city is there a municipal building that can seat 3,000 people indoors and there are many occasions when at least that number of people would like to gather for an event. Social, civic, and recreational activities are to a great extent now carried on of necessity at the village level. I believe the fostering of the city level is very desirable. Newton needs more than anything else a means of welding the villages into a unified city.

The veterans and their activities are a most important influence in the city. The proposed auditorium would permit all veteran organizations to meet together and to stage various events they might wish to sponsor.

A municipal swimming pool is an asset in any community and is an essential part of a well balanced physical education and recreational program in the school. At present all boys in the high school receive swimming instruction before graduation and are transported to the Y.M.C.A. for this purpose. If nearby facilities were available the girls also would receive this much needed instruction as well as to swim for pleasure.

It seems to me the most suitable location for the building would be the grounds of the high school in as much as a student population would be the largest daytime users. Also the location is near the geographical center of the city.

Previously I have expressed the opinion that this project would be largely self supporting. This would result from charges made for athletic contests and rental of the various facilities in the amounts and under the circumstances which the controlling authority might establish. In order to make these charges it would be necessary to obtain the passage of an enabling act by the legislature. It is reasonable to believe the legislature would see the need and advantages of the project and pass the necessary legislation. As far as the skating facilities are concerned, neighboring communities would undoubtedly desire to rent the rink for practice and if possible play many games there.

The dedication of the building to the memory of Newton Veterans of World War II would be most fitting and proper. As the Newton War Memorial Building it would bear a living memory to those who served us in the greatest war in history.

To summarize, I have proposed this project for your consideration and thought because I have found a considerable desire for it; because I believe the facilities are necessary for a full civic and recreational expression of our residents; because our city should memorialize our new veterans and because such a building should cost our people little if anything as taxpayers.

I would greatly appreciate an expression of your thoughts in regard to this matter when you have had an opportunity to study it.

Sincerely yours,

Theodore R. Lockwood

Geo. B. Rowlings Active in Civic Affairs

George B. Rowlings, member of the Newton School Committee from Ward 2, is seeking reelection in the coming municipal election on November 4.

An attorney at law and partner in the prominent law firm of Tyler & Reynolds, 1 Court street, Boston, he has been a resident and property owner in Newton for many years. He has three children, the oldest of whom, Donald, graduated from Newton High School this year and is now attending Colgate University.

After receiving his early education in Sydney Academy, Nova Scotia, Mr. Rowlings studied for the teaching profession at Nova Scotia Provincial Normal College from which he received his teaching diploma in 1922. Turning, however, to a law career, he graduated from Boston University Law School in 1925 where he was a member of the Woolack honorary society. Immediately after graduation he became associated with the law firm of which he is now a partner. Besides the courts of Massachusetts he is a member of the Bars of the United States District Court, the Circuit Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court.

Commencing his service on the Newton School Committee when he was elected in the municipal election of 1945 Mr. Rowlings, as well as other members of the Committee, have had many novel matters with which to deal during these postwar years of reconstruction and readjustment, including the establishment of benefits for veterans and the problems arising from increasing costs. He has been particularly active on subcommittees in setting up the Junior College for veterans and other high school graduates and in the settlement of teachers' salary questions which last year were handled

Scipione Running for Ward 2 Alderman

Mr. Scipione was born and has been schooled in Newton. He comes from a fine family, who have been tax payers in the City of Newton for many decades. He is married and has one child. Mrs. Scipione is an accomplished violinist and is a member of the teaching staff of the All Newton Music School.

He is a graduate of Northeastern University Law School, LL.B., and is a practicing Attorney in the State and Federal Courts, with an established office in Newtonville.

Mr. Scipione has been closely connected with the Advisory Draft Board 112, as an associate member, and was appointed legal advisor to Members of the Armed forces in the Middlesex District under jurisdiction of the War Department, Judge Advocate's Office, during World War II.

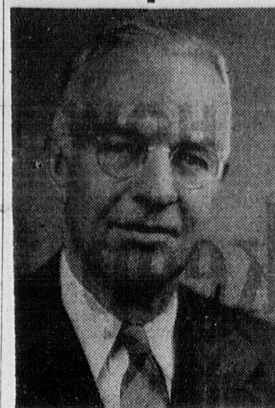

Mr. Scipione fully realizing the responsibilities of the present day conditions, and with his many years of experience as a practicing attorney in legal affairs, feels confident that the voters of Ward 2 will contribute their loyal support for his election as Ward Alderman from Ward 2 on November 4, 1947.

Charlotte Shork, 19 Waban Hill road, Chestnut Hill, has been awarded a Monroe Scholarship at the New England Conservatory of Music, Harrison Keller, Director of the Conservatory, announced. The Conservatory begins its 81st year Sept. 15.

In Newton by both the School Committee and the teachers without the publicity and lack of mutual understanding which so characterized similar dealings in other communities. Being the only attorney on the Committee, Mr. Rowlings' legal experience and training have been at the disposal of the Committee at all times.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowlings have both taken an active part in many civic enterprises. For many years Mr. Rowlings has been a member of the Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association and is now Vice-President of the Newtonville Group of the Boy Scouts of America and in many Newton Community Chest campaigns. Mrs. Rowlings has also worked in Chest campaigns and in Red Cross drives. They have both done extensive work on the school programs for the entertainment of children at Halloween.

Slocum, Aldermanic Candidate, Son of Former City Solicitor

CHARLES S. SLOCUM

Charles S. Slocum of 15 Trowbridge avenue, Newtonville, candidate for Alderman at Large from Ward 2, is seeking reelection. He has served on the Board for five years succeeding Carl F. Schipper, Jr., when he joined the Navy. While on the Board of Aldermen Slocum has served with the following committees: Finance and License Public Buildings, Veterans Services, Finance and the Joint School Committee of which he is chairman.

He is a lifelong resident of Newton—a property owner, son of Winfield S. Slocum, who was City Solicitor of Newton for over thirty years. Slocum has been on the Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association for many years having served as its vice-president and then president for three terms.

Slocum graduated from Amherst College and is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. After college he joined Corn Products Refining Company in New York and is currently Assistant Sales Manager in the New England office in Boston.

He served in Company A of Massachusetts State Guard during World War I and was on duty in Boston during the Police Strike.

Mr. Slocum has been a resident of Newton for many years. Their daughter, Suzanne Wallace, graduated from Newton High School and Smith College. She has three children who are in the Clafin School. Their son Russell attended Newton schools and graduated from Beacon School in Wellesley. He was manager of Stevens Grain Co. in Great Barrington, Mass., before enlisting in the Army, in which he served for three and one half years.

During World War II Alderman Slocum served as A. R. P. Post Warden. He has been active in Community Chest drives and other civic affairs.

Playgrounds Need Overhauling—Gath

At an organization meeting at his home, 600 Canton St., last night, Harry (Sonny) Gath, Jr., announced his program for the Alderman at-large campaign from Ward 2.

Candidate Gath announced his summary program for the acceptance of the citizens of Newton.

As a sponsor of juvenile and adult sports through 15 years, Harry Gath, Jr., emphasized the importance of such a program in the Garden City. These interests have been in baseball, softball, basketball and football. Many of the juveniles have grown into the adult stage because of Harry Gath's interest. His sponsorship was well demonstrated at the city-wide sports program at the John W. Weeks school last Thursday night when he presented baseball and softball awards to the winners of the city league.

Speaking to his committee, Mr. Gath said, "For both juveniles and adults have their place. They are an asset to the community. They must continue and with my help they will. I have never seen better cooperation in any sports activity I have sponsored than I have seen in Newton. Newton is ready and should be a recreation centre for all, whether they be teenagers or as old as the king of Sweden, who gave up tennis when he was 77 years old."

"In my opinion the playgrounds of Newton need a complete overhauling. With one of the best city leagues this summer they played on grounds a la sand lot."

"To the fathers and mothers and to their children I promise to sponsor whatever sports activity is worthy of promotion."

"But there are other things an Alderman should favor. Newton's taxes should be established to meet municipal needs only."

"We're on the verge of snow storms. Definitely it is my plan that the Board of Aldermen establish a well planned and constructive program re: snow removal. Let's not have the war excuse. The war is over—so are the holidays of good salaries in war plants. I ask every veteran in Newton to give thought to that."

Donald Enoch was named chairman of the Gath committee, Harold K. Bragie, vice chairman and William Sullivan, Jr., secretary.

PREVENT FIRES

OCTOBER 5 to 11 FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

One second's carelessness can cause the loss of many lives and of many millions of dollars in property value. One second's carelessness—and your life, your property may pay the penalty! Maybe you don't like being talked to like a forgetful schoolboy but fire destruction is too serious for any soft-pedal appeals. YOU do the smoking; YOU light the fires; YOU pile up the papers, oil soaked rags and inflammable fluids; YOU risk using faulty electric appliances another day and another . . . Of course you don't want to start a fire, or see your property burned to the ground or your families suffering the agony of serious—even fatal burns! But that second's oversight, even though unintentional is all it takes—then it's too late even for repentance!

FIRE PREVENTION SHOW AT THE HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9 at 8 P. M.

See actual explosion — Blazing Building — See with small models how your home could be destroyed by fire.

The show is under the direction of E. W. Williams, former fire official, and presented by the Newton Graphic through the courtesy of the United Mutual Fire Insurance Co., and Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce and the Newton Fire Department.

ADMISSION FREE

HAVE OIL BURNERS REGULARLY CLEANED AND INSPECTED

DEMONSTRATION

Chief John L. Keating of the Newton Fire Department extends an invitation to everyone to attend the Fire Department's demonstration of apparatus, equipment and drilling evolutions which will be held on Fire Prevention Sunday, October 5th, at 2:30 P.M. at Engine No. 1, Washington Street, Newton Corner.

The drill team will be under the supervision of Lt. John L. Martin, who is the department's Drill Master.

The significance of Fire Prevention Week should be remembered not just for this week, but every week in the year. During this week everyone should try and eliminate every known fire hazard in their home and place of business. It is our duty to try and make the city of Newton the safest city there is, to live in and work in. With the help of everyone living here we can do it.

RUBBISH COLLECTIONS

All rubbish will be collected in every section of the city during the week of Oct. 5 to 12. Please make an extra effort to clean out your cellar, attic, etc., and place in containers, and if possible tie loose rubbish in bundles and leave on the sidewalk on the day your rubbish is usually collected.

Make yourself personally responsible for Fire Prevention!

Newton Red Feather Services Needs 8% Greater Than Last Year

The needs of the Red Feather Services in Newton for 1948 will be 8% higher than in 1947, according to a statement made this week by Chester M. Alter, President of the Newton Community Chest. Budget figures have been prepared by all member agencies and hearings with the officers of these agencies held on Monday and Tuesday of this week. The total of the requests as compared with the actual grants for 1947 to these same agencies indicates that at least an 8% increase will be needed for next year if these agencies are to render the same high quality of service as in the past.

"It is highly understandable why, with increased costs, our Red Feather Services need more money this year," states Dr. Alter, "and I hope that, in the October campaign for 1948 needs of the Greater Boston Community Fund and the Newton Community Chest, our contributors will have these increased costs in mind when making their subscriptions."

"At the hearings, which took place this week, the Presidents, Treasurers and Executives of each Agency were in attendance at individual sessions and discussed their requests with the Budget Committee of the Chest. Every substantial item in the budget and every item where an increase was asked for was carefully scrutinized by the Budget Committee, and Newton citizens can have confidence that when the final budget has been determined it will be, in their opinion, the minimum budget essential for effective operation of its member agencies."

The members of the Budget Committee of the Newton Community Chest are: Elmore L. MacPhie, Chairman; William M. Cahill, Lawrence B. Damon, Harvey J. Elwell, Edward B. Gray, G. Herbert Marcy, J. Arthur Noon, Aubrey C. Schurman, and Arthur B. Tyler. In addition to the Budget Committee, President Alter, Campaign Chairman Bates and Executive Director H. J. Pettengill were present at the hearings.

For the second week in succession Newton was the leader in the enrollment contest among the 47 Metropolitan cities and towns, with a percentage of 68.7. Bedford with 58.3% was in second place and Cambridge and Canton tied with 50%. The program for Newton, according to Mr. Bates, is for complete enrollment by October 7. "If the enrollment returns continue the next two weeks as they have in the past two I am confident that we will reach our enrollment goal according to schedule."

Residential Captains meetings started with a meeting at the Family Service Bureau on Wednesday evening October 1 at 7:30, for Newton and Waban Hill Captains and leaders. Five more meetings are scheduled: Thursday, October 2, West Newton and Chestnut Hill at the Newton YMCA; Friday, October 3, Newton Highlands and Upper Falls at the Pomroy House; Monday, October 6, Newtonville and Nonantum at the All Newton Music School; Tuesday, October 7, Auburndale and Waban at the West Newton Community Centre; and Thursday, October 9, Newton Centre and Lower Falls at the Newton District Nursing Association.

Workers meetings are being planned for the period between October 10 and October 19. These meetings will take place at 7 locations with the first one for Newton Corner workers on Friday evening October 10 at the Newton YMCA Auditorium. At these meetings two entertaining and informative skits will be presented which the Campaign Committee feels will be of extreme interest and value to the workers groups.

160 Students at Opening of Junior College

The Newton Junior College opened for the second year on Monday, September 29 with approximately 160 students. There are two classes this year—about 50 returning for the Sophomore Year and 110 Freshmen. About two thirds of the students are residents of Newton, with the rest from neighboring communities. One comes from as far away as Rockland, Maine, one from Pulaski, N. Y., and another from Centerville on the Cape.

The new courses, which are creating quite an interest among the students include Economic Geography, Marketing and Finance, Advertising and Salesmanship, Management of Small Businesses, Discovering Music, and a Survey of Science. Most courses are given by the Newton High School Faculty, although there are some part time special courses given by Professor Leo Drew O'Neil of Boston University, and Mr. George Davis and Mr. J. Cecil Stanley of Harvard University.

Approximately 25 students transferred this year to other colleges from the Newton Junior College, receiving full sophomore standing.

The first Convocation of the school year will be held on Tuesday, October 7 at 11:30 a.m. in the Newton High School Auditorium. Dr. Carl Ell, president of Northeastern University will be the speaker. Invited platform guests include Mayor Paul M. Goddard, Dr. Desmond, Commissioner of Education of Massachusetts, Dr. Homer W. Anderson, Superintendent of the Newton Schools and members of the School Committee. The public is invited to attend.

Newtonville

The Newtonville Garden Club will meet at Library Hall, Newtonville, on Thursday, October 9, at 10 a.m. Mrs. N. E. Hallett will present a paper "Happenings in My Garden".

Boyd, Edwards & Lockwood To Sneak At Davis School

The Newton municipal campaign will get into high gear next Tuesday night, Oct. 7, when the three candidates for mayor will appear on the same platform at a public forum to be held by the Newton Progressive Association at the Davis School Auditorium, 492 Waltham Street, West Newton.

Hugh S. Boyd, Roy S. Edwards and Theodore R. Lockwood will address the voters in the order named, starting at 8 o'clock, and discuss the issues in addresses that will not exceed half an hour. Following the main speeches, there will be a half-hour question period from the floor, and the audience will be privileged to ask the candidates about issues and to get information pertaining to the campaign.

This is the first time in many years that Newton mayoralty candidates have consented to appear together at a real rally. Interest in the campaign is growing by leaps and bounds, and it is due to reach a white heat by election day, Nov. 4.

The Newton Progressive Association, a nonpartisan organization devoted to good government, is stimulating interest in the campaign this year by a series of three meetings and public forums. Its second meeting of the campaign will be held Oct. 14 at the Mason School in Newton Centre, when candidates for School Committee will be invited to appear and give short talks. On Tuesday, Oct. 21, an Aldermanic rally will be held at the Day Junior High School Auditorium in Newtonville. All meetings will include question periods to promote information about the qualifications of the various candidates.

All signs point to the most bitterly contested election Newton has seen in years. These meetings aim to keep the record straight.

Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Burke of 213 Derby Street, West Newton was married to James Paul Britton of 34 Barbara Road, Waltham, son of Mrs. Margaret Britton and the late James Britton, at a nuptial mass in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton on Saturday morning, September 27. The 10 o'clock ceremony was performed by Rev. John A. Saunders and was followed by a reception at the Wellesley Inn.

The bride's gown of white satin was fashioned with a madonna neckline and chapel length train. Her imported illusion veil of knee length fell from a Dutch cap. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Anne Donnelly of Watertown as maid of honor, who wore a gown of peacock green moire with elbow length mitts, a matching head-dress of marquisette, and carried red roses.

Robert Britton of Waltham was the best man. The ushers were William Burke and Edmund Keane.

White gladioli and roses formed the decorations at the church and also at the reception. The wedding march was played by Miss Esther M. Costello and the soloists were Henry Keenan, radio baritone and Miss Claire Leary, a classmate of the bride at Rosary Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Britton left on a motor trip through Northern New England and Canada. After Oct. 10 they will reside at 211 Derby Street, West Newton.

The bride was graduated from the Rosary Academy, Watertown in 1940 and in the same year Mr. Britton was graduated from the Waltham High School.

Major - Batey

Miss Ruth Isabella Batey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Charles Batey of 83 High Street, Newton Upper Falls, and Mr. John Patrick Major son of Mr. and Mrs. John Major of Buffalo, New York were married on Saturday, September 27 at 4 p.m. The ceremony was held in the Parlor of St. Mary's Hall, Boston College by Rev. Thomas M. Herlihy, I.K., pastor of St. Ignatius Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blue crepe gown with dark red hat and accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. David C. Batey, sister-in-law of the bride was matron of honor. She wore beige crepe with matching accessories, and a corsage of baby orchids.

The groom was attended by Patrick O'Keefe of Buffalo, N.Y.

The bride's mother wore a burgandy colored gown with gray accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore blue with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception and dinner was held at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston attended by the members of the immediate family. The groom's uncle, Rev. Francis Major of Buffalo was an out of town guest. Mr. and Mrs. Major left for a wedding trip to Canada and Montreal and upon their return will reside in Buffalo, New York.

Dwyer - Glidden

At a four o'clock ceremony performed by Rev. William Condon in St. Mary's of the Nativity Church, Scituate on Sunday afternoon, September 21, Miss Barbara J. Glidden of West Roxbury and Scituate, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Glidden and the late Elmer George Glidden, became the bride of Robert L. Dwyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Leo Dwyer of Waban.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Major Elmer Glidden of Washington, D. C. With her wedding gown of ivory faille she wore a veil of French illusion which fell from a Juliet cap of point d'Alencon lace. Her bouquet was of stephanotis and roses with an orchid center.

Mrs. James Kenney, sister of the bride, of Scituate was the matron of honor. With her gown of yellow taffeta she wore a matching headress and veil and carried bronze chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were Mrs. John Murphy of Scituate, sister of the bride, Miss Mary Mullen of Dorchester and Scituate and Mrs. C. Berkley Moore of Waban and Scituate. Their gowns also were of taffeta, one in yellow carrying bronze chrysanthemums, the other two in geranium red carrying yellow chrysanthemums.

Paul Burke of West Newton was the best man and serving as ushers were James Sheehan of West Newton, Thomas Monahan of Auburndale and Robert Glidden, brother of the bride, of New Jersey.

The wedding music was played by Harold Cole and Miss Grace Hickey was the soloist. White chrysanthemums and white gladioli formed the decorations on the altar and at the pews.

A reception was held at the Scituate Harbor Yacht Club where the couple were assisted in receiving by Major Elmer Glidden, Mrs. Elmer G. Glidden and Mr. and Mrs. T. Leo Dwyer.

The bride's mother wore a gown of Royal blue lace and Mrs. Dwyer wore blonde satin with brown and gold accessories.

Following a wedding trip to include New York and Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer will return November 1st and will reside at 30 Beaver Dam Road, Scituate.

The bride was graduated from Jackson College and is a member of A. O. P. The groom was graduated from Newton High School and Nichols Jr. College. He served as a corporal in the Quartermasters Corps in the Aleutians and is now associated with his father at the Newton Buick.

Men's Clothing Dept. Added to Newtonville Outlet

A new men's clothing department, offering quality suits, topcoats and overcoats at factory-to-wearer prices, opens Saturday, October 4, in the Newtonville Outlet. The Outlet, which opened recently featuring misses' and women's new-fashion clothing, has quickly become a popular rendezvous for shoppers from Newton, Watertown and Waltham. Location: 763 Washington street, opposite the Newtonville R. R. Station.

The women's wear department remains under the personal direction of Mr. Ben Katzeff, well-known Boston clothier and manufacturer. The new men's department will be managed by Mr. Philip Katzeff. The latter, a veteran of four years' war service in the U. S. Marine Corps, comes to his new post well equipped to serve Newton and Watertown residents with men's clothing. Before the war he was associated with one of Boston's finest men's stores in an executive capacity.

This week the Outlet is featuring all wool worsted men's suits and men's all wool Shetland topcoats and all wool gabardine topcoats.

Pure wool gabardine suits are the featured attraction in the women's wear department.

For this week, store hours are 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Friday and Saturday, and 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Monday through Thursday. In succeeding weeks, the Outlet will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Friday, and 9 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. other weekdays.

Alderman Angevine Candidate for Re-election

Ernest G. Angevine, the present Alderman at Large from Ward 3, is seeking reelection to the Newton Board of Aldermen. He bought the property at 95 Prince Street, West Newton in 1930, where he now lives.

Mr. Angevine is a graduate of Williams College and of Harvard Law School. He is a member of the law firm of Hutchins and Wheeler, 49 Federal Street, Boston. He has been very active in community affairs. He is a co-sponsor of the West Newton Savings Bank and a former President of the West Newton Men's Club. He was formerly a member of the Executive Committee of Norumbega, Council of the Boy Scouts and troop committee for Troop 7C. He has worked every year in both the Newton and Boston Community Fund Campaigns, serving twice as West Newton Residential Chairman. He is a Director and former Treasurer of the All-Newton Music School, a Trustee and Clerk of the Board of the Children's Museum and the Boston Tuberculosis Association and a Director of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis League. He was active in the A.R.P. work during the war, at one time serving as Village Warden.

As a member of the Board of Aldermen, Mr. Angevine has served on the Claims and Rules Committee, the Franchises and Licenses Committee, the Public Buildings Committee, the special committee which liberalized the retirement system and the special committee on municipal fees.

Mr. Angevine married the former Helen Crosby of 40 Lenox Street, West Newton in 1928. They have four children, William, who graduated from Newton High School last June and is a freshman at Williams College, Faith, who graduated from Peirce School in West Newton and is now at Tenacre School, and Helen and Richard who are at the Peirce School.

Work Resumed on New Playground in Newtonville

"Horace Mann Playground" to Honor Memory of Former Newton Resident, One of Country's Greatest Educators

In 1938, the city of Newton purchased a large piece of property, bounded by Crafts street, Albemarle road and Watertown street in Newtonville. This purchase was made on the basis that eventually the site would be developed for a much needed playground in that vicinity.

At the time of purchase, this location was a portion of the Albemarle Golf Course and it was used for this purpose for several years and then abandoned for golf when the Albemarle Course was reduced from eighteen to nine holes.

The Newtonville Improvement Association became interested in this future playground shortly before the beginning of World War II and in conjunction with officials from the F. A. Day Junior High School and the Horace Mann School, held various meetings on the subject. There was no playground of any consequence near the vicinity of either school. The F. A. Day School was badly in need of adequate facilities, especially for their football, baseball and track teams. Furthermore, the residential neighborhood in the vicinity of this city property was growing rapidly and no playground was available for the young people in that area.

As far back as 1941, the Newtonville Improvement Association urged that work be started as soon as possible on this new playground. William R. Mattson, then on the Executive Committee and later President of the Association, designed a definite layout for the future playground.

As shown above, the playground will contain a full sized regulation baseball diamond, football field and cinder track. These will be at the Crafts Street end, the most accessible portion for the F. A. Day students. At the other end will be tennis courts, a softball diamond and also swings, sandboxes, slides, etc., designed for younger children such as those attending the Horace Mann School just across the street from this area. In the center there is a number of large trees which should make an ideal location for picnic grounds. A field house with all the necessary facilities is recommended to be built eventually, adjacent to Albemarle road.

The plan was presented by Mattson with the recommendation of the Improvement Association to Mr. F. Ewing Wilson, who was then Recreation Commissioner. Mr. Wilson realized the necessity for the playground and offered to cooperate in every way possible.

New playgrounds are constructed by the Street Department and then turned over to the supervision of the Recreation Department when partially or completely finished. Unfortunately, construction problems during the war years were such that little or nothing could be done for the building of this playground as recommended.

Construction difficulties have now lessened so that during the past year the Newton Street De-

160 Students Enroll At St. Sebastian's Country Day School

St. Sebastian's Country Day School, Newton, will open on Monday, Sept. 22, with 160 students registered.

Msgr. Charles D. McInnis, headmaster, will celebrate the Mass of the Holy Ghost at 9 a. m.

A change in the faculty is the appointment of Fr. Charles Flanagan as assistant headmaster.

Of the 22 students who were graduated from the school last June, 20 have been admitted to college, with one still pending, officials of the school announced. Thirty students attended the summer school, which ran from July 7 to Aug. 14.

partment has been very active on this project. Today, a substantial portion of the field surface at the Crafts Street end is practically finished. Football, soccer and field hockey goal posts have recently been erected. Boys from the F. A. Day Junior High School are now using the leveled and grassed-over area for football and the girls are playing field hockey and soccer. These activities are in line with the efforts of the Newton School Department to encourage outdoor recreation and sports, especially among junior high school students.

The design, as presented by William R. Mattson, has received the unqualified approval of the new Recreation Commissioner, C. Evan Johnson. Johnson stated that when he discussed this proposed layout recently with an official of the National Recreation Association, the latter said that if this plan is followed, the playground will be the finest in the city of Newton.

When the plan was presented by Mattson, he suggested that this project be named "Horace Mann Playground." There is no important playground with this name in Newton and it was felt that here would be a splendid opportunity to honor the memory of Horace Mann, one of the great educators in the United States and a former resident of Newton. Furthermore, the Horace Mann School is located on Watertown street, directly opposite the new playground.

Recreation Commissioner Johnson has promised to do everything in his power to further the construction and use of the playground, which has been so admirably started under the direction of Harold Young, Street Commissioner.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

Over 300 guests, relatives and friends from the Newtons, Sharon, Cambridge, Watertown, Wellesley, Needham, Salem, Saugus and Connecticut paid tribute to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kerrivan of 1284 Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls on Sunday, September 28 on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerrivan with their four children and best man, Mr. William Mulvihill of Waltham, Mrs. Mulvihill and Mrs. Ellen Foley (formerly Ellen Callahan) of Newton Centre, their maid of honor and members of the immediate family received communion at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church at 9 a. m. following which they attended a wedding breakfast at Sellers in Wellesley.

Among the many guests extending greetings were Rev. John Murphy of Little Rock, Arkansas, Rev. Robert Bryson of Quincy, Rev. William Meala of Boston, and Rev. John Mulcahy, rector of the Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church.

On Monday, 7:30 a. m. at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Mr. and Mrs. Kerrivan attended a special wedding Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Kerrivan received a shower of gifts, flowers and cards, from their many relatives and friends. Mr. Kerrivan is a Fourth Degree Member of the Newton Council of Knights of Columbus and a member of the Holy Name Society of the Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church. Mrs. Kerrivan is a member of the Newton Upper Falls, Woman's Club.

NEWTON IN THE PAST

From the Files of The Newton Graphic

55 Years Ago, Sept. 30, 1892
AUBURNDALE—Two satiric exhibitions were given Saturday and Sunday in a quiet place near the Charles River, by some young fellows, and it is said that the fights were to a finish, and the victims bore striking evidences of their defeat. The events were witnessed by quite a congregation of friends. The rough element in this ward is manifesting itself very strongly in unbecoming ways, and regard for the future name of the place would seem to demand a stop to such proceedings.

NEWTONVILLE—Many of the residents of this ward object to any plan looking toward a separation of grades which contemplate changing the location of the tracks. They do not take kindly to the Langford plan as it would move the depot at least one-fourth of a mile north of its present location, and people on the south side don't want the extra walk. The business men dislike the scheme because of the belief that it will decrease the value of store property in the square.

56 Years Ago, October 1, 1897
NEWTON—The campaign in

Joseph B. Jamieson of the Newton Board of Aldermen represented the city at the ceremony.

Preceding the event there was a luncheon at the Brae Burn Country Club at which both Governor Bradford and President Jamieson were speakers, the latter welcoming the industrial organization to Newton. It was announced that the first unit of the group of buildings will be occupied by the Sunshine Biscuit Company and the General Equipment Company.

Following the luncheon the party consisting of about 75 persons was escorted by motorcycle officers to the site of the project where both Gov. Bradford and President Jamieson operated four-ton bulldozers to break ground for the structure. Riding beside President Jamieson was Alderman Kenneth D. McCutcheon.

Labor was represented by Frank A. Burke of Waltham, chairman of the Board of Building Trades Agent; Salvatore Pavone of the Hod Carriers' Union and Angus MacLean of the Carpenters' Union.

The Industrial Centre will be completed in three years. The company, known as the Industrial Center Trust, is represented by W. H. Ballard Company of Boston.

Governor Bradford also officiated at the opening of new Deerfoot Farms Plant adjoining the site of the industrial center, where he cut a ribbon stretched across the entrance to the building.

behalf of the new city charter was begun this week, when a copy of the proposed charter with explanations of some of the salient features, was mailed to every voter in the city. The friends of the measure will carry on a vigorous campaign from this time until the state election, when the people will be called upon to vote upon the measure.

NEWTONVILLE—The canoeing season is rapidly drawing to a close. The chilly weather has cooled the ardor of the enthusiasts, and the number of boats is diminishing. Last Sunday's beautiful weather called out a large number of pleasure crafts, and the number of lovers of the sport was unusually large for this time of year. Throughout the season the water was very high, and the weather for the most part very favorable. As usual the boat concerts have been the leading features of the season. The recreation grounds attract many visitors. Norumbega Park has about closed a most successful season. The scores of attractions offered have apparently proved irresistible. Thousands were entertained almost daily.

WEST NEWTON—Members of the gypsy moth commission have begun work this week in the Newtons. The trees along Washington street at this place are undergoing inspection.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS—Winter street sidewalks are in bad shape, and badly need the attention of the highway department. The recent rains have loosed the stones in the streets, which will also have to be repaired.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS—A theatre bill board has been erected near the station at Eliot, of such generous size, that some of the residents there have raised objections, on account of the obstruction to the view.

35 Years Ago, October 4, 1912
Police officers have filed their annual petition for an increase of pay. These men are working for the same salary as was fixed fourteen years ago, and in all justice their claim should have favorable consideration.

Miss Mary Therese Le Blanc, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Peter Le Blanc of 177 Jackson road, has received appointment from President Bancroft Beasley of Simmons College as Assistant in the Office, the School of Business. Miss Le Blanc is a graduate of Our Lady's High School, Newton, and received her bachelor's degree from Simmons College, the School of Business, in June. She is a member of the American Association of University Women. Miss Le Blanc's sister Barbara is a junior at Simmons, enrolled in the School of Business.

Hallowe'en—

She prefaces her report by saying that "witches are working wholeheartedly hosts and hostesses are huddling hastily and progress portends promising program." Mrs. Genthner's food committee is lined up with an experienced crew; the first aid committee is all under control; the Chamber of Horrors committee is "well staffed with he-man veterans and new recruits ranging to go"; the entertainment committee has definite plans formulated and developing; and all room committees are giving their enthusiastic support to the parties.

Bowen School, Thompsonville—Mrs. Serefin Tornabene, Building Chairman, reports that her Room Chairmen are Mrs. Robert Casselman, Mrs. John Kuhns, Mrs. Joseph Cerasoli, Mrs. Manfred Taglienti and Mrs. William Hopf, each of whom will select four other parents as her committee. Nearly 125 children, from kindergartners through 6th graders, will take part in the Bowen School celebration which will run from 7 to 9 p. m. The program contemplated includes games with prizes, a magician, movies and refreshments. A Chamber of Horrors is being considered for the 5th and 6th grades, but there will be none for the younger children.

Ward School, Newton Centre—The Building Chairmen for the parties at the Ward School are Mr. and Mrs. Shepard Herman and the Building Co-Chairmen are the Honorable and Mrs. A. B. Casson. At a meeting, held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brenner, 21 Park Avenue, Newton, the following committee chairmen were appointed: Bernard Marglin, Publicity; Shepard Herman, Program; Mrs. Myles Lewis, Refreshments; Mrs. Harold Gorney, Food; Samuel W. Poorvu and Harry Brenner, Prizes; Dr. Harold Gorney, David Mishel and Judge A. B. Casson, House of Fun; Mrs. A. Maskow, Decorations. About 350 children, grades 1 to 6, are expected at the parties, which will take place at two different time-periods: 4 to 5:30 and 6 to 8:30. There will be movies, games and singing. A House of Fun, details of which are being kept close secret, is also being planned and which the Ward School has offered to share with certain other schools. Rumor has it that the House of Fun is going to be "something exceptional," for the three chairmen have already come up with plans that promise the youngsters plenty of joyous thrills.

Exhibition at Newtonville Library

There will be an exhibition of portraits and flowers in oils, by Mrs. Harriet Appleton of 14 Kenmore St., Newton Centre, from 6 to 8 p. m. to Nov. 1, 1947, at the Newtonville Branch of the Newton Free Library.

ON HAND FOR THE HISTORIC FIRST CALL over the 2 millionth telephone installed by the New England Tel. & Tel. Co. were Frank E. Hudson, District Plant Supt.; Harold A. Tibbets, installer; Roger M. Atherton, District Manager; Janet Van Ummersen, a neighbor; and Francis A. Poole, Jr., Newton Manager. Using the new telephone for the first time and looking very happy about it is Mrs. James J. Sullivan of Newton. (Fay Foto Service)

Taxpayers Assoc. Recommends City Manager for Newton

A strong move to establish a city manager without proportional representation in Newton was initiated this past week by the Newton Taxpayers' Association. The Mayor and the Board of Aldermen were requested to petition the legislature for an appropriate charter change in a letter sent to them by the Association's directors.

To keep the issue non-partisan during the coming election the communication proposed that the effective date of the recommended legislation be not before January 1, 1950, but that the initial steps be taken at once.

Asked what the "initial steps" should be, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., executive secretary of the Taxpayers' Association stated that an acknowledgment of the proposal should be made by the present Board of Aldermen to get the matter squarely before the public as soon as possible without involving an endorsement of any present candidate.

The deadline for filing new legislation will be early in 1948, said Muther, who would like to have this proposal thoroughly considered by the citizens of Newton before then. Furthermore by presenting the problem now instead of immediately after the election it cannot be construed that proponents of city manager for Newton were disappointed in the election of any candidate.

Muther continued, indicating that to avoid such an interpretation was another reason why 1950 was urged as the effective date. Now the matter is before the Mayor and should come before the Board for an acknowledgment of the principle of city manager for Newton, Muther asserted, and when the election is over a committee of Aldermen can be appointed from the newly constituted board to study the considered views of the citizens and to implement the proposal in detail.

Ministers Plan Annual United Church Canvass

Fifty ministers and canvassers of 18 Newton Protestant churches met Wednesday evening at Second Church in West Newton to initiate plans for the Seventh Annual United Church Canvass to be held November 30th. William V. M. Fawcett, co-chairman with David W. Tibbott of the Church Canvass Committee of the Newton Council of Churches, presided.

The success of the Newton, United Church Canvass has attracted nationwide attention since its beginning. In almost every city where this cooperative church effort is used, it is found that contributions for local church expenses and benevolences are substantially increased and that new contributors are added each year. In the City of Newton it was notably so in 1946. In addition, the spiritual impact of such a cooperative Christian effort is of immeasurable value to the church and to the community.

As a result of last year's Canvass, the Newton Council of Churches has been selected to receive the national award for the most outstanding achievement in cooperative church canvassing in the United States. From the National Church Canvass Sponsoring Committee of the Federal Council of Churches, that award will be presented at a dinner for 1000 canvassers of the Newton churches to be held preceding this year's canvass Sunday.

Detailed plans for the canvass and the events leading up to it will be announced later.

Tickets Available For Red Cross Annual Dinner

There are still tickets available for the Red Cross annual dinner meeting to be held at the Norumbega Room at Norumbega Park in Auburndale, on Wednesday evening, October 8th, according to Mrs. Maurice B. Strauss, general chairman. The public is most cordially invited to attend, and tickets may be obtained by contacting the Chapter House at L.A.S. 6000.

Hon. Sinclair Weeks is to speak on "What the United States Must Do So That Germany, Austria, and France Can Survive." His message will be based on a recent trip to Europe.

Newton Steamship Agency in New Quarters

The Newton Steamship Agency, established in this city in 1927, is now located in new quarters at 404 Centre street, opposite the Newton railroad station.

This travel agency is agent for leading steamship and air travel lines and is conveniently located to provide residents of Newton with travel service. Its manager, Edward H. Powers, is a native and life-long resident of this city.

The late world war prevented pleasure travel for several years, but steamship travel overseas, to the West Indies, Bermuda and South America is being rapidly resumed, and superb air travel facilities can be obtained to most parts of the world. In addition, railroads of this country are offering alluring tours.

Of the large fleets of passenger ships which existed before the late World War, most were destroyed, but several new deluxe ships have been recently built by the Cunard White Star Line, and many of the remaining boats of other lines have been reconstructed and modernized.

However, due to the comparative scarcity of ships, any person who plans to take a cruise this winter, or a European trip next Spring or Summer, should immediately apply for reservations.

The Pan American World Airways provide unexcelled facilities for travel to Bermuda, Mexico, Latin America, Europe and the Pacific.

Miss Helen Powers, 25 Farlow road, is a member of the choral group of the coed Music Workshop at the Boston Y.W.C.A., 140 Clarendon street. The choral group, which meets every Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 p. m., sings two, three and four part music. The fall program includes Madrigals, Motets, Bach Cantatas, Handel's Messiah and excerpts from Brahms's Requiem. There are still a few openings in the choral group. Auditions will be held immediately preceding the Tuesday evening rehearsal.

N.E. Tel. Co. Installs Their Two Millionth Phone in Newtonville

A telephone installed on September 24, 1947, in the home of James J. Sullivan, 143 Cabot street, Newton, became the two millionth telephone in the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company's system, which serves most communities in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

"This milestone in telephone growth in the area we are privileged to serve, reflects the solid growth in population and business enterprise throughout New England," J. E. Harrell, president of the Company commented today. "It is a reminder," he noted, "of New England's continued importance in our national economy and a basis for confidence in the future."

Mr. Harrell pointed out that his Company's two millionth telephone comes in the year marking the 100th anniversary of the birth of the telephone's inventor, Alexander Graham Bell, and 69th anniversary of the establishment of the earliest telephone exchange in 1878.

The distinction befalling the Sullivan family came almost 24 years after the installation of the Company's millionth telephone in New Bedford, Mass., on December 24, 1923, for Armand Bouthillier at 21 Mosher street.

The Company pointed out that with other telephones operated by other companies, the area's population of nearly 7,000,000 is served today by a total of 2,050,000 telephones. Typical of America's universal use of telephone service, the five-state area now has 29 telephones for each 100 of population. Practically every place of business and 70 out of every 100 homes, including those in rural areas, are equipped with service.

While the telephone put in today for the Sullivan family added the two millionth to the New England Company's total telephones, it was estimated that the installation came somewhere near being the Company's ten millionth installation job since it went into business.

With their telephone the Sullivan family can talk with any one of about 33,000,000 telephones in the United States today. By means of radio channels in the telephone system they can talk even to persons in vehicles traveling the streets of many American cities, in airplanes aloft, in speeding trains, and in vessels plying coastal and inland waters. Radio link can also connect them with ships on the high seas or with telephones in almost any country of the world.

On the average, they would find that their long distance calls to places in the United States would go through in about a minute and a half; this despite the fact that long distance facilities like exchange facilities, are still short of demand as an aftermath of the war.

Beyond its immediate goal of a return to the quality of service existing before the war, the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company reports that with new developments in operating equipment and techniques now in the making its aim is to surpass all standards of excellence hitherto known.

Rotary Club

Mrs. Catherine S. Holden, executive secretary of the Newton Family Service Bureau, was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn.

"The Family Service Bureau," Mrs. Holden stated, "was founded in 1889 and now comprises an executive secretary, a case supervisor, three full time case workers and three office assistants. Workers must be college graduates with a two year post-graduate degree in social service. The agency offers counsel to families and individuals who are troubled with problems of personal or social adjustments. If financial assistance is given it is done on a temporary basis and as an integral part of an overall plan, the aim of which is to help families develop their own capacities, thus becoming independent and self reliant."

E. Graham Bates, chairman of the Newton Community Fund campaign outlined the needs of Greater Boston Red Feather agencies and said that pledges were being received without awaiting the formal opening of the campaign. He asserted that one out of every five members of the club is actively working for the drive.

The meeting was conducted by the President, Harold B. Gores.

Newton Outplays Rindge, 21-0

By MARVIN R. GOULD

Last Saturday, September 27, before over 7,500 fans the Orange and Black of Newton High added another win to their record by wrecking a Rindge Tech team by a score of 21-0.

After five plays of the game the Garden City had their first touchdown. Joe Scichilone took the ball on the kick off and moved it to his own 37 yard line. Don Collins ran wide around left end for another 18 yards and a first down. Collins smashed through tackle on the next play and gained another 4 yards for the Newtonites. Frank Tanner ran around right end carrying the ball within 5 yards of paydirt. Joe Scichilone crashed through center for the TD. Tanner booted for the conversion. Rindge tried time and time again to move deep into Newton territory with a series of line dives and end runs but in vain the Newton line was like a steel barrier. It was in the closing seconds of the first period Hudson's Huskies scored again. A Rindge kick on their own 35 yard line was blocked. Bob MacConnell, Newton's left end scooped up the ball and ran it in a dash over the goal line for the second TD. Once again Tanner's kick for the point was good.

The second quarter was marked by several incomplete passes by both sides with neither team scoring.

When the third canto reached the half way mark it was Newton's ball on their own 48 yard line. Frank Tanner moved the pigskin to the Rindge 23 on an end run for a first down. Collins carried the ball to the 6 on a reverse from Scichilone. Scichilone crashed through center for 3 more yards. Don Collins smashed through the Rindge boys for the remaining 3 yards to pay dirt. A pass from Collins to Tanner was good for the extra point.

The fourth chapter saw both teams moving deep into each others territory but with neither team scoring. In fact the 2nd and 4th periods seemed identical. Final score, Newton 21, Rindge a goose egg.

Next week its Newton at Melrose, we predict a tight squeeze with the Garden City eleven emerging victorious.

Dedicate New Memorial Organ

The Eliot Church of Newton will dedicate the William P. Ellison Memorial Organ on Sunday afternoon, October 5th, at five o'clock.

This organ, which is a Baldwin Electronic, has been installed in the Chapel of the church and is the gift of Mr. Eben H. Ellison in memory of his brother, who for more than half a century, was a devoted and loyal member of The Eliot Church.

Alex R. Miller Succeeds Mease As 'Y' Secretary

ALEX R. MILLER

Alex R. Miller, executive secretary of the Central Branch of the St. Paul, Minnesota, Young Men's Christian Association, has been appointed general secretary of the Newton Y.M.C.A. to succeed Clarence R. Mease. It was announced today by Frederick Sayford Bacon, president of the Newton Association.

Mr. Mease, general secretary of the Newton Y.M.C.A. since 1941, has been appointed general secretary of the Scranton, Pennsylvania, Y.M.C.A. Mr. Miller will assume his duties at the Newton Association on November 1.

Mr. Miller received an A.B. degree from the University of Minnesota. He began his Y.M.C.A. career as assistant promotion secretary at the Minneapolis Y.M.C.A. He became membership secretary at the St. Paul Central Y.M.C.A. in 1926 and in 1937 was made associate general secretary.

Mr. Miller became the first executive secretary of the Central Branch of the St. Paul Y.M.C.A. when that Branch was organized in 1942. Throughout his career at the St. Paul Y.M.C.A., Mr. Miller was active in the Association's public relations and publicity programs and took an active part in the St. Paul community chest campaigns and the city's civic recreational program.

Mr. Miller was married in 1929 to the former Lola Meyer. They have two children, Mary, 16, and James, 13.

Rev. Merrill A. Beam Opens Saturday Day Camp in Highlands

Among the new residents coming to Newton during the summer are the Rev. and Mrs. Merrill A. Beam and son Robert, of Newton Highlands. For the past five years Mr. Beam has been director of Young People's Activities at the Eliot Congregational Church of Roxbury. At his residence at the Highlands he will conduct a Saturday Day Camp, through the school year, for boys seven to eleven years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Beam have been in young people's work for several years. Mr. Beam is an ordained local deacon of the Methodist Church and following a rural pastorate in Maine came to Boston to complete his college work. After some part-time study at Boston University he attended Gordon College of Theology and Missions for one year, receiving the A.B. in Theology degree. At present he is studying at Boston University School of Theology as a candidate for the Master of Arts degree in Religious Education. He is also doing some part-time teaching in Weekday Religious Education for the Massachusetts Council of Churches.

For four years both Mr. and Mrs. Beam were student workers at Morgan Memorial Church of All Nations, including three summers at the Fresh Air Camps in South Athol. Their work at the Roxbury church included various activities with the children and young people—gymnastic programs, hikes, outings, camping, Boy and Girl Scouts, etc. This past summer Mr. Beam directed the Day Camp of the Huntington Avenue Branch of the Boston Y.M.C.A.

Mrs. Beam is a graduate of Lucy Webb Hayes National Training School, and American University, both of Washington, D. C. As a Deaconess of the Methodist Church she had a wide experience as a field worker throughout the State of Maine. She attended many sessions of the Summer Missionary Conferences at Northfield and for five years was leader of Camp Wesleyan.

The season will open for the Day Camp on Saturday, October 18. There will be outdoor games, cook-outs, occasional trips, crafts, and winter sports. A Quonset Hut, with a spacious fireplace, serves as a camp lodge for indoor activities. The boys will be called for and returned home as part of the service. Mr. Beam is a firm believer in adequate and competent leadership in all phases of youth work. In keeping with that policy he has secured a mature and experienced staff. Mr. Francis Carlson, a senior at Boston University School of Theology, and Mr. Edgar Helms, recently discharged from the U. S. Army, will assist in carrying on the program. Mr. Carlson has had varied experience in boys' work, most recently as a counselor at Camp Alpine, Marston's Mills, this past summer. Mr. Helms, already with a young son of his own, was for several summers a counselor at the Morgan Memorial Camps at South Athol, where he gained a good understanding of the younger boys. At the completion of his undergraduate studies he plans to enter Boston University School of Theology.

Parents and boys are invited to inspect the premises, at 315 Winchester street, Newton Highlands.

Stanleys Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton F. Stanley of 159 Warren Street, Newton Centre have left for Washington, D. C. where they will observe their Golden Wedding Anniversary on October 5 at the home of their daughter, Mrs. J. A. Dillon of 5204 38th St. N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley were married in Montreal where Mr. Stanley was managing the Stanley Dry Plate Company for his uncle. Mr. Stanley's father, Isaac Stanley, was a brother of Mr. F. E. Stanley and Mr. F. Stanley, manufacturers of the Stanley Steamer Cars, of Newton.

W. Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. Ernest A. Hale, Twelfth District Director, will be the honored guest at the first meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club. The meeting will be held at the Second Church Parish House, West Newton, on Friday, October 10, at 2 p.m. Mrs. Charles E. Gibson will preside.

Pitt F. Parker, crayon wizard and Yankee philosopher, will entertain with crayon drawings. Mrs. Werner Nelson and her Hospitality committee will serve refreshments following the meeting.

Florence Crittenton League

Monday, October 6th marks an important day for the members of the Newton Circle of the Florence Crittenton League. During the afternoon, from two until five, "Welcome House," which is located at 37 Greenough avenue in Jamaica Plain, will be open for inspection to all League members.

Welcome House, a Red Feather Service, is a home supported by the Florence Crittenton League. Its purpose is to provide protection for young adolescent girls with personality problems, in need of specialized study and home training.

Tea will be served, and Newton Circle members assisting as hostesses will include Mrs. Theodore C. Haffenreffer, Jr., Newton representative to the Welcome House Committee, Mrs. D. Hardwick Bigelow, and Mrs. F. Hopewell Underhill. Mrs. Christopher Rice, President of the Newton Circle, will be glad to arrange any necessary transportation. She may be reached at BIGelow 5736.

Welcome House, through its years of experience as a study and guidance home for adolescent girls, has become a practical answer to the prevention of juvenile delinquency, and probably points out that, in the vast majority of cases cared for, "All She Needed Was A Home."

RECENT DEATHS

Frederick E. Jones

Private funeral services were held on Wednesday for Frederick E. Jones, founder and owner of the F. E. Jones Leather Company of Boston, who died at his home, 128 Chestnut street, West Newton on Monday, September 29.

Mr. Jones was in his 84th year. He had retired in 1926 from the leather business which he had founded in 1891. He was a member of the Boston Leather Trade Benevolent Society.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Nellie (Wales) Jones, a son, Frederick E. Jones Jr., a sister, Mrs. Eben H. Ellison of Newton, a brother, Joseph J. Jones of Boston, and two grandchildren.

Harry E. Gardner

Funeral services for Harry E. Gardner of 24 Norman road, Newton Highlands were held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Newton Cemetery Chapel with Rev. Ray A. Eusden, D.D. of the Eliot Congregational Church, Newton officiating.

Many friends and business associates were present including representatives from the American Oak Leather Company of Cincinnati, Ohio of which Mr. Gardner was the Boston manager, and the Armour Leather Company.

Burial was in the Newton Cemetery with committal prayers by Dr. Eusden.

Mr. Gardner died on Thursday, September 28 following a brief illness. He was in his 63rd year. A native of St. Louis, Mo., he came to Newton in 1909. He had been associated with the Boston Boot and Shoe Club and the New England Shoe and Leather Association. He also was a member of Eliot Church and the Newton Highland Men's Club.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mona (Caverly) Gardner, four brothers, James H. of Scarsdale, N. Y.; Samuel A. of Greenwich, Conn.; William of Scituate, Mass. and John Gardner of Auburndale, and two sisters, Mrs. James Meissner of Waban and Mrs. Norman Clark of San Marino, California.

Dorothy M. Veducchio

Miss Dorothy M. Veducchio, daughter of Chief of Police Nicholas Veducchio and Mrs. Mary A. Veducchio, died on Tuesday, September 30, after an illness of nearly two years resulting from an injury received while she was serving as a WAC in the Army Medical Corps.

Miss Veducchio was born in Newton, March 20, 1917. She entered the WAC on March 20, 1943 and received her discharge as a technician, fifth grade on July 7, 1945.

She leaves besides her parents two sisters, Mrs. Gladys Tedeschi and Mrs. Alice Sorenson and six brothers, Raymond, George, Edward, William, Richard and Robert Veducchio, all of Newton.

Funeral services will be held from her home on Friday morning. A solemn requiem mass will be celebrated in the Church of Our Lady at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS LAND COURT

Middlesex, ss. To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Respectfully represents Viola J. Rice of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; that she is owner of a certain lot of land with no buildings thereon, situate in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by Manomet Road, 31.88 feet;
Southerly by land now or late of Catherine L. Naramore, about 159.60 feet;
Easterly by land now or late of Harry F. Ward, 19.40 feet; and Northerly by land now of Viola J. Rice, formerly of Ida B. MacKnight (registered land), 161.01 feet.

Said lot being the northerly portion of Lot 60 as shown on plan of Henry F. Bryant, Eng. dated October 9, 1916, and recorded with Middlesex Deeds Plan Book 254 Plan 2.

That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by a mortgage given by Robert B. MacKnight, to Catherine Lyman Naramore, dated June 12, 1923, and duly recorded Book 4624, Page 471, purporting to secure a note for $79.67, payable in one year from June 12, 1923, with interest annually, which mortgage appears to be undischarged, unassigned and unenforced, and by the record—or not properly or legally discharged of record.

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said condition no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgage; that said note was paid in full on October 14, 1924;

That the mortgagor named in said mortgage and those claiming under him have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgage for the full performance of the condition thereof and that the petitioner is in possession of the original note above referred to with endorsement thereon showing note to be paid, a photostat of said note being attached to this petition.

WHEREFORE your petitioner prays that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20, of the Acts of 1924.

VIOLA J. RICE.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Middlesex, ss. Case No. 10617, Misc. (Seal)

LAND COURT

Upon the foregoing petition, it is ordered that the petitioner give notice to all persons interested in said petition to appear before the Land Court, at Cambridge, within and for our said County of Middlesex (where appearances and answers may be filed with Albert T. Gutheim, Register of Deeds for the South Registry District of said Middlesex County, as Assistant Recorder of said Court), on the first Monday of November next, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order to be published forthwith once a week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, in said County of Middlesex, the last publication to be four teen days at least before said first Monday of November next; by serving each known respondent by registered mail with a like attested copy of said petition and order as soon as may be and in any event fourteen days at least before said first Monday of November next; that all respondents may then and there show cause why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

By the Court.

ROBERT E. FRENCH, Recorder.

Dated: September 17, 1947.

THE NEWTON CHAPTER OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

SPECIAL NOTICE

AMENDMENT OF BY-LAWS

At the Annual Meeting of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross to be held Wednesday evening, October 8, 1947, amendment of the Chapter By-Laws by the rescission of the present By-Laws and substitution of a new set of By-Laws will be presented for consideration and action. The procedure to be followed and the new By-Laws to be considered are in conformity with recommendations contained in the report of the Advisory Committee on Organization of the American Red Cross and as approved at the National Convention held in June, 1947 at Cleveland. The major changes relate to the election of Officers and Directors by the Chapter Members (heretofore the Officers have been elected by the Directors) to the fixing of their terms of office so that there will be rotation both on the Board of Directors and in the Offices of the Chapter, and directed to the avoidance of staleness and vested positions and to more democratic methods of conducting Chapter affairs.

The general purposes of the Chapter, the power and functions of its Directors, Officers and Committees are not substantially changed, but all Chairmen of Service Committees are to become and remain members of the Board of Directors during their respective terms as such Service Committee Chairmen.

There is posted at the Chapter House a complete draft of proposed new By-Laws and copies will be sent to any member before the meeting on request.

ADELAIDE B. BALL, Secretary.

Churches, Civic Leaders Favor Planned Parenthood

Following announcement from most Newton pulpits and through church organizations and church calendar leaflets last Sunday, more than 500 persons signed the Initiative Petition, known as the medical rights (civil rights) referendum, an act to allow physicians to provide medical contraceptive care to married women for the protection of life or health.

Sponsored by the Planned Parenthood League of Massachusetts, Signature Week was inaugurated Sept. 26 and will continue intensively through Oct. 3, when local chairmen all over the state will report their results to State League headquarters at 299 Berkeley street, Boston. The campaign for local quotas will then continue with November 6 as the deadline for petitions to be turned in to local chairmen.
Voters' signatures will then be certified by city and town clerks and the Initiative Petition will then be presented to the State Legislature in January.

The campaign slogan is "Put Massachusetts back into the United States." Connecticut and Massachusetts are the only states which still have antiquated laws, at present restricting physicians in giving child-spacing information to mothers whose health and well-being require it, even when another pregnancy may prove fatal.

Mrs. Wallace M. Ross, 10 Bemis street, Newtonville, is chairman for the city-wide Newton committee of the Planned Parenthood League, and is being assisted by a large committee of co-workers.
Village chairmen in this civic effort include Mrs. L. Sumner Pruyne, 88 Farlow road, Newton, and Mrs. Albert P. Everts, 114 Kirkstall road, with Mrs. Ross as co-chairman, for Newtonville.

Serving in special capacities on the Newton committee also are Mrs. Ernest H. Kuebler, 100 Valentine street, West Newton; Mrs.
Kenneth B. Backman, 142 Grasmere road, Newton, president of the Newton Community Club; and Mrs. William L. Tisdell, 6
Rowe street, Auburndale, publicity.

Mrs. Robert H. Cobb, 19 River street, West Newton, Mrs. L.
Sumner Pruyne, Newton, and Mrs. Albert P. Everts, as well as Mrs. Wallace M. Ross, both of Newtonville, all are in charge of groups of interested citizens circulating petitions under their direction.

The large Newton committee working for this cause also includes Mrs. W. H. McAdams, 31
Claremont street, Newton; Mrs.
andolph Merrill, 40 Foster street,
Mrs. E. B. Millard, 255 Mill street, both Newtonville; Mrs.
Arthur Williams, 41 Hyde street, and Mrs. R. E. Briggs, 21 Saxon terrace, Newton Highlands; Mrs.
Raymond Blaisdell, 386 Wolcott street, Auburndale; Mrs. Arthur
T. Soule, 20 Hereford road, Waban; Mrs. J. B. Jamieson, 93
Homer street, and Mrs. George H. Crosbie, 120 Lake avenue, Newton Centre; and Mrs. Frank Jennings, 26 Fairfax street, West Newton.

The cooperating churches so far listed include:

EDWARD C. MICHAUD

"What are my hobbies?" repeated Edward C. Michaud when we sat down to talk about the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee, the Red Feather Agency of which he is president. Then his brown eyes lighted with warmth and interest as he answered. "One of my hobbies is working with children. I've always been interested in boys and in underprivileged youngsters. I believe that anything we can do to help strengthen character is important. Second, I am interested in increasing religious tolerance. Yes, those are my chief hobbies."

Children and religious tolerance. How these deep and abiding interests fill the after-business hours of this busy man can be easily imagined when you learn about the offices he holds at present. He's president of the St. Vincent de Paul conference of St. Philip Neri church in Waban, member of the Holy Name Society, member of the Newton lay committee for the Catholic Youth Organization, Commissioner of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, and on the advisory committee of the Newton Student Canteen! "Your home is in Waban?" I asked next.

"Yes, we live at 202 Neholden Road. My wife is a real homemaker who manages to do a great deal of church work. Our only son, Ned, was graduated from Newton High this year. He's now enrolled at Bates College in Maine."

"Didn't I read that Ned was an Eagle Scout and attended the World Jamboree abroad?"

"Yes," he replied with fatherly pride. "And summers I have time for outdoor life with him—sailing, camping, swimming and fishing at Mattapoisett."

"Were you born in Newton, Mr. Michaud?"

"No, in New York City where I started my career with the telephone company. My entire business life has been with this public utility. At present I am auditor of Disbursements of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. Altogether, we've lived in Newton 10 years."

"Mr. Michaud, will you explain how the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee functions?" I asked.

He leaned back, relaxed, as he talked on a favorite subject. "The Newton Catholic Welfare Committee is the coordinating organization for 5 St. Vincent de Paul conferences plus a women's charitable group, the St. Bernard's Aid Society. All members of these 6 groups are regarded as members of the committee. Then each of the 6 organizations designates 3 of its members to form the actual Board of Directors of the Welfare Committee."

"Our directors include the Rev. Michael E. Doherty, Pastor of the Church of Our Lady and executive-treasurer, Pierce J. Haley, Edward C. Keating, Francis J. Murphy, James Dunn, M. John Barry, Charles C. Dasey, John J. Cahill, Timothy C. Hickey, Joseph J. Curran, Sigmund Romas, Thomas Kenney, J. Joseph Warren, Henry Martin, Conrad Larosee, William C. Marchand and John J. Guiney."

"How do the local conferences operate?"

"The 6 groups from the local conferences," he said, "meet separately once a week to report on all relief cases and to decide, as a body, on all cases demanding supervision. Two men are appointed to visit each case. They call together in the evening to give aid of both a material and a spiritual nature, as well as constructive advice about budgeting, youthful behavior and other social problems. We have 90 of these experienced volunteers from all walks of life. Then once a month the Board of Directors meet to discuss problems and to give a written report of money received and spent."

EDWARD C. MICHAUD

"Will you tell me of your typical cases?"

Mr. Michaud paused a moment in thought. "Do you remember the cold nights last winter? Think then of four small children, an ill father and a bewildered mother in an unheated house. Taxes were unpaid, interest overdue, bills outstanding and water pipes frozen. Fortunately we were able to give them immediate help. Another case concerned two delightful ladies past middle age, one seriously ill. They had a little money so they paid cash for groceries, clothing and the doctor's visits."

"The old fashioned type who paid as they went along?" I asked.

"Exactly. But there came a day when they had no fuel, food or money. Even the doctor never dreamed of their financial condition until we were called in. Afterwards he made no charge for his services. And we were able to provide food, fuel and other material aid. But today we notice a new type of case has developed. There is often a large family with a father who works regularly. However his pay does not sufficiently offset the increased cost of living. We are called in to give aid for unusual expenses that arise."

"And where do you get funds to aid such worthy people?"

Seventh Hallowe'en Celebration Plans Progressing at Top Speed

According to Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Chairman of the Program Committee, plans for the 240 neighborhood Hallowe'en parties in which more than 10,000 school children of all ages will participate, are going ahead rapidly.

Actively engaged in the effort to make this year's parties the best since their inception, seven years ago, are Howard Whitmore, general chairman, and C. Evan Johnson, commissioner of recreation, whose department is sponsoring this huge all-Newton event.

Mrs. Hovgaard is receiving an increasing number of statements as to progress from Building Chairmen and expresses her gratification that such splendid headway is being made in shaping up programs. The following reports are already at hand:

William C. Greene, Building Chairman of the Warren Junior High party, in West Newton, states that about 300 members of the 7th, 8th and 9th grades are expected to attend. The time period will be from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m., and there will be dancing. Committee members are: Mrs. A. S. Beale, Dr. and Mrs. Stanton Burgess, R. H. Brown, Mrs. H. M. Goff, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kreider, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Haven, Mrs. Wendell Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Amidon and R. E. Smith. In addition to the dancing, there will be movies, games and a midway, to be selected by pupils.

Glenn Craig to Address Community Council Fall Meeting

GLENN CRAIG

Focusing Newton's attention on the critical world wide food situation and on U. S. efforts to deal with the problem, the Newton Community Council will present Glenn Craig, well-known authority on the foreign food and aid program, at its fall meeting, Thursday, October 16, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A., Church Street, Newton.

Newton Centre Woman's Club to Hold Fourth Celebrity Breakfast

Edwards Backs Equal Rights for All City Employees

At a neighborhood meeting Wednesday night in Newton Upper Falls, Roy Edwards, candidate for Mayor of Newton, made the following statement in answer to a question: "I believe that every city employee should have equal rights as to hours, salary, vacations, sick leave, and pensions; and if I am elected Mayor, I intend to take immediate steps to correct any present unfair discrimination between different groups of employees or departments."

On Thursday morning, November 6, 1947 at 10:30 the Newton Centre Woman's Clubhouse will again be in gala dress as the setting for the fourth Celebrity Breakfast.

Energetic, community-minded Mrs. Francis J. Flagg will introduce as her Honor Guests:

Virginia Pearson, glamorous author of "Everything but Elephants," one of the most amusing books of the season. Mrs. Pearson gathered her material for this book in the South American jungles of Colombia where she spent two years with her doctor husband.

Josephine Abbott Sever, Massachusetts Mother of 1947, Educational Consultants of the American Social Hygiene Association.

Boyd Plans Rallies For All Candidates

Plans for a group of all-Newton, non-partisan municipal free rallies for Mayoralty, School Committee and Aldermanic candidates on a "share-in-share alike" basis were announced today by High S. Boyd, former Assistant District Attorney of Middlesex County, now candidate for Mayor of Newton.

"Because I am sure all the candidates for mayor stand for the best interests of Newton and all its people," declared Atty. Boyd, "I have asked that Mr. Theodore R. Lockwood and Mr. Roy Edwards join with me to arrange campaign rallies in an orderly, sane and fair manner."

William J. Hannan of 30 Kensington street, Newtonville, who is 80 years old and is a retired employee of the Newton Water Department which he served for 57 years, attended his 28th consecutive World Series. He is a Yankee fan. He inadvertently dropped his Greyhound return trip bus ticket in an IRT shopping box at the 161st St. Jerome Avenue station of the Lexington Avenue Line on the opening day. On the following day, the bus ticket was found in the subway revenue receipts and Mr. Hannan was able to retrieve it in time for the return trip Monday night and with profound thanks to Father Knickerbocker for the efficiency of the Board of Transportation employees.

Roy S. Edwards Takes Firm Stand on Veterans' Housing

During a talk at a campaign rally, Roy S. Edwards, candidate for Mayor, sharply criticized the City government for its shocking lack of action with regard to veterans' housing.

Mercantile Division, Mrs. John C. Campbell Chairman Launches Campaign October 9

Newton's goal in the 1948 Campaign of the Greater Boston Community Fund will be $315,000, according to an announcement made this week by E. Graham Bates, Chairman in Newton for the Campaign, which opens officially on October 23 with a "kick-off" dinner at the Newton High School.

In making this announcement Mr. Bates comments, "To continue the same high type of service as our social and health agencies and those in Greater Boston render and have been rendering for many years past, it is understandable that the Community Fund Campaign this year must raise more money for these agencies than previously. As the cost of living and doing business increases the financial needs of our Red Feather Services go up. The 1948 requirements of the Newton agencies are estimated as more than 8% from last year, and we have set our minimum objective in all divisions and villages for at least an 8% increase in subscriptions. Many of our subscribers are perhaps better able this year to give more than they did last

157 Blood Donors at Bloodmobile Unit

"We are very grateful," Newton Red Cross officials state, "to those who responded to the call for blood donors at the recent visit of the Mobile Unit. Their cooperation clearly indicates their interest in the City of Newton and the welfare of its residents. However, the response was not adequate. Of the 240 appointments made 157 bloods were procured. Rejections because of colds, low hemoglobins, and some cancellations were responsible. The quota for the three days was 300."

"The next visit of the Mobile unit will be on December 15 and 16 at Boston College. It is hoped that the public will respond and

The annual dinner meeting of the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, attended by more than 150 members and guests, was held at the Normandie Room on Wednesday evening.

The speakers were Mayor Paul M. Giddard; Dr. Dwight Mulford from the Massachusetts Biologic Laboratories, who spoke on the State's Blood Program; Charles G. McEachran, director of Center Operations, whose topic was "National Blood Program and Specific Needs for Volunteers."

The principal speaker was Hon. Sinclair Weeks whose subject was "What the U. S. Must do so that Germany, Austria and France Can Survive." A movie titled "It's Your Call," depicting the work of the Newton Chapter was shown.

The following officers, directors and committee chairmen were elected.

Chapter Officers: Mr. Charles B. Floyd, chairman; Mr. Thomas B. Floyd, secretary.

PASSING THE BUCK AGAIN

The latest wave of price rises has had the usual results. Everybody is looking for a scapegoat. Business, labor, government and agriculture have all passed the buck back and forth among themselves. No group admits that it is in any way responsible for inflation—the fault always is laid at the door of the other fellow.

This has produced a great deal of confusion among consumers, who are eagerly searching for the villain responsible for higher prices. Worst of all, it has tended to cloud the fact that present prices are an inevitable result of the economic pressures of the time. The nation is in an industrial boom. Wages and all other costs, including taxes, are at an all-time high. We are shipping enormous quantities of goods abroad, which tends to create scarcities and consequently higher prices in the American market. Our $260,000,000 public debt is a powerful inflationary factor. And, finally, the American people want more and better goods of all kinds.

It will be particularly unjust if consumer resentment is largely directed at the retailer simply because he is on the firing line and provides a handy target. Retailing is not responsible for high prices, and has taken positive action to prevent prices from going even higher than they are. According to an authoritative report, net profits, after taxes, of department stores were but 3.1 per cent of sales in the six months ending July 31—less than half of the level attained in the same period last year. Food chains have issued summaries showing that their profits are even less. Retailing is fighting inflation with every weapon available—but it can't achieve the impossible. Price tags, in the vast majority of instances, are simply true reflections of 1947 economic conditions, and until those conditions change, cost of production and prices will remain high.

Asked why he wanted to remain in jail after he had completed his sentence, a Maine man answered succinctly, "I've been reading the papers."

T.R. and F.D.R. are the only Presidents known familiarly by their initials. Whatever his merits or popularity, his supporters are not likely to call Senator Robert A. Taft by his initials if he should become President.

Good Will

Think well not ill of those you meet;
Grave danger lurks on Suspicion street;
Weigh well the word you speak or write;
Trust and good-will can hatred smite.
Our world stands now as though at bay;
Trust and good-will can fear allay.
You, with your neighbor, I with mine,
Can practice these precepts, line by line
'Till oceans reverberate the sound
And a better world for all be found.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note).

Charles Luckman

A new figure has suddenly grown up overnight in our midst. Businessmen, to be sure, have known a good deal of the dynamic head of Lever Bros., Charles Luckman of Cambridge. It remained for President Truman to come through with one of his finest appointments since he entered the White House to make the average citizen aware of the character, ability and magnetism of the man who is currently heading our Citizens Food Committee. No one who listened to Mr. Luckman last Sunday evening could fail to be impressed with his tremendous earnestness, intelligence and patriotism. I say patriotism advisedly, because it is my understanding that at least one of the food conservation measures shown to be put in operation will have a very definite effect on the profits of this gentleman's own firm. Let us hope that thousands of other businessmen of substance will follow his footprints.

Many readers doubtless felt as I did after the President, Mr. Luckman and the three distinguished Cabinet members, Messrs. Marshall, Anderson and Harriman, finished their half-hour program. It was a relief to know that here, at least, was a simple, definite formula for us to use in order to make our own contribution to the health and peace of the world. How much easier to carry out our government's and our civic leaders' urgent requests than to be forced, as we did during the world war, to adopt official, full-scale rationing. We in Newton will, without question, do our full share in carrying out this new program of food conservation.

Presidential Election

May I call attention this week to two significant factors in the campaign for the two Presidential nominations in 1948. One concerns the Democrats; the other the Republicans. The Democrats are in a most curious position. The President appears to wish to be renominated and there is no Democratic leader on the horizon who seems capable of offering a serious challenge. By this I do not wish to imply that Mr. Truman is such a heavyweight that no other Democrat dares to show his face. That may have been true in the old F.D.R. days, but not now. Many observers believe that the lack of candidates among the Democrats is due to the feeling that 1948 will very likely be a Republican year. Here, however, is the hitch to the Truman plans. Henry Wallace appears to be in a strategic position to make or break the Democratic party, at least for 1948. Unquestionably, there is bad blood between the administration forces and the Wallace entourage. It is hard to see how they can be fused any more than you can mix oil and water. Where does that leave Mr. Truman?

The Republicans, on the other hand, are cursed with two "stop movements"; first, the "stop Dewey" movement and second, the "stop Taft" movement. If you want any proof that Taft and Dewey are now the two leading contenders for the G.O.P. nomination, there it is. Senator Taft denied in Idaho that he and former Governor Harold Stassen had entered into a "stop Dewey" pact. On the other hand, I do not recall any official notice in the press that Governor Dewey has denied the existence of a "stop Taft" pact. Dewey is supposed to have joined with another Presidential possibility in an attempt to shatter Senator Taft's dream of following in his late father's footsteps. Reference is, of course, to our former President and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Hon. William Howard Taft.

The point of all this is that the G.O.P. will never get anywhere in 1948 if it devotes too much of its time and energy to dragging down some other candidate within its ranks. Certainly the hundreds and hundreds of thousands of independent voters in every state will react unfavorably to the Republican candidate if more constructive methods are not employed. This is the sort of situation which would be perfect for an Eisenhower candidacy at the last moment. And, in that connection, how many of you noted the piece in the papers about Speaker Joe Martin's visit to Kansas and the wishful thinking that his support of Eisenhower, if given, might well result in giving Speaker Martin the nomination for Vice-President on an Eisenhower-Martin ticket? Very interesting.

City Election

With four excellent opportunities for the voters to see and hear all three Mayoral candidates during the first three weeks in October, there is no excuse for apathetic voting on Nov. 4. In addition to that we now have some campaign circulars which, if carefully studied and digested will be a tremendous help in enabling our citizens to make a proper decision concerning the matter of the three men.

At this point, may I again commend the League of Women Voters in Newton for their public spirited efforts to inform the voters fully regarding the merits of the forty-six candidates for public office on Nov. 4. Anybody not connected with the League hasn't the faintest idea of the time, thought and energy which this fine organization expends at times like these. More power to them.

So much is happening this week that I can promise my readers an unusually interesting column a week from now.

"A large portion of our money comes from the combined campaign of the Newton Community Chest and the Greater Boston Community Fund. Not one cent of what they supply goes into salaries for the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee. The only money spent for operating expenses is for record books, stationery and printing. As for the rest of our needs, every member makes a contribution of some kind at every meeting he attends weekly, monthly or quarterly. In other words," Mr. Michael concluded, "the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee tries to see that the gift and the giver are always united in service to the needy, the distressed and the unfortunate."

Community Church, Boston, to Hear Dr. Johannes Auer

"Are Moral Values Disintegrating?" will be the subject of the address to be given by Dr. Johannes A. C. Fagginger Auer at the morning service of the Community Church of Boston at Jordan Hall Sunday, Oct. 12, at 10:30 a.m. Dr. Auer, internationally known liberal theologian, returned just two weeks ago from several months study of conditions in Holland, Germany, Switzerland, and France. He is Professor of Church History at Tufts College, and Professor of Philosophy at Harvard University. He has held several pastorates in the Unitarian Church, including that of the historic First Parish Church of Concord, Mass. He is the author of "Humanism States its Case."

The service will be conducted by the minister, Rev. Donald G. Lothrop. Mr. Henry Ellison, Negro baritone, will sing and Mr. Arthur Lang, the church organist, will give an organ recital at 10:30 preceding the service. The Community Church is non-sectarian. The public is invited.

Rotary Club

Lieut. Lawrence N. Clark of the Newton Fire Department was introduced to members of the Newton Rotary Club by Arnold Barker at their meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club on Monday.

Lieut. Clark's talk on Fire Prevention as a part of the Fire Prevention Week program, was of interest to all. The great increase in fire losses throughout the country in the past five years, he stated, have been extremely costly in loss of property, customers, and working time. Thirty-eight per cent of the fires have been caused by careless smokers.

The City of Newton has been fortunate in having the wholehearted co-operation of the Building Department in the enforcement of building regulations and interest in installing sprinklers in older flammable buildings.

Commenting on Newton having won first prize for a city of its class and population in the National Fire Prevention Contest, Lieut. Clark emphasized the co-operation given by local papers, including the Newton Graphic, also by the Newton Chamber of Commerce through its sponsorship of the poster campaign in the Newton public schools.

In closing he emphasized the importance of inspection and correction, of being safety and fire conscious and of developing good safety habits at home and in public.

Admiral Ingram, public relations officer in the Navy Department before the war, while serving as wartime Commander, Fourth Fleet, with headquarters at Recife, Brazil, established a fleet newspaper which was so popular it was widely read by Brazilians and widely quoted in the Brazilian press.

400 at Student Canteen Pre-Game Football Rally

Before a capacity crowd of about 400 students assembled at the Newton Student Canteen last Friday evening a monster rally was staged by the Canteen in cooperation with the Newton High School in an effort to spur the Orange and Black Eleven to victory the following day over the defending Class A Champions, Melrose.

Frank M. Simmons, Director of Athletics better known as "Doc" urged the home town fans to be on "hand tomorrow" for "Huston's Hustlers" real test. He added, "If we win half of our games scheduled we will have a good club, if we win more than half of the games we will have a swell club."

Coach Warren Huston stated, "The football team will speak for itself tomorrow. We are not a Championship Club, we are not a superb team, we are not as yet a good team, however, we have a lot of courage and we have spirit."

After several cheers by the high school cheering squad the band played, "Stand Up and Cheer For Newton," accompanied by the voice of 400 enthusiastic students. After the rally Jerry Quinn, Canteen President commented, "The rally was a great success, and far surpassed our highest hopes."

Newton Holds Melrose Champs To a 6-6 Tie

By MARVIN R. GOULD
Saturday, October 4, before a crowd of 5,000 at the new Melrose stadium, Newton High School tied the defending Class A Melrose eleven by a score of 6 all.

After 5 minutes of the first canto had elapsed the "Red Raiders" of Melrose had their first touchdown. The "Ell Ponders" took over possession of the ball on the Newton 44 yard line. Bob Horne smashed through center for a gain of a yard. Freddie Webb, 180 pound fullback crashed through the "Garden City" line to the 35 yard marker. Horne carried the ball another 5 yards closer to pay-dirt. Ken Carleton ran wide around his own right end for a yard loss. Johnny Clark broke through right guard for another 9 yards. Horne was shoved back to the 25 by the "Orange and Black". Webb hurdled himself over the center of the line and broke away for the remaining 25 yards and 6 points for Melrose. The boot by Jack Payne was no good. The remaining 5 minutes neither team moved deep enough into the other's territory to threaten.

Late in the third quarter Bob MacConnell of Newton dropped kicked to the Melrose 20. Webb moved the ball to the 21. A fumble recovered by Newton's Frank Tanner gave Newton possession of the ball on the "Red Raiders" 28 yard line. Joe Schiclone belted his way through center for 5 yards. Schiclone took the ball again only to be stopped 2 inches from the goal line. The referee moved the ball back to the 2 yard marker. (No reason was given by the officials as to why the ball was moved back the 2 yards.) Newton tried in vain for the 2 remaining yards. Early in 4th canto Melrose's Ken Carlton drop-kicked to the Newton's Don Collins who ran the ball back to his own 30 yard line. A rush through center by Schiclone was good for 3 more yards. A Collins to MacConnell pass was good placing the ball on the Melrose 10 yard marker. Collins went around his own left end for the tally. MacConnell's kick for the point was no good. Time and time again in the closing minutes of the game "Huston's Hustlers" threatened but without much success. As the final whistle blew it was a first down for Newton on the Melrose 10 yard marker. Final score: Newton 6, Melrose 6. Officials were: Referee, John Prior; umpire, Bill Dempsey; field judge, Martin Boyle; head linesman, Bernard Duffy.

without interference from out-of-city pressure groups.

"Naturally any candidate has a right to attend any meeting he may like, but I will not stand on any platform sponsored by the PCA (Progressive Citizens of America). Men who know me know that verbal or physical barrages don't faze me, but I am not going to be sidetracked by nationally stimulated 'Pinks' on subjects organized from Chicago, St. Louis, Seattle, Pittsburgh and elsewhere."

Attorney Boyd refused last Tuesday night to participate in a PCA sponsored forum in the Davis school hall in West Newton on the ground that "Newton can take care of its current troubles without communist pressure groups, or other outside sources." Two of the mayoralty candidates attended.

"I am now, and always have been on the side of law and order," declared Attorney Boyd. "My two opponents alike are good citizens, war veterans and proud of Newton. We know that conditions in Newton are not ideal—that they are in many instances worse now than they were two years ago, but Republicans alike in a non-partisan contest can adjust our municipal troubles without outside interference."

"We in Newton have always been fortunate in having connected with our city government, men with keen interest in the city's affairs and the welfare of our homes—men such as Frank A. Day, Leverett Saltor-stall, Henry I. Harriman, Frank L. Richardson, Sinclair Weeks, Edwin O. Childs and many like them. Under the guidance of these men, the organization for service to the citizens was brought to a high degree of perfection.

"Newton is still one of the outstanding cities of the nation. Its schools and its health records are outstanding. We in Newton had hoped, ever since the unhappy conditions started in 1945, that the present administration would personally face the facts in a formal campaign, but instead, the present Mayor declined to be a candidate this year."

"I had a part in forcing the Newton investigation two years ago, which resulted in the indictment of eight men, including the Street Commissioner. The legal phases of this whole sorry affair is not yet finished. Nevertheless, I shall press the issue until I am elected Mayor of Newton. There will be facts, but no mud-slinging. There is much to be done to revitalize the city's affairs."

"Newton property owners are entitled to know all the facts, and they will know about the facts because I will open free rallies to all candidates, at the expense of the Boyd Committee, unless as I expect the other major candidates will share the cost."

NEWTON IN THE PAST

From the Files of The Newton Graphic

55 Years Ago—October 7, 1892
WABAN—Woodward street sidewalk is badly in need of repair again. When left for some time it gradually caves in and leaves large holes, which greatly endanger the pedestrians.

WEST NEWTON—The Ward Three Independents have unfurled a Cleveland and Stevenson campaign flag. It is suspended over the grounds of the B & A station, off Davis street.

A lady who owns to belonging to seventeen clubs, societies and charitable organizations of one kind or another, is authority for the announcement that belonging to clubs is slightly going out.

NEWTON CENTRE—It is reported that three Newton Centre boys were arrested in Brighton on Wednesday evening for breaking street lamps.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS—The concert given on Thursday evening last at the Congregational church was in every respect first class, and much credit is due to the musical director, Mr. H. P. Ayer, and the other members of the quartet, for their efforts to make it a grand success, also the liberality of the gentleman who kindly paid the expense attending the same, so that the entire proceeds amounting to one hundred and thirty-two dollars, will be added to the music fund.

NEWTON—The West End will have a special car waiting after the symphony concerts, Saturday evenings, in Boston, for the convenience of Newton people. If the patronage is sufficient to warrant it, the special car will be put on every Saturday evening, and if the Newton people desire the convenience they can receive it by patronizing the car.

NEWTONVILLE—The electric fans in the Masonic building had their first trial, Wednesday evening, and worked to the great satisfaction of all. There are two in the basement and one in the tower, and they keep the air fresh and pure in the halls. It is claimed the air is changed every minute by these fans.

WEST NEWTON—The Newton Veteran Firemen's association will parade next Tuesday evening in this place. The parade will be followed by a supper at the engine house on Watertown street, in celebration of the splendid record of the tub Nonantum at the musters this season. Prominent firemen and members of the city council are expected to be present and make congratulatory remarks.

It has been decided in New York by a court of justice that tobacco is an article of necessity rather than of luxury.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS—Many of the prominent Masons in this place attended the exercises at the dedication of the new temple at Newtonville Wednesday evening.

NEWTON CENTRE—Last Saturday morning the fire apparatus was called out for a small brush fire near Burnham's mill on Glen avenue. Fortunately there was no damage.

ADV.—TO RENT—721 Walnut street, 5 room flat, bath, gas in kitchen, hot and cold water, $14 per month.

AUBURNDALE—The Baroness Von Suttner of Vienna, president of the Austrian Peace Society, delivered an address before the students of Lasell Seminary on "A Scholar's Duty To Promote National Friendship," last Saturday afternoon at the Congregational Church.

A large, glaring liquor advertisement on a bill board in Nonantum Square might be the subject of action by our local W.C.T.U.

An epidemic of street widenings seems to have struck our city government and it might be well to observe, that while a little of this is a mighty good investment, too much of it will seriously affect tax levy.

Seats at Bus Stops

To The Newton Graphic: Bus patrons appreciate the benches provided on the two corners in Newton Centre Square. One hears the wish expressed that seats might be installed on the south-west corner of the square where perhaps more people wait for buses than at the other two corners.

Seats on the vacant corner suggest a rather complex situation involving private land and change in the present layout. Were seats to be installed there, the aged and commuters, arms filled with bundles, would welcome them.

Thoughts of having enough land taken for seats cannot but be disturbing to great numbers of people who likely might be opposed to the proposition. In view of present trends and public demands for ease in transit with as little discomfort as possible, the wish for seats may not be radical or unreasonable.

The writer is not advancing the proposition for seats; only making public.

Rev. J. DeWolf Perry To Leave for South Carolina

The resignation of Rev. J. DeWolf Perry as rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville was announced on Saturday by Mr. John R. Clark, senior warden of the church.

Mr. Perry is to go to St. Michael's Church in Charleston, South Carolina, which is considered one of the landmarks of the South and a leading parish in the Southern diocese.

When Mr. Perry came to the Newtonville Church in 1941 there was a mortgage on the church property of $15,000 which has now been reduced so that only a balance of $3500 remains. As a tribute to Mr. Perry the parishioners were urged by the senior warden to make a success of the "Village Fair" to be held on Friday and Saturday of this week, in order that this balance may be paid off.

Kiwanis Club

Rev. Otto J. Scheibe, pastor of the Granby Church, Granby, Conn., father-in-law of Rev. Frederick Groetsma, minister of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, told the Newton Kiwanis Club, Wednesday, at the Y.M.C.A., of his travels through South America, at the turn of the century as a missionary and of his experiences there during the numerous revolutions—87 of them since 1911.

Starting his career as a hymn book seller for the famous Daniel L. Moody, he also sang in one of the great evangelist's quartets. Later the Rev. Scheibe studied at the Bible Institute, Chicago, and at the Chicago Theological Seminary. To be followed, years later, by his son, two daughters and two sons-in-law all of whom graduated from the Chicago Theological Seminary.

Rev. Scheibe pioneered an Agricultural Mission in South America, Congregational Missions in Puerto Rico, served as a Chaplain during World War One and supervised the Spanish speaking Churches in the Southwest. Still carrying on at the age of 78, Rev. Otto J. Scheibe is now serving the spiritual needs of his flock as pastor of the Granby Church, Granby, Conn.

South American revolutions were the height of something or other, according to Rev. Scheibe, who weathered them, pretty much in the manner he weathered the country's other minor irritations. An army commander, his 'loyal' Venezuelan patriots lined up to battle the revolutionists, received his country's president behind the lines, Mr. Scheibe said, and after accepting supplies, gold, reinforcements and all the other necessities and sinews of war, informed the president, he and his 'loyal' army had joined forces with the foe!

Fire Department Demonstration Seen By Hundreds

The Newton Fire Department held their 4th Annual public demonstration on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in front of Station 1 House, Newton Corner, before a large group of interested spectators.

Chief John L. Keating opened the program with a brief address following which Lt. William P. Hoag Jr., U. S. N. presented American Defense and Victory Medals to 16 members of the Newton Fire Department who had served in World War II in recognition of their service with the Navy. Following the presentation Commander George Mansfield, U. S. N. spoke on the contribution to scientific fire fighting made by those in the Navy who were experts in their line. He also added a local touch by saying that he believed his first interest in firefighting came when as a young boy he was visiting a cousin in Newton and was given a ride to a fire in the horse-drawn carriage of the fire chief.

Another speaker was State Representative George E. Rawson who said that the Newton Fire Department is the most effective of any other city of its population and class and that Newton's water supply is among the best.

The Newton Fire Department Drill team under the direction of Lt. John L. Martin, Drill Master, gave a fine exhibition of rescue work including sliding from the roof of the building, rescuing from windows, lowering a person in a stretcher from the roof and jumping into life nets from the roof and from windows. They also gave an exhibition of ladder work including raising of a 50 ft. ladder, a 35 ft. ladder and the aerial ladder, followed by a demonstration of the use of fog nozzles and the pumping of water from hydrants.

F. A. Day Jr. High 'News of the Day'

The Day Junior High School football squad now numbers twenty-six players with the possibility of several more changes after coaches John Eldert and Robert Carr have more opportunity to observe the boys in scrimmage. The players are beginning to show some signs of learning a few of the rudiments of the game and by the time of the opening game they should be in tip top shape. Mr. Victor Knapman, former Newton High School coach is helping on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. Four members of the Newton High team and former Day pupils, Joe Seichlone, Dick Schultz, Frank Tanner, and Kirby Kellar, will be helping either on Monday or Friday afternoons.

Everyone is very enthusiastic about the game and the boys are working very hard. Our prospects look fair at present but only time will tell how well they are prepared for their first official schedule.

Under the very fine guidance of the Girls' Leader Corps guided by Mrs. Emerson, sixty-six seventh grade girls had a gay gum party. There were seven events, one of the more difficult ones being the discus throwing. That meant pitching a paper plate into a basket. Mr. Morse and Miss Peoples joined in the fun. Miss Peoples won the discus throw! The other games included bowling, running, and games of dodging ropes. Everyone had a really grand time. The winners were Barbara Marini and Mary Ryan who tied with thirty points each. Roberta Deckert, Betty Moricola, Lynn Caswell, and Rita Loehiatti had twenty-eight points. Many thanks is due the leader corps for such good fun.

The Tuesday and Thursday broadcasts of news are becoming more and more popular as the program swings into high gear. Bruce Parker and Helen Leitner of Home Room 21 were the announcers of the week and George Thornton and Dawn MacDougall are to swing into action at the mike this week. The home room reporters who have already been chosen are as follows: Mark Gulesian, Lawrence Crosby, Fred Fogg, Lucy Pisseli, Nancy Bilezikian, Patricia Panaggio, James Rattigan, Deborah Harvey, Stephen Holmes, Joan Arcese, Patricia Kirkutis, Carol Hood, Betty Marcell, and Charlotte Barbo.

Miscellaneous Notes: The annual fall staff elections are to take place during this week. Try-outs for cheer leaders among the eighth and ninth grade girls are taking place under the supervision of Mrs. Emerson. Home Room 13 with Miss Paul at the helm is preparing gift boxes of food and clothing to be sent to European countries. Room 9 has contributed as have Karen Baldry, Rita DiGregorio and Robert Hunter individually from other home rooms.

Class of 1907 N.H.S. Holds 40th Reunion

Even the weather was propitious on Sunday, October 6th when Mr. and Mrs. Marshall W. Cox of Concord and Stow entertained at the Stow Country Club over fifty members of his high school class of 1907. Twenty-four brought their husbands or wives and two former teachers of the class, Miss Bailey and Miss Goodwin also attended. More than eighty persons from six states i.e. New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, and New Jersey sat down to a delicious chicken dinner.

A moment of silence in tribute to thirty members who have died preceded the dinner at which "Bob" George was master of ceremonies. Before and during the meal an accordion player entertained and led singing at the tables. At the conclusion "Bob" with a fascinating story presented Marshall and Helen Cox on behalf of the class two books "Journey to Fame" by Margaret Cresson and "Invitation to Boston" by A. C. Lyon as a slight memento of the occasion.

It is impossible to record the friendly exchange of anecdotes and biographies enjoyed by the whole gathering. Messages and telegrams from absent members gladly perused. The beauty of the setting and the enthusiasm of all present combined to make the time pass all too quickly at this fortieth reunion.

Those present were: George B. Foristall, Ed and Helen Van Tassel, Alice (Francis) Adams, Mary Hunter, Marion (Hardy) Rouillard, Therese S. Cram, Helen (Brant) Rust, Edwin C. Vose, Alice (Crosby) Swift, Kenneth and Sallie Barnard, Carl and Marion (Dillingham) Ahlstrom, Walter and Eleanor (Nagle) Adams, Helen (Walker) Hall, Bruce and Florence (Herrick) Gardner, William and Elsie (Hopkinson) Doussell, Louise (Emerson) Carlisle, Leslie (Blaisdell) Bidwell, Charles and Alice Blak, Helen Cunningham, Flora (Rhodes) Woodworth, Winslow and Florence (Newell) Robinson, Davis and Eleanor (Pratt) De Bard, Katherine (Ames) George, Robert H. One of the most colorful and versatile officers of the U. S. Navy four-starred Admiral Jonas Ingram, famed as a fighting admiral, an athlete with a national reputation, a shirt-sleeve diplomat and a skilled newsmen, now retired from the service, is serving as Commissioner of the All-American Football Conference, a position which will utilize his varied abilities.

Admiral Ingram is one of three brothers who made Navy athlete history and is father of the fourth Ingram to excel in sports at Annapolis. In 1906 Jonas scored the only touchdown in Navy's first victory over Army in seven years. His brother, "Navy Bill," starred in 1915-16 when Jonas was the Academy coach. In 1926, Jonas was Director of Athletics and "Navy Bill" was coach. Their star that year was Tom Hamilton, present Navy coach.

LEGAL NOTICES

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Land Court
Middlesex, ss.
To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Respectfully represents Viola J. Rice of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; that she is owner of a certain lot of land with no buildings thereon, situate in Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by Manemet Road, 31.88 feet;
Southerly by land now or late of Catherine L. Naramore, about 159.60 feet;
Easterly by land now or late of Harry F. Ward, 19.40 feet; and Northerly by land now of Viola J. Rice, formerly of Ida B. MacKnight (registered land), 161.01 feet.

Said lot being the northerly portion of Lot 60 as shown on plan of Henry F. Bryant, Eng. dated October 9, 1916, and recorded with Middlesex Deeds Plan Book 254 Plan 2.

That the record title to said lot of land is clouded by a mortgage given by Robert B. MacKnight, to Catherine Lyman Naramore, dated June 12, 1923, and duly recorded Book 4624, Page 471, purporting to secure a note for $39.67, payable in one year from June 12, 1923, with interest annually, which mortgage appears to be undischarged, unassigned and unforfeited, and by the record—or not properly or legally discharged of record.

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said condition no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgage; that said note was paid in full on October 14, 1924;

That the mortgagor named in said mortgage and those claiming under him have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of time limited in said mortgage for the full performance of the condition thereof and that the petitioner is in possession of the original note above referred to with endorsement thereon showing note to be paid, a photostat of said note being attached to this petition.

WHEREFORE your petitioner prays that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20, of the Acts of 1924.

VIOLA J. RICE.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

Middlesex, ss.

Case No. 10617, Misc.

LAND COURT

Upon the foregoing petition, it is ordered that the petitioner give notice to all persons interested in said petition to appear before the Land Court, at Cambridge, within and for our said County of Middlesex (where appearances and answers may be filed with Albert T. Gutheim, Register of Deeds for the South Registry District of said Middlesex County, as Assistant Recorder of said Court), on the first Monday of November next, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order to be published forthwith once a week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, in said County of Middlesex, the last publication to be fourteenth days at least before said first Monday of November next; by serving each known respondent by registered mail with a like attested copy of said petition and order as soon as may be and in any event fourteen days at least before said first Monday of November next; that all respondents may then and there show cause why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

By the Court.

NEWTON FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE PREVENTION SERVICE

Families need not be told that fall is at hand, but it is timely to remind home owners and householders that fall and winter months bring with it a scourge of fires which devastate many homes needlessly.

The National Fire Association's message is brief and to the point: "Clean up Don't burn up." That is a warning we should heed before it is too late.

The year 1946 will long be remembered for a series of hotel fires in which over 200 people lost their lives, but most of us seem to be indifferent to the fact that in thousands of less sensational but far more devastating fires 11,000 other Americans died more than half of them in their own homes.

We will not long tolerate carelessness in others. The public demanded action to arrest the surge of fires in hotels; yet, we continue to allow the ever-present danger of fire to lurk in our homes. We demand more of others than we do of ourselves, even though it is OUR life and OUR property which we are failing to protect.

If fires in the home were inevitable to our way of life, we could do nothing but regretfully accept these tragic losses. But such is not the case. Few fires cannot be prevented. The causes are well known and are simple to eradicate. The solutions are simple and the results can be immediate. Perhaps if the remedies were more complicated and were not almost invariably attributable to human carelessness we could more quickly stamp out the fires.

What does fall clean-up and fix-up have to do with fire prevention? A great deal, even if we only ask on a few of the following questions, we need have few worries about fire destroying us and all we hold dear.

Certainly, we can "live" with these precursors of fire-but the question is "How Long?"

1. Have you any old newspapers, magazines, broken toys, furniture or mattress stored away in attics, closets, the basement or other building? What about rags? Do you keep them in covered metal containers, or do you carelessly toss them in a heap? Tinder for sparks, and often the source of spontaneous ignition, home stored rubbish started 18,000 fires in one year.

2. Do you keep flammable liquids in the home, or in or near wooden buildings? Are you sure that the cleaning fluids you use are nonflammable? Do you use kerosene to start or quicken fires in the stoves? Carelessness in the use of flammable fluids caused 26,000 fires in 12 months.

3. How about frayed cords on electrical equipment and machinery? Does indifference pay when 31,000 fires originated in faulty or dirty electrical equipment?

4. How long since you had your chimney cleaned and checked for cracks? There were 40,000 fires originating in chimneys in a year.

5. Where and how do you burn rubbish, leaves, etc.? Are you sure to burn on windfree days, and when the countryside isn't tinder-dry? Or do you take a chance on sparks being blown long distances to fall in fields and woods or perhaps lodge on flammable materials? Think of the other persons property when you start to burn, do it safely.

6. What about the heating plant? Just because it has operated efficiently for years without attention is no proof you are safe-likely the contrary. How about including the heating plant in your fall clean-up if you have not had it done? Do you store combustible materials near the heater? The toll of this brand of carelessness in one short year was 50,000 fires.

Fire insurance can replace most articles but it cannot replace a human life, if for no other reason than this, which should be the best reason in the world, make it your duty this FIRE PREVENTION WEEK to make your home the safest home there is.

The fire department can extinguish the fires after they start but it is your duty to prevent them from starting.

Adult Evening Sch. Registers 1748

The Newton Adult Evening School which opened for registration on Monday, October 6, at the Technical High School Building, registered 1748 persons in 33 different courses. Nearly 2500 persons appeared on the opening night but due to the fact that several of the more popular courses were over-subscribed early in the evening, many persons failed to register.

Highest registration took place in the following courses:

Advance Dressmaking	157
Rug Hooking	156
Tailoring	136
Furniture Repairing	118
Typewriting	117
Beginning Dressmaking	108
Tray Painting	100
Shorthand	88
Great Music of the Nations	76

The latter course is one of the three cultural courses being offered this year for the first time. The other two being "Books to Read" with 17 now enrolled, and "America's Place in International Affairs" enrolling 47.

Veterans Units Urged To Complete Firing Squad Plans

With the imminent return from overseas cemeteries of America's World War II dead, recognized veterans organizations are pledging their participation in the nationwide tribute which will be paid at the graveside in every cemetery throughout the Nation to America's soldier heroes.

The Department of the Army has available a supply of blank ammunition which will be supplied free to recognized veterans organizations for use in firing salutes as part of the burial honors. Under the present plan,

Craig—

Mr. Craig, who is Assistant to the Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs, will discuss the need for combating mass starvation abroad and its relation to the immediate problem of the average U. S. citizen, the intolerably high cost of living. Delegates from the 73 member organizations of the Newton Community Council and their friends will attend the meeting which is also being opened to the public because of its extreme interest to the community at large.

Following Mr. Craig's remarks, a panel of Newton citizens representing varying approaches to the food question will bring their respective points of view to the discussion. Panel members are Dr. Frederick J. Stare, Chairman of the Newton Nutrition Centre Committee, and Professor of Nutrition at the Harvard School of Public Health; Miss Ruth Maynard, Public Health Teacher, Newton Public Schools, who will speak from the social worker's point of view; Harry Sandler, Merchandising Manager of the Star Market, who will represent the retail grocer; and Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, who will present the case of the housewife who copes with the daily marketing problem. Harold B. Gores, Assistant Superintendent of Newton Public Schools, will act as moderator of the panel.

A native of Canada, Mr. Craig was born in 1909 at Edmonton, Alberta, and graduated from the University of Alberta in 1930, receiving his M.A. from McGill University in 1933 in Sociology and Agricultural Economics. After graduate work at Harvard, he served as instructor in Economics there from 1937 to 1939, before joining the faculty of Montana State College as Assistant and Associate Professor in Economics and Agricultural Economics from 1939-1943. His next appointment was to the Office of Requirements and Allocations, U. S. Department of Agriculture, where he was acting director during his last year at that post.

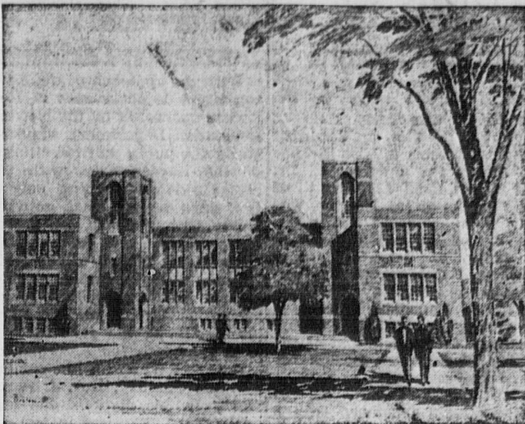

Since last March Mr. Craig has been with the State Department where he has acted as adviser on the foreign food and aid program. He has also been in charge of direction of programs for the U. S. Foreign Relief Program.

William M. Cahill, Chairman of the Newton Community Council, will preside at the meeting, which has been arranged by the Program Committee, consisting of Thomas E. Shirley, Chairman, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, and Charles O. Richter. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

the military escort, who will accompany the remains to the home community, will bring with him a sufficient quantity of blank ammunition to fire a salute during the burial honors.

In all cases, veterans organizations in the First Army area planning to organize firing squads should supply the Commanding General, Headquarters First Army, Governors Island, New York 4, N. Y., with information relative to the type and caliber rifles they will use. With this information available, the escort's Headquarters can determine ammunition requirements and will deliver the proper quantity and type via the military escort to the home community.

NEW STRUCTURE FOR B. C.—Architects drawing of the proposed building for the Boston College business school. The college is endeavoring to raise $600,000 in the Greater Boston area during the month of October to finance construction of the new building made necessary by an increase in enrollment in the business school of more than 300 per cent over pre-war years. The college of business administration is now housed in Cardinal O'Connell Hall, a former residence.

Newton Lodge B.P.O.E.

At the meeting of Newton Lodge of Elks on last Thursday evening nine new members were admitted to the Lodge. They were Christian B. Adleman of Wilkville, N. Y., Frederick J. Hannan, Robert W. Gallagher, Valantino J. Tocci, John Tocci, Samuel C. Brody, Adonias J. Gilbert and Jerome R. Gentile.

The meeting was conducted by Exalted Ruler Nicholas Veducchio who read a report of the 81st annual convention of the Grand Lodge held at Portland, Oregon last July. The national membership of the Elks he reported is well over 900,000.

A letter was read from Massachusetts Elks Association requesting the Lodge to obtain "a generous amount of used but warm clothing, toys and candy." The clothing may be used, but must be clean, and in a wearable condition, the letter stated. It urged that each article of clothing be marked with the size or age of the boy or girl whom it will fit. The articles are to be used as part of a Christmas program planned in connection with the rehabilitation of children in the European area.

The following committee was appointed to handle this project for the Newton Lodge: John Peeney, chairman; George Bryson, Martin Conroy, R. Fecichio, A. L. Moriarty, James Chandler and Leslie Shea.

Leading Knight, Thomas McEnaney reported that he had attended the 22nd annual banquet of the Newton Twilight Baseball League at the John W. Weeks Junior High School, where he spoke on sportsmanship of the youth of today and presented three trophies, one each to Maroon, Waban and Auburndale, and small baseball to each member of the three teams. The affair, he stated, was conducted under the auspices of the Newton Lodge of Elks Youth Program.

A letter of appreciation was received from Newton Post 48 American Legion, for the donation for the Set of Legion Colors and American Flag for the Newton Women's Auxiliary. A letter from District Deputy Harry A. McGrath announcing his appointment by Grand Exalted Ruler L. A. Lewis of Anaheim, Calif., was also read.

A luncheon was served under the direction of Fred Burns, chairman of the House Committee. The next meeting will be held on Thursday, Oct. 9.

At the outbreak of the Civil War Delaware was a slave holding state.

Dr. Chase of B.U. Speaker at Cabot- Clafin PTA Meeting

Dr. W. Linwood Chase, Professor of Education at B. U., and authority on child problems, will be guest speaker at the Cabot-Clafin P. T. A.'s first meeting of the season to be held at the Cabot School in Newton on Tuesday evening, October 14 at 7:45.

Dr. Chase will speak on "What constitutes a Good Elementary School". Since many parents heard Dr. Chase when he spoke at the Parent Education Forum meetings last year, there is little doubt that attendance will be at capacity.

A get-acquainted social hour will follow the meeting at which refreshments will be served. Parents from other schools and associations are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Officers of the association for the year are: Mrs. Herbert A. Webster president, Mrs. J. Lawrence Onley, vice-president, Miss Helen Thompson, 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Carl O. Christensen 3rd vice-president, Mrs. Haskell Ostroff secretary, Mr. George W. Briggs Treasurer, Mr. Robert A. Coan, Jr. auditor.

Newton Junior Community Club

The first regular meeting of the Newton Junior Women's Community Club was held Monday evening, October 6 at 8 o'clock at the Pomeroy House, Newton. The president, Mrs. Herbert Hopkins, presided and plans were made for the year's activities and programs.

There is much interest in the dance to be held at the Kelsey Ranch in Lexington, Friday night, October 17. A good attendance is anticipated. Square dancing will be the main attraction. Mrs. George Haines is chairman.

Following the meeting Mr. George Scott from Ramsdell Florist in Arlington gave a very interesting talk on the arrangement of flowers in various types of containers, which he said were most appropriate for hospital patients as a more or less permanent gift. He also spoke of cutting flowers by the use of a knife in preference to scissors, and cutting the stems lengthwise about two hours before putting them into containers.

While Mr. Scott talked his assistant Mr. Richard Erickson, arranged floral displays in various containers, in a very clever and artistic manner. These flowers were afterward given to members of the club whose names were drawn by the president.

Refreshments were served. The club is interested in adding to its membership. Girls over eighteen are eligible to join. Meetings are held the first Monday of each month at the Pomeroy House.

Members were invited to attend the preview showing of the Newtonville Red Cross film "It's Your Call" at the Chapter House Monday afternoon October sixth at 3:30. The film showed the actual working of the Red Cross and their activities including the Motor Corps and social service; also scenes from the Cushing General Hospital and the Newton Wellesley Hospital. Tea was served to those attending. The representatives from the club were: Mrs. Herbert Hopkins and Mrs. Oliver Appleton.

Amesbury Post VFW To Hold Dances, Entertainments

More than 1000 letters have been mailed to Auburndale residents inviting them to take part in the first of a series of entertainments and dances sponsored by the Lt. Stanton M. Amesbury Post, VFW. It has been announced by the dance committee chairman, Gerald E. MacDonald.

Members of the Post, he said, wish to create a community spirit in Auburndale which, it is hoped, will also stimulate co-operation between the Post and the general public.

The first of the four dances nights will be held October 31 at the Auburndale Club, and included in the letters mailed out are tickets and information pertaining to prizes which will be awarded that night. Those not wishing, or being unable to attend the affair are urged to use the self-addressed envelope as a means of taking part in the grand drawing.

Working with Mr. MacDonald on the dance committee are Joseph L. Sullivan, Charles E. Rivers, Benjamin J. Thomas and Douglas O. Ernst.

Noted Psychiatrists Take Part in Series

"Psychiatry—Its Application to Some Problems of Our Time" will be the general theme of a lecture course to be given on nine successive Monday evenings beginning October 20th at 8 p.m. at The Community Church Center, 565 Boylston St., Copy Sq., under the auspices of The Community Church of Boston. Rev. Donald G. Lathrop announced today the names of those who are participating in the series. They are: "The Place of Psycho-Analysis in the Practice of Psychiatry," Dr. Ives Hendrick, Associate in Psychiatry at the Harvard Medical School; "The Role of Childhood in the Life of the Adult," Dr. Lucie Jessner, Psychiatrist, Mass. General Hospital; "The Psychological Understanding of the Problem Child," Dr. Florence Clothier, Psychiatrist, Home for Little Wanderers and vice-pres. Board of Trustees of the Putnam Children's Center; "Child Delinquency: Causes and Recovery," Dr. Ian Paley Rak, Faculty, Harvard Medical School, Consultant, Mass Board of Parole; "Psychiatry and Its Application to Adolescence," Dr. Gaylord P. Coon, Psychiatrist, Boston Psychopathic Hospital; "What is Psycho-Somatic Medicine?" Dr. Jacob E. Finesinger, Psychiatrist, Mass. General Hospital; "The Analysis of the Neurotic Personality," Dr. John M. Murray, Psychiatric Associate, Cushing Hospital; "The Analysis of the Alcoholic," Dr. Robert Fleming, Asst. in Psychiatry, Peter Bent Brigham, Free Hospital for Women and Instructor at Harvard Medical School; and "Can Societies Become Mentally Sick?" Dr. Isadore Green, Asso. Neurologist, Beth Israel Hospital, Lecturer, Dept. of Psychology, B. U.

This course is the second one conducted by The Community Church and had been prepared because of the great interest and need as demonstrated by the immense interest shown last year. Persons interested are invited to call or phone The Church.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Hassett - McMahon

Miss Jayne Ellen McMahon, 22-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry McMahon, 45 Prairie avenue, Auburndale, became the bride of Robert Leo Hassett of Waltham, on Saturday, October 4, which also marked her parents' twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Thomas F. Murphy, pastor of Corpus Christi Church, at 3 o'clock service.

A reception followed at the Auburndale Club.

The bride's gown of white satin, with a train and fingertip tulle veil with a Juliet cap, carried a bouquet of white gardenias and roses, tied with silver ribbon in honor of her parents' silver anniversary. The silver accent was carried out also in the bridesmaids' bouquets and headresses.

Miss Jean McMahon was her sister's maid of honor, wearing a long sapphire blue gown and slippers with red roses and ivy for her bouquet. Charles McCabe of Waltham served as best man for the bridegroom.

The four bridesmaids, all in subby red gowns with blue delphinium and ivy bouquets, included the Misses Grace Keefe, Auburndale; Barbara McCarthy and Margaret Dewar, Waltham; and Mary Saunders, West Newton. The junior bridesmaids, also in subby red, were Nancy Tobin, West Newton, a cousin of the bride, and Ann O'Neill, Wellesley.

Robert Dennison of Auburndale was head usher, assisted by Joseph T. Fleming Jr., Wellesley, and Walter Holmes and John Dohney, both of Waltham.

Mrs. Hassett was graduated from Newton High School in 1942 and is now head of the auditing department at Grover Cronin's in Waltham. Mr. Hassett, son of Mrs. John Hassett, 157 Lowell street, Waltham, and the late Mr. Hassett, attended St. Charles High School in Waltham. He served in the Pacific with the First Division, U. S. Marine Corps. After his discharge from the Marines, he was graduated from Newton High School and is now a student in the Division of Journalism, in the new School of Public Relations at Boston University.

The bride couple left Saturday night by plane for New York and then went to Atlantic City and other points for their honeymoon trip, after which they will make their home with Mrs. Hassett's parents in Auburndale.

Miss Jennie McMahon and Joseph T. Fleming Jr., of Wellesley, who were attendants twenty-five years ago at the wedding of the bride's parents, were among the honored guests.

Meeker - Halliday

Mr. and Mrs. William Train Halliday of Newton, Mass., and Washington, D. C. announce the marriage of their daughter, Christine Rhoda, to Leonard Carpenter Meeker, son of Dr. and Mrs. Irving Avar Meeker of Upper Montclair, New Jersey.

A reception at the Admiral Club, Washington, D. C., was attended by friends and relatives from Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Washington.

After a honeymoon in California and Hawaii Mr. and Mrs. Meeker will reside in Virginia.

Hess - Branch

At a four o'clock ceremony on Saturday, October 4 in the chapel of the Union Church in Waban attended by the immediate family and friends, Miss Betty Ann Branch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Branch of Waban was married to Clyde G. Hess, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde G. Hess of Burlington, Vermont and formerly of Newton.

Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of cocoa brown silk with deep brown accessories and a corsage of green orchids. She had no attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Hess will make their home on Harvard Street, Worcester.

The bride attended the University of Vermont and the Jackson-Von Ladau School of Design. Mr. Hess attended the University of Vermont and Cornell University before serving with the Army overseas for two and a half years.

Higher and higher in the social and professional world climbs the household washer. Recent purchasers: Mrs. Eugene Meyer, owner, The Washington Post; John D. Rockefeller III; Walter Dammrosch, veteran composer and conductor; H. Allen Smith, author, and Bob Burns of the radio.

Cifirino - Barrette

At a nuptial mass in the Church of Our Lady Help of Christians, Newton on Saturday morning, October 4, Miss Eleanor Alida Barrette, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roland A. Barrette of 285 Franklin street, Newton, was married to Alphonse Frank Cifirino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Cifirino of Dorchester. Rev. Michael E. Doherty, pastor, performed the ceremony and Rev. Alphonse Palladino celebrated the nuptial mass. A wedding breakfast in the ballroom of the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston followed the ceremony.

The bride's gown was of Duchess satin fashioned with a circular train. Her veil of illusion was caught to a tiara of rose point lace. She carried white orchids with bouvardia and a prayerbook sent from the Vatican. The Papal blessing was bestowed on all who were present at the ceremony.

Miss Justine Franklin of New Bedford, cousin of the bride was her maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Adolph J. Kissell, Jr. of Quincy, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Patricia A. Ford of Watertown, Miss Kathryn T. Flynn of Tiverton, R. I. and Miss Maureen Flynn of Newton.

All of the attendants wore gowns of Alpine rose velvet, the maid of honor carrying white gladioli and chrysanthemums, the bridesmaids carrying rose gladioli and cream chrysanthemums.

John J. Piatti, Jr. of Dorchester was the best man and the ushers were Roland M. Barrette of Newton, brother of the bride, James Cifirino and Henry J. Cataldo of Dorchester and Salvatore B. Simone of Medford.

After a cruise to Central America Mr. Cifirino and his bride will reside in Milton.

The bride attended Regis College. Mr. Cifirino prepared at the Roxbury Latin School and attended Harvard College. He was graduated from Norwich University, is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon and is permanent secretary of the class of 1944.

He served in the Army for three and a half years, was stationed on Attu, and was discharged with the rank of first lieutenant.

Krook - Eddy

Miss Anne Howe Eddy, daughter of Mrs. James Williamson Eddy of Newtonville and the late Mr. Eddy, was married to Russell Jerome Krook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Leonard Krook of Shovel Lake, Minn. on Saturday, October 4, in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville.

White flowers on the altar and candelabra in the chancel formed the setting for the four o'clock ceremony performed by Rev. Randolph S. Merrill. A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. John H. Eddy of Wellesley Hills. Her gown of white dotted Swiss and embroidered organza was fashioned with a high neckline, long full sleeves and a full skirt. Her veil of French illusion in floor length was caught to a coronet on satin with seed pearls and orange blossoms and she carried white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Carolyn Denison of Newtonville was the bride's only attendant. She wore pink embroidered organza and carried an old fashioned bouquet of pink and blue flowers.

Henry N. Marshall of West Newton was the best man and Blake A. Tennant of Newtonville ushers.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Krook will reside temporarily in Newtonville.

Mr. Krook served with the Naval reserve in the Pacific area for two and one half years.

Brackett - Foley

Miss Helen Rosemary Foley daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Foley of 56 Rockland Place, Newton Upper Falls and Thomas Edward Brackett son of the late Mrs. Hannah Brackett of Winter Street, Watertown were married on Saturday, October 4 at 3:30 p. m. in the Mary Immaculate Lourdes Church, Rev. John Mulcahy officiating at the double ring service.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Rose Ann and June Theresa Foley, sisters of the bride.

The groom was attended by his brother Peter Brackett of Winter Street Watertown. John Brackett of Watertown and Richard Brackett of Cambridge, brothers of the groom, were ushers.

A reception and dinner was held in the Gold Room of the Hotel Commander, Cambridge.

Gath Advocates Improvement in Recreation Facilities

With the approach of the Newton city-wide observance of Halloween sponsored by the Newton Recreation Department, supported by the public spirited citizens of the Garden City, with the city election happening only a few days beyond that activity, Harry (Sonny) Gath, Jr., proves his civic pride and continued interest in all phases of cures for juvenile delinquency and promotion of adult as well as junior recreation throughout the city.

In spite of the fact that he is a candidate for Alderman-at-large from Ward 2 in the coming election, Tuesday, Nov. 4, Harry Gath, Jr. has divorced his current offer (advertised in our columns today) from all political connections. In a most unique and original offer he sponsors an essay contest open to all public, parochial and private school pupils, aged from 10 to 17 years, asking some 10,000 boys and girls to help solve the Newton situation with the subject, "How to improve recreation facilities in Newton."

Further, a most important public spirited angle to the dates allowed the juveniles to submit their essays between Oct. 12 and Armistice Day, Nov. 11. Notice must be given that none of the essay material will be used by Mr. Gath in the campaign because they will be judged by persons selected from the three classes of schools AFTER election with T. Jerome Cutting, English instructor at the Newton High School acting as chairman.

Speaking of the essay contest and its mission, nobody less than Donald G. Enoch, whose heart and soul for years was in the development of youth while he was track and field coach at Newton High, who retired as a Major from World War 2, asserted his wholesome acceptance of the plan because as he said, "To my mind there is no better avenue for development of youthful morale and character than the recreational facilities a city like Newton should provide boys and girls between 10 and 17 years old. Newton has done well but in my opinion it can do better with such progressive measures as Harry Gath, Jr. is suggesting."

"If there are any doubters among our citizenry let them assimilate the nation-wide picture being painted annually by the American Legion Junior Baseball teams and leagues from coast to coast and the Gulf to Chicago. With some 5,000,000 boys participating throughout an entire season, developing real sportsmanship among their teams and leagues, it is questionable that these products of the sand lots and the play grounds go in for juvenile delinquency. Further, if such sponsorship and financial backing of such Junior Legion is good enough for the Ford Motor Co. through their New York and Detroit headquarters and local dealers it is good enough for me when they enlist the support and cooperation of the boy's idol, no less than Babe Ruth this year."

"I have known Harry Gath's interest in recreation, as a public spirited citizen, seeking no reward or financial gain except his love of "kids" in all branches of recreation, deserves the commendation and support of every citizen of Newton. More Harry Gaths wouldn't do Newton any harm."

The originator of the essay contest as appears on Page 2, Harry Gath, Jr. spoke enthusiastically of his recommendation for the installation of a swimming and wading pool at the new Albemarle Golf Club immediately, based on the pollution of the Charles River which prevented swimming and bathing for

Military Funeral for Miss Veduccio

Military funeral services were held on Friday morning, October 3 for Miss Dorothy M. Veduccio, daughter of Chief of Police Nicholas Veduccio and Mrs. Veduccio. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady by Rev. Francis X. Bransfield assisted by Rev. John H. Quinlan as deacon and Rev. Arthur I. Norton, sub-deacon. Deated in the sanctuary were Rev. Michael E. Doherty, pastor, Rev. Fr. Cronin of Lexington and Rev. Fr. Lyons of Boston College.

Serving as bearers were the following members of the Women's Post, American Legion of which Miss Veduccio was a member: Commander Adria E. Saunders, Miss Eva Witham, Miss Betty A. Cunningham, Miss Margaret Foley, Miss Agnes M. O'Grady, Miss Thelma Furbush, Miss Mary Lou Connell and Miss Josephine Michaels.

Newton Post American Legion was represented by Howard Carley, Post Commander John B. Foley and Adjutant Lionel Sadtler. Representing the Newton Post, Italian-American War Veterans were Commander Frank Finelli, Joseph F. Guzzi, Rosario Guzzi, Domenic Venditti, Antonio Forte, Frank Gregorio, Antonio Bibbo, Innocente Fraini, Giacomo Iardi and John D. Russo.

Among others present were city officials and Roy S. Edwards, president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham with prayers by Fr. Bransfield.

Boys and girls in the most populous sections of Newton, namely, Newton Upper Falls, and Allerton beach in Nonantum.

Said Mr. Gath, "The youngsters of Newton know what they went through this summer. What did they have but Crystal Lake, Auburndale on the Charles and the YMCA swimming pool?"

"There's 'oceans of room' on Albemarle playground plans for the swimming and wading pool I am agitating under proper city supervision, naturally. It is an absolute need in Newton and should be incorporated with the overall plan."

"Yes, and I'm further agitating an extension program of the most excellent Halloween program conducted in Newton. Why stop at ONE night in the year when there are 364 days and nights the juvenile delinquency is with us."

"To hear some of these so-called public spirited citizens talk you would never think they were lively, healthy boys and girls whose youthful energy had to be 'burned out' with recreational activity in the communities they originally came from or even as natives of Newton."

"In my opinion the 10 and 17 year oldsters have hundreds of logical and helpful answers that will be of guidance to the 'city fathers' AFTER Election Day. I'm giving them THEIR chance. In the essay contest in all true sportsmanship 'may the best one win'."

Nearly one out of four farm families has a pressure cooker compared to only one out of twenty in town. Farm people, however, have fewer other conveniences and community services than town people.

While commanding the Fourth Fleet, Admiral Ingram also developed a model farm which supplied his naval forces in the South Atlantic with fresh vegetables and meats. Brazilian students of agriculture visited the farm to study the latest methods used there.

Edwards—

Edwards, "I have used my best efforts to further home projects for our veterans. On several occasions I have strongly urged the Mayor and the City Council to take prompt steps in the matter, without avail. I have repeatedly stressed the importance of housing for all vets who want homes and, particularly, for the one hundred emergency cases we all definitely know we have in Newton.

"My urgency in this matter arises from my genuine interest in the boys and their vital need. Furthermore, it seems to me that in filling their needs we should only be doing the decent thing, to say nothing of showing common, ordinary gratitude.

"Right now, I want to make one point very clear and to emphasize it with all earnestness; namely, that although I am in the lumber business, I would not, and will not, gain even one dollar from any veterans housing project.

"In plain terms, my firm will positively not sell a single piece of lumber for such housing — whether the project is promoted by private individuals or the City government. For under no circumstances would I be willing to gain the slightest monetary reward through my connection in the past, present or future, with any veterans' affairs. That rigid policy will apply if I am Mayor; and it will apply equally if I am not Mayor.

"If I am elected Mayor, I pledge myself to see to it that definite, tangible and speedy measures are taken to remedy the shameful delay in providing homes for our veterans.

"I am deeply concerned about the present situation," Mr. Edwards concluded; "and I consider it a disgrace to Newton that the City government has made such feeble and ineffectual progress to give our young men the opportunity to bring up their families under normal and dignified circumstances — rather than force them, as it has, to accept conditions which can only undermine their self-respect and put a damper on the happiness to which they are so deservedly entitled."

Scouters' Roundup — Nobscot reservation was the scene of the annual gathering of Cubbers and Scouters of Norumbega Council on Sunday, October 5, 1947. This roundup is the annual "kick off" meeting of Norumbega's Scouting year and gives to those attending much inspiration and training.

The highlight of Sunday's meeting came during the closing ceremony when Eagle Scout Edward Michaud, one of Norumbega Council's delegates to the World last August, gave a summary of his experiences at the Jamboree. Mr. Leslie Stratton, National Director of Public Relations addressed the gathering, telling the background of public relations in the Boy Scouts of America. Mr. Stratton related many interesting anecdotes of our contingent to the World Jamboree.

Scout Commissioner Edward C. Michaud presided at the meeting throughout the afternoon and challenged the men of Norumbega Council to make Scouting available to all boys in its recommended form.

Scout Executive Robert E. Pettit gave a report of stewardship and congratulated all Scouters for the fine work they have done in the past, also for boosting the total enrollment of Norumbega over the 3,000 mark.

The day's program included an interesting Cub Scout demonstration with Cub Master P. Edward Eden presiding.

Cub Master James P. Dunne with help of his son and three Cub Scouts gave an interesting demonstration of a Cub Scout Graduation Ceremony.

Cub Master Ralph Angier and Den Mother Mrs. Warren Manhard of Pack 22, Newton, brought to the Roundup a Cub Scout Band made up of members of Pack 22.

Mr. Robert Pettit, Scout Executive, and Mr. William A. Small, Field Executive, presented with the aid of Senior Scouts Graham Fulton, William Underhill, Curt Livingston, Donald Livingston, Walter Tower, Jr., and Asst. Squadron Leader Richard Pierce, a group of field demonstrations. A question and discussion period followed the panel, consisting of Dr. Lewis Pecheur, Richard Pierce, P. Edward Eden, Robert E. Pettit and Edward C. Michaud.

Supper was served at Legion Cabin by Roderick MacKinnon and his staff. Exhibits and decorations were in charge of Mr. Page Sanderson and Mr. Ward Beebe, with Assistant Executive John C. Adams as advisor.

Those in attendance were as follows:

Messrs. Thomas G. Doyle, Mark Ward, Edwin Birtwell, Amos Kent, Wilbur Bullen, Eugene Rumpel, Richard Williamson, Jack Starkweather, Ned Michaud, Ralph Angier, J. Mullen, Arthur Veinott, Willard Price, R. E. Pettit, F. C. Lynch, D. Edman, M. Edman, E. Carl, P. T. Livingston, W. Piotti, J. H. Marks, M. Thomas, D. Means, J. Blackhall, P. Eden, J. M. Williams, Frank A. Rees, Leigh Morse, Charles Atwell, Dan Mordecai, James P. Dunne, H. Sutter, W. J. Stover, W. E. Chute, R. Sims, F. W. Fessenden, R. Broad, E. B. Peirce, W. Lend-A-Hand Masque Holds First Fall Meeting

The Lend-a-hand Masque held its first meeting of the year on Monday evening, September 22, at the home of the president, Mrs. Ernest Kuebler, of Valentine Street, West Newton, at which plans were discussed for the work for the coming year.

The Lend-a-hand Masque has each year since 1928 with the exception of the war years, presented a play for children at the auditorium of the Newton High School, the proceeds of which furnish a scholarship for the further education of a young woman graduate of Newton High. These plays draw an enthusiastic audience of youngsters from the Newtons and surrounding towns.

The recipient of this year's scholarship is Miss Marion Quinn of Newton Centre who is registered at Emmanuel College. The hostesses at this meeting were Mrs. Charles Abrams of West Newton and Miss Bertha Chase and Miss Dorothy Johnson of Belmont.

School of Religious Education to Open

The Newton Council of Churches School of Religious Education will be opened October 14th at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, Mass. It will meet each Tuesday evening through November 18th. Teachers, Church school officers, parents, youth group leaders all are invited to attend.

Classes will be held in methods for Beginner children, Primary Junior High and High School age groups. A special period the second hour will be given to creative activities for Primary teachers. Two new types of course are to be featured one in the study of the Hebrew Prophets led by Rabbi Eric I. Lowenthal of Leominster, and the other in Recreational activities for young people with Y.W.C.A. leaders as instructors.

Many foods may be reheated and served again without change in flavor if heated in a double boiler and steamed through, instead of bringing it in contact with direct heat.

Ward Two Group Urges Increased Voting Turnout

During a recent house meeting held at the Walnut Street home of Norman Vincent, various aspects of the coming election were discussed by a group of interested Newton residents and four of the candidates running from Ward Two. One of the speakers William R. Mattson, present incumbent and candidate for Alderman-At-Large, outlined the disturbing facts in regard to the large proportion of registered Newton residents who fail to exercise their privilege and right and duty to vote.

Records of the previous election show that around forty thousand Newton citizens were registered and entitled to vote. Yet the total vote cast in the last election was only forty-six per cent of the total or around 18,500. In other words, as Mr. Mattson pointed out, where two candidates were running for the same office and the vote was close—say 10,500 to 8,500—the winning candidate was elected not by a democratic majority of the electorate but by approximately twenty-five per cent of all registered Newton voters.

If three candidates were running for the same office, as very often happens, one of them could conceivably be put into office, on the basis of the previous election, by around 6,200 votes or the very undemocratic ratio of a little over fifteen per cent of all registered Newton voters. In the light of these figures, the great importance of a larger voting turnout was very obvious to all those present. As a result, the group plans through one of its committees to encourage and facilitate getting out this year the maximum of Ward Two voters.

Another important matter discussed was the unfortunate lack of familiarity on the part of voters with many of the candidates running for office. This, of course, is a long standing problem of off-year elections in all parts of the country. But this, as one of the speakers pointed out, does not in any way lessen the seriousness of the forthcoming election in Newton as far as its contending officials and administration are concerned. At the suggestion of Mr. Vincent, candi-

First Concert in 47-48 Wellesley Series, Tuesday

The appearance of Zino Francescatti in Aumnac Hall on Tuesday, October 14, at 8 p.m., will be both the first concert of the 1947-48 Wellesley Concert Series and the first concert of a coast-to-coast tour. This tour will include a recital in almost every major city of the U. S. and appearances as violin soloist with the country's major orchestras: The Philadelphia Orchestra, New York Philharmonic, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cleveland, Buffalo and Cincinnati Orchestras. Francescatti played recently with the Boston Symphony and won a great ovation, and his sensational success during the past summer at the Hollywood Bowl and the New York Stadium drew from the press its most glowing and lavish praise. Indeed, his reviews and his enthusiastic reception by the concert-going public mark him as one of the outstanding violinists of the day.

Francescatti's life has been colorful and full of warm, human interest. He was born in Marseilles of Italian and French parentage. His father was a violinist, a pupil of Sivi, who was a direct pupil of Paganini. His mother also was a violinist and gave up her career to devote herself to her family and to her date for Ward Two Alderman, methods were approved for bringing to the attention of voters the pertinent facts concerning those running for various offices from Ward Two.

Charles P. Slocum, present Alderman-At-Large and candidate for re-election, discussed various phases of the city's affairs and government. He placed a good deal of emphasis on the exceptionally sound financial condition of Newton and on the generally high caliber of its governmental and administrative personnel. Colonel Louis Moore, Carl Shipper and George B. Rowlings, the latter a present member and candidate for re-election of the Newton School Committee, also contributed to the various discussions of the meeting with particular reference to the methods and importance of getting voters out for the election next month.

son's music. Like his mother, his wife, the former Yolande Potel de la Briere, a member of an aristocratic French family, relinquished her career as an excellent violinist in the interests of her husband. Truly a most distinguished family of musicians! Francescatti's success in Europe was prodigious and one of the many tours he undertook was in the company of Ravel, the famous composer and pianist, and Maggie Teyte, celebrated singer.

He was first heard in the New World in 1938. This was in a concert at the Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires — an event which was so sensational that even the staid New York Times correspondent sent a special cablegram about it. The next year he made his initial appearance in New York as soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra.

The program which Francescatti will present at Aumnac Hall on October 14 features the Beethoven G Major Sonata and the Saint-Saens Concerto. He will play on his magnificent "Hart" Stradivarius which is dated 1727 and is considered one of the best instruments of the great violin maker of Cremona.

Accordingly, it is no exaggeration to promise the audience of the Wellesley Concert Series a rare and extraordinary evening of musical pleasure. Mr. Barnett, of the faculty of Wellesley College and director of the concerts, extends a cordial invitation to greet the artist and to convey the sense of appreciation in the special, personal atmosphere which makes the concerts so enjoyed by artist and patrons alike.

Newton Notables

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER

WILLIAM M. CAHILL

A novel experience for any reporter is to be questioned in detail by the person she is interviewing. Not only questioned but listened to! But, as I learned later, such is the experience of every one who meets the exceedingly busy William M. Cahill of Wimbledon Circle, West Newton. And the leading question Mr. Cahill asks is always the same: "How do you like Newton?"

The answers people give to these five words are put to good use by Mr. Cahill. As Chairman of the Newton Community Council, he heads this overall planning body that has done so much to make them answer: "Newton is a wonderful place in which to live!"

Despite his manifold responsibilities as Vice-President and Treasurer of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Co., Mr. Cahill is a person who impresses you with his calm and unhurried manner. He answers questions thoughtfully. He has no nervous gestures. And so great is his concentration on any subject under discussion that you sense his disregard of everything else at the moment.

When pressed for his personal history Mr. Cahill gave these details. "I was born in West Newton and was graduated from Newton High. Later I studied law at Northeastern University. I believe that a knowledge of law is a great advantage, no matter what profession a man follows. My wife was originally from New Haven. We met on a cruise to Canada. Our three children are Billy, now studying at Boston College; Ann, at Boston Notre Dame Academy; and Beth, at Warren Junior High."

"And your hobbies?" "You might divide them into winter and summer hobbies," he replied. "In the summer we go to our place at North Scituate where we enjoy swimming, boating and golf. Winters, the children go in for winter sports at Brae Burn but my hobby is attending meetings in the evenings."

"And how did this begin?" I asked. He smiled as we launched upon another subject dear to his heart. "For about 30 years I worked on one of the Agencies, now a Red Feather Service, and through this became interested in Community Chest work."

"Thirty years!" A fine record of public service! But Mr. Cahill will explain to me just how the Newton Community Council operates. "The Council is the one body that unites and expresses the composite thinking of organizations and individuals of our city who are interested in working to raise its standards of health and welfare. Women's clubs, improvements associations and Parent-Teacher groups are only a few of the different types of organizations interested in local problems, who find common membership in the Community Council. At present 73 organizations are members. At least twice a year they meet as a body with 2 delegates representing each group. But the policy making and executive body of the Council is the Governing Board of 18 people drawn from delegates and individual members."

"But what is the connection between the Community Council and the Newton Community Chest? I notice the address of both is 93 Union Street."

"The Council is the planning body associated with the Community Chest and is also a liaison between the Chest and its Red Feather Agencies. When a Red Feather Agency requests permission to enlarge its program or any organization applies for admission to the Chest, the Council's Research Committee studies this organization and its services exhaustively and makes a recommendation to the Chest."

"When the Community Council is the only body truly representative of the social welfare thinking of Newton?"

"Yes. For example, we helped to found the Nutrition Center because we felt people needed sounder food habits in times of wartime rationing and swing shift living. In the past year we studied 3 more Newton problems—housing conditions, shortages of nursing homes and the need for wider medical coverage in smaller industries."

WILLIAM M. CAHILL

"I've noticed many evidences of the Council's work," I said. What does the Volunteer Service Committee do?"

"The Volunteer Service Committee lets Newton citizens know, through the local papers, of needed assistance in various health, welfare and recreational agencies, and puts volunteers in touch with these agencies. A weekly date-clearing calendar for those planning special events is also published weekly in the papers, and as a public service the Council publishes yearly a Directory of Newton Clubs, agencies and organizations. Yes, we want Newton people to know the Newton Community Council's many functions. So I'm glad of this chance to interpret the Council's work and its connection with the Newton Community Chest."

Then as he reached for his hat, Mr. Cahill concluded with a friendly smile: "And I'm glad that you, too, like to live in Newton!"

As a feature of the Newton-Malden High School football game at the High School stadium, Newton Community Chest Day will be celebrated. The High School band will assist in emphasizing the coming Campaign, and Miss Frances Shellenbach the Newton Red Feather Girl, will emerge from a Chest especially built for this occasion.

With a capacity crowd of about 7,000 people in attendance at this game, this novel feature, which Mr. Wesley Jones of the High School has worked out with the Chest Publicity Committee, should be an outstanding event and one which should cause much favorable comment for the chest campaign.

Hallowe'en Plans Forecast Jolly Parties for 10,000 School Children

Volunteer Need of The Newton Community Council

The West Newton Community Centre asks the Volunteer Service Bureau of the Newton Community Council, A RED FEATHER SERVICE, and you to aid in finding the volunteers they need at the present time.

A Story Telling Leader and Dramatic Leader are eagerly sought by the West Newton Community Centre. All men and women over 18, who have an hour or an hour and a half a week of spare time to volunteer, who have dramatic ability to tell stories to different age groups are urged to apply. If anyone has had specific training in story acting or dramatics... the Volunteer Service Bureau especially appeals to them to give an hour or an hour and a half of their time each week to this very worthwhile volunteer service.

These volunteers are needed at once... so if you have this training and the free time to donate... the Volunteer Service Bureau urges you to call LASell 5121... for further information TODAY.

Committees shaping up programs for Newton's mammoth Hallowe'en celebration are keeping strictly sub rosa the many features being scheduled for this Fall's annual event in which 10,000 school children will participate.

But enough information has leaked out, according to Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Program Committee Chairman, to predict that the 240 separate parties to be held throughout the city will be exceptionally jolly, with something doing every minute.

Mrs. Hovgaard also states that unusual progress has been made in settling details and that most committees have their programs completely mapped out. The following — HALLOWE'EEN — (Continued on Page 9)

Annual Layman's Service at Central Cong. Church Sun.

The Annual Layman's Service will be held at the Central Congregational Church, Walnut street, Newtonville, on Sunday, October 19. This day will be nationally observed by all Congregational churches throughout the country.

The church service will be conducted this Sunday exclusively by laymen of the church or the community.

In Newtonville the committee handling this day is made up of members of the Central Club, Ernest L. Nichols is chairman and Elmer Keever and Walter Sears, — LAYMAN — (Continued on Page 8)

With the final meeting on Sunday night October 19 of Newton Community Chest Residential workers in Newton Centre, the Worker Information program in connection with the Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign will be completed.

Following a series of meetings of Village Chairmen and Majors, and then meetings of Captains, Worker meetings started October 10 in Newton Centre, and during the past week there have been meetings each night to cover all of the village units in the division.

Edward J. Pease, Chairman of Worker Information in Newton, has conducted all of the worker meetings. Mr. Pease has had considerable experience in training salesmen, and has devoted considerable time to the Chest this fall to help solicitors know more about the work of the Newton agencies and how to tell their stories when calling on prospects.

As a feature of these meetings a skit prepared by Mr. Pease, has been presented, with Pease acting as a solicitor, with E. Graham Bates, Campaign Chairman, Dexter C. Whittinghill, Residential Chairman, "Pete" Pettengill, Executive Director, and Mrs. Guernsey Camp and Miss Marilyn Noyes alternating as members of the cast. The prime purpose of the skits has been to be informative, but considerable humor has been injected in them so that many a laugh has come from the groups in attendance. Following the skits Mr. Pease has conducted a question and answer period with many of the answers coming from the floor.

Government in Newton

Newton, since its incorporation as a city 74 years ago has borne the deserved reputation of being one of the outstanding communities in this vast country.

More than a century ago the coming of the Boston & Worcester Railroad to Newton caused Boston business men to establish their homes in this erstwhile agricultural area. The topography of Newton was ideal for the development of beautiful estates and the town gradually became the deluxe suburb of Boston.

Eventually the growth in population evolved the town into a city. Starting in 1873 the city governments of Newton were composed mostly of men in prosperous circumstances who sought or accepted public office through civic pride and not for venal purposes. Men in humble occupations also have served in our city governments and they too upheld the record of the city for good government. In contrast to many other cities Newton has been exceptionally free from graft.

Newton in past years became famed for its public services. Its schools, streets, police and fire departments ranked among the best. Library facilities and playgrounds in Newton have been outstanding.

The community spirit in Newton has won wide renown. The support its citizens have given such philanthropies as the hospital, Community Fund, Red Cross drives and the like have brought national recognition. Within the past couple of weeks Newton was cited for leading in community zeal.

So, it seems strange that despite Newton's record for good government and community spirit through many years, there has been considerable agitation the past year for "Plan E" in this city.

Persons not conversant with actual conditions in Newton would be justified in thinking that this demand for "Plan E" indicates that Newton has deteriorated to a sorry state. Some of those who have been clamoring for "Plan E" are new, or comparatively new residents here. They moved into this city apparently because they believed it a quite desirable place in which to reside. And then, influenced by some agitators, or following a political fad, they clamor for a drastic change in the conduct of government in a city which for three-quarters of a century has had good government.

It is true that in recent years public services in Newton, particularly those pertaining to the maintenance of streets have not been what Newton residents were accustomed to in bygone years. This was due partly to the fact that a long and severe war was in progress; and partly due to the fact that economy to continue a low tax rate was overstressed.

Newton can stand improvements in the conduct of its public affairs. No man is perfect. Neither is any collection of men such as a municipality. Newton has become a large city with more than 75,000 persons residing in it. Its character has changed considerably. The large estates which formerly adorned it have disappeared. Many industries have moved in to it. But it still is essentially a high-grade residential area and should be kept so.

There are yet men in Newton capable of presiding over its public affairs. Men who have sufficient ability, honesty, sincerity and experience in city government to serve as Mayor. We don't need to import an outsider to run this city.

Politics With Color

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

City Election

As we approach the home stretch in the Mayoralty race it is apparent that the winner, whoever he may be, has his work cut out for him. All three candidates have, in my judgment, made some mistakes. Perhaps it would be fairer to say that some of the leading sponsors of the three candidates have made mistakes. However, that is all part of the game. It is too bad, but it is a fact that those who aspire to public office are forced to accept at least some of the blame for the activities of their enthusiastic backers. Rumors, charges and counter-charges may emanate from a campaign committee or some key member of the candidate's organization; the repercussions, however, have to be absorbed by the candidate himself.

This leads me to make a suggestion, quite respectfully, to ALL candidates. I am a bit disturbed over the possibility that the closing days of the campaign may provide some so-called "hot-stuff" which will reflect no credit whatsoever on our Garden City. My suggestion is this. Let each and every candidate consider carefully, in advance of any charge he may make, three things as follows:—(1) Does he sincerely believe that his accusation is true?; (2) Does he have the facts to back up his charges?; (3) Which is more important, that he win his campaign regardless of the technique employed, or that the good name of Newton be retained and not dragged through the dirt?

A new factor has entered the campaign, namely, the influence on the campaign of the local branch of the PCA. Candidate Boyd claims that he boycotted the Davis School meeting solely because of its sponsorship. This, despite the fact that he had previously accepted an invitation to be present and speak. I am now informed, and NOT by Mr. Boyd or his followers, that Mr. Boyd was quite sincere in his attitude and that he really did not know until quite late JUST WHO was sponsoring the meeting. I'll give him the benefit of the doubt, although it is hard for me to understand how a man of his political knowledge could possibly have failed to know all the facts. It now develops that there may well be others who will follow Mr. Boyd's lead. Reference is not being made to Mayoral candidates but to candidates for the Board of Aldermen. Are they justified in taking this stand, assuming, of course, that they do not change their minds in the near future? That is a rather delicate question. I, for one, do not choose to believe that a man like Paul Harris Drake would deliberately do anything which would be detrimental to the welfare of Newton. After all, he has lived in our midst for a good many years and has made his living here. Why should he set out to sell Newton short and give aid and comfort to anybody wishing to tear our government limb from limb? He and his cohorts may be leftists and even near "pinks". That, in itself, does not bar him or his associates from participating in our city election. He is a registered voter and, I believe, a taxpayer. Surely we believe in free speech in Newton, even tho' many of us undoubtedly disagree sharply with Mr. Drake's policies and opinions.

Now I realize full well that the above statement may cause some violent reactions on the part of some of my more conservative friends. The statement is made solely because I believe in fair play and in free speech, PROVIDED that free speech is NOT used in an effort to tear down our entire form of government. The desire to install Plan E or any other plan, including the hiring of a City Manager, is certainly a perfectly proper desire on the part of any citizen of Newton. And that ambition, plus the fervent desire of many, many people to secure proper housing facilities for veterans and others, appears to be the most drastic scheme of anybody hereabouts, including the local branch of the PCA. I trust that I make my own position clear.

A few words, now, about this "machine" we hear so much about. Unfortunately, I do not feel at liberty to disclose the source of my information at this juncture. Suffice it to say, that there are quite a few well-informed citizens here who have no particular love for this so-called machine; nevertheless, they are frank to admit that there is no sense in jumping out of the frying-pan into the fire. In other words, they feel that the so-called machine candidates are, in a great many instances, superior in many ways to the anti-machine candidates. Is there any sense in defeating a few machine candidates solely on account of their sponsorship, (which, incidentally, includes a lot of A-1 citizens) and placing in our city government some LESS qualified people who have picked on the machine argument as their chief stock in trade? How about it?

Finally, I urge all good citizens to attend as many as possible of the rallies in the three closing weeks of the campaign.

League Invites Citizens of Newton
To Meet Candidates

The League of Women Voters of Newton invites you, the voters of Newton, to a candidates' meeting and reception at the Newtonville Woman's Club, 61 Washington Park, Friday, Oct. 17th, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Wm. M. Barber, President of the Newton League will open the meeting, welcoming the guests. Mr. Louis M. Lyons, Curator of the Nieman Fellowships at Harvard University, formerly on the editorial staff of the Boston Globe, and author of the Boston chapter in "Our Fair City" will speak briefly on "Making Your Vote Count", after which he will act as moderator while the audience questions the three candidates for Mayor: Hugh S. Boyd, Roy S. Edwards, and Theodore R. Lockwood.

This interesting period will be followed by a reception to all the candidates, for Mayor, for Board of Aldermen, and for School Committee. Refreshments will be served. The reception committee is under the able leadership of Mrs. Eric J. Kermath and Mrs. John B. Stetson. Assisting them will be Mrs. Wm. R. Bell, Mrs. Harold M. Bowman, Mrs. Harold F. Brown, Mrs. Herbert C. Bronson, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco, Mrs. Theodore Friedrichs, Mrs. Walter Jehu, Mrs. Wm. A. Kerr, Mrs. Eldin Lynn, Mrs. Francis J. Martin, Mrs. Wm. J. MacDonald, Mrs. Stephen G. Simpson, Mrs. Leonard Hole, Mrs. John J. Taplin, Miss Katherine Wilkins and many others.

During the Middle Ages in Europe, merchants "monogrammed" their goods with devices that nearly always contained a cross, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica, either as a protection against storms or other catastrophes or to distinguish their goods from those of Mohammedan traders.

BIG SHOES TO FILL!

I look forward with awe to the shoes I have to fill.

Not that I lack business ability, some good judgment, and the determination to help make Newton not only the best city to live in, but the city you will want to live in always.

I do not have the endorsement of a political party or machine — nor do I have any prejudice whatsoever against any candidate for office in Newton.

It is a case of merely not being able to restrain myself from expressing publicly my admiration, respect and whole-hearted support of the candidacy of a man with the qualifications of THEODORE LOCKWOOD FOR MAYOR.

Oak Hill Imp. Assoc. To Hear All Three Mayoral Candidates

Because of the interest in this year's contest for Mayor, President Eric A. Bianchi of the Oak Hill District Improvement Association announces that all three candidates for the office—Hugh Boyd, Roy Edwards and Theodore Lockwood have agreed to address the semi-annual meeting of the Association at the Oak Hill School on Tuesday, October 28 at 8 p.m.

A short business meeting will precede the addresses of the candidates. Questions will be invited from the floor, and a social hour will wind up the evening.

The rapidly growing Oak Hill District, with many of its residents new to Newton city affairs, will be most interested in hearing at first hand the qualifications of each candidate, and a large attendance is anticipated.

Roy S. Edwards, Candidate for Mayor, Announces His Platform

At a meeting of his campaign aids, Roy S. Edwards, candidate for Mayor, detailed his platform in which he pledges his immediate attention to Veterans' Housing projects and the much-delayed School Building program, both of which, he declares, can no longer be postponed. In addition, he will seek a remedy for the inequalities now existing among City employees in various departments.

Further Mr. Edwards proposes, when elected, to manage the City's affairs along recognized business and economic principles. He also advocates a City Manager form of government as being the best type for a rapidly-growing city whose problems are necessarily complex. Mr. Edwards' platform follows:

"I will dedicate myself to the future of Newton and will devote myself exclusively to its interests.

"I will apply myself vigorously to the management of the City in accordance with sound, economic principles.

"I consider that our much-delayed School Building program has been detrimental to the best interests of our recognized high educational standards and I favor the prompt continuance of this important project.

"I view Veterans' Housing as a 'must' and I will give it my immediate attention on assuming office. And I will take the same definite action I have repeatedly urged on the Mayor and Board of Aldermen during the past 3 years.

"I will seek a solution to the inequalities wherever they may exist among City employees in the various departments.

"I favor, and will continue to advocate, a suitable City Manager form of government for Newton, as I regard this form the most efficient and economical yet devised for the operation of a large municipality.

"I will consult with citizens who are experts in their particular fields, in order that I may more successfully chart the proper course of action to insure the perpetuation of Newton as a far-sighted community.

"As Mayor, I will personally look into and correct any inefficiencies in services rendered to citizens.

"If elected, I will immediately on taking office relinquish the management of my business and will devote all my time and effort to conducting the affairs of Newton."

Supplementing the points in his platform, Mr. Edwards reiterated that Newton should have as its Mayor a man of long business experience, who is capable of analyzing its problems and solving them logically. "Newton actually is big business," stressed Mr. Edwards, "and should be conducted in big-business fashion. Unquestionably, a businesslike, open, above-board, common-sense administration is vital to the City if it is to grow soundly and strongly. Time-worn political word-fencing, evasions, artful maneuvering and biased decisions can only hinder Newton's development.

"Political experience in a Mayor, these days," continued Mr. Edwards, "is actually a very minor qualification. If Newton's best interests are to be served and the welfare of its citizens safeguarded, the usual political methods simply will not do. A modern Mayor's chief requirements are definitely those found in leading business executives—and Newton should have that type of executive. In fact, so firmly am I convinced that Newton's needs demand well-rounded business procedure that I strongly advocate — and have for a long time — a City Manager form of government in the near future. And I propose, as Mayor, to conduct the City's affairs in such a businesslike manner that they will be left in suitable condition for ready transference to that type of leadership."

Cushing Hospital Makes Urgent Plea For Nurse's Aides

Any woman who has completed a training course as a Red Cross Volunteer Nurse's Aide is asked to give careful consideration to the possibility of serving at Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital in Framingham, according to Mrs. Robert W. Moore Jr., chairman of Red Cross Nurse's Aides.

Cushing has made a strong appeal to nearby Red Cross Chapters to provide fifty-six Aides a day, and every effort is being made to send at least 28 daily by November 1st. Because of the acute need for help at this time, a woman who has completed her training is eligible regardless of the number of hours of subsequent service.

Further information may be had by calling the Nurse's Aide office at LAsell 6000.

Show at H. S. Demonstrates Many Fire Causes, How to Prevent Them

By MARVIN R. GOULD

Thursday, October 9, at the Newton High School auditorium a fire prevention show was staged by the United Mutual Fire Insurance Company in cooperation with the Newton Fire Department and the Newton Graphic.

Chief John Keating, of the Newton Fire Department was master of ceremonies. Chief Keating introduced former chief Ernest W. Williams of Lynn. Mr. Williams opened his demonstration with a "fire triangle" which clearly showed what items are necessary for a fire to take place; oxygen, temperature, and fuel, he stated that if any of these three were cut off the blaze would be stopped, and illustrated this by placing a lighted candle in his pocket to cut off the supply of oxygen. He also showed in miniature form what happens when an iron is left on an ironing board, when a penny is placed in a fuse box, gasoline rags left in close quarters, when flour is used to extinguish a fire, the result our number one enemy FIRE.

Chief Williams an accomplished magician also illustrated these points by feats of magic. He went on further to explain that several types of cellophane, celluloid and cotton articles on the market today have been responsible for a great many deaths and a greater amount of injuries. He also emphasized that only fire proof decorations should be used in the home.

A quarter of a million volts was passed through the body of Lt. Lawrence Clark, the Lieut. was used as a human conductor and a cigarette was lighted from the sparks shooting from his fingers, this was performed to show how electricity may be handled safely.

Various types of fire extinguishers were displayed and demonstrated together with the latest gamewell fire alarm and sprinkler systems.

Several pieces of the latest fire apparatus were on display in front of the high school by the Newton Fire Department.

After the show fire chief Keating commented, "This fire show in my estimation, is one of the finest things the Graphic and United Mutual could do to help prevent fire hazards in the home."

Many thanks to firemen Edward Keegan, Karl Hardwick, T. J. Kelly, Paul Leone, T. F. Fleming, C. Barley, A. Lawson, N. Gentile and A. Butler; Lieutenants, Coakley and Clark; Captain J. R. Marchant; Deputy Chief John E. Corcoran and Chief John Keating; Chester W. Miles and Hoyt Young of the Gamewell Co.; Roger Wingate of United Mutual Fire Insurance Co.; Charles Peterson, stage manager of the high school, his assistant, Arthur

Rogers; Charles Remley and Donald March of the Newton High School orchestra, which furnished all music for the show.

GERTRUDE LAWRENCE

Noted stage star, who will play the role of Liza Elliot in "Lady in the Dark," when "Theatre Guild on the Air" sponsored by United States Steel is broadcast from Boston this Sunday evening, October 19, at 9:30 p.m. Program is heard locally over WCOP, the ABC station in Boston.

Newtonville Junior Woman's Club

The next meeting of the Newtonville Junior Woman's Club will be held on Tuesday evening, October 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the Newtonville Woman's Clubhouse. Miss Mildred Glass of Braintree, who was the Massachusetts Junior delegate to the Federation of Women's Clubs Convention in New York last summer, will report on the results of the conference. Mrs. Edwin P. McGill, president of the Newtonville Woman's Club, will also speak to the group.

At the executive board meeting held at the home of Mrs. Richard R. MacMillan, 33 Highland avenue, Newtonville, it was announced that the barn dance sponsored by the Newtonville Juniors and the Newton Junior Community Club will take place at Kelsey Ranch on Friday evening, October 17, at 8 p.m.

The Newtonville Juniors will be responsible for a table at the Annual Bazaar of the Newtonville Woman's Club which is to take place on Tuesday, October 28. They will also act as ushers at the evening's entertainment.

School Board Candidates Frazier and Baker Speak At Second N.P.A. Forum

The second in a series of open forums for candidates conducted by the Newton Progressive Association was held Tuesday night at the Mason School in Newton Center. Paul Harris Drake presided. The speakers were Francis P. Frazier, member of the school committee from Ward 1, and William B. Baker, Jr., candidate for the School Committee from Ward 2. He is opposing Committeeman George B. Rawlings and James J. Cahill.

Mr. Frazier, who is unopposed for re-election to a fifth term, and who is the oldest member of the School Committee in point of service, gave a very comprehensive report on the Newton public school system, and offered proof that it is one of the finest in the United States. He declared that while it is impossible to fill all teaching positions with Newton residents, full consideration is given resident applicants, and many are appointed. He cited figures to support this point. Mr. Frazier was heartily applauded after his remarks, and then answered questions from parents in the audience.

Chairman Drake remarked, after Mr. Frazier's address, that he had amply demonstrated why he is unopposed for re-election and returned to office so regularly.

Mr. Baker was also warmly received, and confined his address to a general rebuttal of the thesis that Newton's school system is perfect and cannot be improved. He was especially critical of what he called the "selection" of members of the School Committee, without contest. He felt that new and younger blood is needed to protect Newton schools from a smug attitude about past laurels won. In answer to questions, he approved a program for full recreational facilities. He made it apparent that his campaign is receiving general support through the city among veterans and younger parents who are not content with an educational status quo.

The third and final open forum of the Newton Progressive Association will be held next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Cabot School, 229 Cabot street, Newtonville, for all Aldermanic candidates in the municipal election. Already many acceptances have been received, and the meeting is expected to be the liveliest of the series. Followers of the aspirants in Ward 2, scene of the forum, are expected to turn out in force. The speaking time of the various candidates will probably be limited, so that all may have a chance to present their platforms. The question period should prove one of the most spirited town meeting sessions in years. The meeting will be fully reported in the press for voters who are not able to attend.

Large Audience Hears Glenn Craig At Y. M. C. A.

Delegates representing the Newton Community Council's 73 member organizations and their friends will hear Glenn Craig, Assistant to the Under Secretary of State for Economic Affairs, Washington, D. C., discuss "The Food Situation—Its Impact at Home and Abroad," Thursday, October 16, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A., Newton.

A panel made up of Newton citizens, representing various approaches to the food question will take up the discussion following Mr. Craig's talk. With Harold B. Gores, Assistant Superintendent of Newton Public Schools, as moderator, the panel members will be Dr. Frederick J. Stare, chairman of the Newton Nutrition Centre Committee and Professor of Nutrition at the Harvard School of Public Health; Miss Ruth Maynard, Visiting Teacher, Newton Public Schools, who will speak from the social worker's point of view; Harry Sandler, Merchandising Manager of the Star Market, who will represent the retail grocer; and Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, who will present the case of the homemaker, who copes with the daily marketing problem.

Because of its extreme interest to the community at large, the meeting is open to the public. William M. Cahill, chairman of the Newton Community Council, will preside at the meeting, which has been arranged by the Program Committee, Thomas E. Shirley, chairman, Miss Adelaide B. Hall and Charles O. Richter.

Mrs. George R. Strandberg and Mrs. George H. Larsen are in charge of refreshments which will be served following the meeting. The Hostess Committee consists of Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Mrs. Donald Gibbs, and Mrs. Henry Whitmore Jr. The Newton Nutrition Center will display a nutrition exhibit, based on the food conservation program. The exhibit is the work of Miss Marie Gervais, Assistant Nutritionist of the Nutrition Centre.

Wellesley College Opens Campaign For Fund

Wellesley alumnae in Newton opened their campaign this week for $60,000 which they are raising locally this year as their part in the Wellesley College 75th Anniversary Fund Campaign. Mrs. George M. Belcher announced today. More than 65 alumnae are assisting Mrs. Belcher in the campaign.

The campaign fund of $7,500,000 is designed to meet the most urgent needs of Wellesley. $2,000,000 is sought to maintain faculty salaries and to give the instructional staff opportunity for research. Another $2,000,000 will be devoted to scholarship aid, $1,500,000 will be allocated for a new dormitory to enable all students to live on campus, and $2,000,000 will be used to build a new college library.

The fund campaign was inaugurated October 1 at a large dinner at the Hotel Statler. Many Wellesley alumnae from Newton were present to hear Dean Acheson, former Under Secretary of State, as the principal speaker. Other speakers on the occasion were President Mildred McAfee Horton of Wellesley College, Mr. Oscar W. Hausmann of Milton, National Chairman of the Men's Committee, and Miss Nancy Bartram, President of Wellesley Student Government.

Among those from Newton at dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Segal, Mr. and Mrs. T. Edson Jewell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Dietz, Mr. and Mrs. William V. M. Fawcett, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lusk and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Levin. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Kempf attended from Auburndale, and Mrs. R. C. Farnham, Mrs. Carl Birmingham, Mrs. Robert C. Foster and Miss Eleanor Cox from Newtonville.

Miss Louise Walworth, Miss Maude E. Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie D. Hawkridge and Mesdames John E. Eaton, Jr., Harry N. Guterman and Harold S. Goldberg attended from Newton Centre. Still others were Dr. and Mrs. Neil W. Swinton, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Belcher, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin D. Canham and Mrs. Gordon W. Daly of Waban and Messrs. and Mesdames Charles C. Hornbostel, Robert H. Newton Progressive Association Ridicules Boyd's Forum Charges

John Evans of Newton Andover Theological School, president of the Newton Progressive Association, today issued the following statement:

"Mr. Boyd's charge that the series of open forums being conducted by the Association is controlled by persons in Seattle and Pittsburgh is utterly absurd in the light of the known facts. All the members of this Association are Newton residents, many of them pay taxes and send their children to the public schools. Some of them served overseas during the war. None of them has contacts with Seattle or Pittsburgh.

"Unwittingly, Mr. Boyd has done the citizens of Newton a great favor. His ridiculous statement was issued on the day when many cities in Massachusetts held elimination primaries, in order to narrow the field of office-seekers to two candidates in each contest. Mr. Boyd chose that day to eliminate himself from the Newton election. His charge that 'pressure groups and outside interests' dominated the forum at the Davis School is highly resented by the many veterans who attended. They do not consider themselves outsiders. They want to remain in Newton, if they can get homes in which to live and raise their families.

"The citizens of Newton, and especially the boys who 'sweat it out' for four years, are not fooled by professional politicians. They are used to spotting camouflage. They do not relish double-talk.

"This Association considers that a vote for Mr. Boyd is a wasted vote. The real race is between Roy S. Edwards and Theodore R. Lockwood. It urges all voters of Newton to go to the polls on November 4. The future of our city is at stake.

"We wish to extend our thanks to Mr. Edwards and Mr. Lockwood for attending our forum and answering all questions. We issued the invitations in good faith, and they accepted in good faith. Mr. Boyd, as is well known, accepted but did not attend."

The Newton Archers

The Newton Archers held their last quarterly tournament of the season on Columbus Day at the Newton Centre Playground. There was a small group who lined up to shoot with Allston Buddell of Newton Highlands as Captain of the Field. Archers came from Worcester, Weymouth, Essex, Lowell, Waltham, and Cambridge.

The Newton Archers served cider and doughnuts to the visitors while the scores were being made up.

Next week the last handicap tournament will be held.

Many Newton People Sign Planned Parenthood Petitions

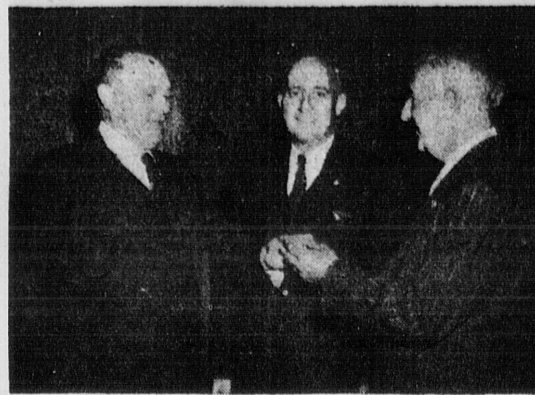

Volunteer workers are turning in signatures of Newton voters daily, endorsing the Initiative Petition for medical and civil rights sponsored by the Planned Parenthood League of Massachusetts, according to Mrs. Wallace M. Ross, 10 Bemis street, Newtonville, all-Newton chairman. The campaign for subsequent signers to the first ten of the original petition will continue throughout the state until November 6.

"Planned Parenthood should be considered as a very significant part of the 'Our American Heritage' campaign, which, with the visits of the Freedom Train, is being celebrated as a week of rededication to basic American principles," President Karl T. Compton of Massachusetts Institute of Technology declared this week.

President Compton, who heads the list of ten signers to the Initiative Petition to permit doctors to provide medical contraceptive care to married women for the protection of life and health, made this statement in connection with the announcement by the Planned Parenthood League that 4,985 volunteer petition circulators are now cleaning up on their statewide campaign for voter-signatures on the petition which originated with Pres. Compton and nine other original signers.

In addition to the many names already published of Initiative Petition circulators in the Newtons, Mrs. L. Sumner Pruyne, 88 Farlow road, chairman for Newton village, and Mrs. Wallace M. Ross, Newtonville co-chairman, list the following:

Hospital Aid Assoc. Directors Meet

The Board of Directors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association met for the first time this fall in the Nurses' Home, on Tuesday morning, October 14th, with Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsback, president. Mrs. Warner Eustis read the minutes of the May meeting and Miss Maida Flanders read the treasurer's report. The need for various articles of equipment for the hospital was discussed and their purchase authorized. The final payment on the pledge to the building fund was voted.

Mrs. Francis F. Williams' report of the activities of the Benefit Shop stressed the need for donations for the shop from all the Association members. Mrs. Walter L. McGill, on behalf of the Coffee and Gift Shop Committee called for new volunteers to augment faithful workers who have carried on these ventures so successfully. It was decided to ask the directors of each village to meet together before November for the purpose of appointing a chairman for each day of the week in the Coffee Shop. Members are invited to drop into the Coffee Shop at the tea hour, when a leisurely selection of Christmas gifts and cards is possible.

Mrs. Stanley F. Hobbs, director of volunteer service in the hospital, told the Board that volunteers were indispensable to the high standards of the hospital. More Grey Ladies are needed and there is a real opportunity for volunteer service in the Hospital Library.

The directors took pleasure in hearing from Mrs. Rallsback that the past president, Mrs. Theron B. Walker had been elected Chairman of the Hospital Auxiliaries of Greater Boston. After the meeting had been adjourned coffee was served by the hostesses of the morning, Mrs. Frank Clark of Newtonville and Mrs. Arthur Shaw of Auburndale.

CITY OF NEWTON
FORESTRY DIVISION STREET DEPT.
NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

You are hereby required on or before December 1st, 1947, to destroy the gypsy and brown-tail moths on your property in this City.

This notification is in accordance with Chapter 132, General Laws, Section 18, and the amendments hereto, which require cities and towns to destroy the eggs, caterpillars, pupae, and nests of the gypsy and brown-tail moths under heavy penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of the law.

If a property owner fails to destroy such eggs, pupae and nests, then the city or town is required to destroy the same, and the cost of the work in whole or in part, according to the value of the land, is assessed upon and becomes a lien on the land. (See section 18, of said Chapter 132, and amendments hereto.)

The City Will Perform All Winter Work Unless Otherwise Notified by Property Owners. Full instruction as to the best methods of work against the moths may be obtained from the Forestry Division, City Hall, or from the State Forester, State House, Boston, Mass.

Work done by contractors should be inspected and approved by the Local Superintendent before payment for same is made.

HAROLD F. YOUNG, Superintendent of Moth

Suppression. This notice is issued by order of PAUL M. GODDARD, Mayor.

Case No. 20697 Reg.
THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
LAND COURT

To City of Newton, a municipal corporation, located in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Richard L. McMahon, Pauline E. McMahon, Agnes Fitzgerald, Catherine K. Conley, Mary A. Gallagher, Anna V. Gallagher, W. H. Morgan, George W. Crosby, Josephine A. Bruce, Charles E. Kelloway, Frances P. Kelloway, Henry J. Chandonoff, M. Catherine Chandonoff, Nancy F. Sheehan, Goldie B. Rinsman, William Sherman, Cora D. Perry and Margaret M. Glynn, of said Newton; Carl E. Johnson, of Arlington, in the said County of Middlesex; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to this Court by John J. Glynn, of said Newton, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of said Newton called West Newton, bounded and described as follows:

Southeasterly by Russell Road 85.67 feet; Southwesterly by land now or formerly of the City of Newton 84.45 feet; Northwesterly by land now or formerly of Agnes Fitzpatrick 86.01 feet; and Northeasterly by land now or formerly of Anna V. Gallagher et al 78.04 feet.

Petitioner claims as appurtenant to the above described land rights of way in and over said Russell Road and Clark Road in common with others entitled thereto.

The above-described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the tenth day of November next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, John E. Fenton, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this ninth day of October in the year nineteen hundred and forty-seven.

Attest with Seal of said Court. (Seal)

U.N. Facts and Faces ECUADOR

The Republic of Ecuador, straddling the equator and rising from the Pacific Ocean to some of the highest peaks in South America, is 275,936 square miles in area and has a population of about 3,500,000. Her neighbors are Colombia in the north and Peru in the east and south. The lonely Galapagos Islands in the Pacific Ocean also belong to Ecuador. Quito is her capital. Rich in undeveloped mineral resources, Ecuador lives principally on agriculture and forest products and is the world's only source of the famous Panama hats. Ecuador is represented at U.N. is Dr. Jose A. Correa. Ecuador's flag has stripes of yellow, blue and red with the country's crest in the center.

Information About Cruises and Tours

Demand for reservations for steamship cruises for the coming winter is so heavy that persons planning to take ocean cruises make immediate applications.

Attractive cruises have been arranged to the West Indies and South America and ships are now running frequently to Bermuda. The Pan American World Airways offer facilities for air tours to Bermuda, Mexico, Central and South America.

Mexico will see a large influx of visitors from the United States this winter. Tours may be taken to Mexico by bus and rail, all rail or by air. One can take a 17 days tour to Mexico from New York for $252. Persons who desire to make an extended stay in Mexico can obtain good hotel accommodations at much less cost than in this country.

Air travel provides tourists with rapid transportation to fascinating Guatemala and other Latin American countries.

For information and reservations on steamship cruises or tours by means of air transportation inquire of the Newton Steamship Agency, 404 Centre street, Newton telephone Bigelow 1448.

Large Attendance at Lockwood Rally

A largely attended rally in the interest of Alderman Theodore R. Lockwood, candidate for Mayor, was held in the Neighborhood Club, West Newton last Wednesday evening.

Among those present were Alderman-at-Large Ernest G. Angeline and Ward Alderman Kenneth E. Prior, both candidates for Alderman-at-Large in the coming city election, as well as Joseph B. Davis, one of the two candidates for Ward Alderman from Ward 3. All three took a bow, although Alderman Prior was called upon during the question period to answer some detailed questions concerning traffic lights in West Newton square.

Also present were president Joseph B. Janieson of the Board of Aldermen, Alderman-at-Large Charles P. Slousof of Ward 2, a candidate for re-election, and James B. Palmer, School Committee member from Ward 3 and also running for re-election.

Alderman Lockwood discussed in some detail the intricacies of our city government and elaborated on his platform, which has already had wide publicity. He then explained to the attentive audience just why he felt qualified to offer his services to the city in a more important capacity than heretofore.

The question period was especially interesting and brought out much interest in the future of the Newton schools and, more particularly, the Newton High School. It was news to quite a few people that our present high school cannot possibly handle the greatly increased number of pupils which will have to be handled eventually. One solution is the making over of the Weeks Junior High School into a regular high school for the south side of the city and then finding some means of caring for the pupils now being taken care of at the Weeks School.

Further development of our playgrounds and our streets and the improvement of our garbage removal and the suppression of the smoke menace near the railroads were other topics discussed.

Auxiliary to Meet

The first meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Newton Y.M.C.A. will be held at 2 o'clock, Wednesday, October 22, with the president, Mrs. Alban Rosene, presiding.

Mr. Frank Simmons, the director of Camp Frank A. Day, will give a brief report on the highlights of the summer activities. Campers' mothers as well as all others who may be interested are cordially invited to attend.

The chief speaker of the afternoon will be Mr. Hayden Pearson, author of "Country Flavor" and "Countryman's Cookbook." His next book, "Sea Flavor" will appear in March. Mr. Pearson is well known in Newton, not only for his books and light vein food editorials which appear frequently in "The Boston Herald" and "New York Times", but because he was principal of Bigelow Junior High School from 1934-1944. He is an exceedingly popular speaker and the Women's Auxiliary is indeed fortunate to have him as a guest.

Newton High School Notes

Drama Club adviser, Mrs. Jean M. Wiens, assisted by several members, judged the Drama Club try-outs on September 16 and 17, and selected thirty-nine new members. Although not all candidates could be accepted, juniors who were not admitted this year are strongly urged to try again next year. The eight actors in last year's Neophyte play were the only people admitted without try-outs.

Following is the list of those who were accepted: Janet Atkinson, Betsy Breed, Arlene Blanchard, Ann Davis, Helen Dolber, Don Finberg, Ted Friedricks, Eugene Fredey, Myra Green, Hermine Greenfield, Bill Gersumsky, David Cravitz, Boone Gross, Joan Groccio, Nita Grossman, Yvonne Luthy, Nancy MacMillan, Jean MacMillan, Priscilla Morse, Tom Nagel, Sue Nardini, Leon Avakian, Maxine Nichols, Paul O'Neill, Ann Orth, Janice Pearson, Barbara Painton, Dorothy Parritz, Janet Powell, Al Ruggles, Bryce Seaman, Evelyn Stone, Wally Strathern, Grace Swan, Norman Vincent, Bill Wayman, Ellen Weagle, Clinton Wells, and Barbara Woodrich.

The addition to the Technical Building of the Newton High School is expected to be completed before spring, with the Auto Shop ready for use in early January. Delay in finishing the building has been attributed to present shortages of material and skilled labor.

An attractive and efficient structure has been planned. The first story of the three-story building will be occupied entirely by the Auto Shop with its stock and tool rooms. The faculty room is to be on the mezzanine, while classrooms for machine and electrical drafting, electric laboratory, radio related and auto related rooms, in addition to the auto laboratory will be on the second floor. The third floor is to have six more classrooms.

The architect and the contractor for the new building have collaborated closely in perfecting the design and good workmanship.

It is expected that the long-awaited skating rink will be in operation this winter. The rink will be located at the east end of the athletic field, parallel to Hull street. The project will serve a double purpose, for the area will be used for tennis in the spring.

The four new tennis courts will be flooded in winter; but as there will be no freezing unit, ice will not be guaranteed. What the surface of the courts will be has not been decided. A chain link fence will surround the courts, and a removable hockey board four feet in height will be fastened to it. The cost is estimated at between fourteen and sixteen thousand dollars. The rink will be used for hockey team practice.

Politics In Newton

Past and Present
By EDWARD H. POWERS

The present mayoralty campaign is more active than any Newton has witnessed since 1933. Fourteen years ago Thomas W. White unsuccessfully opposed Sinclair Weeks when the latter was a candidate for a third term. That was a tenuous, bitter contest with no punches pulled. Two years later Edwin O. Childs who had established a record when he served as Mayor of Newton from 1914 to 1929, inclusive, made a come-back when he defeated Daniel Needham in 1935.

Mr. Childs broke Newton traditions when he continued to hold the office of Mayor for 16 years. The first Mayor of Newton, James F. C. Hyde of Newton Highlands, was elected in 1873 to serve a one year term, and was reelected the following year for another term. His successors, Alden Spear of Newton Center, William B. Fowle of Auburndale, Royal Pulsifer of Auburndale and William P. Ellison of Newton (Corner) all were elected for two terms of one year each.

Mr. Ellison was a popular Mayor and his supporters prevailed on him to break precedent and be a candidate for a third term. But, sentiment in Newton for limiting a Mayor's tenure of office to 2 years was so strong that a Citizen's Party was organized in 1883 and it nominated J. Wesley Kimball of Newtonville, a popular Alderman, to run against Mr. Ellison. Kimball won in a close election.

Mr. Kimball was an efficient Mayor. Moreover, he displayed sympathy and consideration for the city employees. He and his followers were inconsistent, however, for after having been first elected in protest against a third term, Kimball consented to run for a third term in 1885 and was re-elected. His popularity was such that he was again re-elected in 1886 and 1887, serving 5 years in all.

The Republican party regained municipal control in Newton in 1888 when it elected Heman Burr of Chestnut Hill as Mayor. He served the customary 2 years in 1889 and 1890.

Newton saw a lively Mayorality campaign in 1890 when Alderman George Petee of Ward 5, who received the Republican nomination, was opposed by Heman E. Hibbard of Ward 7, an aggressive, well-liked resident of Newton Corner. He was the nominee of the Citizens Party which was composed of anti-machine Republicans and Democrats. Hibbard had run against Heman Burr the preceding year and had been defeated, but he won over Petee by the slim margin of 49 votes. Hibbard served two terms and in 1892 Alderman John Fenno of Newtonville was elected Mayor, and re-elected in 1893. He was the Republican candidate. The Citizens Party had no candidate against him.

Mr. Fenno's successor was Henry E. Bothfield of Ward 7, one of the youngest men ever elected as Mayor. Mr. Bothfield was not a candidate for a second term because his health at that time was poor. But he regained it. In 1937 at the age of 77 he was elected president of the Newton Savings Bank and served efficiently until 1944. Mr. Bothfield is still keen and active and keeps in trim by chopping wood on his estate in Sherborn. Always athletic, he played a creditable game of tennis until well into his 70s.

The next Mayor of Newton was Henry E. Cobb of Bellevue street, Ward 1. An affable man who gave generously of his wealth to civic projects, one of his hobbies was the possession of beautiful horses and equines. Older residents of Newton remember his "coach and four" with liveried coachman and footman. Mr. Cobb broke the precedent and served three years.

The next Mayor of Newton was Edward B. Wilson of West Newton. Mr. Wilson was the opposite of Henry E. Cobb in temperament. A stern man, he was quite insistent on efficiency, and among other things he forbade the city laborers smoking while at work on the streets. He was not among the more popular mayors this city had. He served during 1899 and 1900.

Prior to this time Democrats in Newton had been such a small minority that they had been virtually ignored by the overwhelming Republican majority. Citizens of Newton, as elsewhere in the Northern States were mostly men of Irish birth or extraction. They had been accorded little recognition by the Republican party. There were few "Yankee Democrats". Among those in Newton at that time were Charles Bartlett of Newtonville, father of the City Solicitor; George Coppins of Newton; Thomas W. Proctor of Chestnut Hill; William S. Follet of Newton and William F. Wodman of Newton Center.

About the turn of the century a lawyer named William H. Baker became a resident of Newtonville. He was an aggressive, fluent person with political ambitions. He was largely responsible for the organization of a Democratic group known as the Jefferson Club which held frequent and strenuous meetings in the old Central Congregational church building at Newtonville. Baker ran against Edward B. Wilson for Mayor and nearly defeated the latter.

Following Mr. Wilson as Mayor was Edward L. Pickard of Augurndale, a genial man who had served as alderman and who was desirous of having the honor of serving as Mayor of Newton. This privilege was accorded him and he was Mayor for one year, in 1901.

Mr. Pickard was succeeded by John W. Weeks of West Newton who had served an apprenticeship in city government as a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen. He was a graduate of Annapolis Naval Academy, a member of a prominent Boston banking and brokerage firm, wealthy and liberal. Possessed of a likeable personality, Mr. Weeks made many friends and had political ambitions. He served as Mayor of Newton in 1902 and 1903, and later became a member of the United States House of Representatives, the United States Senate, and served as Secretary of the Navy.

Mr. Weeks was succeeded as Mayor by Alonzo R. Weed of Ward 7, who had served several years as an alderman. His term included the years of 1904 and 1905. He later served in the Legislature and subsequently was appointed a Superior Court Justice.

Following Mr. Weed as Mayor was Edgar W. Warren of Newton Highlands who presided at City Hall during 1906 and 1907, and he was succeeded by George Hutherson of West Newton who was Mayor in 1908 and 1909. Like their predecessors these two gentlemen had served in the Newton Board of Aldermen.

Mr. Hutherson was followed by Charles E. Hatfield of West Newton. Mr. Hatfield was a practical politician. He not only was the head man of the Newton Republican City Committee for a considerable number of years, but he was a dominant factor in the Middlesex County Republican machine for a long time, and also in the State Republican machine. Mr. Hatfield was Mayor of Newton for four years, from 1910 to 1913 inclusive. His breaking of the custom of limiting one's tenure as Mayor to two years did not meet with the approval of many citizens of Newton.

Slated to succeed Mr. Hatfield was Alston Burr of Chestnut Hill who had served as an Alderman. He was a brother of former Mayor Heman Burr. The Republicans were certain that Alston Burr would be easily elected Mayor. But, they were to receive a rude surprise.

Newton Library Staff To Attend Conclave At Swampscott

The Newton Free Library will be well represented at the four day conference of the New England Library Association which is being held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott on October 18, 19, 20 and 21. Some twenty members of the library staff will attend various sessions of the conference. Librarian, Harold A. Wooster represents Massachusetts on the Board of Directors, is serving a term as President of the New England Library Association and is general chairman of the 1947 conference.

One of the principal speakers on the program is Mr. Paul North Rice, Chief, Reference Department, New York Public Library, and President of the American Library Association. Mr. Rice writes, "I lived in Newton during the last part of my high school course and all the time I was at college and, of course, made a great deal of use of the Newton Free Library."

The six New England state library associations and eight library groups of college librarians, school librarians, children's librarians, special librarians and the New England Unit of the Catholic Library Association are cooperating in this large meeting.

Some of the important speakers who will address the conference are: Prof. Thomas H. Mahoney of M. I. T.; Prof. Howard Mumford Jones of Harvard; Prof. John T. Frederick of Notre Dame, Dr. Stringfellow Barr, President of Liberal Arts Inc.; Mr. Paul North Rice, President, American Library Association; Mr. Verner W. Clapp, Chief Assistant Librarian, Library of Congress; Mr. Karl Brown, Editor of Library Journal; Mr. Kenneth R. Shaffer, Director, Simmons Library School, Dean Louis Shores, School of Library Training, Florida University, Dr. Lowell Martin, Associate Dean, Columbia University, Library School and the presidents of the American Library Association, Divisions of Cataloging and of Special Libraries.

On Saturday October 18, the session will be of special interest of children's librarians, school librarians, special librarians. In the evening the first Caroline M. Hewins Lecture on Children's Literature will be held. This lecture series was established by Mr. Frederic G. Melcher, President of Publishers' Weekly and Library Journal.

Daniel J. Riley

Funeral services for Daniel J. Riley of 263 Washington street, Newton, were held from his home on Monday morning. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady, Newton, by Rev. Francis X. Bransfield assisted by Rev. John Sears, deacon and Rev. John J. Quinlan, sub-deacon.

A delegation was present from the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America of which Mr. Riley was a member.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, with prayers by Fr. Bransfield.

Mr. Riley, a former employee of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway, died on Thursday, October 9 after a brief illness. He was born in Brookline and had lived in Newton for several years. He retired seven years ago. Besides the Railway employees organization he was a member of Newton Lodge of Elks and of Our Lady's Holy Name Society.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna S. (Mowatt) Riley.

Bishop Brashares to Preach at Golden Jubilee of Church

REV. LESLIE H. JOHNSON

The Rev. Leslie H. Johnson, pastor of the Newton Methodist Church, announces that the church will observe the Golden Anniversary of the dedication of its present building this week on Friday and Sunday.

A dinner and program will be held on Friday evening with a reception at 5:30 o'clock. All former ministers and their wives will be special guests. Eldred M. Peterson will be toastmaster and will give a brief history of the church. The choir will sing and all members, who were present when the cornerstone was laid 50 years ago, will sit at the Golden Anniversary Table.

On Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Service of Worship, Bishop Charles Wesley Brashares will be the guest preacher. Dr. Willard C. Arnold, Superintendent of the Boston District, will assist. New members will be received and the anniversary gift will be presented to the church.

Committees for the anniversary celebration are as follows:

General Committee: Eldred M. Peterson, Chairman, Miss Emily Day, Fred A. Hawkins, Mrs. Geo. R. Strandberg, the Rev. Leslie H. Johnson.

Red Cross Offers Course in Baby Care

The next offering of the popular condensed course in "Mother and Baby Care and Family Health" will begin on Monday evening, October 27th, from 7:30 to 9:30 at the Red Cross Chapter House, 21 Foster Street, Newtonville. The lessons will be given on Monday and Wednesday evenings for successive three weeks.

The topics of the six valuable sessions are as follows:

1. Before the baby comes.
2. The baby is born.
3. After the baby is born.
4. The baby's first year.
5. The child's health in an expanded environment.
6. Protection of the family's health.

Young mothers, prospective mothers, and any who may share in the care of babies and small children, will find this series of untold help.

For further information and registration, call LAbell 6000 without charge.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen From The Newton League of Women Voters

The League of Women Voters has always supported the principle of equal compensation for equal work, irrespective of sex, and has worked diligently for the passage of equal pay laws; but it has also worked for an equally important goal, the support of such measures as are designed to raise the standards of public education. With rising school costs, and the necessity of an immediate start of the School Building Program in Newton, we must be guided by the consideration of whether or not Equal Pay will help to raise the standards of public education in our community.

On November 4th, you will be asked to vote on the following question:

"Shall an act, passed by the General Court of Massachusetts in the year 1945, entitled 'An act relative to equal pay for men and women teachers be in force in this city?'"

The main issue is:

1. Shall men and women teachers be equally compensated for equal work?

2. Will equal pay raise the standards of public education in Newton?

Let us review the facts:

1. There is a $400.00 differential in pay between men and women teachers in Newton.

2. a. A married man with a family is held legally responsible for that family's support.

b. A single woman with dependents is not held legally responsible for the support of those dependents.

3. a. A man is not attracted to teaching as easily as a woman, for there are other professions in which he may be more financially successful, for example, the medical, dental, law, engineering, etc.

b. Teaching is the most lucrative and secure profession for women today.

4. Many women are as capable of teaching as men.

a. Ten good women teachers are available for a job where but one good man is available.

b. Should Equal Pay be passed in Newton, and the present salary level maintained, it would immediately become necessary to increase the school budget approximately $150,000.00.

6. Should Equal Pay be passed, the present salary level could be adjusted so that all men's salaries could be reduced. Soon we would have no men teachers. Would this fact raise the standards of education in Newton?

7. $150,000.00 increase in the school budget would raise the tax rate approximately $1.00 per $1,000.00 valuation. This increase in the tax rate would be for education alone. Could not $150,000.00 be better used to raise the standards of public education in Newton?

8. Towns and cities such as Belmont, Winchester, Lexington, and Haverhill have voted "NO" on Equal Pay.

9. The Newton Teachers Federation is NOT backing Equal Pay for men and women teachers.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

At the first meeting of the season — Open House will be held at the Workshop, on Tuesday, October 21st, 2 p.m. with a welcome to new members and the entire club. A fine musical program will be followed by tea served by the Social Committee, Mrs. Walter E. Leidner, chairman.

Newell Club

First meeting of the year and Benefit Bridge.

The first meeting of the Newell Club will be held Monday, October 20, at the home of Mrs. Albert T. Carpenter, 158 Upland Road, Waban. Mrs. Hugh Robinson is the speaker of the afternoon, her topic "A Norwegian Yankee in China."

Plans are complete for the Annual Bridge and tea, to be held at Mt. Ida Junior College, for the benefit of the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children. The date, Friday, Oct. 31, at 2 p.m. For information on tickets call Mrs. Edwin P. Leonard at Las. 5789, or Mrs. George Lineau, Wel. 3079.

Noted Educator from India to Speak at Eliot Men's Club

At the opening meeting for this season of the Eliot Men's Club of Newton on Monday evening, October 20th, at 7:45 o'clock in the Eliot Church Chapel, the speaker will be Prof. Bhaskar P. Hivale, Ph. D., who will speak on "And Now, India."

Dr. Hivale is head of the department of philosophy and psychology of Wiltan College of the University of Bombay, India. He has very recently arrived in this country having left Bombay the latter part of September. His interpretation of the tangled situation in India will be decidedly up to the minute and based on first-hand acquaintance. This meeting is open to all men.

F. A. Day Halloween Party Committees

The Halloween Activity Party of the 7th and 8th grades of the F. A. Day Jr. High School will be held at the Newton High School Gymnasium. A committee meeting was held at the Newton Co-operative Bank, Oct. 9th at 8 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. J. Cooke White, chairman.

In charge of committees are: Mr. and Mrs. R. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harvey, Mrs. C. Christensen, refreshments; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bova, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waterhouse, tickets and prizes; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. MacCready, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Aspalpi, Mr. and Mrs. Cruille H. Emmons, helping with games. Party will be from 7 to 10 p.m. Faculty on hand from the F. A. Day School will be: Mr. Walter Sears, showing movies; Mr. E. Carr, Mr. Jerry Anguio, Mrs. L. Holmes, Miss A. Peoples, and Mr. R. F. House. Games will be under the direction of Mr. Edward Abell and Mr. Walter Faler, their program includes plenty of fun and prizes will be awarded after each game. There will also be prizes given for the funniest costumes, most original, horrible and best looking. Miss Eleanor Elliott in charge of posters, Mr. Charles Peterson will be our First Aider.

Mr. C. Evan Johnson, our new Commissioner of Recreation was present at this meeting.

Newton Notables

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER

DR. CHESTER M. ALTER

At 83 Bonad Road, West Newton, there lives a boy of eight who often asks his Dad: "Why do you go to so many meetings?" And well might young Dick put such a question to the man whom we know as Dr. Chester M. Alter, president of the Newton Community Chest, Inc. He has either spoken before or met with a group from the Chest nearly every day for the past six weeks. And the combined Campaign of the Newton Community Chest and the Greater Boston Community Fund does not open officially until October 23rd.

Dr. Alter's reply to his son might be taken as a guide to useful citizenship. He says: "In my small way I'm trying to help these Red Feather Agencies in their effort to make Newton a better place in which you can grow up."

Yet Dr. Alter's calendar has always bristled with activities aside from his career as a famous chemist. He was born on a farm near Rushville, Ind., and was graduated from the Ball State Teachers' College where he headed the Y.M.C.A. Like many Hoosiers, he also studied at the University of Indiana. Then he came to Harvard for his Ph.D. in chemistry. Today Dr. Alter is Dean of the Graduate School at Boston University, following a professorship there in chemistry. In addition he is chairman of the Northeastern section of the American Chemical Society, secretary of the New England conference on Graduate Education and a recipient of the bronze medal and certificate of merit for his war work on the Manhattan District Project (better known as the Atomic Bomb Project).

"Won't you tell me about your most exciting experience during these busy years?" I asked. Not that he looked old or the least bit tired! On the contrary, Dr. Alter is a middle-aged man of serene and cordial manner, of average height, with dark hair and eyes.

He smiled as he reminisced. "My most exciting moment? It came near the beginning of the war. One night I had a telephone call from an old college friend and fellow chemist. He said he wanted to see me about an important matter. I asked if he could meet me in town. He was completely mystifying for he replied: 'I can't meet you in public or let you know at whose house I am now. Neither can I tell my host I'm going to your house. It's a secret mission. The friend I am with now will take me to the bridge at Norumbega. Will you pick me up at the east end?'"

"I carried out his instructions," Dr. Alter continued. "Then I signed our secrecy agreements before he explained that we were to work on the Atomic Bomb Project."

"I see. And I believe your wife also shares your hobby of community service."

"Yes, Arvilla is active in work at the Peirce School, which Dick attends, and in other fields. You see, I fell in love both with New England and with a New England girl. She's from Maine and a graduate of Wheaton College."

"Dr. Alter, how would you define simply what the Community Chest is and does?"

"Mrs. Pfeiffer, I would say that the Chest is not merely the organization that runs the combined financial campaign for the Newton and Greater Boston agencies. It does this and it also distributes the funds collected. Sometimes I think the name 'Community Chest' is a misnomer. Too many people think only of putting money into a chest and of keeping it there. Nothing could sound colder to my way of thinking. The Chest is set up to do the combined soliciting and distributing. You are not asked to give to the Chest but to give through it to the agencies so that your community can be a better place to live in. Locally there are 13 agencies; in greater Boston will over 300.

"Is the combined appeal financially economical?"

"There is great merit in a combined appeal. Newton is not really sufficient unto itself. For one example, Newton people go to Greater Boston for special care. An epidemic in any one nearby town could soon be a problem for one of its neighbors by overflowing to another community. With a combined appeal you have only one solicitation each year to raise the funds needed for both Newton and Greater Boston Red Feather Services. Through this one Campaign costs are reduced. If each of the agencies were obliged to raise their own funds there would be a continuous string of campaigns which would be an annoyance to the contributor and a drain on manpower for soliciting. In addition to this the costs of raising the money would

A Message from the Campaign Chairman

To the Citizens of Newton:

The Campaign of the Newton Community Chest and the Greater Boston Community Fund for 1948 needs is now under way. Many have already subscribed but the majority of our citizens will be called on after the launching of the general Campaign on October 23rd.

In contemplating your subscription this year I urge you to consider the following:

(1) This is one Campaign for over 300 Red Feather Services in Greater Boston including thirteen in Newton.

(2) Reserve funds of many Red Feather Agencies have had to be used in recent years to meet deficits and these reserves are fast being depleted.

(3) Increased giving is needed if we are to supply sufficient funds for needs of our agencies.

(4) Will your contribution be as large as the total amount you would give if you were solicited separately by a large number of these services?

(5) If your income has increased over a year ago will you not consider sharing the increase with our Red Feather Agencies who render such vital services?

(6) If you gave only a token last year will you not make a larger subscription this year on the budget plan?

As Phil Theopold, General Chairman of the Greater Boston Community Fund, states, "Mr. Dooley, who said many things that not only amused our fathers but also convinced them that he was a man of wisdom, answered many questions by saying that if a man wasn't FOR something he was AGAINST it. No one can be against the Fund and its principles. If you are not AGAINST hospitals, scouting, and aid to the handicapped, you must be FOR them, and you will want to give generously to the Community Fund."

E. GRAHAM BATES,
Newton Campaign Chairman.

The Campaign of the Newton Community Chest and the Greater Boston Community Fund for 1948 needs will be officially launched with the "kick-off" dinner at the Newton High School on Thursday November 23 at 6:30 p. m. Dr. Joshua Loth Liebman, Rabbi of Temple Israel and author of the best-seller "Peace of Mind," will be the principal speaker.

Dr. Liebman months ago graciously accepted the invitation of the Newton Campaign organization to speak at the opening meeting this year. He was to have been the guest speaker a year ago, but was unable to fill the engagement because of a severe case of laryngitis. He is an outstanding and powerful speaker and all who attend will hear an inspiring address. Philip H. Theopold, General Chairman of the Greater Boston Community Fund, will speak on the needs of the Red Feather Services, and E. Graham Bates, Campaign Chairman in Newton, will preside.

In attendance at this dinner will be the Division Chairmen, Village Chairmen, Captains, assistants and workers. In recent years the attendance has averaged well over 1000 people at these meetings which are the largest yearly gatherings of Newton citizens in the interest of humanitarian causes.

The goal of the Greater Boston Community Fund this year is $6,600,000, and that of Newton $315,000. In order to provide for the needs of all Red Feather Services these amounts must not only be raised, but exceeded.

Between 2300 and 2400 Newton citizens are enrolled as workers in this Campaign, with about 2000 actually in the selling organization.

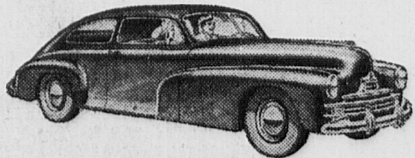

Solicitation is already in progress in all Newton divisions except Residential, and this division will start on its intensified work immediately after the "kick-off" dinner. The Newton Campaign is scheduled to close on Thursday November 13 and the final meeting of the Greater Boston Community Fund will be held Wednesday evening November 13.

Participating the Campaign will be 13 health, social and character building Red Feather Services in Newton and more than 300 in Greater Boston. The member agencies of the Newton Community Chest who will participate in the Campaign for 1948 needs are:

CIVIC LEADER—SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS MAN—DEDICATED TO THE FUTURE OF NEWTON—ELECT ROY S. EDWARDS YOUR MAYOR

Mr. Edward Wilson, 27 Williston Road, Auburndale, Mass.

... Doctor ... Lawyer ... Merchant ... Chief?

(or Juvenile Delinquent?)

Every mother knows how easy it is for youngsters to get into trouble. Just the other day, I read about some boys who dropped lighted matches in baby carriages. One of the babies died.

"My Jimmy plays with fire, too. But the right way—learning to build camp fires with the Boy Scouts."

"A neighbor told me about some other boys that ransacked a church. They hacked the great golden pipes of an organ with axes, overturned pews and destroyed the baptismal font.

"We have youth clubs in our town where boys learn to build, not destroy. Jimmy's pal, Robert, made a beautiful model plane only last week."

"In another town, some boys tied a playmate to a tree and shot him 'just for the fun of it.'"

"I wonder if they would have been looking for that kind of fun if they had enough places where they could swim or play games."

"Every time I think of these things I thank God for our Community Chest. Red Feather services do so much to keep youngsters busy and happy and learning while they grow.

"That's why I'm going to make my contribution a big one this year—even if it pinches our budget. I'm sure every parent who thinks about it will do the same."

Community Council Needs Volunteers for Many Duties

"Include volunteer service in your fall activities," says Mrs. Donald L. Gibbs, Chairman of the Newton Community Council's Volunteer Service Bureau. Contrary to an all-too-popular misconception, Newton's volunteer needs did not automatically cease with the arrival of V.J. Day. The Volunteer Service Bureau of the Newton Community Council, a Red Feather Service, is currently engaged in trying to reach those thousands of Newtonites with time on their hands, good will in their hearts, but perhaps some doubt as to how they can put this combination to work in a way that will help their fellow citizens and their community.

Nutrition Center Teaches Principles of Nutrition

The Newton Nutrition Center, a Red Feather Service, has a big job to perform in Newton. The two nutritionists are responsible for teaching the principles of nutrition and healthful food facts to as many Newtonites as possible.

The Community Nutrition Program originated in Newton in 1933 under the auspices of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross. In 1935 the City Health Department and the Newton Community Chest helped assume the financial responsibility for the program, realizing that it was a community service. Since only one nutritionist was employed, the scope of the program was necessarily restricted. Limited services were offered through the Newton Health Department, Newton Hospital, Newton District Nursing Association, and Family Service Bureau.

In 1943 through the Newton Community Council, a Nutrition Committee was appointed to survey the nutritional needs of the community and to make recommendations for revision and expansion of the work. The community was fortunate when Dr. Fredrick J. Stare of Waban accepted the appointment as chairman. Dr. Stare is Professor of Nutrition at the Harvard School of Public Health and editor of "Nutrition Reviews," an authoritative resume of current nutrition research.

After the Newton Nutrition Committee had studied the nutrition needs of the community, it felt that agencies already being served could effectively use more of the nutritionist's time and it found that other organizations were desirous of having this service. These recommendations were approved by the Newton Community Council in May 1944. The expanded budget that was necessary was met by additional appropriations from the Newton Community Chest, Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross and continuing interest of the Newton Health Department.

Nutrition has played an increasingly important role in the fields of preventive medicine, curative medicine and public health. Federal, State and Municipal governments are sponsoring extensive programs in nutrition education.

During 1948, the Newton Health Department and the Newton Community Chest will be providing the funds for the Newton Nutrition Center. The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association is providing office space in West Newton.

Along with other extensive studies indicating that many people in the United States do not eat a "good nutritious diet," one is being conducted in the Newton schools. The Harvard School of Public Health, in cooperation with Newton Nutrition Center, is carrying on a study to determine the most effective methods of teaching nutrition. A survey undertaken as a part of this study shows that children from all income levels are not consuming sufficient milk, vegetables and fruits.

With food prices soaring, it is important for every Newton housewife to know how to plan a balanced diet and still keep within the limits of the family pocket-book. If we are voluntarily going to help feed Europe this winter, as President Truman has requested, the Newton Nutrition Center can help publicize ways in which to save wheat, meat, eggs and poultry and still have attractive nutritionally adequate meals.

The Newton Nutrition Center tries to reach all age groups and as many people as possible. This is done directly and indirectly by giving nutrition advice at Well-Baby Clinics, Pre-school Conferences, group meetings, individual conferences, staff education meetings for professional workers, and in newspaper articles.

Although much of the Nutrition Center's work is done through agencies and organizations, any individual may request information or assistance by telephoning the Newton Nutrition Center, 1357 Washington street, West Newton, Big. 4912.

ONE OF THE MANY NUTRITION CENTER'S ACTIVITIES. "Having her Health Fortune Told" Miss Mary Homsy, employee of the Sherman Paper Products Co., Newton Upper Falls, deposits her diet slip in anticipation of having her diet read. This is one of the nutrition services extended to industry.

FRIEND OF THE FAMILY

Mother's gone. Should the children be placed in a home? Will strangers understand little Jimmy's fear of doctors and his sister's penchant for bringing home stray cats? Or can the family remain together? Helping people solve family problems is the job of the family counseling service, one of the Red Feather services of the Community Chest. Marital difficulties, personality disturbances, illness, economic difficulties and worry about children are fertile seed for family breakdown and divorce. PEOPLE IN DIFFICULTY BENEFIT from the help of the family service. EVERYBODY BENEFITS—because the community prospers only as it masters the problems of everyday living. Support family services through your Community Chest. This saves another campaign.

Economy of Operation to Offset Increased Expenses, Aim of Newton-Wellesley Hosp.

The estimated expenses of Newton-Wellesley Hospital for 1948 over and above other income will be about $73,000, according to a statement filed recently with the Newton and Wellesley Community Chests by the Hospital's Board of Governors. The total operating budget calls for expenditures of $1,150,000 or about $150,000 more than the estimated for the present year. Practically all of this increase is expected to be absorbed by additional income, the estimated $13,000 needed from the public as requested from the Community Chests being about 5 per cent higher than the 1947 grant.

The trend of prices, and the policy of offering better nursing care and service to the community are but a few factors affecting next year's budget. In line with this it is fitting to note that the cost of nursing care is nearly $34,000 greater than that to be expended this present year. A large portion of this sum resulted from the hospital authorizing the payment of nurses' salaries in accordance with a wage scale recommended by the Hospital Council of Greater Boston.

Still further expense is contemplated by the hospital's anticipated good fortune in being able to fill with qualified graduate nurses, positions now held by student nurses.

Every effort has been made at the hospital to attain economy of operation and to compensate for the increase in expenses evidenced throughout all departments. Not only is the budget evolved in accordance with measures found advantageous in other business fields but it is reviewed and revised by some four separate and individual budgetary committees before final ratification is made.

In general, all hospitals are meeting the same or similar problems and difficulties involving increased costs of operation. Everyone realizes that costs of food, supplies, and equipment have increased markedly. Nevertheless, the service rendered by this hospital to our citizens is of too great value and excellence to see it discontinued in any degree. Only by increased income and increased savings can we hope to maintain this invaluable asset to our community. The hospital attests that it will do its part.

Community Chest Supervises Financial Policies of Local Red Feather Services

Newton has 13 Red Feather Services in addition to the Newton Community Chest itself. In one campaign in the fall of each year, the Chest endeavors to raise the funds for its Newton Red Feather services and to supply substantial additional funds for the Greater Boston Community Fund, which includes over 300 member agencies.

The Chest office handles all the details in preparing for the yearly campaigns. Pledge cards and control sheets are prepared, a complete record of contributors and prospects is kept, and special campaign records and statistics are made for use in preparing for future campaigns.

The financial policy of Newton Red Feather Services is supervised by its officers, board of directors, and the budget committee, and all allotments of funds to provide the yearly agency deficits after considering all estimated income are made by the Chest. The general policy of operation is agreed upon between the Chest and its agencies and guidance and advice towards economy and effectiveness of operation is given by the Chest.

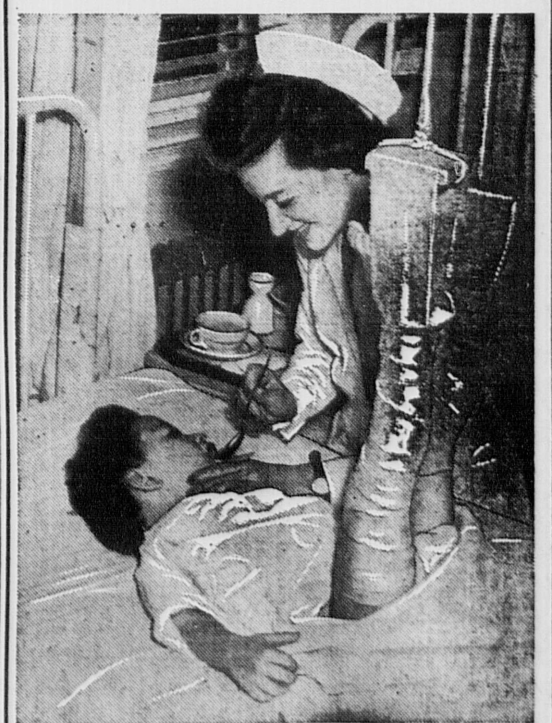

The funds for Red Feather Service operations in Newton come from the Greater Boston Community Fund and the Newton Community Chest dispenses these funds directly to the agencies as needed during the year.

Financial reports in detail are filed monthly by the Red Feather agencies and complete reports of all financial operations are kept by the Chest. Each fall, prior to the campaign, the budget committee holds two days of hearings when agency requests for the coming year are presented and discussed and following which the budget committee makes its recommendations for approval of the board of directors.

The budget committee of the Chest enjoys a friendly relationship with the officers and directors of the Newton Red Feather Services. One member of the budget committee is assigned as contact man for each agency. This member meets frequently with the boards of directors and finance committee of his agencies and through this contact, complete understanding is enjoyed so that financial matters are handled cooperatively and substantial savings frequently effected.

The Chest works in close harmony with the Newton Community Council in the program of planning, elimination of duplicate services, and public relations. No agency is admitted to the Chest except on recommendation of the Council after thorough and careful study as to the services rendered and the need for those services.

You're the doctor!

This hospital is a Red Feather service open to all in the community whenever they need it. THE ILL AND THE INJURED BENEFIT when modern facilities for treatment and convalescence are available to ease pain and hasten recovery. EVERYBODY BENEFITS through the research work carried on in hospital laboratories, the training given tomorrow's doctors and nurses, and the reassuring presence of hospitals in the community. Give to the hospital through your Community Chest. This saves another campaign.

columns, sponsored by the Volunteer Service Bureau, have drawn attention to the critical need for volunteer ward helpers, typists, and receptionists in the Newton-Wellesley Hospital; for people with a background in recreation to help as part time assistant playground supervisors at the Rebecca Pomroy House and with the City Recreation Department; for Red Cross Gray Ladies, Gray Men, and Arts and Skills workers to staff Cushing V. A. Hospital, as well as for Motor Corps and Staff Assistant trainees; and for waitresses, cashiers, and fountain help to assist in the Hospital Aid Coffee Shop.

The Hospital Aid Coffee Shop and Gift Shop alone, which annually nets $5000 for the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, requires the staggering total of 480 volunteer hours per week to maintain its daily 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. schedule with an adequate staff. Loyal Coffee Shop workers who have regularly donated time and energy to "soda jerking," waitressing, or taking cash over the past several years include Mrs. Walter McGill, Chairman of the Newton Community Council office on the second floor at 93 Union street, Newton Centre, or a call to Lasell 5121 starts the prospective volunteer on the road to rewarding community service.

"Your willingness to help plus a few hours of your time each week, volunteered to some community service, will immeasurably help those who need your aid," says Mrs. Gibbs.

The Volunteer Service Bureau hastens to point out that no one desiring to volunteer should be frightened off at the thought of his or her own inadequacies, real or otherwise. For instance, a volunteer answering the pleas for hospital ward helpers, but unable to be on her feet as much as the job required, filled an equally needed spot as receptionist instead.

"There is a volunteer job for everyone," declares Mrs. Gibbs, in answer to those skeptics who might not be able to see any particular need for volunteers in Newton. At present, the Volunteer Service Bureau lists as only some of the immediate volunteer needs in Newton: receptionists and clerical helpers for the All

A Creed

1. Our Community Fund has grown out of man's traditional striving toward higher ideals of service to his fellow men.
2. Our Community Fund represents the most satisfactory voluntary means through which I can discharge this privilege of citizenship in common with my neighbors—no matter what our race, color or creed.
3. Our Community Fund and the Red Feather services it supports help to create and maintain a community of which I am proud.
4. Our Community Fund provides the best and soundest method of maintaining those services which a modern community must provide its citizens.
5. Our Community Fund ideal of fostering unity, cooperation and neighborliness is the basis upon which world peace can be achieved.

You can help dry those tears

How big is your heart?

Could you turn your back on this girl who is crying her eyes out?

Could you pass her by without wanting to hold her in your arms and try to stop the flood of tears?

Well . . . ?

Thanks to the Red Feather services of the Community Chest, you are there when some frightened little kid needs help.

Those dollars you give bring loving care to children when homes are broken. They help support health and recreational services so that every child gets a chance to grow up healthy and strong.

They help keep families together so that kids can have the security of a happy home life. And that's an important function in these days when there is one divorce for every three marriages!

What else could you buy with your dollars that would mean so much to so many?

So be as big as your heart and give—generously!

IN NEWTON

NORUMBEGA COUNCIL, INC., BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
A RED FEATHER AGENCY

Norumbega Council, Inc., BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA, is a Red Feather Agency with headquarters at 259 Walnut street Newtonville. The Council territory includes Newton and Wellesley where over three thousand men and boys take part and receive the benefits of the Scouting and Cub Programs.

ADMINISTRATION

F. Brittain Kennedy of Waban is Council President. Edward C. Michaud is the Scout Commissioner. Mr. Michaud's Commissioner's Staff provides the direction of the Council Program in the six Districts—geographical divisions—of the Council. In Newton, Walbert B. Chase is District Commissioner for the Squanto District—comprising Newtonville, Newton and Nonantum; W. W. Bullen is District Commissioner for the Quinobeguin District, which includes Newton Highlands, Waban and Newton Upper Falls; James D. Blackall is Commissioner for the Sachem District, which includes Newton Centre and Oak Hill; George Koller is District Commissioner for the Viking District, which includes Auburndale, West Newton and the Lower Falls. These District Commissioners are assisted by the following Neighborhood Commissioners:—Payson LeBaron, Richard Tobin, Fred Eastman, Jerome Barraford, Robert Toher, Clarence K. Reiman, Richard Williamson, J. Mason Williams, Daniel Mordecai, Dr. Neil W. Swinton, Arthur Veinott, Nelson Boudrot.

PROGRAM

More than 700 volunteer Adult Leaders devote much time to the Scouting and Cub Scouting Programs in the two Communities. They have a wide variety of responsibilities in the leadership and operation of the Cub Scouting Program for boys 9—12; the Boy Scout Troop Program for boys 12—15; and the Senior Scouting Program for boys 15 and older. The Senior Scouting Program is divided into three branches—Air Scouting, Explorer Scouting and Sea Scouting.

The Council Scouting year begins in September and ends the following June. During these months a busy Program takes place when Training Courses are conducted for Adult Leaders; public Courts of Honor are held when Scouts are recognized for their Advancement in Scouting Rank; and the various Committees, the Executive Board, the Commissioner's Staff meet at regular intervals. An outdoor nine-month program also operates at Nobscoot Reservation location in Framingham and Sudbury—300 acres of beautiful woodland presented to the Council by friends of Scouting. At Nobscoot most Troops of the Council have cabins where Scouts go for training in the outdoor skills and Scout Craft—in addition, many Troops do outdoor camping in tents on the Reservation. In the spring a tent camping "Camporee" takes place, when 500 or more Scouts of the Council camp for two days and learn how to take care of themselves in the open in regard to shelter, cooking, Health and Safety, and other desirable camping practices. A winter "Camporee" takes place also, in mid-winter, and various training courses for men and boys are held at the Reservation at all times. Nobscoot has been adjudged one of the finest Scouting short term camps in America.

SCOUT ADVANCEMENT

The Advancement Program in Scouting appeals to the average boy. Upon entering Scouting, he becomes a Tenderfoot Scout and advances from there to Second Class and First Class rank, then he enters the Merit Badge field, with a choice of 109 Merit Badge subjects to choose from. The Merit Badge program has often enabled a young man to find his life's work, and the subjects cover practically every field of the Arts, Sciences, Business, Industry and Craftsmanship—from Art to Zoology. Upon passing various groupings of these Merit Badge subjects, a Scout advances to the rank of Star, then Life, and finally that of Eagle Scout, the highest award in Scouting.

The Cub Scout passes certain Achievements to climb the Cub Scouting Advancement Ladder—Wolf Rank at nine years—Bear rank at ten years—and Lion at eleven years.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Since the Scouting Movement was founded in America in 1910, the ideal of Service has been foremost. Scouts and Cub Scouts of Norumbega Council have repeatedly "helped the other fellow." During the year, Newton Scouts are mobilized by the hundreds to distribute literature for the Community Chest, Red Cross and other Agencies. Senior Scouts have been mobilized often for a "lost person search"—and on one occasion were successful in finding a lost person. Scout Aides are found present at Public Gatherings and Community affairs—serving as ushers, aides, and performing other duties.

At the present moment the Council collaborates with the Red Cross with an Emergency Service plan whereby Scouts can be quickly mobilized in the event of hurricane or other disaster, prepared to man telephone exchanges and carry messages if the wires are down—ready to serve as couriers and aides at the hospitals if the power lines are down.

Probably an outstanding good turn performed by the Council during the past two years is the guidance and operation of Scouting Units at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children and the Wellesley Children's Hospital, where both Cub Scouting and Scouting takes place. Adult Leadership and Boy Scout Leadership is provided regularly for these handicapped boys.

MEMBERSHIP

The Scouting Program in Newton is alive and growing. At the present time there are approximately 2500 Newton and Wellesley boys registered, with over 700 Adult Leaders. There are 69 Boy Scout Units in the two Communities—26 Cub Packs, 32 Scout Troops and 11 Senior Units. This represents an all time high for the total number of Units and total membership.

Cub Scouting has shown tremendous growth during the past three years under the leadership of former Cub Scouting Chairman George Shannon, and the present Chairman, Philip H. Richardson.

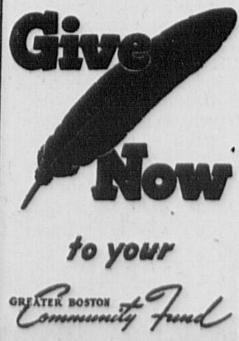

Senior Scouting also shows an expansion in numbers, with a total of 11 Senior Units at the present time. Sea Scouting, under the direction of Sea Scout Commodore Alen MacIntire, has always been an important part of Scouting in Norumbega, and for the second consecutive year, Sea Scout Ship No. 13, sponsored by the Newton Lions Club, has received recognition and been named "member of the National Flag Ship Fleet"—and unusual and distinctive honor.

Air Scouting has become established in the Council with the Newton Rotary Club sponsoring Air Squadron No. 1, and it is expected that this new phase of Senior Scouting will grow rapidly.

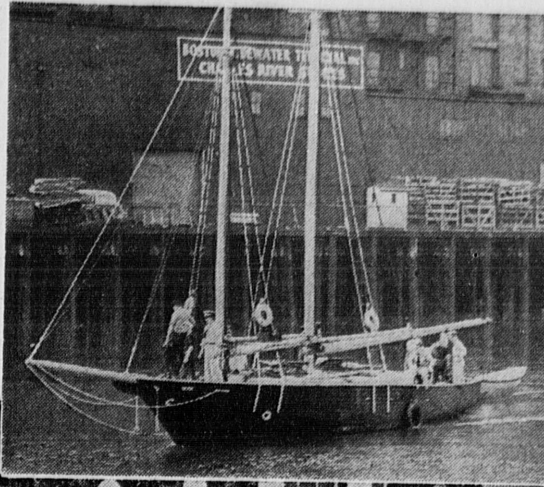

1947 COUNCIL SUMMER PROGRAM

The past summer witnessed probably the busiest program in the Council's history. Particular projects were planned for Senior Scouts. The great educational value of travel and the physical benefits derived from the various trips proved to be of great value to the large proportion of Senior Scouts participating. During the summer months the Council sent a group of Senior Scouts to the National Scout Ranch (Philmont) at Cimmaron, New Mexico for a month—another group of Senior Scouts spent a week in canoes on the Water Trails of Maine—still another group took part in a Pack Trip on the Long Trail of Vermont—the Rotary-sponsored Air Scout Squadron journeyed to Stewart Field, the West Point Aviation Base, at Newburgh, New York, for a week of Air Scout training—Sea Scouts of the Council participated in two Cruises and the Sea Scout Dinghy Regatta in Boston—two Eagle Scouts of Norumbega Council attended the International Scouting World Jamboree in France, traveling by ship to Europe and return.

In addition, many Scouts of Newton attended Camp Quinapoxet at West Rindge, New Hampshire—the summer camp used by Norumbega Scouts. This Camp operates during July and August, presenting a full Program of Scout training, Swimming, Nature Study, Boating, Fishing, the Crafts, Scout Advancement, and other phases of Camp Life.

"Isn't it true that the Newton Community Chest functions all year long—not merely at Campaign time?"

"Yes. And I'd like to pay my respects to the fine work being done by the Budget Committee of the Chest, which labors the year round in a quiet, efficient way. On this committee are Elmore I. MacPhie, Chairman, William M. Cahill, Lawrence B. Damon, Harvey J. Elwell, Edward B. Gray, G. Herbert Marcy, J. Arthur Noon, Aubrey C. Schurman, and Arthur B. Tyler. These men meet regularly to watch over the financial operation of every Red Feather agency. In the fall they spend two full days hearing each agency present its operating budget. After full consideration, the Committee recommends to our Directors that certain financial grants be made to meet the deficit of each. If the directors approve, the Newton Community Chest makes a request for its combined needs to the Greater Boston Community Fund. There the requests are screened again to make sure a proper distribution is made of the funds that have been raised during the Campaign.

"Let me say I am greatly concerned over the future of our health, Social and character building agencies. To some extent there has been a breakdown in the individual's sense of responsibility to care for his fellow human beings. Many assume that someone else will do the job or the government will handle it. If we don't care for our own community responsibilities, you may be sure that somebody on the outside will do so—probably the government. Instead of that, I'm in favor of the free enterprise system."

Then Dr. Chester Alter left for another Chest meeting. But his last words echoed in my mind. "If every citizen of Newton could only visit every Red Feather Agency! Then no one could fail to be deeply impressed with their fine efforts to make Newton a good place in which to live and to bring up our children."

FEATHER MERCHANTS: In preparation for the annual Community Chest drives, United Air Lines stewardess Joan V. Smith, N. J. Making Every Gift Count

Thirteen years' operation of the Community Fund has shown place of over 300 separate campaigns saves from 11% to 19% of the money contributed. The contributor can plan his gift for a whole year to more than 300 Red Feather services. One campaign saves the time and effort of the giver and the volunteer solicitor. The money you contribute is made to do the greatest possible amount of good because of economy and efficiency and because of the Red Feather services working and planning together to help people.

These Red Feather services cooperate to help keep us a happier, stronger community... Children's services, hospitals, clinics, youth services, day nurseries... Veterans' services... Homes for aged people... Opportunities for the handicapped... some of these famed as a natural thing here throughout the country, but as in Greater Boston. We pay for them. We run them. We use them when we need them. Our privilege—yes, our obligation—to help others is something we should cherish... not only because it numbers us among the generous people of our community and because we are helping to build a stronger community... but because we are proving to ourselves that we have the determination to keep democracy alive.

The Story of the Red Feather

The Red Feather has been used for hundreds of years as a "badge of courage". Great eagle feathers, dyed red, were worn by American Indians to show a victory over the enemy. Robin Hood's men won it for special acts of goodness. During the Crusades, the Black Prince awarded it for unusual valor or chivalry.

Today it is still the emblem of courage and the fight against sickness, distress and despair. The Red Feather is a symbol of our desire to bring health, happiness and opportunity to all the people of Greater Boston and of our willingness to share what we have with the less fortunate. Combined with the 12 blue stars which represent twelve months' service to people, the Red Feather is as much a distinguished service medal as any won on the battlefields of the recent war.

Dist. Nursing Assoc. Cares for Citizens Of Tomorrow

Cooperation in Red Feather Community Services is the keynote in the composite picture below.

the nutritionists at the Newton Nutrition Center, who is ready to give advice in baby feedings.

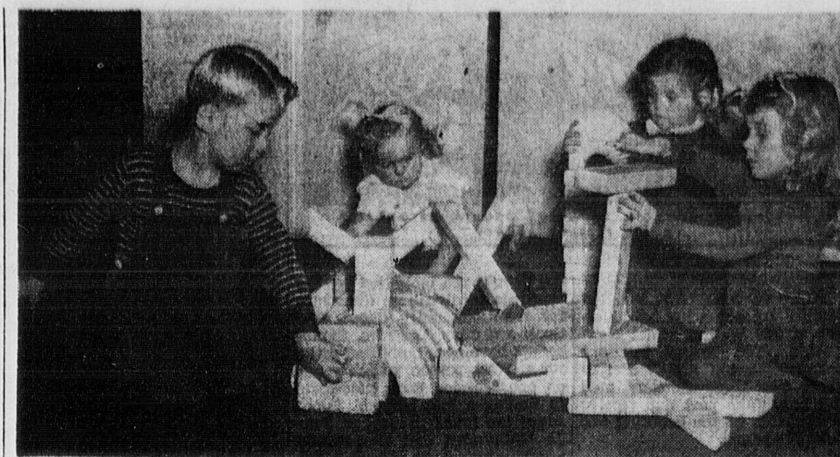

Caring for the potential citizens of tomorrow is one of the important functions of the Newton District Nursing Association. Seven Well Baby Conferences are held at convenient places in the city, either weekly or twice a month.

A mother may register her baby soon after birth and make periodic visits to the conference for two years. She receives help and advice on the baby's mental and physical growth and development.

With them are, left to right, Miss Virginia Cupp a student nurse from the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, receiving instruction in public health nursing with the Association, Miss Bernice Joyal of the Newton District Nursing Association staff in charge of the Conference, Miss Helen Sandstrom, Executive Director of the Rebecca Pomroy House where a conference is held twice a month and Miss Marie Gervais, one of

When the baby is 4 months old and immunizing program is started so that at the end of the baby's first year he will be protected against whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and small pox. Newton citizens may well take pride in the way Red Feather Agencies work together for the good of all the people. This is one reason why the Community Chest dollar stretches so far.

LEARNING TO LIVE TOGETHER begins in the early years at the Rebecca Pomroy House Nursery School.

All Newton Music School, Inc.

The All Newton Music School, a Red Feather Service, has shown remarkable progress and growth during the past year. The services of the school are open to all economic groups, to all ages from 6 to 70. It provides an opportunity for musical growth and development to students regardless of race, color, or creed. During its 37 years as a community agency in Newton, the school has served 8,600 young people—at present the average weekly attendance is 500. Now children of former students are entering.

Especially valuable are the many music groups which are conducted each week. These provide good teaching under democratic conditions, and give excellent training in ensemble playing and singing. Seven classes in Theory and Musicianship with children ranging from six to twelve years of age meet on Tuesday afternoons and on Saturday mornings. These classes prepare the young child for formal instrumental lessons, instruct pupils in rhythm, notation, construction of scales, teach the various elements of which music is made and give a foundation in the knowledge and skills essential to the trained musician.

Orchestral training is started early at the Music School. Three junior orchestras meet weekly and prepare boys and girls for the senior orchestra. To be eligible for the "big orchestra" is the ambition of every student in the string and wind departments.

Many hundreds of lessons are given during the season in piano, violin, cello, clarinet, flute, and voice. Playing classes, recitals, and concerts are given to allow pupils to play before audiences several times during a school term.

In recent years there have been several cases of handicapped persons who have come to the school for music instruction, and these pupils have not only found enjoyment through learning to play an instrument, but have been helped both physically and mentally by the careful work of highly trained and conscientious teachers.

The All Newton Music School is one of the many community music schools in the country. These schools are an outgrowth of the music settlement idea, and the sincerity of this movement has done much for the morale of youth and for the advancement of our national culture.

What the Red Feather Stands For

The Red Feather is a sign that somebody cares! A sign that we all care! That we want the network of more than 300 voluntary health and service agencies to continue to make Greater Boston a better place to live and work and bring up a family.

It means that every dollar that we give in the Greater Boston Community Fund campaign will be made to do more because the programs and expenditures of these agencies are carefully studied by a group of representative citizens on whose judgment we can rely. This eliminates waste, overlapping and duplication.

It means that more than a half million dollars is saved each year by holding ONE campaign instead of 300 separate campaigns.

It means that more than 300 agencies are working day in and day out to raise the general level of health and happiness in Greater Boston and keep it high. These include 32 hospitals, 55 family service agencies, 29 children's agencies, 38 health agencies, 105 youth agencies and neighborhood houses, 17 agencies for the aged and handicapped, 54 special service agencies.

The sign of the Red Feather means that we all have a stake in this effort—that we all share the opportunity and responsibility.

The sign of the Red Feather is the banner of a united effort in common cause for the common good. It guarantees that our contribution to this common cause through the Greater Boston Community Fund will be used to HELP PEOPLE without regard to race, creed or color. This is something that everybody can be FOR and nobody can be against!

Getting People to Help Each Other Important Part of Pomroy House Program

The Rebecca Pomroy House is a Red Feather Service to the people of the Newton Corner Community. Although the greater number come from this area, there are many from Nantum and Newtonville and others from West Newton and other Newton villages.

All ages find things which interest them. The youngest of Pomroy House participants are brought by their parents to the Well Baby Conference and the Nursery School. Children, young people and adults find the program stimulating and interesting and suggest other activities through which they may find satisfaction. Youngsters find the playground apparatus and open area a place to expend their energies in clean wholesome fun.

For those who have an interest in creating, there are clubs and classes in sewing, knitting, cooking, etc., whose results prove their usefulness and where proud parents may boast of the accomplishments of their offspring. Women who are energetic may do many of the things which help to make budgets go farther or may join in the programs provided for them to increase their morale and that of their families.

A new project started is activities for men and women over 60. At the Center, they may chat, work or just sit with others who want and need outlets suited to their years and abilities.

An important part of the Pomroy House program is getting people to help each other. A number of young girls give service, after a training course, during the summer months on the playground. High School age members and mothers teach household arts. Giving pleasure and satisfaction to others brings greater pleasure and satisfaction to all.

Co-operation is going to make a better world, we all agree. At the Pomroy House everyone does his part, and the effects, it is felt, may be far-reaching.

MINISTERING ANGEL to many a Greater Boston family is the Red Feather visiting nurse whose services span the years from crib to rocking chair. She helps the new baby get off to the right start, she tends the little tot suffering from a birth injury, she cares for the ill, the disabled and the aged. Your gift to the Greater Boston Community Fund will insure continuance of her noble work during 1948.

Blow to Juvenile Delinquency

General Eisenhower was a boy once—but so was Al Capone. 1937 will tell which ideal this youngster has followed, but a push in either direction now will help set his course. Clearly he's now getting the right steer from his Scoutmaster—a steer into clean living, straight thinking, democratic leadership. BOY SCOUTS BENEFIT through your Red Feather contribution to the Community Chest. EVERYBODY BENEFITS through these character-building activities because as youth goes, so goes the Nation. Give to the Boy Scouts through your Community Chest. This saves another campaign.

Catholic Welfare Committee Renders Unusual Services

Keeping A Home Intact
A young mother, separated from her husband, requested placement of her two children in an institution. She was discouraged and bewildered and was acting upon the advice of her relatives.

Through contact with the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee, a Red Feather service, the mother came to realize that she did not wish to part with her children and actually wanted to become reconciled with her husband. Gradually both parents became more tolerant of each other's faults as they discussed them with the committee, the worker, and with each other. They became reconciled after six months and re-established their home in a new neighborhood.

Adjustment Through Temporary Financial Help

Mrs. M. was pretty desperate when she applied to the Agency for temporary financial help. Her husband was ill; there were two young children to be provided for, and there were debts. She was willing to go to work but her husband and children needed her care.

The family was given temporary financial help until Mr. M. was able to return to work. Mr. and Mrs. M. were given encouragement and counseling with regard to their budget and the family is now out of debt and looking forward to their father's functioning normally.

A Good Citizen in the Making

Tommy, aged nine, a likeable but mischievous boy, seemed to have a knack of getting into one difficulty after another. Finally he came to the attention of the Juvenile Court and was subsequently referred to one of the Committee's Volunteer Workers. Investigation disclosed that he was not having normal happiness at home. His father was an invalid and his mother worked. An older brother to whom he was attached was in the Army overseas. School reports were poor, and Tommy was inattentive at classes. It was evident that Tommy needed to be separated from his associates and that he needed a period of training in a controlled environment. A Catholic institution was selected and approved by his parents, who assumed responsibility for his support.

Tommy was placed in this institution and has made such excellent progress under stabilizing influence that it is expected he will return shortly to an improved home situation.

Bill, who is sixteen years of age, was orphaned in early infancy. Subsequently he was placed in an institution by interested friends, where he remained until he became fifteen, when he was referred to the Agency.

He was placed in a foster home, with foster parents who had experience in caring for boys of his age, and who had the warmth necessary to make a boy feel that he belonged with them. A factory job was found for him and after a study of his aptitudes had been made, special training was arranged for him. Bill has had two years of normal life and now feels that he is a member of a family group.

These illustrations are typical of the helpful services rendered by the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee.

Girl Scouts Indispensable To Welfare of Community

1771 Newton Girl Scouts and 489 adults united by ideals in celebration of Girl Scout Week the last of October, with more than a million Girl Scouts throughout the United States—ideals, expressed in their Promise, to do their duty to God and their country, to help other people at all times, and to live their Girl Scout laws. These laws, pointed out Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr., commissioner of the Newton Girl Scout Council, are carried out daily in the lives of all Scouts, Brownies, Intermediates, Teenage, and Senior in their participation in the Program Fields of Girl Scout activities.

Sunday, October 26th opens Girl Scout week with religious observances in accordance with the affiliation of each Girl Scout. Monday celebrates Homemaking Day; Tuesday emphasizes the Citizenship of Girl Scouts; Wednesday their Health and Safety; Thursday, International Friendship; Friday, Arts and Crafts; and Saturday, the Out-of-doors.

Under the competent direction and supervision of trained volunteer leaders, Girl Scouts everywhere are becoming more and more an indispensable part of community, national and international life," Mrs. Whitmore states. "How? By learning with in their own troops to be useful and active citizens able to make decisions; to respect the right of others; to participate in group planning and the carrying out of plans; by keeping abreast of current changes, trends, and activities, being able and ready to offer their skills and services, whenever and wherever needed."

Newton Girl Scouts have carried out this program concretely in their service to Newton-Wellesley Hospital in Coffee Shop and Laboratory, in their participation in the "Seeds of Friendship" project when seeds for home vegetable gardens were sent to children abroad; in their money contributions to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund; in their sending of "Treasures for Pleasure" to destitute children in Europe, saved and financed by the omission of dessert at several Camp meals this summer at Camp Mary Day, in their volunteer service for the Community Chest, the Red Cross Office and their own office.

Camp Mary Day and Quabbin Day Camp sponsored by the Newton Council, gives ample opportunity along with day and weekend troop hikes for healthful, outdoor fun and group living, as indicated in the picture above.

"The children of the world today will be the citizens of the world tomorrow," said Commissioner Whitmore. "The future, the job of digging new ditches through which the waters of peace and economic stability are to flow belongs to them. But these girls must be backed up. They must be guided, and helped, and that job belongs to the adults."

Girl Scouting, the common ground of understanding to all girls, united by ideals, regardless of nationality, race, or creed, is thirty years old in Newton and is serving more than a million girls in the United States today. With sponsorship and more volunteer leaders it could serve many more.

The Newton Council of Girl Scouts is a Red Feather agency of the Newton Community Chest.

DINING with JANE and BILL

Bill—What's this, cabbage? Jane, I'm surprised at you. Isn't cabbage a little hard to digest?

Jane—I'm surprised at you, Bill. Cabbage is NOT hard to digest if it's cooked properly!

Bill—What do you mean by "cooked properly"?

Jane—Tests have proved that cabbage should be cooked only five to ten minutes—not boiled for hours.

Bill—You sound like you've been at the Newton Nutrition Center again or else you've been reading their articles in the Newton Graphic. Say, isn't cabbage supposed to have a lot of vitamins too?

Jane—Yes. In fact, 3/4 cup or a large serving of cabbage cooked for just a short time, has about the same amount of Vitamin C as half cup of orange juice or two medium raw tomatoes.

Bill—According to that, even cooked cabbage is a good source of Vitamin C.

Jane—That's right, Bill. And cabbage is an economical vegetable. Using it helps to keep our food costs within our budget. Here's a recipe I found in the new cookbook that I bought not very long ago, I think that I shall try it Saturday—for lunch.

SCALLOPED CABBAGE (Deluxe) (8 servings)

- 1 medium-sized head of cabbage, chopped
- 1½ cups medium cream or white sauce
- 2 tablespoons chopped green peppers
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimientos
- 6 slices cooked bacon, minced (optional)
- 1 cup grated American cheese
- ½ cup bread crumbs sautéed in 2 tablespoons of bacon fat or Fortified oleomargarine
- Salt and pepper to taste

Cook cabbage 5 to 10 minutes in small amount of water (1 inch of water in a pan) and cover.

Place layers of drained cooked cabbage in a greased casserole. Sprinkle each layer with minced bacon, peppers, pimientos and grated cheese. Cover the cabbage with cream sauce and top the dish with the sautéed bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven 375 degrees for ten minutes.

Yes, Halos!
and they deserve 'em, too!

WISH we DID have real halos to pass out this week!

We'd place them on the heads of the big-hearted men and women who are calling on their neighbors, soliciting for our Community Chest.

They're giving double. First, they've given their own money; now they're giving themselves.

When your worker calls on you, give him—or her—a good break. He's taking time and energy from his own job. She's giving up precious time with her family to do this much-needed Community service.

Remember what they're doing benefits us all... Yes, you too. For your Red Feather services protect health, help families in trouble, offer kids wholesome sports, play and a fair start in life.

You've got a selfish interest in keeping the quality of your Red Feather services at a high level.

So have your check—and a smile—ready when your worker calls on you. Send him more light-heartedly on to his next stop. That's all the halo he wants!

Y.M.C.A. Provides Religious, Educational And Physical Activities for Men and Boys

The Newton Y.M.C.A., a Red Feather Service, with a membership of over 2,200 provides a balanced program of religious, educational, and physical activities for men and boys in the community.

Boy's and Youth Divisions
Activities and membership in the Boy's and Youth Divisions are now at an all time high. Over 1,500 members are enjoying gymnasium classes, swimming, trips, dances, movies, tennis, archery, baseball, table-tennis, billiards, and numerous other group activities. Hi-Y and Tri-Hi clubs are very active in the affairs of both the local High School and the Y.M.C.A.

Camping
Three camps were conducted by the Newton Y.M.C.A. this past summer. Two day camps, Camp Massasoit and Camp Chickami, provided wholesome recreational activities for 418 boys who remained in the city during the hot summer months. The former was conducted on the spacious outdoor facilities of the Y.M.C.A. and the latter's program was held at Riverside Park in Auburndale. Camp Frank A. Day, Massachusetts, played host to 251 boys in its nine weeks of organized camping.

Community Program
The community program is available for those boys who live quite a distance from the Y.M.C.A. The program provides them with wholesome recreational opportunities and group experience under the direction of competent Y.M.C.A. leadership.

Men's Division
In the Physical Department of the Men's Division, a member can develop a strong and healthy body through boxing, wrestling, and weight-lifting. Competition through such active games as tennis, handball, volleyball, basketball, and squash is also provided. Then there is relaxation through swimming and baths. Normalizing weight by individual workouts or gym classes is likewise a big feature of the Newton Y.M.C.A. Physical Department.

Such groups as the Y's Men's Club, the service club of the Y.M.C.A., the Round Table Club, and the Chess Club are typical of the club program which the Newton Association offers for men. Lobby movies are shown once each week on some educational topic. Table-tennis is also another popular feature of the main lobby. Bowling on the four Y.M.C.A. alleys is organized into a Church and a House league.

Servicemen
During the past two years since the end of World War II, over 1500 ex-GI's have taken advantage of the complimentary three months membership which was extended to all returning veterans from Newton and vicinity. In this manner, many servicemen were assisted in gradually integrating themselves back into civilian life.

Dormitory and Housing
Dormitory rooms are provided for 47 residents at the Y.M.C.A. But with the present acute housing shortage, the Y.M.C.A. has had to extend its services to young men by operating a community room directory. Rooms in private homes are registered without charge and young men arriving in the community are quickly assisted in getting themselves settled.

Family Service Bureau Strengthens Family Life

"It just won't work", said young Mr. Burke. "Going to school and being a family man is too big a job for one guy." He and his pretty wife Martha, now only in their twenties, had been married five years. There were two rambunctious little boys, Jimmy 4 yrs., and Tommy 3 yrs.

Mr. Burke, whom his teachers called an excellent student, had started his training as a pharmacist, but had to give it up as his family responsibilities grew. He spoke earnestly again, "The tough part of it is that I'll never earn enough to take care of us all unless I finish school."

Mrs. Burke had her worries about all this, too. She was happy to have her husband, with the advise and financial help of the Family Service Bureau, plan to finish his final year at school while taking a part-time job, but she'd have to cut corners and buy the food.

Later, however, after the worker had helped overcome her despairing "I can't", she confided that her best recipes came from trying to add a bit of glamour to her "economy food menus". Little Mrs. Burke had had no training in household management and lacked confidence in her own ability. Budgeting and household planning were among the services most necessary.

"I guess you have to learn how to be a good Mother, too," Mrs. Burke had brought 3 year old Tommy into the Bureau with her one day. Red-haired and blue-eyed like his Daddy, Tommy was a great source of worry because he had run away from home several times lately and was becoming increasingly difficult to manage. Here was one more thing to add to the task of being a good wife, household manager and Mother. Mrs. Burke was dismayed by the enormity of her job and felt hopeless about ever succeeding.

It took Mrs. Burke a little while to realize that she wasn't being blamed for anything and that there were things she could do, for example, to help Tommy. The worker helped her to see that sturdy little Tommy, a year younger than Jimmy, wanted to be an individual in his own right. Jimmy, older and bigger, did everything better and bossed him around so that Tommy felt left out. Sometimes children need some time away from home, and when the worker arranged nursery school for Jimmy, then Tommy settled down happily to a little more freedom at home.

Many things came up during the year this family came to the Bureau. True, they had very little money for good times, but with the encouragement and support of the family worker they were building something solid. What they finally achieve will be not only financial security, but also a stronger family life.

The other day Mr. Burke brought the boys in to display the jackets his wife had made them from one of his old overcoats. He was very proud, and of course she was doubly pleased because he liked it. The girl who felt she couldn't do anything was also taking sewing lessons at a community center. "Yes stree," said Mr. Burke, "Things are looking up for the Burke family."

DO YOU KNOW... that the FAMILY SERVICE BUREAU, a RED FEATHER AGENCY, offers help and counseling to individuals in working out personal and family difficulties; that last year they served over 400 different families; that people consult them about their marital troubles, their children's lack of adjustment, their financial planning and numerous other problems; that these people are referred by friends, churches, doctors, schools hospitals and additional community sources.

Aged People Find Peace and Security at Stone Institute

Living in peace and security at the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People are twenty-five elderly ladies ranging in age from 65 to 90. The Institute, which is a Red Feather Service, is located in Newton Upper Falls and the residents have comfortable homes, a sun parlor, unrestricted use of the Home, and are provided with well balanced meals, including fresh vegetables in season, grown in their own garden.

Every physical need is met by a staff of four nurses, a special physician, and a dentist. The Home is supervised by a matron with years of experience.

Life is smooth, comfortable and protected for those who live here. The residents have time to read, rest, visit, sew, chat, and listen to the radio. Concerts and special events break the monotony. There is nothing exciting or spectacular, for comfortable living is the objective. Children, grandchildren, and friends visit often and the residents have them as their guests for dinner or supper on occasion.

Stone Institute is in its 47th year of existence and has been at its present location since 1915. There is a longer waiting list now than ever and plans have been drawn which will double the present capacity to care for men as well as women. It is planned that in the near future the Home will be enlarged.

The strange secret of the one-way door

There is a famous painting called "The Light of the World." It shows Christ knocking at the door of a humble dwelling.

When the artist, Holman Hunt, completed it, a critic turned to him and said: "There is an error in your painting. You have forgotten to put a latch on the door."

"There should be no latch on that door," said the artist. "It is the door to the human heart. It can be opened only from within."

Sometime, during the next few days, there will be a knock on your door.

It will be a neighbor soliciting for your Community Chest and its Red Feather services. When he calls, we hope your door will open wide for him. We hope, too, you will open your heart and give generously.

It means so much to so many.

Goddard Vetoes Increase In Mayor's Salary to $9,000

Alderman Lockwood Excluded From Discussion and Voting

On Wednesday Mayor Paul M. Goddard vetoed the Board of Aldermen's action to increase the salary of the Mayor of Newton from $5000 to $9000 a year beginning January 1, 1948.

The Mayor had previously suggested a raise in salary for the chief executive to $7000. But this figure was overruled by the aldermen and the higher figure approved. The matter was discussed with the committee as a whole with the one exception of Chairman Theodore R. Lockwood of the Finance Committee who was excluded from the discussion and from voting because of his candidacy for mayor in the coming election. Nineteen of the members voted for this increase in salary. Alderman Louis A. Myers voted in opposition and Alderman Lockwood abstained.

Mr. Goddard has announced that a meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held Monday evening to discuss further his original recommendation of a $2000 increase.

Edwards Opposed to Mayor's Salary Increase

40,163 Registered Voters in Newton

At the city election on November 4, 40,163 voters will be eligible to cast their ballots, the city clerk's office announced last Friday. This total represents an increase of 965 since the annual revision of the voting lists on January 1, and 887 since the lists were printed this year.

At the time of the state election last November, the number was 42,961, but this figure was reduced by the annual revision, which resulted in the dropping of names because of removal from the city or death.

For many years I have derived much satisfaction in contributing unselfishly in a meager way, my services to worthwhile civic causes.

In permitting myself to become a candidate for Mayor, it was my sincere desire to further contribute, but on a larger scale to the future of the city to which I have become devoted.

In agreeing that if elected I would serve on a full time basis, I knew that this could only be done by a willingness on my part, to make financial and other sacrifices. I was aware that five thousand ($5000) dollars per year was the authorized salary.

Newton School Committee Opposes 'Equal' Pay Referendum

In a statement issued today by the Newton School Committee regarding equal pay for men and women teachers, the School Committee unanimously and strongly recommends that the electorate vote "NO" on the question when it is submitted to them by referendum at the November election.

In setting forth their reasons for recommending a "NO" vote, the Committee states that the fundamental question is not that of equality of men and women, but rather, whether equal pay for men and women teachers will be more likely to yield better education in the long run for the children in the Newton schools.

In support of their recommendation, the Committee states that the fundamental question is not that of equality of men and women, but rather, whether equal pay for men and women teachers will be more likely to yield better education in the long run for the children in the Newton schools.

Aldermen Allot Funds for Sewers And Water Mains

The sum of $1600 was appropriated by the Board of Aldermen for changing a partition in the clerk's and traffic bureau office at Police Headquarters at last Monday night's meeting. For sewer construction on Beacon street and Warren road, Ward 5 an additional sum of $5000 was appropriated; also $680 for a water main on Cook street, Ward 5; $725 additional for sewer construction on private land on Wade street to Shady Hill road, Ward 5; and $1200 additional for sewer construction on private land from Ledgewood road, Ward 5.

The mayor was authorized to execute an agreement with the Brae Burn Country Club, relative to protecting its land against injuries as a result of constructing a drain and sewer on its property.

Edwards Calls for Action on Newton's Outmoded Schools

Asserts Lack of Long-Range Planning Responsible For Unsatisfactory Condition of Many School Buildings

Lack of interest on the part of authorities and shortsightedness in preparing for the growth of Newton are the fundamental reasons for the grievous inadequacy of Newton's elementary public school buildings, according to Roy S. Edwards, candidate for Mayor, as he outlined, at a campaign rally, what he proposes to do about school conditions if elected.

"The only far-sighted, long-range thinking on city problems which has been done for years," Mr. Edwards said, "is a survey and study of school building needs made in 1944. Yet despite wholehearted popular approval and support by citizens of the proposed program, it has been impossible to get appreciable action from city officials."

Mr. Edwards emphasized that Newton's fine school system and high educational standards have always been of first importance in attracting new families to the city. But the growing indignation over conditions in many school plants is indicative of the crying need for action. "How can a modern, aggressive city hope to hold its place of importance," Mr. Edwards asked, "when some of its school buildings are so outmoded as to be almost unsafe for use and obviously unequipped to offer the advantages that parents rightfully expect for their children?"

Mr. Edwards pointed out that the old Clafin School, built in 1864, the year before Lincoln

Housing Dept. Bill Adopted by Aldermen

Lockwood Asserts Veterans Housing Outstanding Need

The Board of Aldermen voted to adopt House Bill 372 which would permit the city of Newton to build houses for veterans.

This action necessitates an ordinance by the City Solicitor directed by the Claims and Rules Committee to provide a new department to begin building housing units for veterans.

Kenneth D. McCutcheon of the Claims and Rules Committee asserted that the city will be reimbursed for the original cost in about ten years. However if there should be any loss to the city, the state would assume half of the burden, up to 10 per cent of the original outlay of money.

Chairman Theodore R. Lockwood of the Finance Committee urged an adoption of the Bill and stated:

In early 1944 I brought the housing situation in Newton to the attention of this Board and asked that a study be made as to the provision of homes for the younger generation.

A basis of discussion was supplied in a proposed means of using older and larger houses. The matter has been brought up several times since, and since the end of the war the problem of Veteran's Housing has been consistently kept on front.

Since 1945 hundreds of homes in Newton have been vacated and filled. If owners sincerely wanted to care for our deserving veterans, they would have filled these homes with veterans. Instead you and I know that these homes have been filled with whoever would pay the highest rent, or the highest price for the property. Many of these new tenants and property owners have come from other cities and towns. There rests chiefly the explanation of the difficulty.

May it be recalled by the Members of this Board that a select Committee, known as the Soldier's Relief Committee, for years met frequently and constantly to solve Veteran's problems. The Aldermen from Ward 7 protested against the cessation of that Committee and the virtual assumption of its duties by another body through acceptance of a State Act authorizing

Volunteer Needs Of the Newton Community Council

The Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Coffee Shop needs YOUR help . . . NOW! The Volunteer Service Bureau of the Newton Community Council — A RED FEATHER SERVICE — asks you to respond to this volunteer need if you have a few hours of spare time each week which you are willing to devote to helping others.

Nothing is so necessary to a community as an efficiently run hospital. The Newton-Wellesley Hospital serves every member of the community to the best of its ability. An integral part of the hospital is The Coffee Shop, adding much to the comfort and convenience of the staff and visitors alike. This coffee shop needs your help to function smoothly. Cashiers, waitresses, and fountain help are needed at once. Any woman eighteen or over who can give four hours a week and who wants to do a community service should volunteer. The hours are from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.; 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.; 5 p. m. to 9 p. m., Monday through Friday; and on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

Approve Firemen's, Police Retirement Pay Increase

The provisions of Chapter 576, General Laws, which provides for an increase in the retirement pay of firemen and policemen who are not in the contributory retirement system, were accepted Monday night by a 17 to 4 majority vote of the Newton Board of Aldermen. The dissenting votes were cast by Alderman Kenneth D. McCutcheon, member of the Finance Committee, Julian D. Anthony, Donald L. Gibbs and William V. Tripp, Jr.

Under the new law, firemen and policemen, not in the contributory retirement system and who retire at the end of 20 years of service will receive 50% compensation and 1% additional for each year over 20, with a limitation of 65%.

Chairman Theodore Lockwood outlined his reasons for recommending the adoption of the act as follows:

"The Finance Committee has given long and thorough study to this pension problem in connection with Claims and Rules Committee and been assisted by able representatives of the Fire and Police Departments in its study."

"In the early days of establishment of the Newton Retirement system, city employees looked to those highly posted in such complex matters as pensions for advice, and were aided by officials of the City at that time not to join the City system."

At times the system then of

Hallowe'en Party Plans Practically Complete

All committees for Newton's city-wide Hallowe'en celebrations, in which over 10,000 school children of all ages will participate, have virtually rounded out their programs, according to Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, Program Committee Chairman. It is understood that many new features have been worked out and every Chamber of Horrors committee has gone "all out" to produce thrillers destined to tickle young spines. The new stunts are being kept a dark secret until the big night; but information that has leaked out hints at lively doings every minute. Mrs. Hovgaard has received the following reports covering some details of various party programs:

Joseph Randall, Building Chairman for the Emerson School parties (Newton Upper Falls) states that his energetic and enthusiastic committees have shaped up plans for an unusual fine affair. There will be an outdoor parade, a grand orchestra, a fast-stepping comedy movie and a sport "short," a Fortune Teller, dancing for the Junior High students, a Ghost Walk that will keep "walkers" wide awake, and games which the committee was so anxious to have

A PROCLAMATION

The Greater Boston Community Fund and the Newton Community Chest have issued the annual call to continued service for our Red Feather Agencies. We, the citizens of Newton, welcome that opportunity and will gladly respond to the call.

The work which is carried on by the Red Feather Services every day of the year ministers in a practical and helpful way to the fundamental and urgent needs of our fellow citizens. We are still pioneering and sighting new horizons in the limitless fields of human relationships. The physical and spiritual welfare of our neighbors is our immediate concern. We must meet the greatest challenge of our day, to provide for others the opportunity to live their lives free, so far as possible, from want, sickness and distress. We must share with them so that equal opportunity may become a reality, and that they in turn may make their full contribution to the society in which they live.

We, the citizens of Newton, accept the challenge. We will do our share in ministering to human needs, for we want to do our part in building a solid foundation for our city, and for our State. We look forward with confidence to the future of our great Nation, fully realizing that its greatness can be achieved only through the lives of its citizens who are willing and able to accept the duties and obligations which are ours.

City Hall to Close Saturdays

On recommendation of Mayor Paul M. Goddard the Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to continue the closing of the Newton City Hall on Saturdays from November 8 until January 1.

The order for the Saturday closing was originally adopted for the summer season, but another order was later passed to extend the closing period to and including November 1st.

It is assumed that the incoming Board of Aldermen will vote at the January 1st meeting to continue the Saturday closing throughout the year.

Lockwood Defends City's Financial Position in Talk

Theodore Lockwood yesterday emphasized in his talk to a Ward 6 gathering at the home of Charles Burg that aspirations had been cast upon the financial record and situation of Newton, and stoutly defended the position of the City.

He mentioned that his opponent from Waban on the one hand had implied that the situation needed better care, while not long ago that opponent, who was campaign manager for the present Mayor, had gone on record as in full recognition of the out-

Newton Red Feather Girl Makes Debut At Newton-Malden Game

The publicity program of the Greater Boston Community Fund in Newton was launched last Saturday with a pageant between the halves of the Newton-Malden football game.

Through the co-operation of Wesley Merritt, the Newton High School Band, of which he is the director, spelled out the word GIVE, made a Red Feather formation and placed red feathers in the center of the field in large quantity, to make the outline of a big feather, which extended from the sidelines to beyond the center of the field.

Then with fanfare from the band a large chest was carried in on the shoulders of four High School students, to the top end of the feather. From this Miss Frances Shellenback, the Newton Red Feather Girl, emerged amid the plaudits of the 7300 spectators in attendance. Miss Shellenback was dressed in white, wore a hat with a large red feather the principal decoration, and a corsage made entirely of small red feathers. As Miss Shellenback walked to the edge of the field in front of the Newton stands she was joined by two members of her suite, Miss Ramona Campbell and Miss Barbara Furbush. The pageant was splendidly done and thanks are due not only Mr. Merritt, but also to Raymond Green, Principal of Newton High School, Charles Chase, who made the chest and assisted in the Red Feather Girl presentation, the High School Band, and the cheerleaders.

Mayoral Candidates Speak at League of Women Voters Forum

In speeches before several hundred persons at an open forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters in the Newtonville Women's Club last Friday evening, two of Newton's candidates for Mayor, Mr. Edwards and Mr. Boyd, maintained their support of a Plan E form of government, while the third, Mr. Lockwood, stated that a change in type of management would entail the depreciation of both the type of man who would seek office and the present high standard of government in Newton.

In addition, Mr. Lockwood stated that "While Plan E fits other municipalities, the record and financial situation of Newton proves that the present form of government has developed a type of city which has proved so attractive and satisfactory to the people that the city is overflowing and is in extreme need of housing."

He also pointed out that the change from a 21-man Board of Aldermen to seven councilmen could result in many sections being unrepresented, as the seven could come from one section.

In explaining his approval of the complete Plan E form of government with proportional representation, Hugh S. Boyd stated that he did so because "In ordinary cases, a city manager is just another name for a mayor, subject to all the many political pressures that a mayor is subject to." He continued, "If they want a city manager, they might as well go the whole way and try the Cambridge idea of Plan E with proportional voting."

What's Your Voting I.Q.?

Eleven days from today, on Tuesday, November 4, the biennial city election will be held in Newton. In a community such as Newton where perhaps as large a percentage of the population as in any city in this state are persons of more than average education and wealth, it would be reasonable to suppose that they would realize the great importance of performing their civic duty by going to the polling places and voting.

Unfortunately in the past citizens of Newton have been quite lax in voting at municipal elections. Two years ago only 18,437 of the registered voters in this city went to the polls; 54 per cent of those eligible to vote in Newton displayed indifference. And this was a better record than at other elections. An interesting trait of human nature is that those who are derelict in the performance of their civic duties, those who don't bother to participate in municipal elections, are among the more critical and clamorous when public services such as schools, maintenance of streets, collection of rubbish, and plowing of highways in the winter fall below the standards which these "one-way" citizens think such services should reach.

It is interesting but true that over many years the percentage of registered voters cast in the two Nonantum precincts (precinct 1 of Ward 1, and Precinct 3 of Ward 2) has been much higher than that cast in the other precincts, including those in the swank sections. Nonantum is a working class district and the people there on the whole have not had educational advantages equal to citizens who reside in the higher altitudes of Newton. But—they seemingly manifest a higher "I.Q." when it comes to displaying an interest in exercising their right of franchise.

Fall Fire Hazard

This is the driest autumn we have had in the memory of even the oldest inhabitant, and outdoor fire hazards are correspondingly greater. For the past two weeks the Newton Fire Department has averaged a dozen calls each day to extinguish fires fueled by burning leaves and brush.

Many residents of this city apparently do not know that they do not have the right to burn leaves or rubbish even in their own yards, without first obtaining a permit from the Fire Department, unless such burning materials are confined in an incinerator. Some persons even burn leaves on public highways which is an added offence. The situation is becoming so serious that offenders may be summoned into the police court.

THE SIGN OF BETTER SERVICE

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

The Ladies Take Over

The candidates' meeting and reception, under the auspices of the League of Women Voters on Friday evening, Oct. 17 was a great success. The Newtonville Woman's Club on Washington Park was filled to capacity, although there was by no means a 100 percent turnout of either Aldermanic or School Committee candidates. In many instances, of course, this was doubtless due to the fact that a number of men are unopposed and therefore feel it unnecessary to attend such meeting. This was true at the drab affair at the Mason School in Newton Centre on Oct. 14. I learned on excellent authority that there were scarcely twenty people present at that time and that only two candidates for the School Committee showed up, although there are ten men and women seeking office on Nov. 4.

This League affair on Oct. 17 had obviously been carefully planned long in advance. I am inclined to believe that my opinion is shared by most of those who were present when I say that it was the best and most intelligently organized meeting to date. Apart from the usual small group of hecklers who always stand up in the rear of the hall and whose tactics are now thoroughly understood, the atmosphere was extremely pleasant. Incidentally, it was Hugh S. Boyd, one of the three Mayoral candidates, who finally put an end to the hecklers by asking that a question based on personal privilege be thrown out.

One of the intriguing features of the evening was the appearance of Mr. Louis M. Lyons, Curator of the Nieman Fellowship at Harvard University, as Moderator. This gentleman, like one of our new Aldermen, John C. Beale of Ward 7, has been associated with the Boston Globe editorially and wrote the Boston chapter in "Our Fair City". Now, I have watched all sorts and varieties of moderators, good, bad and indifferent. Many are lawyers or trained speakers or public lecturers. The point is that you either know them by reputation or you sense right away how effective they will be. This time, after Mr. Lyons had given a brief fight talk on "Making Your Vote Count", he introduced the speakers, gave them their allotted time and then launched into the question period. Then you began to appreciate the moderator's tact and diplomacy. In a quiet way he restated questions to those in the audience who had not fully heard them, cut short anything in the nature of a debate on any given question and, in general, held the meeting on a true course. Mrs. William M. Barber, League President, deserves a vote of thanks for securing Mr. Lyons and for taking care of a great many other equally important details. She had a smoothly-functioning committee behind her, including two energetic ladies, Mrs. Eric J. Kermath and Mrs. John B. Stetson, who handled the reception which followed the formal speaking program.

At this point, I note one item of interest. If your columnist wished to locate an Aldermanic or School Committee candidate, he was frequently NOT to be found under the big poster showing the Ward numbers. Maybe it was because many people went home after the speaking and did not avail themselves of the opportunity to shake hands with the vast array of candidates.

Therefore some of our public servants roamed the hall looking for citizens from other wards who might be interested in them. Also, refreshments were being served at this juncture and one always roams around when eating in a public place.

As to the formal speeches, perhaps I should withhold comment until next week, which will be my last column prior to the election. Suffice it to say that each Mayoral candidate put his best foot forward, despite the brief heckling. Each man told what he would do if elected and then ran the gauntlet of the usual questions, such as "Do you favor Plan E for Newton?" "Do you want a City Manager?" "What is YOUR idea of a solution for the critical housing shortage?" etc. On the first two questions, I think I am correct in stating that Alderman Lockwood does NOT want either Plan E or a City Manager, as of today; Edwards believes in a City Manager and Boyd wants BOTH Plan E and a City Manager. On the housing situation, the only man in a sound position to know all the facts, Alderman Lockwood, said that it would not be ethical or right for him to divulge prematurely the precise nature of the city's plans. Messrs. Edwards and Boyd are, of course, handicapped by not being connected with the city government at this time. They are, therefore, obliged to shoot in the dark a bit.

What effect will this meeting have on the election? We all realize that a great many people went there with their minds more or less made up. What about those who went with completely open minds? Well, here are a few comments I overheard. "That man Boyd made a good showing tonight. The way he cut down that heckler was great. I never saw Edwards before, tho' he has been getting a terrific amount of publicity. He must have a lot of ability." "Lockwood is obviously the right man for the position. He seems to me to be the only candidate who is thoroughly qualified for the office."

There you have it. Three reactions from three different people. None of them could have known that I was behind them.

Boston Edison keeps pace with increasing use of Electricity

At Mystic Station in Everett this week, Boston Edison Company added 50,000 kilowatts of new electric generating capacity to its system, when the Station's third turbo-generator was placed in operation.

"Mystic No. 1," in service November 1943, helped meet the peak war loads of 1944. "Mystic No. 2," in service September 1945, helped meet the demands of early post-war conversion. "Mystic No. 3," in service October 1947, is available for a winter which may witness greater demands for electricity than ever before.

Each unit at Mystic Station is a modern 50,000-kilowatt turbo-generator, designed to operate at a high degree of fuel economy, thus helping to absorb some of the increasing costs of fuel, labor, taxes and maintenance.

"Mystic No. 3" is additional evidence of Boston Edison's continuous growth and progress.

perity of Metropolitan Boston and all New England. Looking even further into the future, Boston Edison has started construction at Weymouth for the installation, in 1949, of the largest turbo-generator in New England.

A year before the start of World War II, Boston Edison had 350,000 kilowatts of generating capacity. Today it has 500,000 kilowatts. In 1940, it will have approximately 650,000 kilowatts. As Greater Boston prospers and expands, the Company will continue to increase its facilities. As it was prepared for war and for the first years of peace-time conversion, Boston Edison will be prepared in the future to meet the electrical needs of the territory which it serves.

Politics In Newton Past and Present

In last week's Graphic under this caption we referred to the small minority of Newton citizens about the year 1900 who were Democrats. By error it was printed "Citizens of Newton, as elsewhere in the Northern States were men of Irish birth or extraction." This was obviously an error. Instead of "citizens," it should have stated "Democrats".

In 1913 Edwin O. Childs the Democratic nominee for Mayor won a surprise victory over Alderman Burr of Chestnut Hill, the candidate of the Republican party. Mr. Burr was a wealthy man and a member of a prominent Newton family. Most men would have been chagrined over such an unexpected political setback, but Mr. Burr proved the bigness of his character and his genuine affection for his home city by his good sportsmanship in defeat. He and other members of his family not only donated the Burr estate on Park street and Waverly avenue, Newton to the city as a playground, but also gave many thousands of dollars to landscape and equip this playground.

For many years before the election of Mr. Childs as Mayor, the Superintendent of Streets in Newton was Charles W. Ross. He was a very efficient man but unusually strict with the laborers who worked under him. In fact the laborers and some of the foremen in the Street Department considered him unnecessarily severe. So, one of the issues in the campaign which elected Mr. Childs was that he should remove Mr. Ross as head of the Newton Street Department. Mr. Childs did this after he became Mayor and appointed George E. Stuart as Street Commissioner. Mr. Stuart had been Assistant Superintendent of Streets of many years, and like Mr. Ross was quite capable in this type of public service.

Mr. Childs assumed the office of Mayor in January, 1914 and started a regime which was to last until 1930. In 1915 he was opposed by Abbott B. Rice of Newton Center, a militant alderman, and Childs won by a considerable majority.

Mr. Childs' most persistent political enemy during his long reign as Mayor was John C. Brimblecom, editor of the Newton Graphic. The latter was a lifelong resident of this city and as a young man had entered the employ of the city. He had been associated with the Health Department and for many years was clerk of committees at City Hall. He had an extensive knowledge of city government and was depended upon for a score of years as a source of information and advice by Mayors and members of various Boards of Aldermen.

men. He was a close friend of Alston Burr and the defeat of Mr. Burr by Edwin O. Childs started Mr. Brimblecom's political feud with the perennial mayor.

Because of Childs' great popularity Brimblecom's continued opposition made the latter much disliked by Childs' supporters. In 1916 Mr. Brimblecom and other Republicans of Newton sponsored a bill which was accepted by the voters of this city at the State election in November of that year. That bill ended party designations at municipal elections in Newton and established preferential voting. According to Childs' adherents the alleged purpose of the change was to defeat Childs.

Childs, however continued to be re-elected Mayor and the belief became prevalent in Newton that he was unbeatable. Many citizens, including some who were friends of Childs, did not favor one man remaining Mayor indefinitely. They believed that rotation in office would be better for the city because civic-minded, high type men who were willing to give their time to serve as Aldermen, should have the opportunity to be advanced to the higher office of Mayor. This had been the custom in Newton prior to Mr. Childs' era.

Efforts were made by both political friends and enemies of Childs to pry him loose from the mayoralty. His friends succeeded in getting him to agree to run for the Republican nomination for Congress from the district which then included Newton. Had he made the slightest personal effort, he would have easily won that nomination. But, he displayed no interest and lost by a very small number of votes to Robert Luce. Childs was also virtually offered judgeships a couple of times, jobs with good salaries and the prospect of a large pension. These lures he also declined.

As a politician, Childs was unique. Each two years when he was a successful candidate, he would not declare himself until it was nearly time for nominations to close, and then only at the urging of close friends. He did not seek the office. Neither did he refuse it.

After having defeated Rice in 1915, Childs had no serious opposition until 1921 when Leon Rogers of West Newton ran against him. Again Childs won. Something else occurred at the city election that year. A slate of aldermanic candidates friendly to him was elected after a vigorous campaign under the leadership of Thomas W. White.

From the time Childs first took office as Mayor in 1914 he had few supporters in the various Boards of Aldermen and many of his recommendations were turned down. So, a group of pro-Childs citizens determined to change this condition and Mr. White consented to lead the fight. Tom White was an Upper Falls boy, and as a young man owned and managed a pharmacy in that village. He was quite intelligent, sagacious and popular, and as a young man was elected to the Newton Board of Aldermen without the support of the then Republican machine. He soon proved his ability, developed a propensity for politics and after serving several years in the Board of Aldermen, he was elected as a Representative to the State Legislature.

In the Legislature Tom White soon became an important factor. His influence and service were sought by the Republican leaders of the State. He became a confidant of Calvin Coolidge and following his tenure in the Legislature he was appointed to responsible State offices. He eventually sold his drug store and devoted most of his time to his public career.

The pro-Childs aldermanic slate scored almost a complete victory in 1921. For Aldermen-at-Large Earle from Ward 1 won over Church; Grebenstein from Ward 2 defeated Morse; Smith from Ward 3 beat Weeks; Young from Ward 4 vanquished Winslow; White from Ward 5 topped Colby; George Pratt from Ward 6 drew a bye; and Hollis from Ward 7 won over Lloyd. Several Ward aldermen on the slate were also elected, including Madden in Ward 1, Collins in Ward 2, Hickey in Ward 3, Rose in Ward 4. Only one candidate on the Childs slate lost—Burt Rich was defeated for Ward Alderman in Ward 7 by Jewell.

After 8 years Childs was in control of the City Government. It did not take long for the pro-Childs Aldermen to take revenge against John Brimblecom. They abolished the office he had held for years—Clerk of Committees. In 1923 when no candidates entered the fray against Childs, Brimblecom announced his candidacy, although he stated he knew he had no chance of winning. He commented that it was not for the city's best interest to allow mayoralty elections to go by default.

Childs won again easily in 1925 and in 1927. But in 1929 the story changed. Sinclair Weeks, son of John W. Weeks, aspired to follow in his father's footsteps politically. He first was a candidate for alderman in 1921 and was defeated as previously mentioned. In 1923 he ran again and was elected. He soon became a power in the Board and a number of the aldermen who had originally been elected on the Childs-White slate in 1921 became friendly to Weeks. He served as president of the Board of Aldermen in 1928 and 1929.

Early in 1929 Sinclair Weeks announced that he would be a candidate for mayor that year. Several months later Childs announced that he would not run against Weeks. Alderman Earle was also a candidate for mayor. Weeks won and was reelected in 1931. He had a strong following. Prior to the Weeks administration most of the Mayors of Newton had spent little time daily at City Hall. Childs was in the Mayor's office most of every morning. Weeks inaugurated a new policy. Instead of having a young woman as secretary, as his predecessors had, he appointed a man, James Dempsey as his secretary and representative at City Hall, so that the citizens of Newton would have increased facilities to present their requests and grievances at the Mayor's office.

It was supposed that Weeks would serve only 4 years as Mayor. But, he desired to go to Congress as his father had done. When his second term was in its last year he did not care to outlast the then congressman. He was persuaded by some of his friends to become a candidate for a third term. They thought it would be better for his political future to continue in office.

Testimonial Dinner For Sheriff Kew

SHERIFF LORING R. KEW

Sheriff Loring R. Kew of Middlesex County will be feted by friends at a testimonial dinner at the Hotel Continental in Cambridge on Thursday evening, November 6, 1947.

A committee composed of members from all sections of the County have completed arrangements and indications point to a capacity turnout.

Among the invited guests who will attend are: Governor Robert F. Bradford, Lt. Governor Arthur Coolidge, Secretary of State Fred Cooke, State Treasurer Laurence Curtis, Attorney General Clarence A. Barnes, State Auditor Thomas Buckley, Justices: Harold Williams, Thomas Dowd, John Sullivan, Arthur Baker, Abraham Pinansky, Francis J. Good and Horace Cahill.

Sheriffs: William A. Bennett, Worcester County and Patrick Dupuis of Bristol County; Clerk of Court Frederick L. Putnam, Registrar of Probate Loring P. Jordan, District Attorney George R. Thompson and William G. Andrew; County Engineer Howard S. Hatch, Chairman Rep. State Comm. Lloyd B. Warring, Secretary of Personnel Kenneth Darnen, Reverend Francis W. Finnegan, Chaplain at Cambridge and Rev. J. Harold Dale, Chaplain at Billerica. Archibald R. Giroux, former chairman of the Republican State Committee will be toastmaster.

Sheriff Kew was appointed Deputy Sheriff in 1929 by the late Sheriff John R. Fairbairn and Master of the House of Correction at Billerica in 1940 by the late Sheriff McElroy. Kew was named Special Sheriff in 1946 and in 1947 was appointed Sheriff by Governor Bradford.

W. N. Men's Club Hears Dr. Park

The Men's Club of West Newton, organized in 1907 by Dr. J. Edgar Park, for many years the Minister of the Second Church in West Newton, held a very special dinner meeting last Thursday evening in the Second Church Parish House. The dinner was served by Seiler, famous throughout New England for his clam chowder. Many former members and guests were present.

The outpouring was due to the fact that it was Past President's Night and a great many of those still living attended. The entire evening was in charge of these past Presidents, who more than satisfied the large audience. Ralph F. Taber, one of the more recent Presidents, was in charge of organizing the celebration.

The featured speaker of the evening was Dr. Park, who served many years as the President of Wheaton College, following his long pastorate at the Second Church. Dr. Park has few equals and, in the opinion of thousands, no superiors as a dramatic, colorful and inspiring orator. He was at his best on this occasion, as he wove humorous stories, happy reminiscences and helpful ideas and suggestions into his informal address.

LETTERBOX

To the Editor:

When an old rattling automobile or broken-down machine start to show their old age and the noisy unproducing service, first the owners examine them carefully to see if they are worth being saved and after being sure it would work smoothly if they spend some of their valuable time and money on them, they start to overhaul the machine, replace the worn-out parts, clean the corroded points, freshly grease and put together and start it working without further interruption so the time has arrived for Newton respectful citizens to show their deep interest in their City's political, worn-out, old machinery, carefully overhauling and saving any parts that can be used again, rebuilding a new up-to-date, firm sounding machine, ready to face our governmental hard duty call.

The Newton Graphic has already published the various self-appointed volunteers intentions for governmental candidacy in the coming election, with their loud and windy promises, but Newton's good-natured citizens as a whole have not yet shown much interest or enthusiasm in those noisy and fruitless rallies, nor the candidates impractical promises. It looks as if the citizens are doubtful of those nervously racing candidates dark pasts and ability, and they wish further study into their past and present business and political activities, depth of knowledge and experience in governmental work, to be sure this time that our City's citizens future fate is on a safe and sound foundation, far from false pretense and bankruptcy.

In my previous article in this paper I call the readers attention to our City's present vital question, the governmental election, especially pointing out the two so-called business men mayoral candidates, uncertain intentions, suggesting that our citizens do not judge these candidates by their colorful and loud but impractical promises (so called the "great improvements and renovations") that they will do for our city, the many homes they will build for our homeless—the same old tune that other candidates sang too eagerly in the past, but after their election, instead of new homes and city improvements, our taxes went up, our streets were dirty and in bad condition, and many big, unpaid bills were left in the empty treasure chest. Our old and impractical zoning laws were left unchanged to please a handful of wealthy and selfish residents so that the working class people had to crowd together in poor sections. Those one-man empty promises, no matter how good they sound while they are being spoken vanish fast, like a dream, after the election, without any result. It would be much better for all of us to judge those two business men candidates by their past and present political and business activities, their successful and valuable services to their city, to prove their deep interest and honest faith in our citizens to make us sure that they are trustworthy and responsible to run our government.

I carefully pointed out those so-called successful business men candidates doubtful promises, when they are so willing to sacrifice their well-built, money-making businesses for a modest mayor's. This is an honorable duty but a very small income for a SUCCESSFUL business man.

I introduce to you a self-made man, Hugh S. Boyd, worthy son of Newton, who has served his city and fellow citizens faithfully in legal matters. I advise Graphic readers not to hesitate to vote for this able and patriotic lawyer for our future mayor, whose exceptional training and legal insight set him above the other candidates.

Hugh S. Boyd does not believe in dishonest profits nor wasteful expenditure, and under his watchful eyes no crooked machinery could operate to rob citizens of their rights, no promises made that could not be carried out, and no carelessly constructed contracts issued that will eat up the treasury. Hugh S. Boyd understands our citizens desires and demands and has the ability to weed out undesirable laws and improve existing conditions, and you may be sure that the other two candidates will never be able to do this housecleaning because they have not had the law training. So let us elect Hugh S. Boyd for mayor and be happy with him because he is a man that believes in WORK not WORDS.

To the Editor:

At a public rally held in the Davis School on October 7th, Mr. Lockwood, the Aldermanic candidate for Mayor, was asked a question relative to his opinion on the temporary conversion of old houses into small apartments to alleviate the housing shortage. Mr. Lockwood stated in effect that he was in favor of such a program and always had been.

In the Summer of 1946 we four, all veterans of the last war, met with Mr. Lockwood at his home to discuss the acute housing shortage. We advocated, at that conference, a plan whereby the owners of larger houses be encouraged to provide temporary additional family units with those structures, provided the exterior was in no way changed and no such use and occupancy was to extend beyond the acute need. Mr. Lockwood's reply to our suggestion was: "If you men insist upon such a course of action, you will degrade the city and thereby the veterans will be in a position of fouling their own door steps."

As to Mr. Lockwood's action on veterans housing, the facts speak for themselves.

My thanks to "P.W.C." for his frequent allusions to me and to the "Progressive Citizens of America" of which I have the honor to be one of the Massachusetts Chapter's Vice Chairmen.

Much as I appreciate Phil Carter's spirited defense of me in last week's Graphic, I hasten to add that after 20 years of citizenship in Newton anything that Mr. Carter so graciously said about me is superfluous! My loyalties and my admittedly liberal views and attitudes are too well known, I believe, to require further elucidation. I was born and have lived for 58 years in Massachusetts.

I am one who believes in living openly and I hold that "the Truth needs no defense". Years ago I dedicated my life and efforts to human progress, and I have tried to be a consistent advocate of all good causes which aimed to improve human relations.

With our own West Newton sage and educator Horace Mann, I urge the youth of today to "Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for Humanity", and I reiterate those immortal words of John Greenleaf Whittier who said: "If you would make your life count for something in this world join yourself to some unpopular, but noble, cause!" As the Great Emerson so aptly said:

"Through conscience pine and reason chafe,
There came a voice without reply—
'This Man's perdition to be safe
When, for the TRUTH, he aught to die!'"

Respectfully yours, Paul Harris Drake

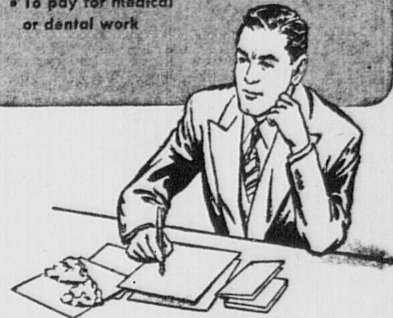

Junior Women's Community Club

The Junior Women's Community Club dance was held at the Kelsey Ranch in Lexington October 17. A very good attendance was appreciated. Square dancing was the feature of the evening. Although many had never attempted them all were able to follow the directions very aptly because of the efficiency of the caller, Miss Darling, the caller, a charming and graceful dancer herself used excellent diction and clear explanations of the dances and gave illustrations of each different dance. Miss Fulehcomb was the violinist and Miss Hodgson the pianist. The following were some of the dances called: The Scottish polka, Virginia reel, Spanish waltz, several figure quadrilles and the Liberty waltz. Mrs. George Harris was chairman and did a fine job. Refreshments were served during the evening.

League of Women Voters Interviews All Candidates

Recognizing the difficulty of Newton citizens in becoming acquainted with the many candidates for the November election, the Local Affairs Committee of the League of Women Voters of Newton has personally interviewed all the candidates. They have been asked those questions for which thoughtful voters require answers in considering the qualifications of the men and women they will elect to administer their city government.

Mrs. Eric J. Kermath—Mrs. John B. Stetson, Co-Chairmen

THE QUESTIONS

1. Why do you seek public office?
2. How available will you be to citizens in your ward, if elected?
3. Are you satisfied with Newton's public services?
 - a. Police Department.
 - b. Fire Department.
 - c. Garbage collection.
 - d. Street repair.
 - e. Snow removal.
 - f. Conservation of trees in Newton.
 - g. Recreation program.
 - h. Health Department.
4. Are you interested in carrying out Newton's proposed school building program?
5. What do you think of a City Manager for Newton?
6. Do you think Newton should have a central purchasing department?
7. What do you think of a Civic Association for Newton to (a) arouse voters' interest and (b) propose candidates for office?

THE ANSWERS

Mr. Boyd

1. Feels it civic duty to run, a campaign of education to point out that city gov't has not been good, not giving us our money's worth. Running for office only way to present these facts. Feels city needs a different factor, easier to get in mayor's office than to change 21 aldermen.

2. Available full time, office door open at all times to anyone who wishes to see him.

3. a. No. Rotation of jobs would help. b. Excellent. c. Room for most improvement in cost and methods. d. Atrocious, couldn't be worse. e. Not satisfied, some improvement in last two years. f. Doesn't know. g. Needs to be brought to former state of efficiency, by proper supervision; very important, even though results are intangible. h. Doesn't know, hears of overcrowding. i. In good shape. j. Doesn't know too much about this.

4. Not too familiar with this plan, but definitely in favor of more adequate facilities for education.

5. In favor of it under PLAN E WITH P. R. Glad to have it on ballot.

6. Haven't studied this.

7. A good idea.

Mr. Edwards

1. Many people urged it upon him and convinced him that Newton needed him and that he should run as a public service. Is willing to give up his business and personal freedom to serve Newton, and has the requisite business knowledge for the position.

2. Available full time, starting work at the same time as everyone else and applying all his time to the city.

3. a. Good in general, has improved in recent years. b. Excellent. c. Extremely bad. D. Not good, has been inefficient, but there has been some excuse, war, etc. e. Same as for street repair. f. Trees should have much more care than they are getting. g. As far as I know, fairly good. Hears some complaints, but has no real basis for criticism. h. knows nothing about this. i. Should have broader scope and more funds, so Dr. Morris can carry out his plans. j. More intensive effort needed, but no real criticism.

4. Definitely as much interested in schools as in anything in Newton. School dept splendidly and efficiently run.

5. Would rather see a city manager by Jan. 1st than be mayor.

6. Splendid move. We have had public-spirited and honest gentlemen in our city gov't, but harm has been done by perpetuating them in office too long, and occasionally there have been incompetent ones.

7. Mr. Edwards feels that the city of Newton has been very lax in many ways toward veterans, particularly in not making available emergency housing. City has not welcomed veterans back.

Mr. Lockwood

1. Is much interested in National Municipal League, member for 10 years. Through that interest, and because of 10 years service on the Board of Aldermen, is keenly interested in improving the management of the city. Is in favor of a director of Public Works, possible through an ordinance already on the books, to consolidate street, water, and engineering departments, where most of the troubles have been.

2. Available full time.

3. a. Will have to be improved. b. Excellent—no improvement needed. c. Seems to be dissatisfactory. Intolerable not to have satisfactory service on this. He himself has had no reason to criticize, but if anything is wrong it should be corrected. d. No. Improvement necessary. e. No. Improvement necessary. f. No. More is needed in this field. g. Needs to be brought up to higher level. h. I don't know. If anything is needed here to make it better, I am for it. i. Good. Knows of no valid criticism. j. Is definitely in favor of it and of providing money for it.

4. Yes, definitely.

5. Upon real need, would advocate it. The wrong time for it, not in the picture at this time. 6. I'm studying it. Probably yes.

7. It's a good idea, in principle. Mr. Lockwood says he is definitely not satisfied with the status quo in Newton, but doesn't believe the way to correct things is to make public complaints and criticisms, but rather to carry these where they belong, to the mayor or department concerned, which he has done.

ALDERMEN AT LARGE

Edward A. Fahey—Ward 1

1. Long standing interest in civic and community affairs tempered with a mild interest in politics prompts me to seek public office.

2. Week days from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sundays from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

3. Yes, in general.

4. Not too familiar with this program. However, I am in favor of the following school buildings being replaced as soon as materials are available. (1) The Pierce (2) The Rice and (3) The Williams. The latter two are the oldest in use at the present time, Rice about 78 years and Williams about 75 years.

5. Newton needs a full time employee in the Mayor's office, either a city manager or a mayor under our present charter.

6. Some doubt in my mind whether or not savings resulting therefrom would justify large initial expense of setting up a central purchasing department.

7. Both items are very good.

1. Didn't—couldn't get a substitute, was urged to remain.

2. At all times, as usual.

3. a. Yes, could stand some jogging, mainly traffic. b. Yes. c. Yes. d. Yes, under present plan. e. This year will be better. f. Planted and replaced at more rapid rate. g. Yes. h. Yes, busses supplied at parents' requests. i. Yes. j. Yes.

4. No answer at this time—should be decided as needed.

5. Not necessary at present time—give full time mayor chance to function.

6. Would like Newton to analyze and report the necessity.

7. a. Would have a beneficial influence. b. No.

William H. Donovan—Ward 2

The League was unable to interview Mr. Donovan—no appointment cancelled, unable to reach him for another. No telephone.

Harry Gath, Jr.—Ward 2

1. Heavy taxpayer and property holder and asked by many people.

2. 24 hours of the day. (Note: Home telephone not listed; had to be contacted at restaurant.)

3. a. Yes; doing a pretty good job. b. Yes. c. Good service. d. Yes. e. Has been bad problem. f. Should be expanded. g. Big sponsor for it; has sports club (Gath guards). h. Need more busses. i. One of finest in the State. j. Could be expanded.

4. Yes.

5. Think there should be a full time mayor.

6. Yes.

7. Good idea.

William R. Mattson—Ward 2

1. If a man has the ability, education and background, he feels it his duty to take more than casual interest in city affairs. Worthwhile avocation. Has always been a leader in civic affairs.

2. Very available. Available daily—seldom out of the city.

3. a. No. b. Yes. c. Could be improved. d. No, but improving; current year better than war years when materials and equipment were not available. e. No; but improving with new equipment. f. Yes. g. No; recreation should improve with new commissioner. h. Yes. i. Yes. j. No.

4. Yes. On public building committee which has to do with all buildings in city; inspects schools every year and suggests new buildings, if necessary.

5. Yes. Feels before this is done careful study should be made as to duties and limitations. Should be elected by Board of Aldermen, not by Mayor. Schools should be entirely separate, as at present.

6. Yes. It would be more efficient.

7. Yes to both A and B. Subjects pertinent to entire city could be discussed.

Charles P. Slocum—Ward 2

1. Interested in welfare of Newton.

2. Most of the time, aside from business.

3. a. Yes. b. Yes. c. Yes. d. Yes. e. Not good during past winter but, with new equipment should be O. K. f. Yes. g. Yes. h. Yes. i. Yes. j. Yes.

4. Yes.

5. Very good idea if you get a good man qualified for job by popular vote.

6. Yes.

7. a. Good idea. b. splendid.

Ernest G. Angevine—Ward 3

1. Because I was asked to do it and felt it my duty to accept.

2. Any time, by appointment.

4. Very much so.

5. Not needed.

6. Yes.

7. a. Very necessary. b. A good idea with reservations.

Kenneth E. Prior—Ward 3

1. Because I am a local citizen, spend all my time in Newton, am most interested in local affairs and welfare of Newton as city in which to live.

2. Practically 24 hours a day, by appointment.

3. a. Yes. b. Yes. c. Yes, except that I think it should be handled by Health Department. d. It is going to be much better with materials now available. e. Yes, with the present new equipment. f. Yes. g. The past, no, but now a new man in charge. h. Yes, comparatively. i. Yes. j. Difficult to say whether results are satisfactory or not, but work being done on it.

4. Yes.

5. Not needed.

6. No.

7. a. Yes. b. Yes.

Franklin K. Hoyt—Ward 4

1. Everyone should do his share in keeping Newton kind of city in which we wish to live.

2. Very much available—by appointment.

3. a. No. b. Yes. c. No. d. No. e. No. f. Yes. g. No. h. Yes. i. Yes. j. Yes.

4. Yes, providing it is accomplished by degrees, and doesn't impair the teaching standards.

5. Yes, but not Plan E.

6. Yes.

7. a. very desirable. b. Yes.

Arthur A. Hunt—Ward 4

1. I did not seek it, they sought me. I never refuse to be of service when needed.

2. At all hours by appointment.

3. a. Not wholly. b. Yes. c. Not wholly. d. They are now improving with new equipment. e. Improving greatly for this coming winter. f. Yes. g. A new commissioner will be better. h. Yes. i. Yes. j. Yes.

4. Yes.

5. If we could be sure of getting the right man it's a good idea.

6. It might not be a bad idea, with reservations.

7. a. Very good idea. b. Yes.

Fred H. Woodward—Ward 4

1. Because I feel that this city has been run by a few and now it is time for the majority to rule, and I want to help.

2. All the time necessary.

3. a. Fair. b. Yes. c. No. d. No. e. No. f. No. g. Yes. h. No. i. No. j. No.

4. Yes, now, not just planning in the future.

5. This may be the solution to our needs but with Plan E.

6. Yes definitely.

7. Very good idea.

Wendell R. Bauckman—Ward 5

1. Ran at request of a group in community, now continuing as a community service until the citizens want some one else.

2. Always available. Telephone listed, and if out, will always call back if message and number are left.

3. a. Making a serious effort to be more efficient and effective than in past. b. Yes. c. Fewer complaints on this in last 6 months than in previous 2 years. d. Yes, city has definite to improve all streets in next 7 years. e. Program which will improve previous years. f. My pet program. Am on tree conservation committee. Improved spraying this year with D.D.T., and many other improvements in forestry. g. Great progress being made. Except for a few areas, I am satisfied. h. New service being added in various places. Good busses in good repair should be used for this. i. $6000 appropriated this year.

4. Definitely.

5. Might be good for Newton, but not with Plan E and P. R.

6. Don't see who will be gained—would need warehouse. Director of Public Works would solve this.

7. Definitely behind this—perhaps endorse rather than propose candidates.

Sidney H. Baylor—Ward 5

1. Public spirited and civic minded.

2. Always available.

3. a. Yes. b. Yes. c. No. d. Yes. e. All possible at present, more equipment coming in. f. Could be improved. g. Can stand lots of improvement. h. No. Old busses, over crowded, not proper service. People should keep aldermen advised. Constant pressure for improvement. i. Yes, but would like compulsory X-rays yearly of every child in Newton schools. j. No, but has to come through district, surrounding cities too.

4. Yes, very much.

5. Opposed to Plan E. Definitely for a city manager.

6. Yes.

7. a. No. b. No.

Julian Anthony—Ward 6

1. Because I'm interested in good government and believe I should do my share about it.

2. Available.

3. a. Reasonably well. b. Yes. c. Yes. d. Yes. e. Yes. f. Don't know. g. No. h. Don't know. i. Yes. j. Don't know.

4. Yes an overall program is very desirable. Although costly in taxes, it must be done.

5. Am very much in favor, but not Plan E, am against P. R.

6. Yes.

7. Don't think it necessary.

Reginald W. P. Brown—Ward 6

1. Has had education and experience to qualify for the job.

2. Fully available.

3. a. Yes. b. Yes. c. Fair. d. No. e. No. f. Yes. g. No. h. No. i. Yes. j. No.

4. Yes.

5. Opposed.

6. No.

7. This would be an excellent plan.

William V. Tripp Jr.—Ward 6

1. Feels a civic responsibility. He thinks the city well run and would like to help keep it that way. Is proud to be associated with the group in public life.

2. At all times, except unforeseen emergencies.

3. a. Yes. b. Yes. c. No. d. No. e. No. f. Yes. g. ? h. ? i. Yes. j. Would approve of improvement all along the line. Recommends ruling ahead of need in road construction, recreation and school programs, within a generous budget.

4. Yes.

5. Yes.

6. Yes provided heads of departments are given full power to make decisions affecting them.

7. a. Yes, provided it is not dominated by any one group. b. Is unnecessary.

Arnold C. Barker—Ward 7

1. As a civic service.

2. At all times except summer vacation.

3. a. No, with reservations. b. Yes. c. Yes. d. Yes. e. No. f. Yes. g. No comment. h. Yes. i. Yes. j. Yes.

4. Definitely. Dr. Anderson and Mr. Gores have excellent plans.

5. Not necessary if we can hold the type of men we now have in office.

6. Not necessary at the moment.

7. a. Newton needs some organization for voters service and information. b. Ward and city committees adequate.

John C. Beale—Ward 7

1. Civic interest.

2. At all times except summer vacation.

3. a. Yes. b. Yes. c. Yes. d. Will investigate. e. Yes. f. Yes, thus far. g. Yes. h. Unknown. i. Yes. j. Yes.

4. Yes wherever needed.

5. Open minded, later experience will determine.

6. Theoretically yes if it would effect economies.

7. a. Favor any group promoting civic interest. b. Would encourage the better type, civic minded instead of politician.

WARD ALDERMEN

James E. Murphy—Ward 1

1. Feels he could be asset to community. Always interested in city affairs—recreation facilities for children—playgrounds and traffic conditions, especially with regard to children.

2. Very, always in the city, with M & B Ry.

3. a. Police force undermanned. b. Yes. c. Less noise, more collections. d. Improved. e. More equipment needed. f. Yes. g. Very much interested in recreation and playground and safety for children. h. Ry. would have to purchase more busses to run more busses. i. Okay. j. Knows nothing about this.

4. Yes but two Highs. Believes in one large central High. May need another building but should be part of present group in Newtonville.

5. No. Present Board of Aldermen doing good job. Would involve salary of around $20,000, to obtain right man. Salary of Mayor should be increased and make it full time job.

6. No. Too much money involved. Would need a new building to house supplies for all departments.

7. a. Yes. b. Needs a good deal of thought.

Arthur S. Scipione—Ward 2

1. Life-long interest in civil and community affairs coupled with interest in good, efficient city government, prompts me to seek public office.

2. My office will be open every day from 8:30 A. M. to 10:00 P. M. to discuss matters affecting citizens of Newton.

3. In general, yes.

4. Old school buildings should be replaced when the economics involved are sound.

5. I favor a full-time executive in Mayor's office and would favor a study into the merits of a city manager.

6. I believe the savings realized would justify the setting up of a central purchasing department.

7. Fine idea, and am wholeheartedly in favor of both.

Wm. H. Seeley, Jr.—Ward 2

1. Knows ward, friends took out papers, urged it. This ward hasn't felt represented, as ward alderman was appointed to fill vacancy, then was reelected.

2. Available at any time—his job takes 6 hours a day, until 2 P. M., 5 days a week, rest of time free for this.

3. a. Very good. b. Very good. c. No, should be done by city. d. Most of city a disgrace. e. Depends on contractor, city should inspect equipment regularly in advance of need, and supervise to see that work is done thoroughly. f. Good job on this. g. In favor of any reasonable improvements. Playground at Horace Mann used to be grassed, was dug up, now not good for small children. i. O. K. j. In favor of any mosquito control—Newton does fairly good job.

4. Yes, I am.

5. Opposed to city manager, too expensive, salaries for councilmen would attract professional politicians instead of people who serve as civic duty. Prefers Mayor.

6. Yes, definitely.

7. Run right, a good idea, but not if it became a machine.

Norman H. S. Vincent—Ward 2

1. Friends think I have qualifications, urged it upon me. Agreed after serious thought.

2. Available easily all the time.

3. a. Yes, reasonably good job. b. Fire insurance rates show it is very good. c. Yes, generally, as far as I know. d. A lot to be done. Good plan in operation. e. Earlier start should be made on snow removal, and especially on sanding, to be ready for busses and morning traffic. f. In favor of this, whatever needs doing. g. Have been slow getting things done in this department. h. Don't know. i. Very excellent department. j. Believe, j. Receiving attention. I know.

4. New schools where needed, not too familiar with whole program.

5. Don't think we need one, at least now.

6. Yes.

7. a. A good idea. b. Not sure about this.

Eugene A. Cronin—Ward 3

1. Has been alderman before. Interested in civic affairs.

2. Every minute of day. Works in West Newton.

3. a. Yes. b. Yes. c. Study to ward city operating own service. d. Not satisfied. e. Have heard bad. f. Definite plan carried out. Round program to combat juvenile delinquency. h. Don't know. i. Eradicate poison ivy. j. Should devise a good plan—better than one now under consideration.

4. Not too familiar.

5. Needs deep study. Might be in 15 years.

6. Certainly do. Tried to bring it up when on Board.

7. Very fine—Potentialities unlimited for good.

Joseph B. Davis—Ward 3

1. Interested in Public Affairs. Induced by aldermen and Tabor. 2. In West Newton all the time. Business there.

3. a. Yes. b. Good. personnel. c. Guide. Need covered wagons. More courtesy. d. Yes. e. Should be done better and cheaper. f. Yes. g. Short of junior playgrounds. h. Doesn't know. i. Yes. Could do with more money. j. In favor of it. Cheesecake Brook should be covered.

4. Yes, when financially able.

5. Yes, trained man.

6. Yes.

7. a. Yes. b. Yes.

William Bensley—Ward 4

1. Want to see representative government in Newton. Ward Alderman should represent his ward and constituents in it as well as city as a whole. Interested in good government. Definitely opposed to "Star Chamber" government.

2. Any and every time. Running to serve Ward 4.

3. a. and b. There is room for considerable improvement. The how and why needs study for particular needs of Newton. c. Should be done by city. d. There is room for much improvement in public services. e. There is room for much improvement in public services. f. Needs immediate attention. Not ¼ enough spraying. g. Improvement going on but can stand lots more. h. Bus for high school students but not grade school students. Bus should be maintained by city itself. Could materially reduce cost of taking child to school. i. Can be considerably improved. j. Yes—but more of it. Adequate parking facilities should be taken care of.

4. Considerable room for improvement in equipment of our present schools.

5. I want to make thorough study before committing myself on plan E with definite regard to City of Newton. Successful in some, very inadequate in others.

6. Yes.

7. a. Large associations impede progress of government by great demands. b. Chance for representative group to propose men. Not generally in favor. In great favor of small improvement associations.

Harold R. Buse—Ward 4

1. On Planning Board, making 1st 5 year survey of income and expenses. Representation for Lower Falls, interested in Boy Scouts, Red Cross, good government. Feels he should give his time as civic service. Member and dir. N.L.F. Imp. Ass'n.

2. A community man, always has been and will be available.

3. a. Fair job, room for improvement. b. Excellent. c. Not a good job, how and why of this to be studied from inside. Much dissatisfaction. d. Must spend as much as possible to repair and construct streets. e. ? f. Should be very active program. g. Supervision over-emphasized. h. Not particularly acquainted with this. i. Good job—little heard in complaint. j. Not doing all that could be done.

4. Interested in providing the best education possible commensurate with what Newton can afford. With 1 or 2 exceptions, for grade schools, see no need of increasing school facilities.

5. No political situation to be cleaned up. Not ready for city manager, but city is big business and needs full time mayor.

6. No, with budget system, dept. head should buy better than purchasing agent.

7. a. No. Strengthen village units and thus get competitive pride. b. Some organization would be created, and perpetuate itself as political org.

Mr. Buse definite on maintaining present assessments and tax rates.

Clyde S. Casady—Ward 5

1. Asked to run by group in Waban who thought him suited because of interest in community, school and civic affairs.

2. Available on any proper need or call, at any time.

3. a. Yes. b. Yes. c. Satisfactory. d. No. 1 job is to repair streets. e. Caught last year with big job and new commissioner. f. Yes. g. Very sympathetic, adult recreation facilities important too. h. i. Yes. j. Something to be done here.

4. Yes, great interest in schools. Dr. Anderson very enlightened. Superior staff.

5. Growth of Newton demands full time administrator, if mayor part time, should have full time deputy.

6. Yes, would be good if not bogged down with red tape.

7. a. Not feasible—local ass'n. best way with coordinating council. b. Not hand-picked candidates.

Lawrence F. Simcock—Ward 5

1. Lifelong citizen, 31 years, attended Newton schools, interested in city gov't. Feels there is unfair representation.

2. Available at any time—is lawyer and has time to devote to this.

3. a. Yes. b. Yes. c. Not satisfactory. Prefer city control. d. Room for improvement. Doing unnecessarily expensive work, neglecting civic beauties and smaller essential jobs. e. Poor job—improvement needed. f. No. Use of DDT would kill two birds with one stone. g. Room for improvement in playgrounds themselves and staff operating. h. Well taken care of—have heard no complaints. i. Good—visiting nurses still doing job. j. Some sort of more absolute pest control definitely needed.

4. Improvement to existing buildings of first and prime importance.

5. Disapprove of city manager for Newton.

6. Yes.

7. Definitely a need, as Newton grows, to cover city with no sectional neglect.

Benjamin C. Grow—Ward 6

Mr. Grow failed to keep an appointment for an interview and made no other date for one, so we have no information.

Helen R. Lesses—Ward 6

1. Interested in government. Feels she can do a good job.

2. At all times.

3. a. No. b. ? c. Improved. d. No. e. No. f. Fair. g. Is limited. h. ? i. Yes. j. No.

4. Yes.

5. In favor of this plan.

6. Yes.

7. Excellent idea.

Stanton J. Ten Broeck—Ward 6

1. Would like to serve community and feels qualified to do so.

2. At all times.

3. a. Yes. b. Yes. c. No. d. No. e. No. f. Yes. g. Could be expanded. h. Yes. i. Yes. j. No.

4. Yes, provided caution is used in spending at the right time.

5. Newton needs a full-time man. Any good man whether Mayor or Manager would be all right.

6. No. Each department should be allowed to function independently.

7. Would favor this plan.

Winfield C. Anderson—Ward 7

1. Was urged to do it as civic duty by friends.

2. At all times, consistent with necessity for earning a living, etc.

3. a. One of the finest. b. One of the finest. c. Very good, but could be more frequent. d. Streets sadly in need of repair. Doing as much as they can. e. No complaint, satisfactory and prompt. f. Lacking in this and in moth control. g. Great need for more and better recreation. h. Important—should be adequate everywhere. i. As far as I know, very efficient, one of the best in the country. j. Something should be done quickly. Can be controlled and should be.

4. I'm not very familiar with it.

5. Requires a lot of thought and study before comment.

6. Yes, I certainly do.

7. Can have repercussions, if public-spirited and well run. O. K., but in wrong hands can be very dangerous from standpoint of proposing candidates.

QUESTIONS FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

1. Why do you seek public office, and why on the School Committee especially?
2. What do you think of the planned school building program now under consideration?
3. What do you think of the adult education program to be expanded this fall to the local schools?
4. Do you think a course on current events, or one on good citizenship, would be a desirable addition to those proposed?
5. Do you feel satisfied that Newton School children are early and adequately grounded in the fundamentals, such as grammar, spelling, writing, arithmetic and good study habits?
6. Have you any opinion as to why a large number of people in Newton, aside from the obvious cases where there is a special problem, send their children to private schools, and why students who were doing acceptable work here often lose a grade in the transfer?

THE ANSWERS

Francis P. Frazier—Ward 1

1. To be of more service to my neighbor. Education has been my life work and study. Feel that I may be more useful in that particular field.

2. Present building program shows systematic planning of an expert, Dr. Anderson. Apparent lack of tangible results is not occasioned by planning, but rather in bringing plans to fruition.

3. Every modern system should have forward looking program of adult education. Cultural, as well as trade courses, should be included.

4. Greater stress should be put on early and adequately grounded study in the fundamentals. Without a firm foundation later study is most difficult and discouraging.

5. Religious reasons, social reasons, smaller classes. Would like to know actual number.

Wm. B. Baker, Jr.—Ward 2

1. Need representatives of the educational field on this committee, also need younger people in public office. Feel qualified because I teach myself, Tufts College Faculty, Eng. Dept. Life-long resident of Newton, so very interested in Newton, especially schools.

2. In favor of meeting the needs of the city. Need for another Junior High School. Pierce School and Bldg. 1 of High School inadequate. In favor of Dr. Anderson's $4,000,000 plan to bring school plant to proper state of efficiency. Favor more adequate gymnasium facilities where needed.

3. In favor of it—don't know much about it.

4. Yes, generally, but system of marking not descriptive enough—hard to solve this, but old A, B, C, D seems better than present methods in elementary schools.

5. Don't want to go into this. College entrance requirements now a large factor.

James J. Cahill—Ward 2

1. Educated in Newton—interested because of own education here. See need for better grammar schools.

2. Very much in favor of it.

3. Courses such as salesmanship, etc., on too low a level for practical purposes. Courses on Radar and Atomic should be added. Very desirable.

4. Visited schools in South, West and Japan—our school curriculum is best.

5. Thought Newton students were ahead on transfer to other schools.

George B. Rowlings—Ward 2

1. Duty of every citizen to do some civic service in community, according to ability. Studied to be teacher—has three children.

2. Very much in favor of it. Present plant bad, not safe, should be replaced as soon as possible. Density of population and poor geographical locations make it important to carry out this plan.

3. Excellent—can't accommodate all who want to attend. Many adults with no particular skill who want to acquire one.

4. There is citizenship course—good teacher necessary.

5. Yes, from own observation, room for improvement. Would like more geography and history. Opposed to dead languages.

6. Doubts that it is a large number. Some reasons, religion—better training in small groups, etc., no reflection on public schools,

BOSTON

Coleman's Newton Branch, 400 Centre Street, Newton Corner, faces the Newton R. R. Station. Ample parking facilities in front and rear of store.

AN OLD FAMILIAR landmark is Coleman Supply Company on the corner of Portland and Sudbury streets, Boston, Mass., featuring one of the first plumbing and heating supply houses in New England. Since 1894 Coleman Supply Company has always been a leader in their field. Hardware, Paints, Stoves, Housewares and Refrigerators have also been among the major departments at Coleman Supply Company.

Coleman Supply Company is the place where your grandmother might have bought that old black stove which still bakes the greatest cake ever made, and changes from an old black soapstone sink to a gleaming new white one. Merchandising items manufactured by old reliable concerns has been one of the contributing factors towards Coleman Supply Company's popularity. An item must be nationally known to reach the sales floor.

A cross-section of the stove, major appliances and radio department at Coleman's Newton Branch Store.

Newton Branch

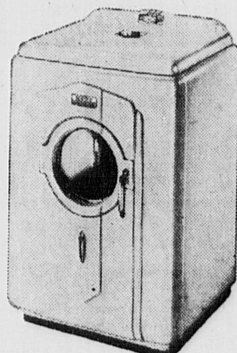

The latest step in Coleman Supply Company's expansion program is the opening of a branch store at Newton Corner, Mass., on October 25. This store will be one of the most modern and beautiful showrooms, and supply houses in the New England area. Emphasis has been placed on color schemes and unique floor lay-outs to add to the customer's shopping enjoyment. Featured there will be a tiled complete kitchen, and two complete bathroom ensembles, a center display of stoves and major appliances, a complete wall display of radios, a modern up to date paint and wallpaper department. Unlike most plumbing and hardware stores there will be no floor counter displays as stocked goods will be stored in a stockroom at the rear of the store back of archways. The atmosphere as a whole will be most conducive to buying. Stockroom goods, however, will be sampled at the rear of the store. Personnel at this branch as in the main Boston store are thoroughly trained in their respective departments to help others in their buying, building, and remodeling problems. A kitchen planning has been inaugurated whereby trained men will call at homes upon request without any obligation. By means of a complete advertising program the consumer will be kept aware of all the latest types of merchandise. A varied and interesting program will be in effect during the opening week and thereafter for orientations in latest building materials and new merchandise. Prizes and premiums will be awarded to visitors during opening week.

NEWTON IN THE PAST

From the Files of The Newton Graphic

55 Years Ago, October 21, 1892
NEWTON: The Eliot Church clock was shrouded in darkness Saturday and Sunday evenings and it was impossible to tell the time. The difficulty was with the electric lighting fixtures and as a consequence the dials were not illuminated.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS: A party of gentlemen while out on horseback riding early Tuesday morning met with an accident, passing through here opposite Mr. Lyons' residence, one of the horses became frightened by a milk train and kicked another horse mounted by another party, in such a manner as to break the joint of the left leg. Officer Mitchell was called to shoot the animal to relieve it from suffering.

WEST NEWTON: Miss Farmer, teacher and demonstrator at the Boston Cooking School delivered a lecture in Odd Fellows Hall yesterday afternoon. Her subject was desserts.

ADV. LADIES AND GENTS BOOTS: Made to fit any shaped foot, stylish in your wish or neat, plain and comfortable if desired. If your feet trouble you try a pair of boots made on my new natural last, and don't suffer any longer. A full line of Ladies, Gents, and Children's Shoes and Rubbers kept on hand at bottom prices.

A. L. RHYND, 265 Washington Street, Newton.

WABAN: The exterior woodwork of the station has received a new coat of varnish.

50 Years Ago, October 22, 1897
NEWTON: Clothesline thieves made another raid on the Nonantum district Tuesday evening, stripping the line in the yard of John O'Reilly on Middle Street of clothing valued at $25.

WEST NEWTON: The paint shop of James Bailey on Watertown street was entered some time Tuesday evening through an unfastened side window, and 30 gallons of oil was stolen.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS: The Concord Street division of the sewer was completed this week and work probably will be started on Grove street at once. It is thought that the street will be entirely closed to teams, but not for long, as work will be pushed through in about four weeks.

NONANTUM: Eddie Mague, six years old, and residing in Bemis, was the victim of an electric car accident last Sunday afternoon. In alighting from a car on Pleasant street, he fell and broke his arm. The little fellow was picked up and removed to the hospital.

"No, thank you! I've got some money of my own," said Tommy politely, when the plate was handed to him at church.

—Household Words.

35 Years Ago, October 25, 1912
NEWTONVILLE: Miss Mary Early of Lowell Avenue was a passenger on the car which participated in the accident, yesterday morning in Brighton, in which one man was killed and two badly injured. Miss Early was bruised and injured and taken to the Boston City Hospital for treatment.

NEWTON: The new specialty shop just opened by Mr. William F. Hahn, in Brackett Block on Centre Street, is one of the most attractively fitted stores in the city. Mr. Hahn has spared no expense to make his shop right-up-to-the-minute and the results are most gratifying. Mahogany woodwork, and the most modern glass cases and shelving, serve as a suitable background for his stock in trade.

A LATE FAD
Patch pockets are a feature of the tailor-made skirts; and instead of placing the solitary specimen allowed to each skirt high on the left side, it is rather novel to see it just beneath the frill of the skirt.

WABAN: At a meeting of the members of the Union Church held in the vestry of the church on Tuesday evening, it was the unanimous vote of the meeting that a call be extended to Rev. Charles H. Cutler, D.D., recently pastor of the First Church, Bangor, Maine, to become pastor of the Union Church in Waban.

Miss Constance Cleveland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Cleveland of 27 Whitney Road, Newtonville, will play piano selections at a college musicale at Briarcliff Junior College, Briarcliff Manor, New York. Miss Cleveland is a member of the senior class and is president of the chorus.

The program will be given in the Music Studio on Friday evening, October, 1947.

Adds 4th Registered Druggist to Staff

Mr. Carl H. Alvord of Hahn's Drug store, Newton Centre, is pleased to announce that Mr. Vernon Parmenter of Natick has recently joined the staff of the store. Mr. Parmenter has had wide experience in the drug business and is an excellent prescription man. His addition to the staff means that Hahn's now has four Registered Pharmacists including Carl H. Alvord, Albert Hahn and Edgar L. Ulrich.

Salvation Army Drive in Final Week

The drive for the Salvation Army's Greater Boston Appeal for $500,000 winds up next week and Mrs. Louis F. Billings, Executive Secretary of the Newton Division, said that if the present pace is maintained the local quota will be met and, with additional effort, might even be exceeded.

Though complete figures are unavailable, Mrs. Billings reports that at a buffet supper at her home last Sunday evening the returns of the Newton Centre workers were most satisfactory. "And," added Mrs. Billings, "if other villages are equally successful in their efforts, the entire Newton Division can look back on a job well done."

Hard as work is a new group of business district volunteers, covering the retail sections of Newtonville and Newton Lower Falls under the Chairmanship of Constantin Lupo. His committee includes John Cahill, Robert Joyce, Charles Scipione and Edward Weidig.

Another committee functioning effectively among industrial plants is headed by Richmond F. Bancroft, Pres. Vernors Ginger Ale Co. Assisting him are John McLean and Henry Bryant of the same firm, Murray E. Sholkens, of Beacon Plastics, and A. L. Young, of the Vanta Co.

Mrs. Billings stated that the co-operation of volunteers has been most gratifying and that the willingness of men and women in every village to give their time and effort freely to the Salvation Army's Appeal, demonstrates again that Newton neighbors are civic-minded and will always work unselfishly to "put over" any project of interest to the entire community.

a waiver of the setback line provision to allow the construction of a house on 61 Warren road, Ward 5, Ferdinand C. Williams was given a permit to increase the number of patients in the convalescent home at 618 Centre street, Newton, from 10 to 13.

An abatement of a sidewalk assessment was allowed Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Coleman on Islington road, Auburndale, since no sidewalks were built in front of their property.

It was announced that a hearing will be held by the Department of Public Utilities in Room 166 of the State House on Monday, October 27, at 10:30 a.m. on the petition of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Co. for a certificate of operation of school buses on Walnut, Cabot, Franklin, Vernon streets, Waverley avenue, Arlington street, to the corner of Arlington and Park streets.

The Public Works Committee assigned November 10 for a hearing on a drain and sewer in an unnamed street, from California street, northeasterly.

Champagne Junior H.S. Assemblies Open Nov. 7

"Mr. Champagne's Junior High School Assemblies open at the Neighborhood Club, West Newton, on Friday evening, November 7th, for a series of eight evenings. The remaining dates are, Nov. 29, Dec. 13, 23, Jan. 17, Feb. 7, 28, and March 13, and the hours are from eight until ten o'clock.

His Children's Dancing Classes at the West Newton Neighborhood Club begin on Thursday afternoon, October 23rd, for a series of eighteen Thursdays. There will be two groups—the 4th and 5th graders from 4:50 o'clock, and the 6th and 7th grade children from 5:50 o'clock.

The patronesses for both of these events include Mrs. Ernest G. Angevine, Mrs. D. Hardwick Bigelow, Mrs. Frederick H. Caswell, Mrs. Richard B. Cattell, Mrs. Basil F. Hawkins, Mrs. Edgar Holmes, Mrs. Egon E. Kattwinkel, Mrs. Jay Alex Lane, Jr., Mrs. Robert R. Linton, Mrs. Payson T. Lowell, Jr., Mrs. Richard F. Morse, Mrs. Edward W. Pierce, 2nd, Mrs. Charles W. Spencer, Mrs. W. F. Taylor, Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr., and Mrs. T. S. Williams."

ary of the Mayor of Newton. I also realized that a pledge to full time included many nights as well as every work day.

With full knowledge of these facts and what they entailed, my decision was made.

I am not in accord with the overwhelming vote of our Board of Aldermen in voting a yearly salary of nine thousand ($9000) dollars for the forthcoming Mayor of Newton. This arbitrary action on their part has created a political plum, for which politically minded individuals will strive in no uncertain way. Also, it will have a devastating effect on the now low morale of our city employees, who could use a fatter pay envelope in these days of almost prohibitive costs.

If elected Mayor, I will not expect nor accept one dollar more than the five thousand ($5000) dollar salary in effect when I made my decision to enter the mayoralty contest.

Roy S. Edwards.

Newton churches of the needs of the Campaign for 1948. Card signs have been placed throughout the city in store windows, collars are now on electric light and telegraph poles in all the village centers, and the large "thermometer" feathers have been placed in each of the villages to show the percentages of goal reached throughout the Campaign period.

Twenty-one thousand copies of a special supplement of the Newton Graphic containing all of the Community Fund and Community Chest stories, and information, were turned out in advance, and these supplements have been delivered or are being delivered house to house throughout the city by the Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts.

One of the publicity features of the Campaign this year is a program of window displays devoted entirely to the Campaign and Red Feather Agencies. These special displays are now appearing or will appear in the windows of the following stores: Auburn-dale—Newton's and vacant store, corner of Auburn and Legington streets; Newton—Renne's Moore & Moore, Hubbards Drug Co. and Barnett's Fabric Store; Newton Centre—Russo's Hair Stylists, Newton's, Ross Modes, Mandell's, Bond's and R. H. Stearns; Newton Highlands—White Rabbit any one connected with Newton's Government during this period. "Monday night, under the pressure of this campaign, the 'Mountain moved', and the Board of Aldermen voted to accept the State Housing Law. This, however, is only a preliminary step. It merely permits the City of Newton to do certain things. Much remains to be done before the actual building becomes a reality.

"Let's stop the unseemly arguments as to who is or was responsible for the delay. Talk cannot alter the record one bit. LET'S GET TOGETHER AND BUILD!"

Gift Shop: Newton Lower Falls—Gift Shop; Newtonville—Mandell's, Star Market, Newtonville Flower Shop and O'Meara's Market; Waban—Careswell Sweet Shop; West Newton—Marty's Flower Shop, Everett's Shop, Barron's, and First National Store.

The Educational Committee, Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, Chairman, is responsible for these fine window displays, and the merchants who have sponsored them are to be thanked for their splendid co-operation. Friends of the Chest are asked to look for these displays and if opportunity presents, to comment upon them to the merchants or employees.

W. N. Community Center Adds 4 to Board of Trustees

The first meeting of the Board of Directors of the West Newton Community Center (a Newton Red Feather Service) was held on Tuesday, October 7 at the Portable Club House of Davis School, West Newton. Registration is open for children and adults for clubs and classes, and a busy year is anticipated.

The Director, Mrs. William H. Cate, reported on the joint summer program with the Rebecca Pomroy House. Due to lack of a camp site, swimming lessons and recreation were held at Walden Pond, and excursions were made to Concord, while class work was held at The Rebecca Pomroy House.

Four new members have been elected to the Board of Directors—Mrs. Edward B. Gray, Mrs. Donald M. Mulrhead, Mr. Richard H. Brown, and Mr. Archibald G. Barron.

Mayoral Candidates To Speak at Rallies Next Wed., Thurs.

Two rallies sponsored by the Lockwood for Mayor Committee will be held next week on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. These rallies will present all three candidates for Mayor, each will have an opportunity to speak and a discussion of their platforms will follow. The public is invited to attend either or both of these rallies.

On Wednesday evening, October 29th, the rally will be held at the F. A. Day Junior High School in Newtonville at 8 p.m. and the meeting will be conducted by Mr. Carl Schipper acting as Chairman.

On Thursday evening the rally will be at the Emerson School in Newton Upper Falls at 8 p.m. and Mr. Howard Whitmore, Jr. will preside.

Finances—

standing job the City Government had done on finance.

Whereas Mr. Edwards had stated the City surplus as $350,000 at a recent meeting, the true figure was a multiple of that amount, and Mr. Lockwood pointed out that notwithstanding the growth of expenditures from $4,000,000 in 1928 to $8,000,000 in 1947, and many capital outlays, the City debt had been reduced about $1,500,000 since 1939. All this was done with maintenance of low tax rate, no general expansion of valuations, and with a large surplus.

Plan World War II Memorial at Central Church

Plans for a World War II Memorial Fund have been drawn in the form of a resolution by a committee of the Central Congregational Church. The fund will honor more than 230 men and women of the parish who served in World War II and the memory of the 10 young men who lost their lives in that war.

The people of the church believe that these men and women will be honored best by service rendered to the cause of justice and brotherhood, and that one of the most vital aspects of such service is the education of young people in the spirit and practice of the Christian way of life, the committee stated.

The plans outlined by the committee are as follows:

First, that a fund be raised by popular subscription to be known as the Second World War Service Memorial Fund;

Second, that the raising of this fund be carried on by a committee of 15 to be elected by the Standing Committee;

Third, that the income of the fund be used for Central Church's program of Christian education for children and youth in such ways as shall be voted each year at the annual meeting of the church upon recommendation of the Committee on Religious Education, and if, in the process of time, it becomes apparent that some other use of the income of the fund, or of the fund itself, will better serve the purpose for which it was established, a change may be effected in accordance with the constitution and by-laws of the Church.

Fourth, that the remainder of the fund be invested by the Finance Committee with the advice of the Advisory Investment Committee.

Robert L. Monroe is chairman of the committee, assisted by the following: Mrs. Winslow C. Auryansen, Kenneth A. Bernard, Mrs. Carl P. Birmingham, Ralph Brown, E. Lawrence Chamberlain, Ralph W. Conant, Mrs. Franklin G. Field, Leighton G. Harris, Charles H. Mergendahl, Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill, Mrs. Robert L. Monroe, Walter P. Phillips, C. Carl Strong, Mrs. Cauncey W. Waldron, and Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, minister of the church and Wallace M. Ross, moderator, members, ex-officio.

plus. Lockwood reiterated that the City did not experience a financial shortage in connection with street department operations.

The City of Newton continues its prime reputation for financial soundness and excellent management, notwithstanding efforts of political opponents to attack the excellent records of those responsible, Lockwood asserted.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen From The Newton League of Women Voters

EQUAL PAY QUESTION

The League of Women Voters has always supported the principle of equal compensation for equal work, irrespective of sex, and has worked diligently for the passage of equal pay laws; but it has also worked an equally important goal, the support of such measures as are designed to raise the standards of public education. With rising school costs, and the necessity of an immediate start on the School Building Program in Newton, we must be guided by the consideration of whether or not Equal Pay will help to raise the standards of public education in our community.

On November 4th, you will be asked to vote on the following question:

"Shall an act, passed by the General Court of Massachusetts in the year 1945, entitled 'An act relative to equal pay for men and women teachers' be in force in this city?"

The main issue is:
1. Shall men and women teachers be equally compensated for equal work?
2. Will equal pay raise the standards of public education in Newton?

Let us review the facts:
1. There is a $400.00 differential in maximum pay between men and women teachers in Newton, and below the maximum the difference is $200.00.
2. A married man with a family is held legally responsible for that family's support.

b. A single woman with dependents is not held legally responsible for the support of those dependents.

3. a. A man is not attracted to teaching as easily as a woman, for there are other professions in which he may be more financially successful, for example, the medical, dental, law, engineering, etc.

b. Teaching is the most lucrative and secure profession for women today. Newton pays women teachers well.

4. Our schools need capable men as well as women.

a. Ten good women teachers are available for a job where but one good man is available.

5. Should Equal Pay be passed in Newton, and the present salary level maintained, it would become necessary to increase the school budget approximately $150,000.00.

6. $150,000.00 increase in the school budget would raise the tax rate approximately $1.00 per $1,000.00 valuation. This increase in the tax rate would be for education alone. COULD NOT $150,000.00 BE BETTER USED TO RAISE THE STANDARDS OF PUBLIC EDUCATION IN NEWTON?

7. Towns and cities such as Belmont, Winchester, Lexington, Wellesley and Haverhill have voted "NO" on Equal Pay.

8. The Newton Teachers Federation is NOT backing Equal Pay for men and women teachers.

S. S. von Loesecke Named President of Taxpayers' Assoc.

Sidney S. von Loesecke of 16 Chestnut Terrace, Newton Centre was elected President of the Newton Taxpayers' Association at the Annual Business Meeting Tuesday evening.

Marshall B. Dalton, Wendell R. K. Mick, and Harry S. Middendorf were elected Vice-Presidents and the other officers elected were Roland F. Gammons, Treasurer and Ernst M. Parsons, Clerk.

Six new Directors were added to the board. They are: William F. Chase, 34 Temple St., West Newton, Hugh Harwood, 96 Waban Ave., Waban, August C. Klein, 21 Gray Cliff Rd., Newton Centre, Mrs. Endicott P. Saltonstall, 245 Chestnut Hill Rd., Chestnut Hill, Carl F. Schipper, Jr., 47 Trowbridge Ave., Newtonville, and George Sherman, 125 Woodchester Drive, Chestnut Hill.

The program for the year was discussed and Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Executive Secretary reported on the New York conference of the Governmental Research Association.

Former Minister at Methodist Church Celebration

The Newton Methodist Church celebrated the Golden Anniversary of the dedication of its present structure on Friday evening, October 17 with nine 50-year members of the church and four of its former ministers as guests. A dinner attended by 175 persons was preceded by a reception in the Sanctuary.

The history of the church, which was founded in 1864, was presented by Mr. Eldred M. Peterson, toastmaster. Selections by the choir, under the direction of Robert L. Gerling, tenor with Mrs. Dorothy A. Sprague at the piano, included "In a Monastery Garden," "Surrey with the Fringe on Top," and "On What a Beautiful Morning."

The former ministers present were Rev. Harry B. Hill of the Center Methodist Church, Malden; Rev. William Gunter, of the Old South Church, Reading; Rev. Charles T. Allen of the Westfield Methodist Church, and Dr. John Walker, former interim minister. Bishop Lewis O. Hartman of the Boston area, Bishop Charles W. Bashares of Iowa, and Dist. Supt. Willard were also guests.

Greetings were read from other former ministers who were unable to be present.

On Sunday morning at the 10:45 service the observance was continued with District Superintendent Arnold officiating. The sermon was by Bishop Charles W. Bashares.

Rotary Club

Introduced by Elwood Drake at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn, Robert M. Edgar, Assistant to the President of the Boston and Maine Railroad spoke on "Railroads Today."

"The first railroad," he stated, "went through Newton in 1835. In 1833 the Boston and Lowell line was opened. Now in this country there are 226,000 miles of railroad, of which through bond issues 25 per cent is owned by life insurance companies; 50 per cent by banks, educational institutions, and endowed institutions, and the balance by scattered interests. The investment is 22 and one half billion dollars.

The employees have more substantial wage increases than any other industry. The average pay is $3000 with proposed increases to $3400. A Diesel engineer gets $6500. They have a retirement of 5 and three quarter per cent deducted and the company matches it."

Mr. Edgar pointed out the strong unionization of railroad workers. He implied that through their activity they have managed to secure far higher social security benefits than is the average among our nation's industries. He also implied that it is time that management staged a counter offensive against what he might consider the exorbitant demand of unions, so that a program more equal and just for both sides may be forthcoming. He expressed a hope that Congress this coming year would do much to rectify the present situation.

Miss Edna May Plass of 47 Forest Street, has resumed her studies at Lincoln School, Providence, Rhode Island.

Interesting Personalities at Celebrity Breakfast

Two more interesting personalities to be added to the list of honor guests for the Fourth Celebrity Breakfast on November 8 at the Newton Centre Woman's Club have just been announced by Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, Chairman. Dr. Emily Greene Balch, Nobel Peace Prize winner, and author of several books on this subject which has been her life interest will be present. Mrs. Be Vandergroen, author of a recently published book, "In Cobblestone Lane," a charming story of Christmas in Holland, beautifully illustrated by the author's daughter will also attend.

Mrs. Herbert J. Ham, Chairman of Music of the Club, is cooperating with the Committee and has arranged to have a trio lead the assembly in singing, "An Old Melody of the Netherlands," called "We Gather together," composer unknown. Members of the Music Committee assisting are Mrs. C. Hassler Capron, soprano, and Mrs. Edward A. Estaver, violin, accompanied by Mrs. Ham at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Kersting and children spent a recent week end at Provincetown where they closed their cottage "The Auburndale" on Pilgrim Beach.

Emerson P.T.A. To Hold Hallo'een Party

The Emerson School P.T.A. of Newton Upper Falls with Robert McLaughlin as Coordinator, is planning a program for Hallo'ween. For the past six years a group of civic-minded persons have given a party on Halloween to the children of Upper Falls. This is the first year that the P.T.A. have taken over the job. The program is outlined as follows:

1. A costume parade from the playgrounds on Chestnut Street up to the Emerson School.
2. March through the Ghost Walk, this walk will be made as weird and creepy as possible.
3. Movies in the auditorium. Hop-a-long Cassidy - Comedy short-Sport short.
4. Games in each room with the parents from P.T.A. acting as hosts and hostesses under the personal direction of Mrs. Sawyer of the Recreation Dept.
5. Dancing for the Junior High School Group.
6. Refreshments for everyone.
7. During the dancing Mrs. Marjorie Sprague will tell fortunes.

The members of the Committee are: Mr. Robert McLaughlin, Mr. Joseph Randall, Mr. Stephen Bennett, Mr. Kenneth Newcomb, Mr. Thomas Webber, Mr. Thomas Kenney, Mrs. George Seery, Mrs. Edward Roberts, Mrs. G. Louis Marcy, Miss Katherine Murphy.

On Tuesday night there was a meeting of the Committee in the Emerson School and final details were ironed out. The party will start at 6:30 p. m. and will finish at 11:00 p. m. About 400 are expected to attend. The children will be composed of the Kindergarten, Elementary School, and Junior High School pupils. A four-piece orchestra will provide music for dancing.

Speech Instruction At Newton H. School

In an endeavor to help students "express themselves effectively" a new program of speech instruction has been organized at Newton High School under the direction of the Department of English.

Designed to aid the students in evaluation their own worth and to help them start self-improvement, the program will include interpretive reading, extemporaneous speaking, memory passages and panel discussions. In the English course of study oral work will be included every seven weeks. The students taking the oral program will study in the speech hall under the direction of teachers especially trained for speech work. The completion of the oral work will be done in the regular English class. Emphasis will be placed on training of voices and on organization matter.

In addition, many of the pupils will have voice recordings made to enable them to hear their speech faults and a speech clinic will help the individual with his problems. A record of the pupil's speech habits during the high school years will be kept in the form of a Speech Card in the student's personal folder.

The program was outlined by a committee headed by Harry V. Anderson, chairman, and Mrs. Jean Wiens, Miss Helen Lee, and Henry Bissex.

PTA Meeting Held At Franklin School

Well over 200 parents attended the first P.T.A. meeting Tuesday evening, October 14th at the Franklin School. The new officers of the Executive Board of Directors for the year were installed; Mrs. Newell B. Goldberg, Pres., Mr. Arthur Connelly, Vice Pres., Miss Mabel Smith, Sec'y., Mrs. Millard Merryman, Recording Sec'y., and Mr. Paul Mahoney, Treas. Ways and Means Committee: Mrs. Francis J. Quinn, Educational Committee: Mrs. Lewis Alfred, Publicity: Mr. William Chute, Program: Mrs. Thaddeus Roman, Membership: Mrs. William B. Spiel, Hospitality: Mrs. Nathan Kaplan, Refreshment: Mrs. Stanton Barclay, Special Halloween Committee: Mr. William Chute and Mr. Olaf Helgesen. Honorary members: Mr. Elmer Ellsworth, Principal of the Franklin School and Mr. Alfred Guzzi, past president of the P.T.A.

Reports of the committees were read and approved and after the business meeting Mr. Bradford Blake played the piano accompaniment for his youngest son Bruce who gave several selections on the cornet. Mr. Blake's son, Wayne played the drums, violin, and Mr. William Clement, piano.

Mrs. Thaddeus Roman introduced the guest speaker, Mr. T. J. Murphy of the News-Tribune whose subject was "An Editor's Look at Education." After Mr. Murphy's talk refreshments were served by Mrs. Stanton Barclay and her committee. As the attendance was unusually large her efforts and those of Mrs. Kaplan and Mrs. Spiel were greatly appreciated. Mr. Mahoney collected dues and the Enrollment Period 167 took the opportunity to enroll for the 1947-48 season. Door prizes were won by Mr. Woodland and Mrs. Di Stephan.

Miss Lewis Tours Europe in Jeep

Miss Pauline "Polly" Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lewis of 38 Brookdale Road, Newtonville, is expected home sometime in November after having spent the past summer and fall jeeping around Europe in company with Miss Sally Peck of Derby, Connecticut.

Shortly after her graduation from Smith in 1945 Miss Lewis went to Europe with the American Red Cross as a Staff Assistant. For over a year and a half she was stationed in various Red Cross Clubs in southern France. Then last fall she was transferred to Salzburg, Austria and later to Munich. At Munich she became a Senior Staff Assistant and was made Dramatic Specialist in charge of initiating and directing skits and shows for five Red Cross Clubs in that area. Using her training as a "Theater Major" in college and her previous experience directing plays in Amherst and elsewhere, she organized the Munich Players, using both military and civilian personnel in the production of several revues in the American area. When the Red Cross was taken over by the Special Services of the United States Army, Miss Lewis and Miss Peck resigned, purchased a jeep, and started in the general direction of home, but

F. A. Day Junior High 'News of the Day'

The regular Wednesday assembly gave the ninth grade candidates an opportunity to speak to the school and urge their classmates to vote at the noon election. Stephen Holmes, the student chairman, introduced each speaker. The candidates for president were David Harber and Leonard Hayes, for vice president Murray Helfant and Lois Paterson, for secretary Leon Martel and Rita Farina, and for treasurer Chalon Carnahan, Catherine Proia and George Thornton. After a spirited election under the direction of Mr. Read and members of the Student Council four boys emerged victorious. The officers are: President David Harber, vice president Murray Helfant, Secretary Leon Martel, and Treasurer Chalon Carnahan.

There was a special assembly on Friday in connection with fire prevention. Mr. E. W. Williams of the United Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Boston and former assistant fire chief of Lynn presented a varied program showing the dangers which can be avoided in the home by simple precautions. His demonstrations were clear and to the point and many pupils left the hall with practical information on fire safety. Leonard Hayes was assembly chairman.

A five game football schedule opens next Friday with a game at Bigelow. On successive Fridays Day will play Warren at Bigelow, Warren at Warren, Warren at Warren, Warren at Warren, and Warren at Warren. We will have two squads and no one position has been definitely decided as yet due to the two team plan, a light one and a heavy one. Tenseness grows as we approach our game with Bigelow Junior High School. Our boys are physically fit for the game with the exception of a few bruises which will have disappeared by game time. The squad contains the following backs: Leo, Ruffo, Colella, Elkins, Dangel, DiPasquale, Bibbo, Studley, Warren; ends Carew, Rowings, Shaw, Carnahan, Nordheim, Girro; tackles, Nazzaro, Sullivan, Mastromattei, Hayes, Celluci, Bondi; guards, Luciano, Keefe, Gilligan, Houseman, Buddington; centers, Crosby, Bryson, and Howlett.

Shipments of food and clothing are still going over to Europe from Day. Room 13 has sent six parcels to Greece and Italy. Room 29 has one ready to go to Poland. Room 24 is sending things to a school in Greece where the aunt of one of the room members is a teacher, and Room 18 has two parcels for Greece, one for a private family and one for the school.

not as the crow would fly. After a tour which took them through the Brenner Pass to Treleste and down to Rome, then back to the Riviera, Marseille and Paris, they left the jeep and flew to Edinburgh to attend some of the performances of the International Dramatic and Music Festival. Some time was spent touring the Lake region of Scotland, then a quick trip to England. Back in Paris they picked up their jeep and went to Belgium where they hope to secure passage home early in November.

Concert Assembly at Newton High School

The Zimble Sinfonietta, composed of twelve Boston Symphony Orchestra members, presented the first in a series of chamber music concerts for Newton High School students at the Wednesday Assembly, October 15, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. E. Fischel and an anonymous donor. The Junior Class and all members of the music classes and musical organizations of the high school were present at the assembly. The program was skillfully arranged, presenting the familiar Emperor Variations by Josef Haydn, followed by the Concerto in D minor for two Solo Violins by Bach, with Messrs. Kornsand and Dubbs as soloists. The last number on the program, Jazz Pizzicato by Leroy Anderson, brought out the versatility of the musicians as they plunged into the modern idiom understandable to everyone. Good concert manners were evident throughout the entire program. John Lucier, President of the Junior Class, acted as chairman. Mr. Josef Zimble started these concerts four years ago as an educational experiment to give young people an opportunity to hear the best music in the classroom of public schools. He has financed them through the generosity of individual citizens of this community and others outside the community who are interested in the project. Over the four year period the listening habits and appreciation of good music has increased considerably because of these concerts.

Condensed Home Nursing Course at Red Cross Chapter

Mrs. Chester M. Alter, chairman of Home Nursing for the Newton Red Cross Chapter, announces the condensed Home Nursing Course, "Mother and Baby Care and Family Health", to be held at the Chapter House, 21 Foster Street, Newtonville, will be completed in three weeks. Students who attend all six lessons will receive a Home Nursing Certificate.

This is an excellent opportunity for prospective parents and grandparents to learn the fine points of baby care as well as how to prepare for the new baby. To enroll for this course or for further information, phone Lasell 6000.

Capt. and Mrs. Graf Enroute to Europe

Captain and Mrs. Howard P. Graf, the former Ethel Eleanor Wales, niece of Mr. Fred Wales of 201 Auburn street, Auburn, stopped for a few days recently at the Food Service School, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, while on their way to Europe.

This will be the second trip to Europe for both of them, as the captain was on troop duty there for 29 months, and Mrs. Graf, former WAC Captain Wales, was in food service work in ETO for 12 months.

At Fort Sam Houston, Captain Graf has been for the past 1 1/2 years Commandant and Assistant Commandant of Food Service School, Fourth Army. The new assignment is to the staff of Food Service Supervisor in American-occupied Germany.

Sacred Heart Men's Club to Hold Barn Dance

The Men's Club of the Sacred Heart Parish are planning a Barn Dance to be held on November 11, Armistice Day. It promises to be a gala affair with exceptionally good musicians and caller. Farm costumes will be compulsory. Mr. James McGovern is the Committee Chairman.

The Eliot Men's Club

The first meeting of the 1947-48 season of the Eliot Men's Club was held at the Eliot Church on Monday evening, October 20 at 7:45.

The guest speaker was Dr. Bhaskar Hivale, professor at the University of Bombay, who received his degree from Harvard. His subject was "And Now India." Dr. Hivale who left India as recently as September 15, spoke from firsthand experience of the world changing events which are taking place in India, and are of direct concern to us.

A number of organ solos were given on the new Ellison Memorial Organ by Mr. Samuel Walter, Director of Music at Eliot Church.

The first bridge of the Eliot Men's Club will be held Thursday evening, November 6 at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that everyone who enjoys bridge will come, whether members or non-members. There will be prizes and refreshments. Players may progress or play at a single table. Tickets may be secured from Dr. Edwin P. Leonard, Jr., chairman, Mr. Kenneth Canfield or at the church office.

At the November meeting of the Club on November 17, Mr. Alex R. Miller, new secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A. will be the guest speaker.

Bell Ringers Concert in Allston

The famous Wollaston singers and Quincy bell ringers are giving a concert in the Brighton Baptist church on the corner of Cambridge street and Garden street in Allston on Tuesday, Oct. 28 at 8:15 p.m. A treat is in store for all music lovers. Don't miss it!

Open House at All Newton Music School

Fall flowers, fruit, and vegetables will furnish the motif and give warm color to the decorations used at the "Open House" to be held from 3 to 6 on Sunday afternoon, October 26, at the All Newton Music School in Newtonville.

Hosts for the afternoon include Winslow H. Adams, Ernest G. Angevine, Frank A. Day Jr., G. Herbert Marcy, Loomis Patrick, James H. Remley, and Howard Whitmore Jr.

Mrs. Harold D. Jobs will preside in the tea-room with the following members of the board of trustees serving as pourers: Miss Mabel T. Eager, Miss Elizabeth Fyffe, Mrs. George N. Abbott, Mrs. Ray A. Eusden, Mrs. Harry P. Forte, Mrs. A. Philip Guiles, Mrs. Durham Jones, Mrs. Eugene Lebert, Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, Mrs. Donald Smith.

Mrs. Ralph Hall, vice-chairman of the Mothers' Auxiliary will have charge of the tea, and Miss Emma Menge of the ladies serving. Among these will be Mrs. Julian Anthony, Mrs. George Hellerman, Mrs. Harold Hood, Mrs. Richard Lee, Mrs. Paul Pierce and Mrs. R. Casper Swaney.

Members of the staff and faculty will assist in helping parents and guests to feel at home and will be glad to act as guides to any who might like to see the building.

Miss Irene Forte and Mrs. Mary L. Scipione will conduct the music which will be performed during the afternoon by both senior and junior orchestras.

"Open House" at the Music School means a friendly gathering of friends, neighbors, parents, trustees, students, teachers, and staff. All these groups form one big family working together to help bring joy and better living into the lives and homes of the community.

Alderman Mattson At Exec. Meeting At Hershey, Pa.

Alderman and Mrs. William R. Mattson of Brookfield road, Newtonville, have just returned from a trip to Hershey, Pennsylvania. While in Hershey, Mr. Mattson attended a meeting of executives and district managers of the American Locker Company of which he is President.

While her husband attended meetings, Mrs. Mattson visited relatives in Philadelphia, New York and Bridgeport. Their daughter Janet who accompanied them to Pennsylvania and continued her trip with a three weeks visit to Georgia and Florida.

Francis Carlson on Staff of Play Group

FRANCIS CARLSON

One of the counselors at the Supervised Play Group being conducted at 315 Winchester street, Newton Highlands, is Mr. Francis Carlson, a senior at the Boston University School of Theology.

Mr. Carlson is a native of Windsor, Connecticut, graduating from the high school in that town in 1935. For seven years following his graduation he was in business, the first year employed in a printing office and for six years with the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Company.

During these years he was active in the Methodist Church circles of his town and district. He was president of the local Epworth League and later the adviser of the group. In addition, he supplied the pulpit on occasion and was granted a Local Preacher's license.

After this experience in business he decided to enter the ministry and enrolled at Boston University, graduating with honors from the College of Liberal Arts in 1945, with election to Phi Beta Kappa.

In the summer of 1946 it was his privilege to serve as a "sea-going cowboy" on a trip to Poland under the auspices of UNRRA. After landing at Gdynia, he enjoyed an excursion of Danzig and the surrounding country. While this trip was brief, he was enabled to see directly the conditions in one of Europe's most desolate and war-torn countries.

Mr. Carlson's experience in association with boys in a camping situation is not just a theoretical one. He has served as a counselor at the Hartford County Y.M.C.A. Camp at Woodstock, Connecticut, and this past summer was on the staff of Camp Alpine at Marston's Mills, Massachusetts.

At the present time he is the student pastor of the North Saugus Union Church.

Such a varied background and wealth of experience make Mr. Carlson a valuable addition to the staff of the Supervised Play Group. This Group is a Saturday Day Camp, directed by Rev. Merrill A. Beem, for boys from seven to eleven years of age. Nearly two acres of land for outdoor play space and winter sports, and a Quonset Hut with a large stone fireplace for indoor activities, provide the setting for a day of fun. Parents and boys are invited to visit the premises.

Lutheran Ladies' Guild

The first fall meeting of the Ladies Guild of the Lutheran Church of the Newtons was opened with a prayer by the Rev. Arthur H. Block.

The President, Mrs. Rolland Chase, presided over the meeting and announced that the following committees had been appointed for the year: Membership Committee with Mrs. Ralph Bennett, chairman and Mrs. John McNamara; Altar Committee with Mrs. Arthur Block, chairman; Mrs. Henry Marcus and Mrs. W. Dethloff, Sick Committee with Miss Emma Menge, chairman; Refreshment Committee with Mrs. Norman Honecker as chairman.

After the business meeting the ladies enjoyed a movie shown by Mr. Burton McMullen through the courtesy of the Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Boston.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sally Archer, Mrs. John Balkus and Mrs. Ralph Bennett. The next meeting will be held on Monday, October 27th, when the Program Committee will present a gala "Birthday Party".

Taxpayers' Assoc. To Hear Hon. Sinclair Weeks

Sinclair Weeks, former Mayor of Newton will address a special meeting of the Newton Taxpayers' Association at the Newtonville Library on Walnut St., Thursday evening, November 6. All Newton taxpayers are invited to attend.

The wide spread concern over the growth of governmental demands upon taxpayers determined Mr. Weeks' subject. It is "Government Spending—Where and How It Can Be Stopped." The position held by the Republican party in Congress and at the State House will make the observations of the former U. S. Senator especially pertinent to Newton taxpayers at this time.

Local Police Officers Give Marksmanship Exhibition in Boston

New England pistol champions, Officers Joseph Smith and James Greely of the Newton Police, gave a marksmanship exhibition at the Men's Smoker party recently by the Fisher Business School at the Boston City Club.

The smoker, first in a series of fall social events conducted by Fisher, was in charge of John E. Sullivan and James A. McLaughlin, faculty advisers.

Bachrach Opens Circus Studio

Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck rub shoulders with lions, trained seals, giraffes and a clown or two in the children's circus studio being opened tomorrow by the Bachrach's.

Located at 647 Boylston Street under the same roof as their studios for men and women, the new studio is called Bachrach Junior, doing business exclusively with children under twelve, known as the "half fair crowd."

The circus motif is further carried out by the big top of blue and white striped canvas which forms the ceiling of the reception room.

Kendall Phelps will be in charge of the new studio assisted by Mrs. Della Hamlin. Both Mrs. Hamlin and Mr. Phelps have been connected with the Bachrach's in the Fabian Bachrach studio for men, one in a sales capacity and one as assistant photographer. As the father of three small children himself, Mr. Phelps is particularly well suited to be the photographer in a studio of this type.

The most modern stroboscopic lighting equipment will be used, making it possible to catch motion in a split second. The pictures will be made, no scowls, no squints, no moves—in a 500th of a second.

To aid the photographer to catch natural expressions, games and movies which the child will watch while the camera is in action, have been installed.

To aid parents who wish to drive in to the Copley Square studio a car parking service will be provided.

Since the closing of their Kindergarten Studio in 1934 the Bachrach's have not specialized in children's photography. In recent years they have taken no portraits of children under eight, believing that the science of photographing this age group was in a state of constant development. The perfection of stroboscopic lighting has brought them back into this field.

Sarah Hull Chapter D.A.R.

Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, initiated its winter activities by holding a bridge party and apron sale. The members and their guests met at the home of Mrs. Arthur C. Johnson, 6 Merton St., Newton, on Wednesday October 22, 1947 at 1:30 p.m.

Dessert was served with coffee, and after viewing the varied aprons, which the members had made during the summer, bridge was enjoyed, and a very pleasant hour followed.

Colorful Bazaar At Newton Centre Church

Lat's autumn is fair time in many a New England church. So it is at the First Church in Newton (Congregational) on the corner of Center and Homer streets, Newton Center. Next Thursday, the Women's Benevolent Society's biggest bazaar since before the war will be held. From 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. the colorful and varied events which will make up the Rainbow Bazaar will entice many a casual visitor into an all-day stay.

Mrs. Vincent P. Maloney of Chestnut Hill is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Nickerson of Waban and Mrs. Lester Moriarty of Newton Center.

Hardy and healthy house plants will be featured at the Garden Table, along with brilliant cut flowers and colorful fall vegetables from nearby farms. The Christmas wrapping table will show cheery cards and stationery.

Treasures, old and new, for giving and for keeping will also be displayed. High in popularity is the food table that supplies the home-cooked bread, cakes, cookies and pies which are always the first items to disappear.

Equal in popularity, especially with the Sunday school set, is the candy table, where many favorite candies are to be found.

The First Church's kitchen will be busy all day Thursday. With luncheon to be served at noon, tea from 3 o'clock on and a big old-fashioned dinner at the traditional long tables at 6:30 at night, no one will go hungry.

For the youngsters alone will be a huge food pot at the foot of the rainbow from which they can "grab" a treasure and a table of suitable 31 gifts to be bought for and by them.

Entertainment will be provided for the children all day, with pony rides and movies. Featured for the adults' amusement is fortune telling, sketching and silhouettes. Last but not least a "New-Look" fashion show, presenting spotlighted latest fashions will be held at 3 o'clock.

Awarded Photography Scholarship

At a banquet which concluded the 1947 Convention of the Photographic Society of America held at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, Cecil B. Atwater, APSA, of 356 Newtonville Avenue, Newtonville was awarded a Fellowship for outstanding ability in pictorial photography, judging and lecturing.

New GMCs

BETTER LOOKING! BETTER RIDING! BETTER BUILT!

There's comfort-a-plenty in the brand new postwar cab of new light or medium duty GMC's! It's all-steel... rubber stabilized... wider and longer... completely insulated and soundproofed. Its wider seat is adjustable fore and aft... windshield and windows give 22% more visibility... the new ventilation system circulates fresh air automatically.

Out front, there's added protection with rugged bumper bar grille, frame-mounted and angle-braced. Under the hood, there's improved, war-proved "Army Workhorse" power. Under the load there's the strongest, sturdiest chassis GMC has ever built for light and medium duty hauling.

Above—GMC's new cab has 8 inches more seating width... thick upholstery and padding... 73 individually wrapped seat springs.

Below—GMC's revolutionary new ventilation system provides scientific fresh air circulation, plus filtered, forced air heating if desired.

of section forty of chapter seventy-one of the General Laws, as amended, relative to equal pay for men and women teachers be in force in this city?"

And it is further ORDERED:

That the polling places at said meetings be opened at seven o'clock A.M., and closed at eight o'clock P.M., and the City Clerk is hereby directed to give notice hereof.

Attest: FRANK M. GRANT,
City Clerk of Newton.

Elk Leader Raps "Brazen" Communists
For Efforts to Sabotage Freedom Train

Grand Exalted Ruler Lafayette A. Lewis of the BPO Elks, at the Freedom Train in New York, pledging the Order's aid against Communism in America.

Charging the Communist Party with "brazen effrontery" in efforts to sabotage the effect of Freedom Train, Lafayette A. Lewis, Los Angeles attorney and Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, in a statement to Nicholas Veducio, exalted ruler of (local lodge) No. 1327, has declared, "The Elks eagerly accept this Communistic challenge." He has directed the 1475 local lodges with more than 900,000 members to "redouble our efforts in support of this Train and its sacred documents in every city where there is an Elks lodge."

At the recent national convention in Portland, Ore., the order emphatically and enthusiastically endorsed the American Heritage Freedom Train. "Our order is composed of men in every walk of life, every party, every creed, rich and poor," said Mr. Lewis. "But we all are 100 per cent Americans. We say unequivocally that there is no place for Communists in our order—no place for Communists in the United States. We believe in America. We believe in our constitutional form of government—a government neither to the right nor to the left, but straight down the middle of the road. We pledge our entire effort to prevent these saboteurs from defiling the clear stream of American life.

"The brazen effrontery of the Students Form Political Club

Through the prompting and suggestions of two high school students Donald Howard, and Crawford Combs of Arlington, lawyers, civic leaders and well known politicians have co-ordinated with the students in forming an organization to be known as the Massachusetts Student Civic Association. The association is being established for the benefit of high school students between the ages of 15 and 18 who are interested in politics and the study of government.

Its main object is to be a civic influence within the community and to obtain practical training in politics along with the study of the major parties and what they stand for. During the year there will be discussions and informative talks on government by prominent speakers.

The first meeting of the club will be held in its new headquarters in the YMCU building at 48 Boyston Street in Boston, adjoining the Hotel Touraine on Monday October 27. All eligible Newton boys and girls that are interested in joining such an organization and desire more information call Lasell 9105 between 2:30 and 8:30 p. m.

educational department of the Communist Party through its memo on the Freedom Train, dated Aug. 29, 1947, cannot remain unchallenged. The purpose of that foreign directed group is to sabotage the great objects of the Freedom Train and to make it appear that the only supporters of the American constitutional form of government are its big business backers.

"As Americans and Elks we rededicate our resources to the fulfillment of the noble purposes of this Freedom Train carrying with it throughout America the sacred documents which secured and guaranteed our freedom and American heritage."

MRS. STANLEY PHILIP STROUT

Strout - Crocker

At a candlelight service in the Union Church in Waban Saturday evening Miss Jane Olive Crocker, of Waban, and Mr. Stanley Philip Strout, of Weston, were married by the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Crocker, of Waban, and was given in marriage by her father.

She was attended by her twin sister, Mrs. Donald L. Snider, of Newton Centre, as Matron of Honor. Her other attendants were Miss Betsy Lincoln, Mrs. Jerome M. Powell and Mrs. William I. Stark, all of Waban, and by Mrs. Paul E. Crocker, Jr., of Boston.

The ceremony was performed in a setting of white chrysanthemums and ferns.

The bride wore a period gown of ivory satin with lace panel. Her veil of French illusion was held in place by a lace coronet. She carried a cascade of ivory roses and stephanotis and ivy.

All of her attendants were gowned in pale pink with moss green and carried pink moss roses.

The groom's brother, Mr. David Strout, of Weston, was best man and the ushers were Mr. Paul Crocker, Jr., of Boston, Mr. William Garcelon, of Arlington, Mr. Robert Birch, of Arlington, and Mr. Allen F. Whitney, of Cambridge.

The bride attended Beaver Country Day School and House in the Pines School in Norton. The groom served with the Navy during the War and attended Cambridge School and Proctor Academy.

After a honeymoon on the Cape, the Stanley Strouts will make their home in Arlington Heights.

RECENT DEATHS

Norman R. Sementelli

Funeral services for Norman R. Sementelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Sementelli of 6 Bemis road, Newtonville were held from his home on Monday morning. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady by Rev. Arthur I. Norton assisted by Rev. John H. Quinlan as deacon and Rev. John Sears, sub-deacon. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham with prayers by Fr. Norton.

Attending the services was a delegation from the Waltham office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Mr. Sementelli was in his 18th year. He was killed at Bakersfield, California on October 11 when a motorcycle on which he was riding with a shipmate in the Merchant Marine, was in collision with an automobile at a street intersection.

Luther A. Breck

Luther Adams Breck, president and treasurer of the Joseph Breck & Sons Corporation, Boston, and a former resident of Newton died at his home in Bryantville on Tuesday, October 21. He was in his 59th year.

Mr. Breck attended the Newton schools, was graduated from the Newton High School, the Volkman School and Harvard College with the class of 1912. He was the fourth generation of his family to head the corporation that bears the name of his grandfather.

He joined the Breck Seed Company, a subsidiary of the corporation following his graduation from Harvard and was sent to Europe to make an intensive study of the seed, bulb and nursery industry there. While abroad he was appointed by the late Governor Eugene N. Foss as a delegate from Massachusetts to the Southern Commercial Congress during its sessions at the International Institute in Rome. He became president of the Boston corporation in 1921 upon the retirement of his father.

Mr. Breck was a member of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society and of several seed and nursery organizations.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Story Chapel, Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

right that the members attended a practice session directed by Mrs. Sawyer of the Recreation Department. Around 400 children, ranging from kindergarten through Junior High, are expected, and the various parties will run from 6:30 to 11 p. m. Committee members are: Robert Mc-Laughlin, Joseph Randall, Stephen Bennett, Kenneth Newcomb, Thomas Webber, Thomas Kenney, Mrs. George Seery, Mrs. G.
Edward Roberts, Mrs. G. Louis
Marcy and Miss Katherine Murphy. Parents from the PTA will be room hosts and hostesses.

More than 200 will attend the Bigelow Junior High party (Newton), according to Mrs. Louis H.
Segal, Building Chairman. Dancing is scheduled, also group games, and door prizes and dancing prizes will be awarded. The program is in charge of Mrs. Arthur B. Norley; Mrs. Richard H.
Lee is handling refreshments and Mrs. Michael Lunder is chairman of the prize committee.

William E. Chute, Building
Chairman, reports that every detail for the Franklin School gathering (West Newton) has been ironed out. More than 350 children, from 1st through 6th grades, will be on hand. A parade will start at 6:30 p. m. and prizes will be given for the funniest or most novel costume; movies will be shown and there will be a forty-five minute exhibition. Following this refreshments will be served. Mr. Chute says the committee has done such a grand job that a fine evening is assured for the children.

At the Davis School, West Newton, another large party is in prospect, says Max R. Brauninger, Building Chairman, with an attendance topping four hundred children from the 1st through the 6th grades. A parade will start off the proceedings at 6:30 and the general festivities begin at 7:00 and will last until 9:15. The program includes movie shorts and cartoons, a Chamber of Horrors that "would scare even a ghost" and new exciting games for each age group. There will be 100 prizes for the best costumes and best game scores, after which there will be refreshments. Committee members are:
Mrs. Ralph Chisholm, Mrs.
George Wurster, Mrs. Emil Keiler, Mrs. Allen Stone, Mrs. James Remley, Mrs. John Fitzgerald,
Mrs. Nelson Johnson, Mrs. Nelse
Hervan, Mrs. Basil Rodenhizer,
Mrs. George Boule, Mrs. Guy
King, Miss Mary Bradley, Fredrick L. Follis and Alice Stone.

Mrs. Chester Aucoin, Building
Chairman for the party at the Lincoln Elliot School, Newton, expects an attendance of one hundred and eighty children from kindergarten age through the 6th grade. The former will run from 4 to 5:30 and the grades party from 7 to 10 p. m. Mrs.
Aucoin states that Mrs. George Walsh has been added to the committee which has planned a most enjoyable celebration. First-Aiders appointed are Mrs. Christina Trundle, R. N., and Mrs.

Nina MacLaren, R. N.

More than 350 pupils, from kindergarten through Grade 6, are expected to join in the fun at the Burr School, Auburndale, with several parties running from 6:45 to 9 p. m. Separate programs have been arranged for each room; and there will be games, movies, a clever Chamber of Horrors and refreshments.
The Room Chairmen, reported by Arthur C. Hill, Building Chairman, are: Kindergarten, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Smith; Grade
1, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Moody and Mrs. and Mrs. Jacqueth
Yates; Grade 2, Mr. and Mrs.
John Craig and Mr. and Mrs.
Vincent D. Hoadland; Grade 3,
Mr. and Mrs. David Fletcher;
Grade 4, Mr. and Mrs. Richard
Keyes; Grades 4 and 5, Mr. and Mrs. James Glaser; Grades 5 and 6, Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Healey;
Grade 6, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coogan. The chairman of the Chamber of Horrors committee is Carlton Smith; and movies will be in charge of Theodore Burke.

Mrs. William O'Donnell, Building Chairman of the Hamilton School party (Newton Lower Falls), writes that an exceptionally joyous celebration is being planned for the children of every grade from kindergarten through the 6th. Committees are as follows: Chairman, Mrs. Stanley
Robinson, with Mrs. Edward Tansy and Mrs. Edwin Robert;
1st and 2nd grades, Mrs. George Marsh, Chairman, assisted by Mrs. Howard, Mrs. James Burdick and Mrs. Norman Paterson; 3rd and 4th, Mrs. Arthur Gregorian, Chairman, Mrs. Lawrence
Morrison, Mrs. Clinton Scott and Mrs. William Philbrook; 5th and 6th, Mrs. Eleanor Gernes, Mrs.
Stephen Madden, Mrs. Roger Loring, Mrs. Louis J. Vassallo; Refreshments, Mrs. Everett Bryant, Mrs. Henry Corcoran,
Mrs. Joseph Bruce and Mrs.
Floyd Longworth; Welcoming
Mrs. Herbert Reed and Mrs.
Charles Anderson; Dads Committee, William H. O'Donnell, Everett Bryant, Roger Loring, W.
Marsh and H. Reed.

At the John Ward School, Newton Centre, the parties will be on for the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades from 3:45 to 5:45; and the 4th, 5th and 6th grade gatherings will begin at 6 and end at 8:30.

The following Parents' list has been reported for the party to be held at the Clafin School, Newtonville, by Haskell Ostroff, Building Chairman: Mrs. William S. Bartley, Mrs. Albert Todd,
Mr. and Mrs. H. B. MacDougall,
Mrs. A. Johnson, Mrs. L. Barbuto, Mrs. A. J. Boudreau, Mrs.

Pierce, Mrs. Marie DiNapoli,
Mrs. Joseph E. McKenney, Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Ostroff, Mr. and Mrs. David Salvini, Mrs. Edwin Weidig, and Mr. and Mrs.
Arthur Murphy.

Mrs. Henry C. Jones, Jr., Building Chairman, announces that the program for the Underwood school parties (Newton) includes a grand march, Spook House, movies, a magician and an Arcade of Horrors. At the afternoon party, 3:30 to 5:30, about 190 are expected; and 214 at the 7 to 9 o'clock evening gathering. The committees, which have been hard at work planning for the affairs and are keeping strictly mum about details, are as follows: Spook House, Alfred K.
Brown, Captain and Mrs. Lennon,
Henry C. Jones, Jr., Shannon
White, Earl Mitchell, Ralph Forbes and John Mullen; Masters of Ceremonies (evening), Ralph

Most progressive cities, Mr.
Edwards stated, take pride in their school facilities. They realize the untold benefits of pleasant surroundings, good lighting, adequate facilities for physical education, and provision in school buildings for community activities such as parent-teacher meetings, Girl and Boy Scouts, and many other projects that center around the welfare of the children and the community.

Newton, however, cannot view with any pride its own accomplishments in this direction.

In addition to the antiquity of some of its school buildings, there are other factors which should have been foreseen and planned for long ago, asserted Mr. Edwards. Newton has grown to be a city of around 80,000 people and its population is still increasing. "How well do the schools take care of this increase?" asked Mr. Edwards.
"And are they strategically placed?"

"The survey shows," declared
Mr. Edwards, "that owing to haphazard planning some schools are closer together than is desirable, while others are farther apart than they should be for children to walk to school. And the Burr, Clafin, Rice and Mason Schools, built many years before the city was so large, are now located in business districts, on heavily-traveled streets. The Weeks Junior High School is also poorly located. If we follow the principle that Junior High pupils should not be required to walk more than a mile in going to school."

Mr. Edwards stated that if he is elected Mayor he will immediately initiate remedial steps. "This situation has gone on long enough. It is shameful.
And I intend to do something about it without delay. I will at once, on taking office, appoint an able citizens' committee to make a complete study of the proposed program and the means of financing it, the report to be completed within as short a period as is humanly possible.
I will then give my full cooperation in having all the details and possibilities present to the public and will exert all my efforts in every possible way to speed the completion of the program. I join with every Newton parent in the determination to get quick, and far-sighted sound action on this vital problem."

Paul S. Rich Admitted to Practice of Law

On Wednesday Oct. 15, before a single justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, at Boston, Paul S. Rich of 91 Park St., Newton, was among 158 new attorneys admitted to the practice of law in the courts of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Rich, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Rich of Waverly Ave. Newton, studied at Suffolk University and Northeastern University Law Schools. He is married, and is the father of two daughters, Betsy 4 and Beverly, 4 months.

Mr. Rich, now associated with the Salada Tea Co. in Boston, shortly intends to undertake the active practice of law.

Newton Federation to Hear Stanley Ross

The Newton Community Club will be the hostess club for the all day Newton Federation meeting, to be held in the Elliot Congregational Church on Monday, October 27.

A round table discussion for chairmen and committee members is scheduled for 11 a.m. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m., to be followed by a business meeting and program at 2 p.m.

Mr. Stanley Ross, a national figure and dynamic speaker, who has spent considerable time in South America, and who has just returned from there, will speak on "U. S. Policy in South America."

which are constantly made to the Red Cross, Mrs. Eden and Mrs. Concanon issue the following statement: "Although none of us wishes for the return of war days, we in Red Cross do sometimes long for the enthusiasm then so wonderfully displayed by the people of Newton in the number of hours so willingly given in volunteer service to others. It cannot be believed that people have really become blind to the needs of those less fortunate than themselves. Newton's community and hospital appeals have not lessened in the least, whereas the number of helping hands has greatly decreased.

"Red Cross is indeed grateful to those men and women who have given so much in the past. But it is the present in which we live. Time is valuable only when considered in the light of the purpose for which it is used. Those who give generously of themselves to volunteer work are convinced that life is the richer for so doing and that the satisfactions cannot be estimated. It is in this spirit that we ask the men and women of Newton to answer our appeal for both old and new volunteers.

They went on to say, "Somewhere in the following list of services, can't you find a place for which you can offer even a few hours per week?"

In the Community
1. Community Gray Ladies—a new service, Newton's own up to the present, but being watched nationally. Works with the District Nursing Association and the Board of Education. Sends volunteers into the home of home-bound adults and children to teach simple crafts or to bring in something from the outside world by just a friendly visit.

2. Motor Corps—for both men and women. Really the wheels of the Red Cross and a service upon which all Chapter activities depend. Also transports patients to hospitals and clinics, volunteers and entertainers to Cushing Hospital, veterans to ball-games, picnic, etc. (Chapter or private vehicles).

3. Staff Assistance—receptionists and clerical help always welcomed.

At Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital

1. Arts and Skills—open to men and women with a talent for teaching a craft or fine and decorative arts. To see the work the veterans do is to be convinced of the value of this service.

2. Gray Ladies—the conveyors of cheer, moral support and "luxury services" which the busy doctor and nurse do not always have time to give. Also assist along entertainment and recreational lines.

3. Gray Men—a new group with duties similar to Gray Ladies, but "in a man's language." A Northampton hospital has a corps of sixty most enthusiastic men. Can't Newton do as well?

4. Nurse's Aides—a most urgently needed group, because of the large request recently received. Any trained Aide is urged to consider this real Nurse's Aide work.

5. Staff Assistance—work along clerical lines and assist in radio room.

The next orientation course for volunteers at Cushing will begin on October 28. For further information concerning any of the above volunteer services, please call the Newton Red Cross Chapter House, LA3ell 6000, or the homes of either of the Co-chairmen of Volunteer Special Services, BIGelow 3617 or LA3ell 6662.

First of Series of Programs at N. C. Woman's Club Oct 28

The first in a series of interesting programs was presented on Monday, October 28, at 10:30 a.m. at the Newton Centre Woman's Club by the Music Committee headed by Mrs. Herbert J. Ham.

Selected Motion Pictures were presented from a collection of over 50,000 feet of film, taken by Colonel and Mrs. Joseph McGee who, during their fifteen years spent in China, also travelled extensively through India, Japan and the Philippines. Mrs. McGee graciously consented to show some of these interesting films.

Appropriate music was played during the program. This was preceded by coffee, with Mrs. William H. Waterfall in charge.

Pourers were Mrs. James Mitchell and Mrs. Willard W. Rice. The Music Committee is made up of the following: Secretary, Mrs. Walter H. Bird; Treasurer, Mrs. David W. Skinner; Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Billings Harris; Chairman of Coffee, Mrs. William H. Waterfall and her committee which includes: Mrs. Walter S. Anderson; Mrs. C. Hassler Capron; Mrs. John R. Perry; Mrs. Ernest H. Wilkins; and Mrs. David W. Skinner; Music Chairman of the Day, Mrs. A. Edward Roys and Committee: Mrs. Peter T. Reuter and Mrs. S. W. Wilder; Hostesses Chairman, Mrs. George H. Crosbie and Committee: Mrs. John F. Capron; Mrs. John R. Perry and Miss Marion Haskell; Decorations Chairman, Mrs. David W. Skinner and Committee: Mrs. Walter H. Bird; Mrs. Ernest H. Wilkins and Mrs. George H. Crosbie.

Additional members of the Music Committee assisting Mrs. Ham include: Mesdames: Homer W. Anderson, Edward A. Estaver, Thomas Legare Fenn, Harold G. Giddings, Donald M. Hill, Paul M. Goddard, Harold R. Keller, Melville D. Liming, Arthur J. Lucier, Joseph McGee, John W. Merrill, William H. Perry, John M. Tomb, George W. Van Gorder, William H. Waterfall.

Auburndale Woman's Club

In a recent study made by the Legislative Committee of why so many women stayed away from the polls, it was found that they did not know anything about the candidates and their abilities and therefore did not vote at all. In order to try to overcome this handicap, and because an active, informed electorate means better government, the Auburndale Woman's Club have asked the three mayoral candidates to speak.

Candidates—

Stating that he is not in favor of the full Plan E form, Roy S. Edwards added that he has always stood for a capable councilman-management plan and that "A large city must have business management by trained experts in order to cope with the mounting demand for services, wages, and maintenance of buildings."

Mr. Lockwood, when questioned in regard to housing, denied any responsibility for the administration's failure to solve the problem and promised an early favorable report on Aldermanic efforts on housing.

To questions on police pensions, he replied that the matter had been handled satisfactorily to all as fast as it had reached the Board, and that the government was taking steps to give the situation further study.

When asked about the indoor athletic building he has proposed, Mr. Lockwood explained that, although the project had been submitted to the long-range planning board for handling in regular course, he had no wish to place that venture ahead of school building which he said he favored as soon as conditions permitted.

Mr. Lockwood also pointed out that Mr. Edwards had failed to call a meeting of the Veterans' Advisory Committee since March 9, 1947, to deal with housing development. Mr. Edwards answered that the veteran's service agent was the one to call the meeting but Mr. Lockwood added that the law authorizing Mr. Edwards to function also enabled the agent to direct Mr. Edwards to assist in housing, and that Mr. Edwards could have called meetings had he so desired.

Moderator of the panel discussion was Louis M. Lyons, curator of the Nieman Fellows at Harvard, former newspaperman, and author of the Boston chapter in "Our Fair City." Mr. Lyons spoke briefly on "Making Your Vote Count" before introducing the three candidates.

Mrs. William M. Barber, president of the Newton League of Women Voters, welcomed the gathering and stated that the League has definitely decided to promote Plan E in Newton. Mrs. Eric Kermath and Mrs. John B. Etelson were in charge of the meeting. Candidates for aldermen and school committee were honored at a reception.

JOHN F. FERRICK, Harvard square attorney, who was elected a director of the Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards at the annual conference held at the Architectural Center on Somerset street, Boston, Friday, Atty. Ferrick, a member of the Cambridge planning board, will have as his district, the cities of Boston, Chelsea, Winthrop and Revere in Suffolk County and 26 cities and towns in Middlesex County, including Newton.

editorial staff of the Boston Globe, had been an unopposed candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 7 in the coming city election. A native of Boston, he was graduated from the Watertown High School, and has lived in Newton 15 years. He was associated with the Boston Transcript and Boston Herald before joining the Globe staff.

He is a member of the First Unitarian Church in Chestnut Hill, a member of the Unitarian Laymen's League, the Trustees of Public Reservations and the Eight O'clock Club of Newton.

He is married to the former Helen G. Jackson of Watertown. Mrs. Beale was present at the election and installation of Mr. Beale to the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening.

Housing—

appointment of a Veteran's Advisory Board. That Board has not yet had a meeting of its members called by its Chairman since March 9, 1947.

It was the express duty of that Board to lead in aggressive prosecution of the Veterans' needs. It is my information that citizens even offered substantial cash subscriptions to the Chairman of that Board to start a revolving fund to assist in developing housing, and no effort has been made so far as public record reveals as to earnest and aggressive development of that worthy project. Nor could anyone connected with this Board properly take over the handling of such a development.

The City Engineer has developed a topographical map of a section being studied for early housing development, and other areas are being actively considered.

The city has been urged by the Aldermen from Ward 7 to hasten the change-over to Metropolitan water to release for development the 800 acres of land held as a water reservation.

At the present time in other directions eight houses are being erected on land recently purchased, the cost per house being in the neighborhood of $6,700, under the watchful eye of the Veterans' Service Dept. of the City.

Gentlemen, the fact that no veteran's family is without a roof over his head is entirely outside this discussion. The strains and trials through which our younger people are passing are too well known to need emphasis here. While no municipality nearby has experienced such an increase in population, while our marriage rate has increased 106 per cent between 1936 and 1946, it becomes evident that this Board should act without regard to other agencies as far as its power permits.

After all manner of effort on the part of Aldermen, and after the City has actually sold considerable land at low values and endeavored to alleviate the situation by various means, it becomes easily obvious that the problem of Veterans' housing still remains our outstanding first need.

Therefore, in harmony with my position constantly maintained, and representing the definite urge of the vast majority of Newton Citizens, I urge the immediate passage of this vote.

Upon passing of this vote it will then be in order for this Board, through its appropriate Committees and with the assistance of the City Solicitor, to cause an ordinance to be drawn expressing the views of the Board in detail as to the necessary legislation.

May I urge the favorable action of all members of the Board to the end that legislation to relieve the situation may be obtained as speedily as possible.

'Gay Nineties' at Auburndale Church

Gay Nineties Night, Friday October 17, at the Auburndale Congregational Church, was a presentation of the Shar-An-Eve Club, when young couples of the group dressed in authentic original costumes of the period to dramatize the old time favorites and provide an evening of fun, music and suspense amid traditional settings.

Just before the show costumed members of the cast toured the neighborhood in an antique auto of the period that just returned from the cavalcade that completed the Glidden tour.

Bustling ladies with full skirts, tight waste lines and beribboned bonnets with gentlemen in brown derbies, Prince Alberts and handlebar moustaches revived the styles about to repeat themselves in a new era of American fashion. Soloist, Ruth Bearse, added a touch of the professional stage settings complete for the period include an old fashioned small reed organ, high wheel bike, old furniture and furnishings and rare dress dug from the band boxes and attics where they have been tenderly stored by Auburndale and Littleton families for just such an occasion when a third generation would revive old songs and scenes the whole world loves.

The West Newton W.C.T.U. held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Flora Weeks, 9 Higgins street, Auburndale on Monday evening.

The reports of the State Convention at Revere was read. Mrs. Florence Hart was the assisting hostess.

ferred a rate upon retirement as low as 35% of the annual income, whereas the normal pension for one outside the system amounted to 50%. The other advantages were not intelligently understood.

"This acceptance of House Bill No. 576 is a comparable action to that taken by this Board in connection with the improved conditions granted to retired city laborers and others. The attendant cost to the City should not be above the cost of that action."

"It should be borne in mind that whereas in the case of members of the Retirement system, the City itself would have made a sizeable contribution had these men belonged to the system, the City had not made that contribution to the group affected by this action."

"The Finance Committee recommends acceptance of this act by a 6 to 1 vote, the Alderman from Ward 5 dissenting."

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER

MRS. GEORGE H. FERNALD

Many times I heard the expression, "If you want anything done well, ask a busy person to do it!" Then I met a quiet-spoken, gentle Newton mother who will surely be my candidate if a contest for such people is run. Moreover, Mrs. George H. Fernald, of 61 Winthrop street, West Newton, looks anything but the part of an accomplished!

Great depths of calm are perhaps the most noticeable characteristic of this charming, blue-eyed mother of six children. Mrs. Fernald, also has the ability to inspire calm in others. Yet, undeniably, her executive ability is a match for her role of mother. She has long been active in Newton church affairs, in scouting, in the Lucy Jackson chapter, D.A.R., and for several years has served as president of the All Newton Music School, a well known Red Feather Agency.

Brought up in a small Florida town, Frances Russell Burleigh spent many summers in Maine with her mother's relatives. After preparatory work at Rollins College in Florida, she proceeded to Wellesley College, where she was graduated with the class of 1912. Next came marriage to George Herbert Fernald, a Harvard Law School graduate, who is counsel for the Boston and Albany railroad.

The Fernalds' six children are adding to the array of college diplomas in their West Newton home. Frances and Louise have Mount Holyoke degrees. Burleigh and John graduated from Amherst and from professional schools as well. Now, Richard is at Amherst, and George Herbert, 3rd, after two years in the army, is a sophomore at Williams.

"Our children were the entering wedge of my interest in the All Newton Music School," Mrs. Fernald explained. "Burleigh studied violin under Miss Elizabeth Fyfe, now director emerita. Then he and both our daughters studied harmony. I went on the Board of Directors in 1932—and there I've been ever since!"

"Who else is on the Board now?" I wanted to know. Competently, Mrs. Fernald had a list at hand. "They are Miss Mabel T. Eager, honorary president, Loomis Patrick, Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, Winslow H. Adams, Mrs. Eugene M. Lebert, Mrs. George N. Abbott, Mrs. John T. Alden, Ernest G. Angevine, Mrs. Frederick S. Bacon, Mrs. James E. Clark, Frank A. Day, Jr., Mrs. Ray A. Eusden, Mrs. Harry P. Forte, Mrs. William L. Garrison, Mrs. A. Philip Guiles, William P. Helms, Mrs. Durham Jones, John C. Jones, Jr., Mrs. Harold D. Jones, Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, Mrs. Charles H. Myers, James H. Remley, Mrs. Donald W. Smith, Quincy W. Wales, and Howard Whitmore, Jr."

"I've heard much about your director emerita, Miss Fyfe," I said. "Did she found the All Newton Music School?"

"Yes, she started in a modest way at the West Newton Day Nursery in 1911. Greatly beloved, Miss Fyfe gave many talented children an opportunity for a musical education. We now have a faculty of twenty. The school has grown so much that we have a capacity enrollment of 573 students. There is no age limit. You might say they range from 6 to 65 years!"

MRS. GEORGE H. FERNALD

"I've attended your student-faculty recitals. They're amazing!"

Mrs. Fernald beamed. "Our recitals do seem to be very popular and are free to the public. You know we have a new home with ten studios at 398 Walnut street, just across from the Newton High School. We are very proud of it. Our entire curriculum meets the requirements set up by the National Guild of Community Music Schools. But we are not self supporting. Last year the Newton Community Chest contributed 27 per cent of our expenses."

"Do you help to train those who yearn for music but are unable to pay the full cost?"

"We do. Ninety per cent of our pupils pay the full fee or a large portion of it. Then there is a sliding scale of prices so that all worthy pupils can study. We hope to build up our scholarship fund to take care of all needy cases. If you could only read the letters that come to our capable executive director, Mrs. Mabel Worth, you would understand the great hunger for music our pupils experience!"

"Won't you tell me of a few, Mrs. Fernald?"

"A service man in Europe wrote that he carted a grand piano to one post after another in an army truck. It gave him joy which he transmitted to others. . . . A little boy sold one of his new puppies to give money for our new building. . . . A young girl with the Red Cross in India wrote back repeatedly how much her music had meant to her. Then there are handicapped persons who come. A clarinet pupil had been a rheumatic patient at Children's Hospital. The finger dexterity and co-ordination re-

Finance Committee Gives Approval to Enter into Contract with Construction Corp.

After considerable negotiation extending over a period of time the Kelly Corporation of Arlington has today given its approval of entering into a contract with the City of Newton for the purchase of approximately 100 acres of land for the erection of 367 single family houses for veterans.

The tentative location is in Oak Hill section, bounded by the Charles River, West Roxbury and Wiswell Road. No zoning changes will be necessary. The houses will be available to veterans at approximately $60 to $65 rental per month.

This low cost is made possible by a highly perfected production line method of building and by the contribution by the City of Newton of streets, sewers, water, etc.

The Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen, of which Theodore R. Lockwood is chairman has given its informal approval of the general idea. Exact details are still to be worked out.

$9,000 Salary for Mayor Stands; Override Veto

At a special meeting on Tuesday evening the Newton Board of Aldermen by a vote of 13 to 5 overrode Mayor Paul M. Goddard's veto of the order increasing the salary for the mayor of Newton from $5,000 to $9,000 as of January 1, 1948.

Mayor Goddard had previously recommended that the salary be increased to $7,000, which as he stated in his veto message, was ample compensation and he felt that the amount set by the Board was excessive.

Aldermen Make Good Mayors

In 1873 the citizens of the Town of Newton voted to change to the status of a city, and on the fifth of January 1874 Newton started to operate as that type of municipality.

For 73 years Newton has been outstanding as a high class community. It became that and has continued as such because enough of its citizens who possessed superior character and intelligence had sufficient pride to devote their time in serving as members of the city government. They were not mercenary. They were actuated by unselfish motives. Some were content to serve as members of the old Common Council or Board of Aldermen. Others had the commendable ambition to advance to the higher honor of Mayor.

In the large majority of cases, Mayors of Newton previously served as Aldermen and thus became acquainted with the conduct and problems of government of this city. Other things being equal, it should be admitted that a man who has served several years as alderman, has a better knowledge of the affairs of this city than a man who has not been associated with our city government.

There are three candidates for Mayor in this year's election. Hugh S. Boyd, a native and life-long resident of this city, should and does know Newton intimately. Roy S. Edwards, a resident of this city for over 20 years, has taken an outstanding interest in public affairs and also has considerable knowledge of Newton. Theodore R. Lockwood has been associated with Newton all his life and has virtually been a life-long resident here. For 10 years he has given generously of his time as a member of the Board of Aldermen. He is a man of probity and sincerity. Neither Mr. Boyd nor Mr. Edwards has served in our city government. For this reason the Graphic favors the election of Mr. Lockwood as Mayor of Newton.

Jollity Yes, Vandalism No

More than ever before, planned supervision for Halloween has come to the fore this year. In the traditional way, young America will again don witches' garb, bob for apples and partake of refreshments, but by setting up real programs, the observance will be largely off the streets. Halloween favors and decorations have been much in demand and there is other evidence that civic, neighborhood and other interests will carry forward the efforts of schools, churches and service clubs to encourage constructive programs for this night of jollity.

Unfortunately some young people seem to miss the point of Halloween entirely. Broken windows and fences, damaged automobiles and broken street lights are excesses far beyond the ending of good-natured fun. They are acts of vandalism for which the general public has been paying a heavy price. Besides property damage, the hazard of injuries on darkened streets, even crime under cover of darkness, are factors to be reckoned with.

The law enforcement agencies will appreciate all of the help of the citizens and cooperating groups who plan parties and programs for the children. It is the practical and best approach for bypassing the mischief and damage associated with certain past observances in this community.

sulting from his instrument lessons carry over into school work... A young man of 21, nearly blind, has a violin lesson every Saturday. He has actually progressed far enough to play in the orchestra. Oh, I could add many more cases, all helped by music therapy.

"I can see, Mrs. Fernald, that community music schools, such as your Red Feather Agency, create interest in the finer things of life and build up resources for leisure time living."

"Yes, Mrs. Pfeiffer, they do. The All Newton Music School teaches young people to get along peacefully with others. It helps them to see themselves not as isolated individuals, responsible only to themselves, but as members of a group. This is democracy at its best. And, as Longfellow said, 'Show me a home where music dwells and I shall show you a happy, peaceful and contented family!'"

Election Prediction

Herewith is the set-up of our City government for 1948, as seen by your columnist.

Mayor — Theodore R. Lockwood.

Aldermen:
Ward 1—Edward A. Fahey and Donald L. Gibbs—At Large. James E. Murphy—Ward Alderman.

Ward 2—William R. Mattson and Charles P. Slocum—At Large. Norman H. S. Vincent—Ward Alderman.

Ward 3—Ernest G. Angevine and Kenneth E. Prior—At Large. Joseph B. Davis—Ward Alderman.

Ward 4—Franklin K. Hoyt and Arthur A. Hunt—At Large. Harold B. Buse—Ward Alderman.

Ward 5—Wendell R. Bauckman and Sidney H. Baylor—At Large. Clyde S. Casady—Ward Alderman.

Ward 6—Julian D. Anthony and William V. Tripp, Jr.—At Large. Stanton J. Ten Broeck—Ward Alderman.

Ward 7—Arnold C. Barker and John C. Beale—At Large. Winfield C. Anderson—Ward Alderman.

School Committee—
Ward 1—Francis P. Frazier*
Ward 2—George B. Rowlings
Ward 3—James B. Palmer
Ward 4—Winslow R. Howland*
Ward 5—Irene K. Thresher*
Ward 6—David W. Tibbott*
Ward 7—Gordon B. Russell*

*Denotes no opposition.

I feel impelled to say a few things about the major contest in the Nov. 4 election, namely the three-man battle for Mayor to succeed Mayor Paul M. Goddard. First and foremost, may I repeat what I said in two previous columns.

On Aug. 21 this column said: "The voter's problem is ridiculously simple. It is his or her duty to give thoughtful consideration to the various qualifications of each candidate and then VOTE FOR THE BEST QUALIFIED MAN. It is as simple as that... Leave out all personalities and prejudices, petty or otherwise, and use the same judgment you would use in making a vital decision concerning the welfare of YOUR OWN FAMILY. If you cast your vote on that basis you cannot possibly go wrong."

The above advice is especially apropos today, in view of the campaign trend of the past few weeks, as exemplified by the conduct of a very, very small minority of hecklers at most, if not all, of the public rallies. Is there really anybody in Newton who does not want fair play and complete sportsmanship in the conduct of a vitally important campaign?

Now, on Oct. 16 I wrote as follows:—1. Does he (the candidate) sincerely believe that his accusation is true? 2. Does he have the facts to back up his charges? 3. Which is more important, that he win his campaign regardless of the technique employed, or that the good name of Newton be retained and not dragged through the dirt?"

It is painfully apparent that my sincerely-given advice has been completely ignored, if not treated with contempt. Very well. I shall be glad to stand on my personal record, not merely in the political arena, but in all phases of community activity in Newton. This covers a longer period, I believe, than that of any of the three candidates. Today, I say without reservation, that the current campaign has been deliberately dragged down to a lower level than any other campaign ever witnessed by your columnist.

In view of the above, I now publicly ask all those men and women of Newton who believe in a high level of sportsmanship and who want the most intelligent, the best and the most sincere, consecrated service to our fair city to go to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 4 and cast their votes for Alderman Theodore R. Lockwood.

As indicated at the head of this column, there are contests for Alderman-at-Large in only four of our seven wards: Wards 2, 3, 4 and 6. A few comments may be helpful at this time by way of explaining my selections.

The contests in Ward 2 and 3 are the most important, as I view the situation. The only real chance of an upset lies in these two wards. "Sonny" Gath, restaurant proprietor and ardent promoter of athletics for boys and young men, is waging a far more intensive battle than some of the politicians realize. Altho' neutral in the contest for Mayor, there seem to be a lot of Edward's for Mayor and Gath for Alderman stickers on automobiles. Gath explains this by saying that he cannot help it if some of his personal friends choose to support Edwards for Mayor.

The other candidate who is attempting to unseat the present Aldermen, William R. Mattson and Charles P. Slocum, is the ghost-like Mr. Donovan, whom I have never been able to locate. The League of Women Voters was equally unsuccessful. Consequently, apart from his valuable spot on the ballot, he does not figure to seriously affect this particular battle.

Can Gath make the grade, even in these days of upsets and pronounced liberalism in voting? I doubt it. At the same time, I have a feeling that neither sitting Alderman is taking this contest lightly. Inasmuch as Alderman Slocum ran several hundred votes behind Alderman Mattson two years ago, it behooves his friends to get busy pronto.

In Ward 3 there really should not be any great doubt of the outcome. The two present Aldermen are very efficient and highly thought of by their colleagues. However, neither one is much of a politician, whereas Alfred R. Guzzi, a former Alderman, knows almost all the angles and will probably take all sorts of chances in order to get back on the Board once more.

In Ward 4 it will be surprising if Alderman Hoyt and Hunt cannot overcome Fred H. Woodward's challenge. This is said with due respect for Woodward, who shapes up as a rather substantial prospect. The two incumbents are quite popular and widely known, whereas, to the best of my knowledge, Woodward is much less well known. Watch this new man's vote, however, and remember his name.

In Ward 6 it seems to me that it will require an upset of considerable magnitude to defeat either Ward Alderman Julian D. Anthony, now running for Alderman-at-Large, or William V. Tripp, Jr., present Alderman-at-Large from Chestnut Hill. The third contestant in this race is an old-timer, Reginald W. P. Brown, well-known to followers of Harvard and Boston College football as a scout. In the last election, in 1945, Brown polled 3,467 votes in a battle between the two sitting Aldermen, Joseph B. Jamieson, Jr. and William V. Tripp, Jr., the late Hans W. Lundstrom and Brown. At that time Alderman Jamieson, now President of the Board, polled 9,411 votes, Alderman Tripp polled 7,390 and Lundstrom polled 1,737.

Now, if Brown were a slightly younger man, preferably with a fine war record, he might conceivably make trouble for both Alderman Anthony and Alderman Tripp. Neither of these men is very widely known, tho' both are definitely high-grade citizens and efficient members of the Board of Aldermen. As matters stand, it looks like Anthony and Tripp to your columnist.

Let us now turn to the various contests for the local Ward Aldermen. Only Wards 1 and 7 are without contests. In Ward 2 we have three men, Messrs. Scipione, Seelye and Vincent fighting for the seat being vacated by Alderman Alexander. In some ways Scipione is the best known of the three. However, his showing in a fairly recent legislative contest was not too impressive. Will he fare better in a city affair? Possibly. Without wishing to make any invidious comparisons, it is my opinion that Vincent is fundamentally the strongest man of the group. Furthermore, it is said that he has the support of many of Alderman Alexander's friends. So, I'll pick Vincent.

Ward 3 presents an interesting situation. Except for Cronin's previous service on the Board, plus a world war two record, I would pick Davis, who is a much older and more experienced man and very popular with West Newton residents. Even so, I'll give Davis the nod, tho' the margin may be quite close.

In Ward 4 Buse has a decided edge, partly because he is more widely known and partly because he is younger than his opponent and has a fine war record. Looking back at the 1945 election, I find that William Slocum, the other candidate, polled 2,453 votes as against the late Alderman Bacon's 10,625 and sitting Alderman Hunt's 8,886 votes. I think Buse will win.

In Ward 5 Clyde S. Casady, who is running with the support of many of those who were behind retiring Alderman McCutcheon, should prevail over Lawrence F. Simcock, despite a good fight waged by the latter and the fact that he has some good qualifications for Board service. Simcock deserves much credit for his earnest campaign.

Last and not least, colorful of all Ward contests is the Ward 6 battle between Mrs. Helen Lesses, Stanton J. Ten Broeck and Benjamin C. Grow. Frankly, the race here is between Mrs. Lesses and Ten Broeck, who has waged a desperately earnest and strenuous campaign, JUST IN CASE the women voters should decide to put a member of their own sex on the Board. Furthermore, Mrs. Lesses has worked just as hard, if not harder, than Ten Broeck. There should be a tremendous vote cast here. Alderman Jamison is throwing the full weight of his powerful support behind the man in the race. The ladies, curiously enough, are very much divided and there lies Ten Broeck's excellent chance to pull out a victory. Again, to be quite frank, when the time comes to place a member of the fair sex on the Board, somebody with Mrs. Lesses' pleasant personality and obvious ability will be the one to make the grade. However, in this battle I favor Ten Broeck to win.

The School Committee provides little excitement this fall. There are but two contests, one in Ward 2 and one in Ward 3. In the former, the present Committeeman, George B. Rowlings should win, partly because he is the incumbent and has made a good record and partly because he had two opponents, who will, of course, divide up the anti-Rowlings vote. William B. Baker, Jr. will very likely run second and James J. Cahill third. Baker has a widely-known and very popular Father, who is a veteran in the public service and, in addition, has the benefit of a good war record. It will not do, however, for either of his opponents to underestimate Cahill's possible strength.

In Ward 3 James B. Palmer, the present Committeeman should hold off the challenge of James W. Culliton, altho' the latter is a stronger candidate than sometimes appears on the scene.

In conclusion, may I urge all my readers to turn out on Tuesday, Nov. 4 and cast their vote, regardless of how much or how little they may think of your columnist's predictions. Our splendid city will always be in good hands if the great majority of the voters take the time and the trouble to study the merits of all the candidates and then get out and vote.

VOTE ON TUESDAY, NOV. 4

Building Fund Drive Launched at Lasell

At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees at Lasell Junior College, Auburndale, on October 22, Mr. Raymond C. Wass, college president, was authorized to organize a building fund campaign it was announced today. No definite amount has been set as a maximum, but approximately $750,000.00 is considered necessary as the minimum requirement for the building program.

The architect's present plan calls for a building which will be erected near the site of the present Gardner Hall tennis court. This building will house the 120 students now residing in Woodland Hall. The architect is considering the corner of Woodland road and Hawthorne avenue as a possible site for a second building which will be used for science and secretarial classrooms.

Why ROY S. EDWARDS should be Newton's NEXT MAYOR

He has EVERY QUALIFICATION needed to make him the most outstanding chief executive Newton has ever had.

"We want Edwards!" is heard all over Newton. Join the demand for him. Every check-up indicates a rising tidal wave that will elect him Mayor next Tuesday. Roy Edwards is a "success" man. He is successful in everything he does. AND HE GETS THINGS DONE! Read below what he says he will do. And depend on it that what he says he will do, he WILL do! He is that kind of man. Vote for Roy Edwards . . . for Newton's good . . . for your own good. He has the ability, the intelligence, the conscience to lift the Mayoralty to heights never before equalled in Newton!

A Full-Time Mayor

Roy S. Edwards, on assuming office, will relinquish the active management of his business, in order to devote a full day, every day, to Newton's affairs.

Opposed To Salary Increase

Roy Edwards will refuse the increased salary recently voted by the Board of Aldermen. He considers it unwarranted, under present financial conditions. He will not accept more than the $5000 salary in effect when he decided to be a candidate for Mayor.

A Businessman Mayor

Roy Edwards has been a successful business man in Newton for 24 years and will give Newton the able, strong business administration it has long urgently needed.

Administrative Ability Recognized

Roy Edwards' administrative ability is highly respected by businessmen. He has been elected for a second consecutive term as President of the Newton Chamber of Commerce. He is past president of the Greater Boston Lumber Trade Club and served several terms as a director of the Massachusetts Lumbermen's Association. Currently, he is Massachusetts National Committeeman for the National Retail Lumbermen's Association, an active Rotarian and a director of the West Newton Cooperative Bank.

A Public-Spirited Citizen

Roy Edwards has shown exceptional leadership in countless activities and has accepted every one of the many community responsibilities he has been asked to undertake.

Not A Politician

He is not a politician. He will not use the Mayoralty to further any political ambitions. He has no political ambitions, whatever. His approach to the Mayoralty is that of a man who knows there is much to be done for the city, knows it can be done and believes he can do it.

Dedicated To The Future Of Newton

Roy Edwards will devote himself wholeheartedly to the welfare of Newton . . . now and in the future. He is a strong advocate of long-range planning and will spare neither time nor effort to guide Newton's development along a straight, well-considered road.

He Values Planning Boards

Planning Boards, in the past, have failed to function advantageously. Roy Edwards views them so important that he will undertake to make them highly effective.

Will Analyze Newton's Needs

He will set up able committees of citizens to study Newton's needs and report promptly—at no cost to the city. He will at once analyze the findings and act accordingly.

Sound Plans For Future Income

Roy Edwards has definite, economically-sound plans concerning Newton's future income that will prove beneficial to every taxpayer and the city as a whole.

Favors City Manager

He has long advocated a Council-Manager form of government, because experience in 753 cities and towns in the United States proves it the most economical, most efficient system yet devised for the management of municipalities. He is convinced a Council Management is inevitable for a progressive city like Newton. He will, therefore, conduct his administration in such a businesslike manner that the city's affairs may easily be transferred to this modern form of government.

Quick Action On Schools

Roy Edwards will, immediately on taking office, start action on our much-needed, much neglected school building program. He joins with Newton parents in the determination to obtain a quick, far-sighted solution of this vital problem. Due to lack of interest on the part of officials and short-sightedness, many of our school buildings are outmoded and woefully inadequate. This shameful state has gone on long enough. Roy Edwards will at once appoint a citizens' committee to make a complete survey of his proposed program and report as speedily as is humanly possible. He will then present details to the public and will exert every effort to hasten completion of the program.

Veterans' Housing A "Must"

Roy Edwards is deeply concerned about the indifference of officials to Veterans' Housing projects. He has repeatedly, during the past three years, urged action on the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen. But nothing concrete has been done. Even the recent adoption of Chapter 372 by the Board is only the merest move in the right direction—and that preliminary step should have been taken long ago. In any case, the adoption does not commit the city to any further action. But Roy Edwards intends to act—at once.

Inequalities Among City Employees

Roy Edwards has pledged himself to investigate inequalities existing among city employees in various departments—and will seek a fair-and-square solution, wherever they may exist.

Services To Residents

He will promptly look into and correct any inefficiencies in services rendered by the city to residents . . .

A Mayor Free from Influence

Roy Edwards will, above all, conduct an open, above-board administration. He will not be biased in his decisions or proposals. He will not be influenced by special groups or particular geographical sections of the city. He will act, in every case, for the greatest good to the greatest number.

Roy Edwards will be an all-citizen, all-village, all-Newton Mayor!

NEWTON PARENTS

Here Is What Roy S. Edwards Says About Your Children's School Buildings

Lack of interest on the part of authorities and short-sightedness in preparing for the growth of Newton are the fundamental reasons for the grievous inadequacy of Newton's elementary public school buildings, according to Roy S. Edwards, candidate for mayor, as he outlined, at a campaign rally, what he proposes to do about school conditions if elected.

"The only far-sighted, long-range thinking on city problems which has been done for years," Mr. Edwards said, "is a survey and study of school building needs made in 1944. Yet despite wholehearted popular approval and support by citizens of the proposed program, it has been impossible to get appreciable action from city officials."

Mr. Edwards emphasized that Newton's fine school system and high educational standards have always been of first importance in attracting new families to the city. But the growing indignation over conditions in many school plants is indicative of the crying need for action. "How can a modern, aggressive city hope to hold its place of importance," Mr. Edwards asked, "when some of its school buildings are so outmoded as to be almost unsafe for use and obviously unequipped to offer the advantages that parents rightfully expect for their children?"

Mr. Edwards pointed out that the old Clafin School, built in 1864, the year before Lincoln was shot, is still in use. Many others were built over 50 years ago, among them the later Clafin in 1893, the Horace Mann, the old Hyde and the Peirce while the Mason, Bowen and Burr were built in 1901.

Of these schools, the Rice and the older Clafin are all-frame buildings. Others have a facing of brick over frame construction. "To be sure," said Mr. Edwards, "fire-resistant stairways, fire screens and fire escapes have been added to cover safety laws, and the children are taught and drilled regularly to enable them to evacuate buildings rapidly and without panic in case of fire. But this is hardly the degree of safety that a modern school should afford. Moreover, as these buildings become older, the cost of safety provisions, as well as other maintenance, constantly increases."

Most progressive cities, Mr. Edwards stated, take pride in their school facilities. They realize the untold benefits of pleasant surroundings, good lighting, adequate facilities for physical education, and provision in school buildings for community activities such as parent-teacher meetings, Girl and Boy Scouts, and many other projects that center around the welfare of the children and the community. Newton, however, cannot view with any pride its own accomplishments in this direction.

In addition to the antiquity of some of its school buildings, there are other factors which should have been foreseen and planned for long ago, asserted Mr. Edwards. Newton has grown to be a city of around 50,000 people and its population is still increasing. "How well do the schools take care of this increase?" asked Mr. Edwards. "And are they strategically placed?"

"The survey shows," declared Mr. Edwards, "that owing to haphazard planning some schools are closer together than is desirable, while others are farther apart than they should be for children to walk to school. And the Burr, Clafin, Rice and Mason Schools, built many years before the city was so large, are now located in business districts on heavily-traveled streets. The Weeks Junior High School is also poorly located if we follow the principle that junior high pupils should not be required to walk more than a mile in going to school."

Mr. Edwards stated that if he is elected mayor, he will immediately initiate remedial steps. "This situation has gone on long enough. It is shameful. And I intend to do something definite about it without delay. I will at once, on taking office, appoint an able citizens' committee to make a complete study of the proposed program and the means of financing it, the report to be completed within as short a period as is humanly possible. I will then give my full cooperation in having all the details and possibilities presented to the public and will exert all my efforts in every possible way to speed the completion of the program. I join with every Newton parent in the determination to get quick, sound and far-sighted action on this vital problem."

Politics in Newton Past and Present

By EDWARD H. POWERS

In 1933 Mayor Sinclair Weeks was a candidate for re-election to a third term. He was opposed by Thomas W. White who had served as a Newton alderman and a member of the State Legislature. White had been a power in Newton politics and in State politics for many years. It had long been his ambition to serve as Mayor of Newton. He had headed the Childs campaign in 1921 which changed the Board of Aldermen from anti-Childs to pro-Childs. White had long been a supporter of Edwin O. Childs and it had been supposed that Childs would eventually cease running for the office of Mayor and would support White as his successor. But Childs kept running and winning, and White kept waiting.

When Childs chose not to run against Weeks for Mayor in 1929, it was popularly supposed that Weeks would hold the office for only 4 years. So, when Weeks decided to be a candidate for a third term, White concluded that he had waited long enough and threw his hat into the ring. Both candidates were popular; both were strong politically; both were expected to win a close contest would develop. But the fight wasn't close. Weeks' supporters conducted an excellently organized campaign and many residents of this city whom White reasonably expected to be with him climbed onto the Weeks' bandwagon. Weeks carried every precinct in the city except Precinct 3 of Ward 2.

were President Joseph B. Jamieson, Alderman Louis A. Myers, who was the only dissenter in the original vote, Aldermen Franklin Hoyt, William R. Mattson and Kenneth A. Prior. Voting to override the veto were Aldermen Fred C. Alexander, Ernest G. Angevine, Julian D. Anthony, Arnold C. Barker, Wendell R. Bauckman, Sidney H. Baylor, Arthur H. Cox, Edward A. Fahey, Donald L. Gibbs, Arthur A. Hunt, Kenneth D. McCutcheon, John C. Beale and Charles P. Slocum.

Absent were Aldermen William V. Tippi, Jr., John E. Barwise and Theodore R. Lockwood. It was necessary to hold a special meeting on the matter due to a provision in the City charter which states that increases in the mayor's salary can be enacted only in years not divisible by two and before the end of October in that year.

and resides at 74 Elmhurst Road, Newton. Mr. Lockwood is an executive at the Vanta Company on California street, Newton.

He has been a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen for 10 years and for 6 years has been chairman of the Finance Committee of that Board. His candidacy has received the endorsement of the other 20 members of the present Board of Aldermen.

We have three candidates for Mayor. All have resided in Newton sufficiently long to be known to some degree by many of our citizens. Most of the voters who will go to the polls next Tuesday have no close knowledge of either of the three men who want to be elected as chief executive of this city. Such voters will select one of the 3 either on his reputation, the impression he makes if seen or heard, or the promises he makes. The last is the poorest reason to pick in voting for a candidate for political office.

Promises, especially political promises, are very easy to make, and very easy to break. None of the three candidates can keep any promise which involves the expenditure of public funds unless he obtains the support of a majority of the Board of Aldermen. The Aldermen are not apt to appropriate large sums of money unless a considerable percentage of the taxpayers evidence approval.

Any group of citizens, no matter how interested they may be in the expenditure of public funds for their pet project cannot reasonably expect that their demands must be acceded to without proper consideration being given to other public needs.

One of the outstanding problems is that of housing, and housing for veterans is receiving preference. All three candidates for Mayor have promised to give veterans' housing their full co-operation. With this in mind any elaborate and costly program for new public schools in Newton does not make sense now. In the first place the Federal government will not authorize large expenditures for new school buildings to replace allegedly "outmoded" schoolhouses. Not while veterans and their families are herded into old, disused school buildings, garages and shacks.

Also, school buildings in Newton compare more than favorably with school buildings elsewhere in Massachusetts and the U.S.A.

Few cities in this State or this country have been as generous in the past in spending money on public education as has Newton. In fact not so many years ago the then city government had to call a halt on the then Newton School Department because it had become too extravagant in its expenditures. There should be no niggardly policy as regards Newton's public schools. But, other municipal responsibilities should and must receive attention.

Besides the problem of veterans' housing, many of our streets have been neglected for years. They need to be reconstructed or resurfaced. And for years our sidewalks have been woefully neglected. Many persons still walk. Such pedestrians, especially the older people, are entitled to much more consideration than they have received for many years. Sidewalks should not only be repaired. They should also be plowed and sanded whenever required during the winter months. Those who walk pay taxes the same as do those who ride in automobiles.

Newton as a municipality has been for years a big business corporation. It cost last year $6,681,100 to run this city. The Mayor of this city is the top man in managing its affairs and expenses. A competent, full-time Mayor is entitled to a salary of $9000. He should have ability and he should be on the job. He should be honest, sincere and courageous. He should be upright and forthright with all the people of Newton. He should not work in collusion with any selfish group or individual.

Who among the three candidates possesses most of the above qualities, according to his reputation, is the man to vote for. And don't judge his reputation unless the source from which you receive it is reliable. Some candidates for political office are unfairly maligned by persons prone to scandal, or by someone who may have a personal grudge. Some candidates for public office receive undeserved praise from persons who expect to profit by getting a job, or some of the patronage the winning candidate may have at his disposal.

Candidate Lockwood Would Keep Newton A City of Homes

Condemns Election Tactics Which Represent City in Unfavorable Light

Suggestions that Newton be transformed from a residential community into a commercial city were strongly opposed on Wednesday evening by Alderman Theodore R. Lockwood, candidate for mayor of Newton, at a well-attended rally at the F. A. Day Junior High School.

"I have been a business man all my life," said Mr. Lockwood. "But I would rather see Newton a city of homes than of factories and stores—a city of green trees and fresh air than of soot-of playgrounds and swimming pools for the healthy development of children and the enjoyment of their elders."

Alderman Lockwood made it clear that he saw no compensating advantage for the destruction of Newton's country-wide reputation as a quiet, agreeable suburban residential center. The most pressing need of the city, he said, is to do something for the convenience and security of those already living in Newton, by adoption of the 12-point administrative program upon which he seeks election. Mr. Lockwood was unsparing in his condemnation of election tactics which represent the city to outsiders in an unfavorable light.

"What's the matter with Newton, anyway?" he asked. "Most people who live here seem to think it's a pretty good place. How many cities can you name which have an equal percentage of high-principled, able men and women, in whom the unselfish urge to serve their community is so strong? Let me tell you that, as residents of Newton, you live in a city which municipal experts everywhere recognize as one of the finest cities in the entire United States. Yet, judging by some of the loose talk of men who aspire to its highest office our city is only a jump ahead of the Bowery or the Kansas City Stockyards. In all frankness I may say that if I honestly entertained such ideas about my home community, I'd be tempted to move, instead of asking my neighbors to elect me as mayor."

"We all know that extravagances can waste the shrinking income of any city or town. There are several reasons for this, increasing 'take', which the Federal and State governments demand from the local taxpayer. Unless the city's affairs are kept in the hands of experienced, conscientious public officers, with demonstrated records of competence, these wasteful diversions of the people's substance can bring about disaster."

"There are people living in Newton who have seen this tragedy enacted in the cities from which they moved. They have seen crack-brained schemes ruin schools and public services. They have seen civic pride wither and die, property values fall, taxes rise and confiscation swallow up the work of many lifetimes."

"But they haven't seen this kind of thing in Newton—at least not yet! Those who are born here are justly proud of their city's reputation for municipal efficiency. Those who came here from other places migrated through choice. They aren't easy to convince that their adopted place of residence is a shady politicians' paradise. We can do without Pinkertons and bloodhounds in Newton as long as we remain good, sound, substantial, free-thinking Americans—people to whom an appeal to reason is more potent than the winds of scandal."

"The United States Government is taking ten times as much from the incomes of Massachusetts citizens today as are the local tax collectors. There are twice as many Federal employees between Cape Cod and the Berkshires as there are State employees. This enormously complicates the task of officials in the lower governmental levels in keeping operating expenses of our local communities within reasonable limits. In addition, due to higher living costs and normal increases of population, our local services requirements are greater."

"Clearly this general situation, apart from individual community problems, is one which cannot adequately be dealt with by willing volunteers, unless they have been trained by experience in the complicated subject of municipal finance. To put it plainly, this is a spot for an expert, a technician, skilled in the performance of a most exacting job. However, under pressure of mass psychology, we are sometimes guilty of neglecting our individual voting responsibilities, believing that the best-equipped candidate is bound to prevail—a paraphrase, let us say, of the popular saying: 'Fifty Million Frenchmen Can't be Wrong.' But if the sole responsibility for choosing a mayor in times like these could be conferred upon a single intelligent voter, do you think for a moment that he would pick an untried man? Of course not."

"It is true that the problems of the moment are mountainous, but they are not insuperable. They require us to be temperate in action, conservative in method. One thing is everlastingly certain: when a green hand is entrusted with a technical mission, somebody is going to pay dearly for his mistakes."

'Time for a Change' Gath Asserts

During the busy political campaign week and over this week end, Harry Gath, Jr., candidate for Alderman-at-Large has and will speak at house rallies arranged by his legion of friends and supporters in all sections of Newton.

One main point Mr. Gath has emphasized is that EVERY voter in the city can vote for an alderman-at-large regardless of his ward designation. He further made plain that he is not opposing any other candidate from any of the other six wards in the city. Voters can still vote for their favorite candidate in their respective wards and cast their ballot for Gath.

To hundreds of Newton men and women at these house rallies, Mr. Gath has been outspoken for the program he stands for, namely, immediate action on the zone housing plan for veterans; improved recreational facilities by improving the playgrounds and more efficient supervision; opening of the school gyms; building a swimming and wading pool at Albemarle playground as a solution to the Charles River pollution that closed the beaches from Newton Upper Falls to Nonantum this summer.

For all city employees, from executive to clerks, school teachers and laborers, Mr. Gath endorsed the permanent pay-off in the weekly pay envelope of the $500 bonus now allowed only as a "cost of living" emergency.

The lack of planning for street repairs with the unemployed in Newton being offered an opportunity to work with city owned equipment being used. As Mr. Gath said, "If Cambridge can get the materials and machinery and man-power who is Newton that they can't get them?"

In his closing remarks, Mr. Gath said, "It is most gratifying to me to find so many citizens of Newton endorsing my program. I have openly stated them for 'all to look at' while my opponents grasping at any straw have attempted to use them as their own when they should be making apologies to the citizens of Newton for their indecisiveness, delay and lack of forceful action in the past two years at city hall. The tally of their votes proves that statement. Certain it is that Newton board of aldermen calls for 'Time for a change' and as was successfully campaigned throughout the state a short two years ago, I believe and so do thousands of others, we have 'Had enough' in the Board of Aldermen when planning and progressive measures should have been major items."

Speaking of the lack of interest of citizens of Newton in their own city election, Mr. Gath said, "It is surprising the number of citizens who do not vote year after year. Yet they will be the first to criticize the city government. Everybody knows Newton is the 'bedroom' of Boston but election day next Tuesday is one day they should not 'stay in bed.' It is the responsibility of every citizen to vote. I hope I top the ballot. I will if all those who said they would vote for me."

Auburndale Cong. Church to Hold Social

A Rally and Social of the young people of high school age of the Village of Auburndale will be held Saturday, November 1st from 7 p. m. to 11 p. m. in the vestry of the Auburndale Congregational church. HUGH S. BOYD FOR MAYOR

AN OPEN LETTER TO ALL VOTERS

Dear Friends:

Newton is in sore need of a strong, able and fearlessly honest man to assume the duties of Chief Executive of the City, and undertake a reform of the methods of government in our municipality.

Taxation is man's greatest burden today. Of course, the only way to reduce taxes is to spend less—and our citizens seem to demand more and more services. However, I believe that much can be done to relieve them from their present load of taxation, and that a more rigid scrutiny of public expenditures may result in a great saving to the community.

I make no promises other than this one—that in all sincerity, I will give the people of Newton, if they elect me Mayor, an improvement in our municipal affairs.

Superintendence in any department means something more than certifying accounts when presented, without examination. And it is perfectly clear that before an officer certifies any bill for work, that work should be carefully inspected and measured.

There is today a sort of crisis in city affairs. We have been going down hill from bad to worse. The crash finally came. It always does. The half has not been told. It remains to get the whole story—all the facts—and then undertake reform. Enough has come to light to prove that a change is needed. I am willing to undertake that task if the citizens of Newton elect me as their public servant.

I shall stand for the expenditure of public money for the public good, and for that only. While I shall condemn waste, favoritism, or careless expenditures, I shall be in favor of such expenses, however great, as the safety and comfort of our citizens seem to demand.

If the scandal in connection with city administration, which has aroused our citizens, shall cause them to select and watch with more care, those to whom they entrust their interests, and if it serves to make all who are charged with official duties, more careful in their performance, it will not be an unmitigated evil.

Sincerely yours,

HUGH S. BOYD,

Bigelow Junior High School News

The pupils from the schools of Newton were asked to write short essays concerning what the Community Fund means to them. They were to write no more or less than twenty-five words. The eighth grade did this in Bigelow. The information handed in was finally limited to twenty essays. To our great joy six were used in the Boston Globe. Here are the names of the people whose compositions were selected: Miriam Gorn, Christine Tocci, Natalie Peterson, Conger Pascoe, Clement Delaney, and Benson Woodroffe. We congratulate these people and wish them luck in later essays.—Donald French.

Our assembly on Wednesday, October 22, was conducted by Arlene Schwartz. The names of the people running for office in the Student Council were read. Next on our program we were very privileged in having Mr. Ralph H. Rogers as our speaker who gave a very inspiring talk on the need, benefit, and help given to needy persons by the Red Feather.

The voting was carried on the next day. John Ricci was elected the president, Charles Morrissey, vice-president, secretary, Daniel Coffey, and treasurer, Richard Butler.—Benson Woodroffe.

informed the natural conclusion is to seriously question his motives when that person holds himself out as a candidate for high public office. I refer to a recent article published in some of the Newton newspapers whereby Roy S. Edwards candidate for mayor vitriolically attacked the Newton Public School Building System.

In his article Mr. Edwards stated: "The only far-sighted, long range thinking on city problems which has been done for years is a survey and study of school building needs made in 1944. The truth of the matter is that in 1937 a survey and report was made of school building needs by a joint committee of aldermen and members of school committee members headed by Kirkley Mather and a 10 year program for new buildings and replacements was adopted. Under this plan the new Franklin school was built in 1938 and the Lincoln Elliot in 1939. Dr. Anderson in his survey made in 1944 states 'Had not the war interfered, there is no doubt that a number of the buildings recommended would have been erected.' Under the 1937 survey the committee recommended the erection of a building a year for ten years and included were the addition to the Burr School, addition to the High School Administration building, new Trade School, replacement of the Rice School and Williams School and a new Junior High School building. Since 1941 it has been and still impossible to get a priority from the Federal Government agency to erect a single building. In 1946 Mayor Goddard recommended an appropriation for the purchase of land and plans for a new Pierce School in West Newton. These appropriations were passed but to date the city government has been unable to get the necessary Federal approval to begin building. In 1947 the city was able to get approval for the erection for the addition to the Technical School Building. This was granted because of the Veteran's Training program and the building is now in the process of erection. Just this year the erection of a new stadium on Dickinson Field was stymied because of Federal disapproval.

In the matter of school building repairs and maintenance, in the years 1946 and 1947 the Board of Aldermen approved every cent recommended by Mayor Goddard and no cut was made by the Board or any member of the Board. In addition to the regular budget it was necessary to spend $32000 to repair the Weeks School and $25000 for new boilers in the Burr School. Also, $25000 was approved for the installation of emergency lights in all of the 30 school buildings so that the buildings could be used at night for meetings of Parent-Teachers Associations and recreational activities. A new program was inaugurated this year for modernizing school lighting in all school buildings and an initial sum of $25000 was approved for that purpose.

Speaking of the new boilers in the Burr School Mr. Edwards says "As an instance of official neglect this very season the heating plant failed one morning, owing to defective boiler tubes and the city hired a steam roller to furnish heat temporarily and got some undesirable publicity in the Boston Newspapers—and that alert officials would have been aware that the heating equipment was faulty and would have made the necessary repairs in the summer when the school was not in use.—Again an absolute falsehood. The truth of this matter is that in April, 1947 the boiler inspectors in a routine inspection of the boilers did note leaks in the tubes. This was immediately called to the attention of the Public Buildings Commissioner who without delay had Mayor Goddard recommend to the Board an appropriation for the replacement of the heating system. Dr. Norley Heads Newton Dental Assn.

Dr. A. B. Norley of 47 Park street, Newton, was elected president of the Newton Dental Association at the fall meeting held at the Newton Y.M.C.A.

Other officers chosen were Dr. Charles L. Christopher, 430 Lexington street, Auburndale, vice-president; and Dr. Thomas S. Hayden, 1357 Washington street, West Newton, secretary and treasurer.

Following the election, Dr. Irving R. Hardy, professor of prosthetic dentistry at Tufts College Dental School, gave an illustrated lecture on the construction and articulation of full upper and lower dentures. He emphasized the use of the new acrylic tooth in dentures for older patients and the comfort that is found in using this type of tooth in chewing. He stated he feels that the new dentures will have greater crushing strength and tend to be more stabilized than ever. He stressed the value of good esthetics in every case of dentures.

Court of Honor

Norumbega Council's Fall Court of Honor will be held on November 7th, 8:00 p.m., at the Newton Senior High School auditorium, Walnut street, Newtonville. The theme for this Court of Honor—"Scouts of the World Building for Tomorrow."

Mr. Warren Oliver, Chairman of the Council Committee on Advancement, announced last evening that Mr. Huston, head football coach of Newton High School, will address the gathering.

The highlight of this Court of Honor will be the presentation of the Eagle Award, the highest in Scouting, to a father and son team of Mr. George Larsen and Master Robert Larsen of 20 Ruthven road, Newton. University of Scouting

The Annual University of Scouting will be held this year on November 15th from 1:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. at the Warren Jr. High School on Washington street in West Newton.

For the first time in the history of Norumbega Council the University will include training for all members of the Scout Family with special courses for Den Mothers, Cub Masters, Pack Committee, Scout Masters, Troop Committee and Scout Leaders.

After a full afternoon of training sessions and discussion groups a "blue and gold" banquet prepared by the Cubbers of Norumbega Council will be enjoyed by all course members. This was done last April. The necessary contracts after competitive bidding were awarded in May and June 1947 and the work immediately started. The work was done during the summer months when the school was not in use and practically completely for the reopening of school. As a precautionary measure the steam roller was hired as a standby and the unseasonable cold in September called for its use. I wish to state emphatically that there never was any breakdown in the heating system, that at no time was the building unheated and commendation is in order for all officials who did a wonderful job in handling the situation.

I could go along pointing out the innumerable flaws in Mr. Edwards statement but the ones enumerated above are typical. In the 20 year period from 1919 to 1939 14 new school buildings were erected and three additions made to existing buildings averaging almost one a year at a cost to the citizens of Newton almost six million dollars. Mr. Edwards charges—"The situation has gone on long enough, it is shameful and I intend doing something about it without delay."

I doubt if any city or town in Massachusetts can match the generosity of Newton in providing facilities for the education of its youth. The thing that would all feel grateful to Mr. Edwards for if he could get Federal approval, so that the City may go forward on the program launched 10 years ago. As a matter of fact I think that every city and town in the United States would give him a vote of thanks, because their problem is the same as ours."

any major changes made. You can depend on me to keep our beautifully laid-out community as it is and to continue safeguarding its delightful homes by thoughtful zoning laws.

"In my devotion to Newton, through many years, I have accepted countless civic responsibilities. As Mayor, I will have the opportunity to do what I have been doing, on a broader scale. That is why I shall give up the active management of my business and devote to the Mayoralty the same full day given by every employee who receives a pay envelope from the city.

"And in speaking of pay, I am thinking, too, of the recent unwarranted increase in the Mayor's salary to $9000, voted by the Board of Aldermen. I have already publicly stated that I will accept no more than the $5000 in effect when I became a candidate. My efforts to conduct Newton's affairs economically begin right there—with my own salary.

"Has my Aldermanic opponent shown any evidence that he will conduct an economical administration? He has said he will engage two assistants—a Public Works Commissioner and a Purchasing Agent. Their combined salaries would probably be around $13,000. Add that to his own $9000 pay envelope and it will cost the taxpayers about $22,000 just to run the Mayor's office. My opponent has been an Alderman for ten years—and chairman of the Finance Committee for six. He must know, surely, whether Newton can stand this financial overload. Moreover, if a Mayor is worth his salt, why would he need a Public Works Commissioner and a Purchasing Agent? And how will he justify their salaries?

"A full-time Mayor does not need those assistants. Supervision of public works and purchasing are among his duties. If I am elected Mayor, I shall be the manager of all city departments and I guarantee to Newton taxpayers that for every dollar of their money that is spent, they will receive at least a full dollar in value. The deciding factor in casting your vote next Tuesday should be whether your candidate has the business ability and the inclination to manage economically some $8,000,000 of your money.

"In line with economical management," said Mr. Edwards, "I again urge a Council-Manager form of government. Experience in 753 cities and towns in the United States proves it to be the most economical and efficient in existence. The trend is strongly in that direction; and Newton should not lag behind. We are not permitted by law, at this time, to have Council-Managerment. I sincerely hope—thinking of the best interests of Newton citizens—that by the time my term as Mayor expires, they will have had the opportunity to vote on, and have accepted, a suitable Council-Manager administration.

"It is true that my opponent, as Finance Committee Chairman, did recently concern himself enough about the city's spending to investigate prices the city was paying for certain materials. Had he found what he wanted, it would have made potent campaign ammunition. But, instead, he found that the particular item investigated was actually selling those particular materials to the city at less than prevailing market prices. Why didn't he show such interest in saving the city's money two years ago, when he might profitably have looked into another, much-publicized department? But that was two years ago—not just a few weeks before election.

"There are other important matters," Mr. Edwards continued, "which should have had official attention. The school building situation, for example. Every parent knows that our school buildings are outmoded. One, still in use, was built in 1864, towards the close of the Civil War. Others are around fifty years old. Many are inadequate, poorly-equipped and inconveniently located. Lack of official interest and shortsightedness are responsible. I intend to act on this vital matter immediately after assuming office and shall speed my proposed program with all the powers at my command.

"Veterans' Housing is another 'must,'" Mr. Edwards stated. "I have repeatedly urged action on the Mayor and Board of Aldermen. Nothing was done. Even the recent adoption of Chapter 372 by the Board means little, it merely permits, but does not commit, the city to build veterans' housing units. I shall definitely exert every effort to see that such units are built. And again I should like to ask why the Board's present first feeble step was taken only two weeks before election day—and not three years ago?

"I shall also seek a prompt solution of any inequalities existing among employees of different departments; and I shall correct inefficiencies in services the city renders to citizens. "Working a full day, every day, for the city," concluded Mr. Edwards, "I shall initiate any and all improvements tending to make Newton one of the most efficiently-managed cities in the country. I shall give myself to Newton wholeheartedly and will promote its well-being with all the energy I possess. I have been deeply devoted to Newton and its interests, these many years. It is my home town—and I want to make you prouder of it than you have been before."

'Guzzi for Alderman Committee' Organized

On Tuesday, Alfred R. Guzzi filed with the City Clerk, Frank M. Grant, the names of the "Guzzi for Alderman Committee." They are: Chairman, Mr. Leo F. Reddish, 50 Fordham road, West Newton; treasurer, Mr. Thomas Vassalotti, 31 Melville avenue, Newtonville; Mr. Bernard D. Farrell, Jr., 3 Cherry place, West Newton; Mr. Frank W. Generazio, 124 High street, Newton Upper Falls; Mr. William P. Sullivan, Jr., 249 Homer street, Newton Centre.

The purpose for which the committee is organized: 1. To aid the election of Alfred R. Guzzi as Alderman at Large from Ward 3; 2. To advance the cause of honest and efficient municipal service and government for the benefit of the people of Newton; 3. To interest the people of Newton to vote at the city election, November 4th.

Ten Broeck Active In Public Affairs

Stanton J. TenBroeck, Jr., candidate for Ward Alderman from Ward 6 is well-known throughout the city for his interest in all civic affairs, specifically his work with the Draft Board and Veterans Affairs. For four years he has been Chairman of Advance Gifts for Newton Centre of the Community Fund and he has also participated as a Village Chairman of the Residential Division of the Community Fund. He has lent his efforts to the fund raising campaigns of the Red Cross, Newton Hospital and Salvation Army.

During the war, Mr. TenBroeck served as the Re-employment Committee member connected with Newton Local Draft Board No. 114 and since 1944 has been a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee for Returning Veterans. He is also a member of the Advisory Board of the Veterans Service Committee.

Besides being associated with the investment banking firm of Estabrook & Company in Boston, he is a trustee of the Boston Penny Savings Bank where he has been a member of the Board of Investment since 1939. In addition to his civic activities in Newton, he has taken part in many of Boston's civic undertakings and is a member of the Rotary Greater Boston Civic Development Committee of the Rotary Club of Boston.

Following graduation from Orange High School, Orange Mass., and Worcester Academy, Mr. TenBroeck graduated from the College of Business Administration of Boston University in 1923. He is a member of Trinity Church, Newton Centre. Mr. TenBroeck and his wife reside at 77 Allerton road, with their three children, all of whom attend Newton public schools.

Newton, Massachusetts.

October 20, 1947.

To The Mayor And Board of Aldermen, City of Newton, Massachusetts.

Dear Sirs:

In view of the fact that in a short time a large proportion of the present City Government will be going out of office after having given many years of faithful service to the City of Newton, we the undersigned feel that it is proper at this time that we should express our gratitude publicly for the many courtesies which have been extended to us over the past years.

To Mayor Paul M. Goddard for his ready availability at all times, for his patience in listening to our problems for hours at a time, for the sympathy and understanding that he has shown us in all our discussions and for the many recommendations and communications which he has submitted to the Board of Aldermen in our behalf, we convey our heartfelt thanks and best wishes for success and happiness in future endeavors.

To Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson, President of the Board, who has consistently been our sincere friend and supporter, who has given us freely of his time both during business hours and during his free hours at home, for his priceless guidance whenever we showed signs of impatience, for his unflinching loyalty to us in our various petitions to the City Government, for the attitude of fairness and understanding which he has at all times displayed to us, we give our sincere thanks and appreciation, as well as our best wishes for a well deserved rest.

To Mr. Theodore R. Lockwood, Chairman of the Finance Committee, for his generosity in extending to us the hospitality of his home and office on numerous occasions, for the many hours of his valuable time which he unhesitatingly granted us, for his wise counsel and expert advice generously given at all times, and for his deep felt concern and constant friendship for our cause, we extend our gratitude and best wishes.

To the various members of the Finance Committee, the Claims and Rules Committee, and all other members of the City Government who have received us into their homes and who have listened to us patiently, and with open minds, while we expounded our views on pay raises, pensions, etc., for their sincere interest during our several campaigns for betterment of working conditions, and for their votes "in favor" when consciences so directed, many thanks and sincere appreciation.

Sincerely,

William C. Fanning

WINFIELD C. ANDERSON

To The Editor:

October 27, 1947
Never having served in public office before, and at the urging of friends, I filed papers as a candidate for Alderman from Ward 7.

It later developed that I was unopposed and while some candidates might feel this was a desirable situation, I do not. I believe elective office should have opposition so that the voters may be afforded the opportunity of selecting the candidate they think best qualified.

Your approval means added strength to my determination to help make Newton not only the best city to live in, but the city you will want to live in always.

Sincerely Yours,

Winfield C. Anderson

During the past few days the Newton Red Cross Chapter has been receiving many calls regarding sending of clothing to fire victims in Maine. In response to the generous offers Mr. Chas. B. Floyd, Chapter chairman, wishes to make public the following telegram received this week:

"Generous impulses to aid neighbors in distress have led many to begin collection of quantities of used clothing and food for Maine fire victims. This is to advise you that there is no shortage of clothing or food in the disaster areas. Recommend no shipment such items. If you hear of a disaster victim in need of such materials advise individual to make request to nearest Red Cross Chapter."

Waban Woman's Club

The Waban Woman's Club will hold the first meeting of the 1947-1948 Club year Monday November 3rd at 1:30 p.m. This meeting is New Members' day, and a reception for new members will be held before the business meeting. Mrs. William M. Barber, president of the club will greet the new members and also preside at the regular meeting following the reception and coffee.

Miss Ismet Sanli, distinguished Turkish journalist, will address the Club at 2:30. Her topic will be "Turkey Today." Miss Sanli was the only woman delegate to the United Nations Conference. She will tell the members not only of the political and geographical significance but about the women of modern Turkey, so that we may have a better present-day picture of it.

Cars Must Be Inspected Before October 31st

A red 1947 inspection sticker must be displayed after October 31st on all vehicles registered and operated in this state at any time in October. The Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Randolph F. King, will relieve all his inspectors from other duties and have them on the highway to stop cars which display no stickers, commencing Saturday, November 1st.

The Registrar also has requested the cooperation of all police departments and enforcement officials in this enforcement drive. Operators who violate the law are to be prosecuted.

Save Grain and Conserve Food!

Let's help preserve world peace by feeding Europe this winter!

We can all do our share if we help conserve grains and food. Here are a few pointers that will help us in the nationwide food conservation program. These pointers will also help to balance the food budget:

1. Substitute fish, cheese, dried beans and peas for meat, poultry and eggs—to save grain.
2. Serve potatoes in place of bread.
3. Slice bread thinner.
4. Use oatmeal, rye and corn breads often to release more wheat which can be exported more easily.
5. Make croutons, melba toast or bread crumbs from your leftover bread.
6. Use puddings and fruit desserts in place of cakes, cookies and pastries.
7. Serve smaller portions—allowing for second helpings.
8. Use plentiful foods in season—fruits and vegetables.
9. Cook vegetables in a small amount of water with the cover on the pan for a short time to conserve vitamins and minerals.
10. Cook meats and poultry at lower temperatures for less shrinkage and more servings.

To help you plan interesting meatless meals, your Newton Nutrition Center has prepared a sheet of recipes called "Meatless Meals". If you would like a copy, send a postcard today to the Newton Nutrition Center, 1357 Washington street, West Newton, Mass. The supply of "Meatless Meals" is limited so hurry and send your request today.

Newton Nutrition Center is supported by the Newton City Health Dept., Newton Community Chest and Newton Red Cross.

F. A. Day Jr. High 'News of the Day'

The Day Varsity football teams got off to a good start on Friday by winning both games from the Bigelow teams. The lightweights went ahead in the first half and held their advantage to win 6 to 0.

The heavyweights passed for a score in the opening minutes of the game, but the play was called back because of an infraction of the rules. After several threats the Bigelow team scored on a pretty off tackle slant by Bob Shannon. In the second half Day took to the air, after a fumble was covered by Louis Mastromattell, and Gibson Studley passed 30 yards to Alan Rowlings to tie the score. Rowlings' place-kick for the extra point was good and Day went ahead 7 to 6 to stay there until the final whistle. Quarterback Alfred Dangelow was elected captain of the Day team.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

The regular meeting is Tuesday, November 4th, 2 p.m., at the Newton Highlands Congregational Church. November 2nd to November 8th is National Art Week. The Art Committee is observing this by having as a speaker Miss Dorothy Adlow, art critic of the Christian Science Monitor, and a lecturer on Art at several famous Art Museums. Her subject will be "American Art, Past and Present". Mrs. John A. McAuliffe, State Chairman of Art will be guest of honor. To tie in with this program the Art Committee under the direction of Mrs. D. S. Sylvester has arranged as an "Art Corner" at this meeting, a display of old rare silver pieces.

During this week there will be two original paintings exhibited in the window of the Personal Book Shop, Newton Highlands, the artists being Mr. Deane Waite, and Mr. Richard Briggs.

Goal of $315,000. Of this amount $130,344 was reported at the Kick-off Dinner at the Newton High School last Thursday October 23. The balance has been reported in the daily reports through Chest headquarters.

All of the above total has come from the Advance Gifts, Manufacturing, Mercantile and Municipal Divisions, with the exception of $14,331 reported from the Residential Division on its first report night, Monday.

The next report night of the Residential Division at bank headquarters will be Thursday night of this week, and when the results are tabulated Chairman E. Graham Bates expects that an additional $25,000 will be turned in.

Village thermometers placed in strategic spots in each of the villages of the city and on Commonwealth Avenue near City Hall will be painted up twice weekly to show the total percentage of the Newton goal. The citizens of Newton each year have had real interest in the filling in of this feather showing Newton's support to the 13 Red Feather Agencies in Newton and the more than 300 in Greater Boston.

Dr. Joshua Loth Liebman, Rabbi of Temple Israel, and author of the best seller "Peace of Mind", was the principal speaker at the Kick-off Dinner and gave one of the finest addresses ever delivered in Newton. He prepared and delivered an extraordinary talk on the needs of charity in general and Red Feather Services in particular, and stated that "when we make contributions to charity we are paying one more installment on the great debt that we owe to God." Philip N. Theodore, General Chairman of the Greater Boston Community Fund, spoke on the subject "Brass Tacks in the Fund Platform". Mayor Paul M. Goddard read his proclamation.

Dr. H. Daniel Hawver, President of the Newton Ministers' Association, gave the invocation, and Dr. Chester M. Alter, President of the Chest, lauded the Red Feather Agencies in Newton and spoke highly of the officers in charge of these agencies. E. Graham Bates, Newton Campaign Chairman, presided.

There was an attendance in excess of one thousand at this Opening Dinner, which was one of the best ever held in Newton.

The program started promptly at 6:40 and the meeting closed with the National Anthem at exactly 9 o'clock. Miss Frances Shellenback, Newton Red Feather Girl, sat at almost the very center of the Head Table and received the plaudits of the large group when introduced by Chairman Bates. Miss Shellenback's suite of four Red Featherettes sat in prominent positions in the front of the hall and they also were introduced individually by the Chairman. At the start of the playing of the National Anthem the lights were turned out in the hall, a spot light was thrown on the rear balcony where the American flag was flying, and Miss Shellenback was standing pointing to a large Red Feather emblem on which were painted the words GIVE NOW.

A special feature originating at this meeting was the setting up of a Sub-head Table immediately in front of the Head Table. On the front of this table were thirteen large Red Feathers on which were painted the names of the Newton Red Feather Agencies. Back of each Red Feather at this long table were two seats, and these seats were occupied by the President and Executive of each agency. During Dr. Alter's talk the agency representatives stood at his request and received the hearty applause of those in attendance.

Great credit for the success of the evening goes to the committee in charge of the dinner: Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes, Chairman, Mrs. D. Allen Smith, Mrs. Jo-

Keen Campaigning For Newton's Ward 2 Vote

Interest is running high in the probable outcome of next Tuesday's voting in Ward 2 of Newton. At a recent meeting of various election workers in the Ward, George R. Arnold, well-known Ward 2 resident, summarized the situation as it has developed during the campaign as follows:

"The contest for Alderman-At-Large has been unusually keen with four candidates, two to be elected. As they will appear, alphabetically, on the ballot these are William H. Donovan, Harry Gath, Jr., William R. Mattson, Charles P. Slocum. Little is known of Donovan. The League of Women Voters were unable to contact him. There is considerable feeling that he was entered chiefly to tap the list of candidates on the ballot. By far the most aggressive campaign ever staged in Ward 2 has been put on this year by Gath running for alderman-at-large. His two opponents are the same as they were in the 1945. In that election, Gath received 3,205 votes, Mattson 3,104, Slocum 8,499. No one questions Gath's earnestness in the promises he has made. Many, however, consider his lack of experience in city administration and finance an obvious handicap.

"Mattson and Slocum are running for re-election, the former after two years of service, the latter with a five-year record, behind him. Both have extensive and varied backgrounds of civic service to the city of Newton, both approve the financially feasible improvements in Newton's public services being discussed at the present time.

"The contest for Ward Alderman appears to be between Arthur S. Scipione, a Newton lawyer of long standing and Norman H. E. Vincent, a professional public accountant practicing in Boston. Both, as is the third candidate, William H. Seely, Jr., are running for the first time for a city office. Inasmuch as the city's Board of Aldermen normally has an abundance of legal ability among its members, there is a strong swing to Vincent, among other reasons, because of his high standing as a Certified Public Accountant and the potential value of his experience to the Board. Both are well-known and highly respected residents of Ward 2.

"There are three Ward 2 candidates for School Committee, one to be elected. George B. Rowlings, the present incumbent, is apparently favored over William B. Baker, Jr., by virtue of his outstanding work on the committee the past two years. The third candidate, James J. Cahill, has a considerable personal following but at this stage doesn't appear to be the probable choice.

The meeting concluded with references to the exceptional need this year for a large voting turnout from Ward 2. Every effort will be made to improve on the past good record of the ward.

The Campaign in Newton will close on November 13 and there will be three more report nights, Monday Nov. 3, Thursday Nov. 6 and Wednesday Nov. 12. "Although nearly 50% of the goal has been reached probably less than 25% of our citizens have been called on." Chairman Bates comments. "About 85% of our prospects are assigned to Residential Division solicitation, and their work is only just under way. I hope that all of our people will be as generous as possible when making their subscriptions this year. Costs of operating Red Feather Services are higher than last year and if we are to maintain these services at the present level, substantially increased subscriptions are needed."

Dr. Culliton in Ward 3 School Committee Contest

DR. JAMES W. CULLITON

Only two wards have a choice of candidates for School Committee. One of them is Ward 3 where the contender is Dr. James W. Culliton of 26 Taft Ave., West Newton.

Dr. Culliton, a new comer to Newton ballots, was urged to run for School Committee by his friends and neighbors who believe his training and experience qualifies him to serve the schools of Newton. Dr. Culliton is Associate Professor of Business Administration at the Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University. He received the degree of Doctor of Commercial Science from Harvard in 1941 and is the author of several pamphlets.

During the war Dr. Culliton served as executive director of Governor Saltonstall's Committee on Post War Readjustment. Prior to that time he was head of the Industrial Management Department at Boston College School of Business Administration. He also worked for several years for a New York Business firm.

Last year's report of the Newton School Committee likened the Committee to the board of Directors of a corporation. Dr. Culliton's business training qualifies him to contribute to the running of the $2,000,000 business which the Newton Schools have become; his professional training in education qualifies him to serve the children equally well.

Methodist Church to Hold Fall Fair Nov. 7

A "Methodist Merry-go-round" will be the theme of the Fall Fair, sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service at the Newton Methodist Church, to be held Friday, November 7, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

There will be aprons, hankies, and gifts made by hand, parcel post bundles from all over the land, children's goods, plants, food, cards, and white elephants. During the afternoon and evening there will be special movies for the children, among which will be shown, "Simple Simon" a colored cartoon, "Spring in the Park", a rabbit story, and "Guadalajara" a colored picture of South America. There will also be a luncheon at noon.

At 8 o'clock in the evening, the Men's Club will hold an auction, when various kinds of furniture, dishes, brick-abrack, etc., will be sold.

Jr. Mothers' Rest Club

The Junior Mothers' Rest Club of Newton Centre will meet on Wednesday, November 5th, at the home of Mrs. Bernard D. Forbes, 98 Sumner Street. Luncheon will be served by Mrs. Hans K. Fischer, assisted by Mrs. Tressler W. Callahan, Mrs. Howard H. Cooley, and Mrs. Robert F. Cordingley.

Planned Parenthood 'Minute Women' Active in Newton

A volunteer group of Minute-Women has been recruited by the Newton committee of the Planned Parenthood League of Massachusetts to respond to requests from prospective signers of the Initiative Petition for medical rights, to wind up the signature campaign which ends November 6 in Newton as well as over the state.

These Minute-Women will be glad to receive telephone calls from any Newton voters who have not yet had an opportunity to register their approval of this proposed referendum to amend the General Laws of Massachusetts to allow physicians to provide medical contraceptive care to married women for the protection of life or health.

Twenty thousand certified signatures of voters in the state are required to bring this Initiative Petition before the State Legislature early in 1948. Newton voters are expected to register the same outstanding approval given this Initiative Petition in the signature campaign of 1941, according to a spokesman for the Newton committee.

The Minute-Women who will respond to requests to have the Initiative Petition brought to them include the following: Mrs. L. Sumner Pruyne, 83 Farlow Road, Newton, Dec. 9029; Mrs. Albert P. Everts, 114 Kirkstall Road, Newtonville, Big. 6109; Mrs. David H. Morrill, 38 Aberdeen Street, Newton Highlands, Big. 7619; Mrs. Harold R. Keller, 37 Sheffield Road, Newtonville, Big. 4495; Mrs. Ernest W. Kuebler, 100 Valentine Street, West Newton, Las. 3913; Mrs. William L. Tisdell, 6 Rowe Street, Auburndale, Las. 2544; Mrs. Joseph B. Jamieson, 93 Homer Street, Newton Centre, Big. 3192; Mrs. Ralph E. Houghton, 73 Allerton Road, Newton Centre, Las. 4131; Mrs. Raymond W. Blaisdell, 386 Wcott St., Auburndale, Las. 4115.

At the organization meeting of the Young Married Couples Group at the West Newton Unitarian Church, Mr. William L. Tisdell, of Auburndale, publicity chairman for the Newton Planned Parenthood Committee, spoke briefly on the Initiative Petition, emphasizing that Massachusetts and Connecticut are the only states in the union where child spacing information is still forbidden by law. The Young Married Couples Group then unanimously endorsed the Initiative Petition for medical and civil rights and those who had not yet signed added their signatures to the petition on this occasion.

Mrs. Wallace M. Ross, 10 Bemis Street, Newtonville, is all-Newton chairman for the Planned Parenthood League's campaign for signatures on the Initiative Petition, and is also co-chairman, with Mrs. Albert P. Everts, for Newtonville. Mrs. L. Sumner Pruyne is Newton village chairman.

All told there are about 120 copies of the petition in circulation in the city of Newton, where a majority of the churches of eight Protestant denominations and the Jewish faith are co-operating in approval of the proposed referendum amendment.

Petition circulars are reminded that they have less than a week, until next Thursday, Nov. 6, to complete their petitions and return them to their respective chairmen. Signatures of voters will then be certified by the city clerk's office before being turned in for count with petitions from all over the state at the Boston headquarters of the Planned Parenthood League of Massachusetts at 229 Berkeley Street.

DINING with JANE and BILL

Bill—Jane, how about making a nice fruit dessert for supper?
Jane—Sure, Bill, what would you like? I noticed that the fruit store had quite a few fresh apples, bananas, grapes, melons, pears, and others that I can't think of right now.

Bill—I really hadn't thought of any special fruit; but since you asked, this is the apple season—especially here in Massachusetts. Wouldn't some baked stuffed apples or rosy apples cooked with cinnamon candies be good? You also used to make another apple dessert that we were all crazy about. Didn't you call it apple crisp or apple crumble pudding or something like that? Anyway I remember it was elegant!

Jane—That's right, I haven't made Apple Crumble for ages. It's so easy to make too—mostly apples with a topping of flour, oleomargarine and brown sugar.

Bill—Say! Wouldn't this business of using fruit desserts in place of cakes and cookies help save quite a bit of grain products like flour and even eggs? This would be one way that we could help in the President's Food Saving Program.

Jane—Incidentally, Bill, my bridge club voted to use fruit desserts at our meetings and stop serving cakes, pastries and cookies, as our contribution. We feel that everyone should cooperate in saving grain.

(Tonight Jane is serving a fruit dessert that uses only a small amount of grain products. How are you cooperating with the Food Saving Program?)

APPLE CRUMBLE PUDDING

1 cup flour 1/2 cup sugar (white or brown)

1/2 cup butter or oleomargarine 4 apples (4 cups, sliced)

Blend the flour, butter or oleo and sugar with a pastry blender or the fingers to form a crumbly mass. Slice the apples into a buttered baking dish; cover with the flour mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (375 deg. F.) until the apples are tender and the crust brown or about 45 minutes. Serve plain, with cream or Foamy Butter Sauce.

Y.M.C.A. Class Teams Entered in Metropolitan League

Two teams from the Newton Y.M.C.A. Chess Club have entered in the Metropolitan Chess League, both in the B class.

On Friday, October 24, the Commonwealth team played a strong Lynn team with the following results: Commonwealth 1 1/2, Lynn 3 1/2. Members of the Commonwealth team are George Hopwood, captain, Edward Miller, Dr. S. W. Kramer, Larry LaRoche, and Milton Motland.

The Gamblers of the Y.M.C.A. club were defeated by the Harvard College B team 2 to 3. Gamblers are Theodore Chandler, captain, Richard Bean, Roy Cowe, Warren Blaisdell, and Arvid Swenson.

Chess Club members, numbering over 40, are drawn from Newton, Belmont, Watertown, Waltham, Weston and Dedham. The club meets every Tuesday evening at the Y.M.C.A., 256 Church Street, Newton.

More Honor Guests For Celebrity Breakfast

Mrs. Francis J. Flagg, Chairman of the Celebrity Breakfast Committee, and Master of Ceremonies at the event which takes place on Thursday, November 6, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, announces two more honor guests.

Edith Roelker Curtis, author and lecturer, will attend, as will A. C. Lyons, author of the interesting "Invitation to Boston."

Mrs. Curtis, whose "Lady Sarah Lennox," an historical novel, won many favorable reviews, will speak briefly of her recent trip to Mexico.

Other guests are Virginia Pearson, Sylvia Holcomb Tourville, Edward Rowe Snow, Dorothy Speare, William Franklin Wood, Emily Greene Balch, Josephine Abbott Sever, Marcia Wilson, Be Van der Groen, and stars from stage productions current at the time of the breakfast.

Many Attend Music School's Open House

Nearly 400 guests called at the All Newton Music School during "Open House" on Sunday afternoon, October 26. The weather was so fine that many friends sat out on the porch to enjoy the music which was continuous from three to six o'clock.

All who were present agreed that the affair was a joyful and inspiring one. Under the stimulus the young musicians rose to the special occasion and played like real professionals. Members of the Junior Orchestra were Carolyn Jones, Bruce Macdonald, Gail Crosby, David Lillegarde, Harry Lewis, Lawrence Tocci, Russell Laprise, Beverly Waite, Marsha Samoylenko, John Martin, Norman Gahm, Richard Batchelder, Elizabeth Lee, Susan Johnson, Carolyn Huss, Rodney Bridges, Donald Vienot, Janet Corcoran, Robert Katz, Cheryl Worthen and Sally Johnson.

Those in the Senior Orchestra included Daniel Abbott, Robert Benson, Evelyn Murphy, Sylvia Zottu, Kenneth Lucas, Carolyn Sanroma, Jean Drennan, Miriam Lewin, Stewart Johnson, Alice Lee, Barbara Leahy, Richard O'Donnell, Rozine Haven, Claire Landro, Shirley Conant, Julie Brush, Caroline Anthony, David Starkweather, William Bell, Benjamin Muchenhaupt and Lorraine Smith.

Mothers of Music School students acted as hostesses in the tea-room, while members of the board of trustees poured. Faculty and staff members served as ushers, guiding the many interested friends and neighbors through the various music studios on the second and third floors.

Miss Irene Forte and Mrs. Mary L. Scipione alternated in conducting the orchestras. Other teachers present included Mrs. William Bell, Miss Theresa Caruso, Mrs. Frances Snow Drinker, Miss Nancy Keyes, Miss Leslie Kyle, Miss Leona Macgraw, Miss Agnes Olson, Miss M. Ruth Spencer, Mrs. Ellen Starkweather, Mrs. Rudolph Toll, Miss Edna Tuckerman, Miss Lillian West, Miss Marion Whiteley, Mrs. William C. Worth, Miss Marion Chidsey, and Mrs. Marcel Charrand of the administrative staff were also present and helped in receiving the guests.

Verse And Adverse

Writing poetry is fun
But it can be a curse;
If everytime you raise a pen,
Your soul pops out in verse!

Writing verse is wonderful,
Yes, writing verse is fine;
That is—if you can prevent Folks readin' 'tween the line!

Oak Hill Association Hears Mayoral Candidates

The semi annual meeting of the Oak Hill District, Improvement Ass'n was held at Oak Hill School on Tuesday evening before an overflow crowd. Following a short business meeting Pres. Bianchi turned the gavel over to Mr. John Finn, who introduced the three candidates for Mayor of Newton: Hugh S. Boyd, Roy S. Edwards and Theodore R. Lockwood. Each candidate was allotted time for an address, after which questions were asked from the floor. Mr. Finn acted as moderator.

Mr. Boyd in his address paid particular attention to conditions in the street department and the Haughey affair. Referring to the City's current 2 million dollar program for repairing and resurfacing streets, he attacked the appointment of Harold Young as Street Commissioner, claiming that Young, who was formerly Mayor Goddard's secretary, has had no engineering experience whatsoever, which is resulting in poor planning in the present program.

Mr. Edwards, in stating his support of a city manager form of government, emphasized his qualifications as a business man, and said he would be a full time mayor, taking only $5,000 as salary and returning the new increase to the city.

Mr. Lockwood reiterated his experience in city affairs and stated his belief that a full time mayor plus a Commissioner of Public Works will give the city everything it needs at the top level. He called for a good Recreation Department, a political research library, and a comprehensive long-term program of capital expenditures. He stated that there is nothing wrong with the financial condition of the city, and stressed the fact that the bounded debt of $5 million should not be considered alone, but should be compared with the total valuation of property in order to get a true picture.

In regard to the Haughey affair, and Mr. Boyd's attempts to associate him with knowledge of it, Mr. Lockwood said that the state audit brought the matter to light, that all the papers had been impounded, and that he had not seen them since.

Few Pieces Go Long Way

Too much room space and too little furniture needn't be a serious problem. Group the furniture you have for convenient, comfortable reading and conversation groups. All-over wool floor covering will adequately furnish the corners of the room for the present. If you live in an apartment, wall-to-wall carpeting may not be practical. Have your rug not more than 9 to 12 inches from the baseboard. Finish the bare floor in the same tone as the rug.

Newton High School

Myra Johnson, Headmistress of the East Anglian School in Suffolk, England, visited the Newton High school last week. Miss Johnson, who came as a Page Scholar of the English Speaking Union, has spent the month of October in visiting many eastern public high schools. Her own school in England is a girls' private boarding school.

While visiting several classes at Newton including the Trade School and the Junior College, Miss Johnson expressed amazement at the number of extracurricular activities for both pupils and teachers. She was also interested in the school's numerous publications, and was particularly pleased with the Junior College Library.

Newton 6, Belmont 6

Newton tied Belmont 6 to 6 at Newton last Saturday in a game highlighted by a free-for-all in the last period.

Newton's tally came late in the second period when Stephens intercepted a Belmont pass on his own 25, after which Don Collins went around left end to the Newton 34. Heath broke through tackle to the 42. Frankie Tanner made the Belmont 35 on an end run following Collins' run to the Belmont 46. A Bob MacConnell to Bill Fitzpatrick pass was good for the score. The conversion failed.

Late in the fourth quarter a Newton pass was intercepted, after which Kelly went through tackle to the Newton 27. A pass from Ed Connelly to Captain Whynot tied the score, as the try for the extra point failed.

It was at this point that the fight started. Newton had marched downfield to within 17 yards of the Belmont goal line when a Newton man caught a Belmont man being slugging it out in midfield. The result was a battle royal between spectators, police, and players.

Married Couples 'Doubled Up' Set New Record, 50% Above 1940

Figures compiled by the U. S. Bureau of the Census show that more American families are living "doubled up" this year than ever before.

Population surveys made in April of this year show that at that time 2,764,000 married couples, or 8.3 percent of all married couples in private households, were "sharing the living accommodations of other persons. This is a new high and represents a gain of 918,000 couples living "doubled up" since April, 1940 when the number was 1,846,000 or 6.5 percent of all married couples in private households.

Factor of Housing Conditions

To what extent housing conditions in general combined with economic pressures are responsible for this record "doubling up" is not known. It would seem obvious, however, that both the housing shortage and high living costs are factors in these living arrangements, particularly in the case of veterans re-establishing themselves in civilian life. It is apparent, too, that "doubling up" introduces new problems in family living, not only in home environment but in the matter of handling financial arrangements as well.

Available data of the Census Bureau indicate that the big increase in "doubling up" has occurred in the last two years, an aftermath of the rapid demobilization of the armed forces after the surrender of Japan in August, 1945 combined with the high postwar marriage rate.

In September, 1945, when full-scale demobilization got under way, the number of married couples "doubled up" was estimated at around 1,300,000. Five months later, in February, 1946, the number had risen to an estimated 2,149,000, and within another four months, in June, the number had increased to 2,600,000.

The Prewar Situation

A certain amount of "doubling up" exists even in ordinary times, of course, for a substantial number of newlyweds usually wait a while before establishing their own home. There is little in the way of prewar data on this, but the Census Bureau estimates that 1,450,000 married couples were sharing living accommodations with others in 1930, or little more than half the present number.

On a national basis, the Census Bureau surveys disclose that "doubling up" has increased in all metropolitan areas. In a dozen of the 33 metropolitan areas for which full data are available the increase has been 100 percent or more.

The great growth in the populations of metropolitan areas between 1940 and 1947 is a factor in this situation, but figures for individual areas indicate that "doubling up" has increased irrespective of population changes. For example, the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre area lost 15 percent of its population in the last seven years, but even so a fifth more married couples were "doubled up" in April of this year than in 1940. And in the Worcester area, the number of couples "doubled up" rose over 100 percent in the 1940-47 period as against a population gain of only one percent.

Auburndale Woman's Club

The three candidates for the office of Mayor of Newton, Hugh S. Boyd, Roy S. Edwards and Theodore R. Lockwood, were introduced to members of the Auburndale Woman's Club at their meeting on Tuesday by Mrs. Theodoris Friedrichs, chairman of the Legislative Committee. Mr. Boyd and Mr. Lockwood, in ten minute speeches, presented their platforms and qualifications for this office. Mr. Edwards participated in the question period following the speeches.

"It is clear that wastefulness has prevailed and the public business has been neglected," stated Mr. Boyd. "I make no promises other than this. In sincerity I will give the people of Newton an improvement in municipal affairs." My motto is "A fair day's work for a fair day's pay from the least unto the greatest." Mr. Lockwood addressed the group in general terms with accent on his experience as Alderman for the past ten years and his chairmanship of the Finance Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen for the past six years. He also stressed that he has the unanimous approval of the present Board of 21 Aldermen.

Questions were raised by Auburndale Club members on veterans housing and overcrowded school conditions and spirited discussion by the three candidates followed. Mr. Edwards' views on Plan E were questioned and he stated that he favors a council manager form of government.

Mrs. Albert B. Terkelsen, Chairman of the Program Committee, presented Miss Mary Barry and Miss Helen Frances, entertainers.

Mrs. Dorrigh L. Higgins, president invited members to the autumn meeting of the Mass. State Federation of Women's Clubs which will be held at Worcester November 5th.

Mrs. E. Graham Bates, chairman of the Community Service Committee, announced that the baby sitter service is now functioning. Many adults and young girls are available as sitters. Several boys are also available for lawn mowing and snow shoveling.

Tea and cakes were served following the meeting. Two past presidents, Mrs. Louis F. Bellings and Mrs. Eric J. Kermath, poured.

Highlands Man Named to Benefit Assoc. Comm.

Harland A. Riker of 68 Hyde street, Newton Highlands, an ice cream salesman for H. P. Hood and Sons, has been elected a member of the executive committee of the Hood Mutual Benefit Association to serve a term of one year.

Originally formed by 16 employees in 1903, the association is one of the oldest and largest of its kind in New England. Today more than 4,000 Hood employees are protected against sickness, accident or death by the liberal provisions of the company-sponsored organization.

Mr. Riker, who has been with the Hood company for the past nine years, was elected by his co-workers as their representative on the executive committee of this popular employee association.

A Message to the Voters of Ward 6

HELEN R. LESSEES

Dear Friends,—

Aldermen are no different from the people around you, the people from whom you pick your friends. And this is your opportunity to pick a friend to represent you in City Hall, Helen R. Lessees.

Newton has outgrown many things with its large increase in population, and although we all want to keep the flavor of our Garden City, we need a modernized city government, we need economy in the form of central purchasing, and we need moderate priced housing so that young people can afford to live here. Many of our residents would like to have a garden type of apartment house in Newton so that they could give up the houses now too large for them.

Like any other housewife and mother, Mrs. Lessees has children in Newton public schools and is vitally concerned with standards regarding teachers and school buildings. She has a college degree in education and is a post-graduate student in City Government and Finance.

The following businessmen, educators, housewives, and just plain citizens feel that Helen R. Lessees has the initiative, integrity, and community "know-how" to do the job in Newton from Ward 6.

Mrs. Guy Braganti, Miss Thalia Ciccone, Mrs. James R. Cobb, Mrs. Thomas DeWan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Gaffney, Mr. and Mrs. Nissie Grossman, Mrs. M. C. MacPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Everett C. Marston, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice L. Reed, Mrs. J. Kenneth Macdonald, Mrs. Wm. Z. Ripley, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schlesinger, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sheehan, Lt. Col. Arthur James Swett, Mr. and Mrs. S. Tornabene, Mrs. A. H. Whitney, Miss Katherine Wilkins

Rotary Club

Wyman Holmes, General Manager of Station WRUL, was the special speaker at the Weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday.

"WRUL," he stated, "is a non-commercial station dedicated to the service of humanity, owned and operated by the World-Wide Broadcasting Foundation and is a free voice, not under government control. At the present time they are occupied in beaming programs regarding our democracy to the countries of Europe. In these countries are 9,577,000 sets capable of hearing this station."

"During the War WRUL was responsible for saving the entire Norwegian merchant fleet for the Allies, and this station slowed the Nazi advance into Yugoslavia by more than 6 weeks. At the present time the station is selling democracy to the people of Europe by a series of programs consisting of cross sections of the attitude of the people in this country toward our system of government, by providing stock market quotations to the businessmen of Europe, and thus presenting our enormous financial powers. These programs are being presented in the principal European languages. The station also gives a full report on the doings of the United Nations group."

Fred Fessenden who lost two houses in the fire at Goose Rocks Beach, Maine spoke on the fire hazard from personal observation. Both of his houses are gone completely, not even burnt embers remaining. "The whole area he stated is a picture of the utmost devastation, people having lost their homes and farms, the fire consuming everything in its path. The Salvation Army and Red Cross were both giving assistance."

Curtain Ready to Rise On Hallowe'en Celebration

With committees calling on their "second wind" to speed up the settling of last-minute details, the stage is set for Newton's seventh great Hallowe'en event, in which over 10,000 school children will participate.

And when the curtain rises, there will be revealed scenes of gayety and interest and mystery probably never equalled at any of the previous city-wide Hallowe'en celebrations.

"We're all set," said Mrs. Ragana Hovgaard, chairman of the Program Committee, who together with C. Evan Johnson, Commissioner of Recreation, and Howard Whitmore, Jr., General Chairman, head the huge organization necessary to make the 240 separate parties in 40 key locations run as if equipped with ball bearings. "And when I look back," added Mrs. Hovgaard, "on the way the 1400 committee members have tackled and overcome problem after problem, I can't help but feel what a wonderful thing it is to see so many men and women, co-operating wholeheartedly, just buckle down to a difficult job and never let up until the last bit is done right. No wonder every one of our 240 parties is going to be a rousing success. And I'm not just predicting that. I know it!"

Among a wind-up of reports, Mrs. Hovgaard stated that she had received the following:

Charles Cahill, Building Chairman of the Totem Pole dance for High School students, reports that there will be well over 1200 at their party, which will be run from 8 to 12 p.m. Al Donahue's orchestra will provide the music and refreshments will be available. A very fine entertainment has been planned, with stars from the student body. They include Jean Saunders, Peggy McLean, Norma Gildersleeve, Jackie Seeley and Lee Fuller, all singers, with Doug Duff, "doubling in brass" at the piano and with his voice. It is said that each of these clever entertainers is going to come up with something extra special. Building Chairman Cahill expresses the great appreciation of himself and his committee for the wonderful co-operation given by Mr. Gill, owner of the Totem Pole, who has generously given up the usual Friday night dance at a great financial sacrifice in order that the High School students might have their Hallowe'en dancing party as planned. In addition to Charles Cahill, committee members are Ray Keyes, Bud Grice, Dave Waters, Bill Bowers, Ed Myren, Jean Lyons, Barbara Van Gorder, Joan Burnett, Barbara Hills, Doug Duff, Daniel Keefe, Hugh Rogovin, Bob O'Connell, Marjorie Overstrum, Barbara Dion and Barbara Woodruff. Special buses will provide transportation from all villages.

The Waban 8th and 9th grade party will be held at the Waban Neighborhood Club, starting at 7:30 and lasting until 10 o'clock. Movies will be the main attraction followed by games, dancing, refreshments and the awarding of door prizes. The full-length feature picture, "The Mummy's Hand," is a most appropriate thriller for Hallowe'en. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fife Wright are in charge, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Ken Nugent, Hal Cleverly, A. Brooks Parker, Curtis Kehew and Emory Mower, plus John Huston, who is also assisting with the program.

According to Mr. and Mrs. H. Underhill, about 150 of the 8th and 9th graders are expected to attend the party in the F. A. Day Junior High School gymnasium, which is scheduled to run from 7:30 to 11 p.m. On the program are dancing to the music of a professional 3-piece orchestra, Mystery Man and Woman Contest, Games such as Penny Pitching, Apple Bobbing, Specialty Dances, entertainment by school pupils, refreshments, camera shots of prize winners and Fortune Telling. To help promote the sale of tickets for the affair, three boys presented a skit "which was most helpful." The Building Chairmen state that this "promises to be a good party." Added to the committee in charge are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernst O. Seyfarth, Building Chairmen for the party at the Peirce School, West Newton, expect 240 children from kindergarten through grade 6. The kindergartners will meet from 4 to 5:30 in the afternoon and the remainder will have their gatherings from 6:30 to 9 in the evening. There will be a parade with prizes for costumes, games, Hall of Horrors, Movies, candy, favors and refreshments. Members of the various committees are: Hall of Horrors, Herbert Smith, Chairman, together with Mrs. Herbert Smith, Henry A. Webster, Mrs. Frederick E. Whippley, Charles Donling, William Reed, W. Richards, Melvin J. Dangel, Stanley Hackel, William Foran, John Bryant, Frank Baldwin, Dr. Timothy G. Healy, Richard Brown, Ward

Sale of Hand Craft Articles at N. Centre Woman's Club

The Village Craftsmen, a group headed by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Angier and Mrs. J. F. Wogan is sponsoring a Sale of all types of Hand Craft Articles at the Newton Centre Woman's Club from 9 to 5 on Nov. 24 and 25. It is hoped that the sale will stimulate public interest in work of this kind, and help establish a permanent shop in the near future. The purpose is to further the educational and economic development in Arts and Crafts in this Community and surrounding areas.

Among the articles for sale are Painted and Stenciled trays and boxes, weaving, woodwork, carving, children's dresses, aprons, metal work, paintings, knitted and leather goods, also jewelry and toys, bags, jellies, cookies etc.

There are a few articles from the patients of the District Nursing Association who are being serviced by the Community Grey Ladies of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross.

All consignments are subject to the approval of a jury as to quality, design, workmanship and salability.

Dr. Mather to Speak At Central Club Meeting Mon. Eve.

The Central Club began its new season at its last meeting with a big attendance, plenty of enthusiasm and an extremely interesting address by Lieut. Gov. Coolidge. The season continues at its meeting of Monday, November 3. The club is fortunate in having for its speaker Dr. Kirtley F. Mather of Harvard University, on the subject "Europe in 1947". Dr. Mather spent last summer in Europe and will speak on his experiences in Britain and Norway. He will illustrate his lecture with motion pictures and slides which include the English oil fields and the oil shale industry of Scotland. He was one of the principal speakers at the "World Conference of Christian Youth" in Oslo, he attended the world conference of the Y.M.C.A. on education and was exchange lecturer from the American Association to the British Association for the Advancement of Science. Dr. Mather is professor of geology and chairman of that department in Harvard University, and is an able and eminent speaker and teacher. His lecture will be preceded by the enthusiastic group singing under the leadership of James Remley, and by a delightful program by a string ensemble.

The program committee, of which E. E. Whiting is chairman is arranging a most interesting program for the rest of the year. It is expected that the December meeting will present a speaker who is a national figure in the political field. For the January meeting Sinclair Weeks has been engaged as speaker. As a representative of this state on the Republican national committee, he will give a very interesting view of national politics. The annual ladies' night comes in February and a program of different type will be presented. The remaining meetings will present many notable features.

Wetherell and Stafford Witte, Chairman for kindergarten party, Mrs. Gerard Garcelon; members, Mrs. Richard Brown, Mrs. Alan Shaw, Mrs. John Laplin, Mrs. W. Schenk, Mrs. Siebert Duntley, Mrs. John McKittrick and Mrs. Frank Hazel. First grade, Mrs. Norman Moore, Chairman with Mrs. Fred Arnold, Mrs. Harold Beach, Mrs. Carroll Larson, Mrs. Ralph Rosenbaum, Mrs. David Skinner and Mrs. Stuart Shafte. Second Grade, Mrs. Joseph Skinner, Chairman, assisted by Mrs. William Mann, Mrs. John Newall and Mrs. Clifford W. Miller. Third Grade, Mrs. Frank Jones, Chairman, with Mrs. Sylvester Kelley, Mrs. Melvin Dangel, Mrs. Frank Foster, Mrs. Chester Alter and Mrs. Cecil R. Gordon. Fourth Grade, Mrs. Wendell Thorton, Chairman, and Mrs. Raymond Grenier, Mrs. Edward Duane and Mrs. Les Alexander. Fifth Grade, Mrs. Charles Fomling, Chairman, with Mrs. L. G. Healy, Mrs. William King, Mrs. Charles Cutler and Mrs. George Thompson. Sixth Grade, Mrs. John Nixon, Chairman, and Mrs. Frank Maher, Mrs. William P. Nelson and Mrs. N. M. Berman. Judges for Parade, Miss Elizabeth Kilburn, Mrs. Edmund Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Osgood, J. B. Davis and Miss Mary Hunter. Decorations, Mrs. Sylvester Kelley and Mrs. G. E. Burgess. Parade Committee, Harold Beach and Frederick Wells. Door Keepers, Lawrence Blanchard and Norman Moore. Food Committee, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond P. Atwood, Chairman, and Mrs. Walter Nariachian and Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Hare. Candy and Favors, Mrs. Frederick Wells and Mrs. Robert Linton. First Aid for the evening party, Dr. Frank Foster.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Cox - Kidger

At a candlelight service, October 25, in the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, at a ceremony performed by Rev. Randolph Seaman Merrill, Miss Barbara Chamberlain Kidger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Kidger of Newtonville and Wakefield, New Hampshire was united in marriage to Mr. Gilbert Earl Cox, son of Colonel and Mrs. Earl E. Cox of Wakefield, New Hampshire, formerly of Chicago, Illinois.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white satin with a lace yoke and her finger tip veil fell from a coronet of stephanotis. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis. The matron of honor, Mrs. Edward L. Farrill, the bride's sister, wore a white gown of lace and net and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, matching the flowers in her hair. The four bridesmaids, Miss Mary Cox, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Doreen Howland of Roslindale, Miss Winifred Fahey of Melrose and Mrs. William Hulton of Bridgeport, Conn., were gowned alike in white faille and carried bouquets of rust colored chrysanthemums which matched their head pieces.

The bride's mother wore a corsage of gardenias on her violet sequin trimmed gown. The groom's mother wore a gardenia corsage on her fuchsia velvet gown.

The best man was Mr. Russell Cox of Wakefield, N. H., brother of the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Edward L. Farrill of Boston, Mr. David P. Kidger, the bride's brother, Mr. Edward Wansor of Wakefield, N. H., and Mr. Albert Johnson of Lebanon, Maine.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. After a trip to Vermont, Mr. and Mrs. Cox will make their home in Wakefield, New Hampshire.

—Veterans and their families now equal 32 per cent of the nation's population. Five years hence, they will constitute 43 per cent of the total.

Gorgone - Giuliano

Yellow and white chrysanthemums banked the altar of St. Mary's Church in Waltham for the recent wedding of Miss Josephine Helen Giuliano of 19 Middle street, Waltham to Salvatore J. Gorgone of 100 Lexington street, Auburndale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Gorgone.

Rev. Joseph B. Corkery performed the double ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of slipper satin with jeweled neckline, fitted bodice and a ruffle of chintilly lace on the skirt and train. Her veil was caught to a jeweled crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with an orchid center.

Miss Frances Gorgone, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. With her gown of coral pink satin she wore a Dutch cap and carried a cascade bouquet of peacock blue flowers. The bridesmaids, Miss Marjorie Giuliano, sister of the bride, Miss Jane Gorgone, sister of the bridegroom, and Barbara Delorey of Waltham, wore gowns of peacock blue satin with Dutch caps and carried cascade bouquets of red roses.

Rosario Giuliano, brother of the bride, was the best man. The ushers were Anthony Rigoli, cousin of the bridegroom of West Newton, Marco and Albert Gallo of West Newton.

Paul Guzzi, 5 year old nephew of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer. He carried a white satin pillow edged with chintilly lace.

Miss Mary L. Morrissey was the organist and William Coyne sang the "Ave Maria" and "Mother at Thy Feet I'm Kneeling".

The bride's mother wore a blue gown with blue feather hat and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of black and gold with a corsage of red roses.

A reception was held at the Odd Fellows Building, West Newton, with music furnished by John Giuliano, uncle of the bride.

The bride was graduated from St. Mary's High School. The bridegroom was graduated from the Newton Trade School and served for 2½ years with the Navy during World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorgone will reside at 19 Middle street, Waltham.
